NOTES

- These guidelines are predicated upon good institutional conduct and program performance.
- If an offense behavior is not listed above, the proper category may be obtained by comparing the severity of the offense behavior with those of similar offense behaviors listed.
- If an offense behavior can be classified under more than one category, the most serious applicable category is to be used.
- If an offense behavior involved multiple separate offenses, the severity level may be increased.
- If a continuance is to be given, allow 30 d (1 mo) for release program provision.
- "Hard drugs" include heroin, cocaine, morphine, or opiate derivatives, and synthetic opiate substitutes.

§ 2.21 Reports considered.

Decisions as to whether a parole shall be granted or denied shall be determined on the basis of the application, if any, submitted by the prisoner, together with the classification study and all reports assembled by all the services which shall have been active in the development of the case. These reports may include the reports by the prosecution officers, reports by or for the sentencing court, records from the Federal Bureau of Investigation, reports from the officials in each institution in which the applicant shall have been confined, all records of social agency contacts, and all correspondence and such other records as are necessary or appropriate for complete presentation of the case. Before making a decision as to whether a parole should be granted or denied in any particular case, the Board will consider all available relevant and pertinent information concerning the case. The Board encourages the submission of such information by interested persons.

§ 2.22 Communication with the Board.

Attorneys, relatives, or interested parties wishing a personal interview to discuss a specific case with a representative of the Board of Parole must submit a written request to the appropriate regional office setting for the nature of the information to be discussed. Such personal interview may be conducted by staff personnel in the regional offices. Personal interviews, however, shall not be held by an examiner or member of the Board, except under the Board's appeals procedures.

§ 2.23 Delegation to hearing examiners.

(a) There is hereby delegated to hearing examiners the authority to make tentative decisions relative to the granting or denial of parole, or parole and revocation or reinstatement of parole or mandatory release and to fix conditions of parole.

(b) Hearing examiners shall function as two-man panels and the concurrence of both examiners shall be required for their decision. In the event of a split decision by the panel, the appropriate regional Administrative Hearing Examiner shall cast the deciding vote.

(c) When a hearing examiner panel proposes to make a decision which falls outside of explicit guidelines for parole decision-making promulgated by the Board, the case shall be reviewed by the appropriate regional Administrative Hearing Examiner. When an Administrative Hearing Examiner does not concur in a decision of an examiner panel to set a parole effective date or continuance outside the Board's guidelines he may with the concurrence of the Regional Director modify the date to the nearest limit of the guidelines.

(d) In the event the Administrative Hearing Examiner is serving as a member of a hearing examiner panel or is otherwise unavailable, cases requiring his action under paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section will be referred to another hearing examiner.

(e) A tentative decision of a hearing examiner panel, subject to the provisions of § 2.23(c), shall become effective upon review and docketing at the Regional Office unless action is initiated by the Regional Director under § 2.24.

§ 2.24 Review of panel decision by the Regional Director and the National Directors.

A Regional Director may review the decision of any examiner panel and refer this decision, prior to written notification to the prisoner, with his recommendation and vote to the National Directors for reconsideration and any action deemed appropriate. Written notice of this reconsideration action shall be mailed or transmitted to the prisoner within fifteen working days of the date of the hearing. The Regional Director and each National Director shall have one vote and decisions shall be based upon the concurrence of two votes.

§ 2.25 Appeal of hearing panel decision.

(a) A prisoner may file with the responsible Regional Director a written appeal of a decision of a hearing examiner panel or a decision under § 2.24 to grant, deny or revoke parole or to revoke mandatory release. This appeal must be filed on a form provided for that purpose within thirty days of the date of entry of such decision. The appeal shall be considered by the Regional Director who may affirm the decision, order a new institutional hearing, order a regional appellate hearing, reverse the decision, or modify a continuance or the effective date of parole. Reversal of a decision or the modification of such a decision by more than one hundred eighty days, whether based upon the record or following a regional appellate hearing, shall require the concurrence of two out of three Regional Directors. Appellate decisions requiring a second or additional vote shall be referred to other Regional Directors on a rotating basis as established by the Chairman.

(b) Regional appellate hearings shall be held at the regional office before the Regional Director. Attorneys, relatives and other interested parties who wish to appear must submit a written request to the Regional Director stating their relationship to the prisoner and the general nature of the information they wish to present. The Regional Director shall determine if the requested appearances will be permitted. The prisoner shall not appear personally.

(c) If no appeal is filed within thirty days of entry of the original decision, this decision shall stand as the final decision of the Board.

(d) Appeals under this section may be based only upon the following grounds:

- The reasons given for a denial or continuance do not support the decision; or
- There was significant information in existence but not known at the time of the hearing.

§ 2.26 Appeal to National Appellate Board.

(a) A prisoner may file a written appeal of the Regional Director's decision under § 2.25 to the National Appellate Board on a form provided for that purpose within thirty days after the entry of the Regional Director's written decision. The National Appellate Board may, upon the concurrence of two members, affirm, modify, or reverse the decision, or order a rehearing at the institutional or regional level.

(b) The bases for such appeal shall be the same as for a regional appeal as set forth in § 2.25(d). However, any matter not raised on a regional level appeal may not be raised on appeal to the National Appellate Board.

(c) Decisions of the National Appellate Board shall be final.

§ 2.27 Appeal of original jurisdiction cases.

(a) Cases decided under the procedure specified in § 2.17 may be appealed within thirty days of the entry of the decision on a form provided for this purpose. Attorneys, relatives, and other interested parties who wish to submit written information in support of a prisoner's appeal should send such information to the National Appellate Board Executive, United States Board of Parole, 320 First Street NW., Washington, D.C. 20537. Appeals of original jurisdiction cases shall be reviewed by the entire Board at its next quarterly meeting. A quorum of five members shall be required and all decisions shall be by majority vote. The Chairman shall vote on the decision only in the absence of a member. This appellate decision shall be final.

(b) Attorneys, relatives, or other interested parties who wish to speak for or against parole at such consideration must submit a written request to the Chairman of the Board stating their relationship to the prisoner and the general nature of the material they wish to present. The Chairman shall determine if the requested appearances will be permitted.

(c) If no appeal is filed within thirty days of the entry of the decision under § 2.17, this decision shall stand as the final decision of the Board.

(d) The bases for this appeal shall be the same as for a regional appeal as set forth in § 2.25(d).

§ 2.28 Reopening of cases.

Notwithstanding the appeal procedure of § 2.25 and § 2.26, the appropriate Regional Director may on his own motion reopen a case at any time upon the receipt of new information of substantial significance and may then take any action authorized under the provisions and procedures of § 2.25. Original jurisdiction cases may be reopened upon the motion of the appropriate Regional Director under the procedures of § 2.17.

§ 2.29 Withheld and forfeited good time.

(a) Section 4202 of title 18 of the United States Code permits Federal prisoners to be paroled if they have observed the rules of the institution in which they are confined and if they are otherwise eligible for parole. Any forfeiture of statutory good time shall be deemed to indicate that the prisoner has violated the rules of the institution to a serious degree, and a parole will not be granted in any such case in which such a forfeiture remains effective against the prisoner concerned. Any withholding of statutory good time shall be deemed to indicate that the prisoner has engaged in some less serious breach of the rules of the institution. Nevertheless, parole will not usually be granted unless and until such good time has been restored.

(b) Neither a forfeiture of good time nor a withholding of good time shall bar a prisoner from applying for and receiving a parole hearing.

(c) The above restrictions shall not apply, however, to the forfeiture or withholding of extra good time which is granted because of meritorious behavior. Parole may be ordered without regard to a prisoner's status insofar as extra good time is concerned, although the reasons for any forfeiture or withholding will be included among the other factors used in making the parole decision.

§ 2.30 Release on parole.

(a) A grant of parole shall not be deemed to be effective until a certificate of parole has been delivered to the prisoner.

(b) Parole release dates generally will not be set more than six months from the date of the parole hearing. Exceptions may be made in extraordinary situations or when necessary to permit an adequate period of residence in a Community Treatment Center. Such residence in a Community Treatment Center shall not generally exceed one hundred and twenty days. An effective date of parole shall not be set for a Saturday, Sunday, or a legal holiday.

(c) When an effective date of parole has been set by the Board, release on that date shall be conditioned upon continued good conduct by the prisoner and the completion of a satisfactory plan for parole supervision. The appropriate Regional Director may, on his own motion, reconsider any case prior to release and may reopen and advance or retard a parole date. A parole grant may be retarded for up to one hundred and twenty days without a hearing for development and approval of release plans.

§ 2.31 False or withheld information.

All paroles are ordered on the assumption that information from the prisoner has not been fraudulently given or withheld from the Board. If evidence comes to the attention of the Board that a prisoner willfully concealed or misrepresented information deemed significant, the Regional Director may schedule a hearing to determine whether parole should be revoked or rescinded. Such a hearing shall be conducted in accordance with the procedure set out in § 2.37(b)(2).

§ 2.32 Committed fines.

In any case in which a prisoner shall have had a fine imposed upon him by the committing court for which he is to stand committed until it is paid or until he is otherwise discharged according to law, such prisoner shall not be released on parole or mandatory release until payment of the fine, or until the fine commitment order is discharged according to law as follows:

(a) An indigent prisoner may make application to a U.S. Magistrate in the District wherein he is incarcerated or to the chief executive officer of the institution setting forth, under institutional regulations, his inability to pay such fine; if the magistrate or chief executive officer shall find that the prisoner, having no assets exceeding $20 in value except such as are by law exempt from being taken on execution for debt, is unable to pay the fine, and if the prisoner takes a prescribed oath of indigency, he shall be discharged from the commitment obligation of the committed fine sentence.

(b) If the prisoner is found to possess assets in excess of the exemption in paragraph (a) of this section, nevertheless if the chief executive officer of the institution or U.S. Magistrate shall find that retention of all of such assets is reasonably necessary for his support or that of his family, upon taking of the prescribed oath concerning his assets the prisoner shall be discharged from the commitment obligation of the committed fine sentence. If the chief executive officer of the institution or U.S. Magistrate shall find that retention by the prisoner of any part of his assets is reasonably necessary for his support or that of his family, the prisoner upon taking of the prescribed oath concerning his assets, shall be discharged from the commitment obligation of the committed fine sentence upon payment on account on his fine of that portion of his assets in excess of the amount found to be reasonably necessary for his support or that of his family.

(c) Discharge from the commitment obligation of any committed fine sentence does not discharge the prisoner's obligation to pay the fine as a debt due the United States.

§ 2.33 Parole to detainees; statement of policy.

The policy of the Board with regard to parole to detainees is in general accord with the principles recommended by the Association of Administrators of the Interstate Compact for the Supervision of Parolees and Probationers:

(a) The status of detainees held against prisoners in Federal institutions will be investigated, so far as is reasonably possible, prior to parole hearings.

(b) In appropriate cases summary information regarding such prisoner will be provided to state or local authorities. The Board urges institution officials to provide such information.

(c) Where the detainee is not lifted, the Board may grant parole to such detainee if a prisoner is considered in other respects to be a good parole risk. Ordinarily, however, the Board will grant parole to such detainee only if the status of that detainee has been investigated.

(d) The Board will cooperate in working out arrangements for concurrent supervision with other jurisdictions where it is feasible and where release on parole appears to be justified.

RULES AND REGULATIONS

(c) The presence of a detainee is not of itself a valid reason for the denial of parole. It is recognized that where the prisoner appears to be a good parole risk, there may be distinct advantage in granting parole despite a detainee.

§ 2.34 Parole to local or immigration detainees.

(a) When a state or local detainee is outstanding against a prisoner whom the Board wishes to parole, the Board may order either of the following:

(1) "Parole to the actual physical custody of the detaining authorities only." In this event, release is not to be effected except to the detainee. When such a detainee is withdrawn, the prisoner is not to be released unless and until the Board makes a new order of parole.

(2) "Parole to the actual physical custody of the detaining authorities or an approved plan." In this event, release is to be effected even though the detainee might be withdrawn, providing there is an acceptable plan for community supervision.

(b) When the Board wishes to parole a prisoner subject to a detainee filed by Federal immigration officials, the Board may order one of the following:

(1) "Parole for deportation only." In this event, release is not to be effected unless immigration officials make full arrangements for deportation immediately upon release.

(2) "Parole to the actual physical custody of the immigration authorities only." In this event, release is not to be effected unless immigration officials take the prisoner into custody—regardless of whether or not deportation follows.

(3) "Parole to the actual physical custody of the immigration authorities or an approved plan." In this event, release is to be effected regardless of whether or not immigration officials take the prisoner into custody, providing there is an acceptable plan for community supervision.

(c) As used in this section "parole to a detainee" means release to the "physical custody" of the authorities who have lodged the detainee. Temporary detention in a jail in the county where the institution of confinement is located does not constitute release on parole. If the authorities who lodged the detainee do not take the prisoner into custody for any reason, he shall be returned to the institution to await further order from the Board.

§ 2.35 Mental competency proceedings.

(a) Whenever a prisoner or parolee is scheduled for a hearing in accordance with the provisions of this part and reasonable doubt exists as to his mental competency, i.e., his ability to understand the nature of and participate in scheduled proceedings, a preliminary hearing to determine his mental competency shall be conducted by a panel of hearing examiners or other official(s) (including a U.S. Probation Officer) designated by the Board of Parole.

(b) At the competency hearing, the hearing examiners or designated official(s) shall receive oral or written psychiatric testimony and other evidence that may be available. A preliminary determination of the prisoner's mental competency shall be made upon the testimony, evidence, and personal observations of the prisoner. If the examiner panel or designated official(s) determines that the prisoner is mentally competent, the previously scheduled hearing shall be held. If they determine that the prisoner is not mentally competent, the previously scheduled hearing shall be temporarily postponed.

(c) Whenever the hearing examiners or designated official(s) determine that a person is incompetent and postpone the previously scheduled hearing, they shall forward the record of the preliminary hearing with their findings to the Regional Director for review. If the Regional Director concurs with their findings, he shall order the temporarily postponed hearing to be postponed indefinitely until such time as it is determined that the prisoner or parolee has recovered sufficiently to understand the nature of and participate in the proceedings and, in the case of a parolee, may order such parolee committed to a Bureau of Prison's facility for further examination. In any such case, the Regional Director shall require a progress report at least every six months on the mental health of the prisoner. When the Regional Director determines that the prisoner has recovered sufficiently, he shall reschedule the hearing for the earliest possible date.

(d) If the Regional Director disagrees with the findings of the hearing examiners or designated official(s) as to the mental competency of the prisoner, he shall take such action as he deems appropriate.

§ 2.36 Release plans.

(a) A grant of parole is conditioned upon the approval of release plans by the Regional Director. In general, the following factors should be present before a prisoner is released after parole has been granted:

(1) The probation officer to whom the releasee is assigned may, in his discretion, require that there be available to the releasee an adviser who is a responsible, reputable, and law-abiding citizen living in or near the community in which the releasee will reside. The adviser should act as a source of advice for the releasee relative to community adjustment. The adviser may provide special services such as vocational placement, personal counsel, or referral to community agencies. The adviser is expected to report to the probation officer any law violation or serious misconduct on the part of the releasee. The adviser may be required by the probation officer to countersign the parolee's monthly supervision report to indicate actual contact with the parolee.

(2) There should be satisfactory evidence that the prospective parolee will be legitimately employed following his release; and

(3) There should be satisfactory assurance that necessary aftercare will be available to a parolee who is ill or who has some other problem which requires special care.

(b) Generally, parolees will be released only to the place of their legal residence unless the Board is satisfied that another place of residence will serve the public interest more effectively or will improve the probabilities of the applicant's readjustment.

§ 2.37 Rescission of parole.

(a) When an effective date of parole has been set by the Board, release on that date shall be conditioned upon continued good conduct by the prisoner. If a prisoner has been granted parole and has subsequently been charged with institutional misconduct sufficient to become a matter of record, the Regional Director shall be advised promptly of such misconduct. The prisoner shall not be released until the institution has been notified that no change has been made in the Board's order to parole.

(1) Upon receipt of information that a prisoner has violated the rules of the institution, the Regional Director may retard the parole grant for up to sixty days without a hearing or may retard the parole grant and schedule the case for a rescission hearing. If the prisoner was confined in a federal prison at the time of the order retarding parole, the rescission hearing shall be scheduled for the next docket of parole hearings at the institution. If the prisoner was residing in a federal community treatment center or a state or local halfway house, the rescission hearing shall be scheduled for the first docket of parole hearings after return to a federal institution. When the prisoner is given written notice of the Board action regarding parole, he shall be given notice of the charges of misconduct to be considered at the rescission hearing. The purpose of the rescission hearing shall be to determine whether rescission of the parole grant is warranted. At the rescission hearing the prisoner may be represented by a person of his choice and may present documentary evidence.

(2) An institution discipline committee hearing conducted by the institution resulting in a finding that the prisoner has violated the rules of his confinement, may be relied upon by the Board as conclusive evidence of institutional misconduct.

(3) If the parole grant is rescinded, the prisoner shall be furnished a written statement of the findings of misconduct and the evidence relied upon.

(b)(1) Upon receipt of new information adverse to the prisoner regarding matters other than institutional misconduct, the Board acting upon the procedures of § 2.17 may retard a previously granted parole and schedule the case for an institutional review hearing on the next docket of parole hearings or at the first docket of parole hearings following return to a federal institution.

(2) The prisoner shall be given notice of the nature of the new adverse information upon which the rescission consideration is to be based. The hearing shall be conducted in accordance with term or terms specified in his sentence without deductions of allowance for good expiration of the sentence or sentences imposed by the court. Other modification of the reporting requirements may be

§ 2.52 Execution of warrant; notice of alleged violations.

(a) Any officer of any Federal correcwarrant. These decisions will be made by the Regional Director. The Board shall request periodic reports from insti-

hearing officer designated by the Regional Director provided that the prisoner has been advised that the post-sideration is to be based. The hearing shall be conducted in accordance with the procedures set out in §§ 2.12 and 2.13. The purpose of the hearing shall be to determine if the parole grant should be rescinded or if a new parole date should be established.

§ 2.38 Sponsorship of parolees; statement of policy.

It is the policy of the Youth Corrections Division to cooperate with groups desiring to serve as sponsors of parolees. In all cases, sponsors shall serve under the direction of and in cooperation with the probation officers to whom the parolees are assigned.

§ 2.39 Mandatory release in the absence of parole.

A prisoner shall be mandatorily released by operation of law at the end of the sentence imposed by the court less such good time deductions and extra good time deductions as he may have earned through his behavior and efforts at the institution of confinement. He shall be released as if on parole, under supervision until the expiration of the maximum term or terms for which he was sentenced less one hundred eighty days. Insofar as possible, release plans shall be completed before the release of any such prisoner.

§ 2.40 Same; youth offenders.

A prisoner committed under the Youth Corrections Act must be initially released conditionally under supervision not later than two years before the expiration of the term imposed by the court.

§ 2.41 Reports to police departments of names of parolees; statement of policy.

Names of parolees under supervision will not routinely be furnished to a police department of a community, except as required by law. All such notifications are to be regarded as confidential.

§ 2.42 Community supervision by United States Probation Officers.

(a) Pursuant to section 3655 of title 18 of the United States Code, United States Probation Officers are required to provide such parole services as the Attorney General may request. The Attorney General has delegated his authority in this regard to the Board (28 CFR 0.126(b)). In conformity with the foregoing, probation officers function as parole officers and provide supervision to parolees and mandatory releases under the Board's jurisdiction.

(b) A parolee or mandatory releasee may be transferred to a new district of supervision with the permission of the probation officers of both the transferring and receiving district, provided such transfer is not contrary to instructions from the Board.

§ 2.43 Duration of period of community supervision.

(a) Any prisoner, with the exception of those sentenced prior to June 29, 1932, who is released under the provisions of laws relating to parole, shall continue until the expiration of the maximum term or terms specified in his sentence without deductions of allowance for good time. Prisoners sentenced prior to June 29, 1932, shall receive reductions in their maximum term or terms of imprisonment for such good time allowances as may be authorized by law.

(b) The Regional Director may discharge from supervision prior to the normal expiration date as provided in § 2.46(b), but the sentence is not thus commuted and such a parolee may be reinstated to supervision or retaken on the basis of a violator warrant.

§ 2.44 Conditions of release.

The conditions of release are printed on the release certificate and are binding regardless of whether the releasee signs the certificate. The Board, or a member thereof, may add special conditions or modify the conditions of release at any time.

§ 2.45 Travel by parolees and mandatory releasees.

(a) The probation officer may approve travel outside the district without approval of the Regional Director in the following situations:

- (1) Vacation trips not to exceed thirty days,
- (2) Trips, not to exceed thirty days, to investigate reasonably certain employment possibilities,
- (3) Recurring travel across a district boundary, not to exceed fifty miles outside the district, for purposes of employment, shopping, or recreation.

(b) Specific advance approval by the Regional Director is required for other travel, including travel outside the continental limits of the United States, employment more than fifty miles outside the district, and vacations exceeding thirty days. A special condition imposed by the Regional Director prohibiting certain travel shall supersede any general rules relating to travel as set forth above.

§ 2.46 Supervision reports, modification and discharge from supervision.

(a) All parolees and mandatory releasees shall make such reports to the United States Probation Officers to whom they have been assigned as may be required by the Board or Probation Officers. Probation Officers shall submit summary reviews of the progress of parolees and mandatory releasees according to Board policy. On the basis of summary reviews of the progress of parolees, the Regional Director may modify the reporting requirement of parolees or releasees.

(b) After the parolee or mandatory releasee has been under supervision for at least one year, the Regional Director may, in his discretion, permit the parolee to submit a written report to his probation officer on a less frequent basis than once a month. After a period of such reduced reporting the Regional Director may further order that the parolee be discharged from all supervision by the Probation Officer. In the latter instances, a parolee may be reinstated to supervision or a warrant may be issued for him as a violator at any time prior to the expiration of the sentence or sentences imposed by the court. Other modification in the reporting requirements may be made by the Regional Director at any time during the parolee's term.

§ 2.47 Modification and discharge from supervision; youth offenders.

A committed youth offender may remain under supervision until the expiration of his sentence or he may be released from supervision or unconditionally discharged at any time after one year of continuous supervision on parole.

§ 2.48 Setting aside conviction.

When an unconditional discharge has been granted to a youth offender prior to the expiration of his maximum term of sentence, his conviction shall be automatically set aside and the Regional Director shall issue to the youth offender a certificate to that effect.

§ 2.49 Revocation of parole or mandatory release.

(a) If a parolee or mandatory releasee violates any of the conditions of his release, and satisfactory evidence thereof is presented to the Board, or a member thereof, a warrant may be issued and the offender returned to an institution. Warrants shall be issued or withdrawn only by the Board, or a member thereof.

(b) A warrant for the apprehension of any parolee shall be issued only within the maximum term or terms for which the prisoner was sentenced.

(c) A warrant for the apprehension of any mandatory releasee shall be issued only within the maximum term or terms for which the prisoner was sentenced, less one hundred eighty days.

§ 2.50 Same; youth offenders.

In addition to issuance of a warrant on the basis of violation of any of the condition of release, the responsible Regional Director may, when he is of the opinion that such youth offender would benefit by further treatment direct his return to custody or issue a warrant for his apprehension and return to custody. Upon his return to custody, such youth offender shall be given a revocation hearing under the same provisions as adult offenders as specified in § 2.54 to § 2.56. Following the revocation hearing parole may be reinstated, revoked or the terms and conditions thereof may be modified.

§ 2.51 Unexpired term of imprisonment.

The time a prisoner was on parole or mandatory release is not credited to the service of his sentence if revocation occurs. When a warrant is issued the sentence ceases to run, but begins to run again when the releasee is taken into Federal custody by the execution of the Board's violation warrant. However, the sentences of prisoners committed under the Narcotic Addict Rehabilitation Act or the Youth Corrections Act run uninterruptedly from the date of conviction without regard to any revocation, except as provided in § 2.10(c). In no case may the commitment of a person under the Federal Juvenile Delinquency Act extend past his twenty-first birthday.

§ 2.52 Execution of warrant; notice of alleged violations.

(a) Any officer of any Federal correctional institution, or any Federal officer authorized to serve criminal process within the United States, to whom a warrant shall be delivered shall execute such warrant by taking such prisoner and returning him to the custody of the Attorney General. The warrant shall be considered delivered to a Federal officer when the warrant is signed and placed in the mail at the Board headquarters or regional office before the expiration of the maximum term of sentence.

(b) On arrest of the prisoner the officer executing the warrant shall deliver to him a copy of the Warrant Application listing the alleged violations of parole or mandatory release upon which the warrant was issued.

(c) If execution of the warrant is delayed pending disposition of local charges, for further investigation, or for some other purpose, the parolee or mandatory releasee is to be continued under supervision by the probation officer until the normal expiration of the sentence, or until the warrant is executed, whichever comes first. Monthly supervision reports are to be submitted, and the releasee must continue to abide by all the conditions of release.

§ 2.53 Warrant placed as a detainer and dispositional interview.

(a) In those instances where the prisoner is serving a new sentence in an institution, the warrant may be placed there as a detainer. Such prisoner shall be advised that he may communicate with the Board relative to disposition of the warrant, and may request that it be withdrawn or executed so his violator term will run concurrently with the new sentence. Should further information be deemed necessary, the Regional Director may designate a hearing examiner panel to conduct a dispositional interview at the institution where the prisoner is confined. At such dispositional interview the prisoner may be represented by counsel of his own choice and may call witnesses in his own behalf, provided he bears their expenses. He shall be given timely notice of the dispositional interview and its procedure.

(b) Following the dispositional review the Regional Director may:

- (1) Let the detainer stand
- (2) Withdraw the detainer and close the case if the expiration date has passed;
- (3) Withdraw the detainer and reinstate to supervision; thus permitting the federal sentence time to run uninterruptedly from the time of his original release on parole or mandatory release.

(4) Execute warrant, thus permitting the sentence to run from that point in time. If the warrant is executed, a previously conducted dispositional interview may be construed as a revocation hearing.

(c) In all cases, including those where a dispositional interview is not conducted, the Board shall conduct annual reviews relative to the disposition of the warrant. These decisions will be made by the Regional Director. The Board shall request periodic reports from institution officials for its consideration.

§ 2.54 Revocation by the Board, preliminary interview.

(a) A prisoner who is retaken on a warrant issued by a Board Member shall be given a preliminary interview by an official designated by the Regional Director to determine if there is probable cause to hold the prisoner for a revocation hearing and, if so, whether such revocation hearing should be conducted in the locality of the charged violation(s) or in a Federal institution. The official designated to conduct the preliminary interview may be a United States Probation Officer in the district where the prisoner is confined, provided he is not the officer who recommended that the warrant be issued.

(b) At the beginning of the preliminary interview, the hearing officer shall explain the Board's revocation procedure to the prisoner and shall advise the prisoner that he may have the preliminary interview postponed so that he may obtain representation by an attorney or may arrange for the attendance of witnesses. The prisoner shall also be advised that if he cannot afford to retain an attorney he may apply to a United States District Court for appointment of counsel to represent him at the preliminary interview and the revocation hearing. The prisoner may also request the presence of persons who have given information upon which revocation may be based. Such adverse witnesses shall be requested to attend the preliminary interview unless the prisoner admits a violation or has been convicted of a new offense committed while on supervision or unless the hearing officer finds good cause for their non-attendance. At the preliminary interview the hearing officer shall review the violation charges with the prisoner, receive the statements of witnesses and documentary evidence on behalf of the prisoner, and allow cross-examination of those adverse witnesses in attendance.

(c) At the conclusion of the preliminary interview, the hearing officer shall prepare and submit to the Regional Director a summary of the interview, which shall include recommended findings of whether there is probable cause to hold the prisoner for a revocation hearing. Upon receipt of the summary of the preliminary interview, the Regional Director shall either order the prisoner reinstated to supervision, order that a revocation hearing be conducted in the locality of the charged violation(s), or direct that the prisoner be transferred to a Federal institution for a revocation hearing.

(d) The prisoner shall be retained in local custody pending completion of the preliminary interview, submission of the summary of the hearing officer, and notification by the Regional Director relative to further action.

(e) A postponed preliminary interview may be conducted as a local revocation hearing, by an examiner panel or other hearing officer designated by the Regional Director provided that the prisoner has been advised that the postponed preliminary interview will constitute his final revocation hearing.

§ 2.55 Local revocation hearing.

(a) If the prisoner requests a local revocation hearing prior to his return to a Federal institution, he shall be given a revocation hearing reasonably near the place of an alleged violation if the following conditions are met:

- (1) The local hearing would facilitate the production of witnesses or the retention of counsel;
- (2) The prisoner has not been convicted of a crime committed while under supervision; and
- (3) The prisoner denies that he has violated any condition of his release. Otherwise, he shall be given a revocation hearing after he is returned to a Federal institution. However, the Regional Director may, on his own motion, designate a case for a local revocation hearing.

(b) If there are two or more alleged violations, the hearing shall be conducted near the place of the violation chiefly relied upon as a basis for the issuance of the warrant, as determined by the Regional Director.

(c) Following the hearing the prisoner shall be retained in custody until final action is taken relative to revocation or reinstatement, or until other instructions are issued by the Regional Director.

§ 2.56 Revocation hearing procedure.

(a) A revocation hearing shall be conducted by a hearing examiner panel or, in a local revocation hearing only, by another official designated by the Regional Director. In the latter case, the decision relative to revocation shall be made by an examiner panel on the basis of the hearing summary pursuant to the provisions of § 2.23. A revocation decision may be appealed under the provisions of § 2.25, § 2.26, or § 2.27 as applicable.

(b) The purpose of the revocation hearing shall be to determine whether the prisoner has violated the conditions of his release and, if so, whether his parole or mandatory release should be revoked or reinstated.

(c) The alleged violator may present voluntary witnesses and documentary evidence in his behalf. However, the presiding hearing officer or examiner panel may limit or exclude any irrelevant or repetitious statement or documentary evidence.

(d) If the alleged violator has not been convicted of a new criminal offense while under supervision and does not admit violation of any of the conditions of his release, the Board shall, on the request of the alleged violator or on its own motion, request the attendance of persons who have given statements upon which revocations may be based. Those adverse witnesses who are present shall be made available for questioning and cross-examination in the presence of the alleged violator unless the presiding hearing officer or examiner panel finds good cause for their non-attendance.

(e) All evidence upon which the finding of violation may be based shall be presented to the hearing officer at the

(v) F.B.I. identification reports (rap sheets).

(h) All requests for disclosure of documents.

(b) At the time of release under the

RULES AND REGULATIONS

(e) All evidence upon which the finding of violation may be based shall be disclosed to the alleged violator at the revocation hearing. The hearing officer or examiner panel may disclose documentary evidence by reading or summarizing the appropriate document for the alleged violator.

§ 2.57 Disclosure of records.

(a) Prior to any parole hearing conducted in his case pursuant to §§ 2.13, or 2.14, or at any time during his incarceration, a prisoner is entitled to review reports in his institution file containing factual material bearing on his offense behavior, personal history, and institutional progress, as provided in Bureau of Prisons Policy Statement No. 2211.8, dated June 12, 1975, provided that disclosure of such reports would not (1) threaten the life or physical safety of any person; (2) interfere with law enforcement proceedings; (3) disclose investigative techniques of a law enforcement agency; or (4) constitute a clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy. The reports to be disclosed to the prisoner, subject to the above exceptions, include but are not limited to the following:

- (i) Sentence Computation Records;
- (ii) Classification material (including progress reports);
- (iii) Incident (disciplinary) reports;
- (iv) Medical reports;

(v) F.B.I. identification reports (rap sheets).

(b) All requests for disclosure of documents in the institution file shall be addressed to the Bureau of Prisons staff at least seven days prior to the time such documents are to be viewed. Copies of documents will be furnished under applicable Bureau of Prisons regulations.

(c) Sole authority to disclose a Presentence Investigation Report is retained by the prisoner's sentencing court. A request for disclosure of the Presentence Investigation Report must be addressed to the Court which originated the document.

(d) Copies of documents contained in Board of Parole Regional Office files shall be made available to prisoners, their authorized representatives, and other persons, upon written request in accordance with applicable law and Department of Justice Regulations at 28 C.F.R. Part 16, Subparts C and D. The Board reserves the right to invoke statutory exemptions to disclosure in appropriate cases.

§ 2.58 Special parole terms.

(a) The Drug Abuse Prevention and Control Act, 21 U.S.C. §§ 801 to 966, provides that, on conviction of certain offenses, mandatory "special parole terms" must be imposed by the court as part of the sentence. This term is an additional period of supervision which follows the completion of the regular sentence, including completion of the supervision period of such regular sentence on parole or mandatory release.

(b) At the time of release under the regular sentence, whether under full term expiration or under a mandatory release certificate or a parole certificate, a separate Special Parole Term certificate will be issued to the prisoner by the Bureau of Prisons.

(c) Should a releasee be found to have violated conditions of release during supervision under his regular sentence, i.e., before commencement of the Special Parole Term, he will be returned as a violator of his basic supervision period under his regular sentence; the Special Parole Term will follow unaffected. Should a releasee violate conditions of release during the Special Parole Term, he will be subject to revocation with the complete Special Parole Term to serve (but none of the separate regular sentence), and subject to reparole or mandatory release under the Special Parole Term.

(d) If the prisoner is repared under the revoked Special Parole Term a certificate of parole to Special Parole Term is issued by the Board. If the inmate is mandatorily released under the revoked "special parole term" a certificate of mandatory release to Special Parole Term will be issued by the Bureau of Prisons.

System name: Master Pay Record—SSS

Security classification:

System location:

Computer Service Center
Selective Service System
2550 Huntington Avenue
Alexandria, Virginia 22303

Categories of individuals covered by the system: Currently assigned civilian employees and former civilian employees who have separated during the current year and first prior calendar year.

Categories of records in the system: Contains payroll information such as name, grade, annual salary, hourly rate, address, Social Security Account Number, birth date, date of hire, service computation date, annual leave category, life insurance and health benefits deductions, Savings Bond data, and other information relating to the status of the employee.

Authority for maintenance of the system: Section 10(b)(2) of the Military Selective Service Act (50 U.S.C. App. 460(b)(2)) and Title 5, U.S.C.

Routine uses of records maintained in the system, including categories of users and the purposes of such uses: Selected information by name and Social Security Account Number is furnished the Internal Revenue Service, and State and City taxing authorities.

Selected information by name, date of birth and Social Security Account Number is furnished the Civil Service Commission for retirement, life insurance and health benefit accounts.

Policies and practices for storing, retrieving, accessing, retaining, and disposing of records in the system: See Storage, Retrievability, Safeguards, Access, Retention and Disposal below.

Storage: Records are maintained in binders, on microfiche and magnetic tape.

Retrievability: Records are indexed by Social Security Account Number.

Safeguards: Use of the records or any information contained therein is limited to employees whose official duties require such access. The records are maintained in lockable file containers.

Retention and disposal: The information on the magnetic tapes is retained for two years, then erased.

The microfiche copies are retained for one year, then destroyed by burning.

The computer printouts are retained until updated, then destroyed by shredding.

Mr. Byron V. Pepitone
Director of Selective Service System

DEPARTMENT OF LABOR

Employment Standards
AdministrationMINIMUM WAGES FOR FEDERAL AND FEDERALLY ASSISTED CONSTRUCTION
General Wage Determination Decisions

General Wage Determination Decisions of the Secretary of Labor specify, in accordance with applicable law and on the basis of information available to the Department of Labor from its study of local wage conditions and from other sources, the basic hourly wage rates and fringe benefit payments which are determined to be prevailing for the described classes of laborers and mechanics employed in construction activity of the character and in the localities specified therein.

The determinations in these decisions of such prevailing rates and fringe benefits have been made by authority of the Secretary of Labor pursuant to the provisions of the Davis-Bacon Act of March 3, 1931, as amended (46 Stat. 1494, as amended, 40 U.S.C. 276a) and of other Federal statutes referred to in 29 CFR 1.1 (including the statutes listed at 36 FR 306 following Secretary of Labor's Order No. 24-70) containing provisions for the payment of wages which are dependent upon determinations by the Secretary of Labor under the Davis-Bacon Act; and pursuant to the provisions of Part 1 of Subtitle A of Title 29 of Code of Federal Regulations, Procedure for Predetermination of Wage Rates, (37 FR 21138) and of Secretary of Labor's Orders 12-71 and 15-71 (36 FR 8755, 8756). The prevailing rates and fringe benefits determined in these decisions shall, in accordance with the provisions of the foregoing statutes, constitute the minimum wages payable on Federal and federally assisted construction projects to laborers and mechanics of the specified classes engaged on contract work of the character and in the localities described therein.

Good cause is hereby found for not utilizing notice and public procedure thereon prior to the issuance of these determinations as prescribed in 5 U.S.C. 553 and not providing for delay in effective date as prescribed in that section, because the necessity to issue construction industry wage determination frequently and in large volume causes procedures to be impractical and contrary to the public interest.

General Wage Determination Decisions are effective from their date of publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER without limitation as to time and are to be used in accordance with the provisions of 29 CFR, Parts 1 and 5. Accordingly, the applicable decision together with any modifications issued subsequent to its publication date shall be made a part of every contract for performance of the described work within the geographic area indicated as required by an applicable Federal prevailing wage law and 29 CFR, Part 5. The wage rates contained therein shall be the minimum paid under such contract by contractors and subcontractors on the work.

MODIFICATIONS AND SUPERSEDES DECISIONS TO GENERAL WAGE DETERMINATION DECISIONS

Modifications and Supersedes Decisions to General Wage Determination Decisions are based upon information obtained concerning changes in prevailing hourly wage rates and fringe benefit payments since the decisions were issued.

The determinations of prevailing rates and fringe benefits made in the Modifications and Supersedes Decisions have been made by authority of the Secretary of Labor pursuant to the provisions of the Davis-Bacon Act of March 3, 1931, as amended (46 Stat. 1494, as amended, 40 U.S.C. 276a) and of other Federal statutes referred to in 29 CFR 1.1 (including the statutes listed at 36 FR 306 following Secretary of Labor's Order No. 24-70) containing provisions for the payment of wages which are dependent upon determination by the Secretary of Labor under the Davis-Bacon Act; and pursuant to the provisions of Part 1 of Subtitle A of Title 29 of Code of Federal Regulations, Procedure for Predetermination of Wage Rates, (37 FR 21138) and of Secretary of Labor's Orders 12-71 and 15-71 (36 FR 8755, 8756). The prevailing rates and fringe benefits determined in foregoing General Wage Determination Decisions, as hereby modified, and/or superseded shall, in accordance with the provisions of the foregoing statutes, constitute the minimum wages payable on Federal and federally assisted construction projects to laborers and mechanics of the specified classes engaged in contract work of the character and in the localities described therein.

Modifications and Supersedes Decisions are effective from their date of publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER without limitation as to time and are to be used in accordance with the provisions of 29 CFR, Parts 1 and 5.

Any person, organization, or governmental agency having an interest in the wages determined as prevailing is encouraged to submit wage rate information for consideration by the Department. Further information and self-explanatory forms for the purpose of submitting this data may be obtained by writing to the U.S. Department of Labor, Employment Standards Administration, Office of Special Wage Standards, Division of Wage Determinations, Washington, D.C. 20210. The cause for not utilizing the rule-making procedures prescribed in 5 U.S.C. 553 has been set forth in the original General Wage Determination Decision.

PRIVACY ACT OF 1974

Notices of Systems of Records

Notice is hereby given that the Department of the Interior proposes to adopt notices describing the systems of records subject to section 3 of the Privacy Act of 1974, 5 U.S.C. Section 552a, which it maintains. Although the Act requires publication for comment of only that portion of each notice which describes the "routine uses" of a system of records, the Department is publishing and invites comment upon all parts of each notice.

The proposed notices are the product of a several month effort by the Department to identify records which it maintains, which are subject to the Privacy Act. In making final decisions about the coverage of the Act, the Department was guided by the guidelines for Privacy Act implementation published by the Office of Management and Budget in the FEDERAL REGISTER for July 9, 1975 (40 FR 28949-28978).

The format for the proposed notices is the format recommended by the Office of the Federal Register in the FEDERAL REGISTER for June 19, 1975 (40 FR 25988-25990).

The following remarks should clarify some of the principles which guided the Department in identifying records subject to the Act, in making decisions concerning the configuration of these records into systems of records, and in preparation of notices describing these systems.

The provisions of section 3 of the Privacy Act apply generally to all "records" which are maintained in a "system of records." The term "record" is defined by the Act to mean "any item, collection, or grouping of information about an individual that is maintained by an agency, including, but not limited to, his education, financial transactions, medical history, and criminal or employment history and that contains his name, or the identifying number, symbol, or other identifying particular assigned to the individual, such as a finger or voice print or a photograph." 5 U.S.C. Section 552a(a)(4). The term "individual," which is necessarily crucial in interpreting the term "record," is defined to mean "a citizen of the United States or an alien lawfully admitted for permanent residence." 5 U.S.C. Section 552a(a)(1).

The term "system of records" means "a group of any records under the control of any agency from which information is retrieved by the name of the individual or by some identifying number, symbol, or other identifying particular assigned to the individual." 5 U.S.C. Section 552a(a)(5).

In synthesizing these three definitions, the Department developed several principles which it applied in considering the application of the Act to records in its files.

First, the Department concluded that the Act did not reach records concerning individuals acting in an entrepreneurial or proprietary capacity, as opposed to records containing purely personal information about individuals. This conclusion is based, in part, on the plain words of the definition of "individual." Natural persons may be citizens; artificial persons cannot. Orient Ins. Co. v. Daggs, 172 U.S. 557 (1869). Fictional business entities thus cannot be citizens. Information on such an entity, even though the entity may be closely tied with a natural person, is not "information about an individual." The Department's conclusion is reinforced by the legislative history of the Act. As pointed out and discussed in more detail in the OMB guidelines, the Senate Report states that the definition of individual is intended to "distinguish between the rights which are given to the citizen as an individual under this Act and the rights of proprietorships, businesses and corporations which are not intended to be covered by this Act." S. Rept. 1183, 93d Cong., 2d Sess. 79 (1974).

PROPOSED RULES

Based on this conclusion, the Department has not included as systems collections of records appearing to pertain only to businesses (including sole proprietorships, partnerships, and corporations).

The Department recognizes, however, that in some instances records pertaining to very small business may have a dual character. Information concerning the finances of a sole proprietorship may, in some cases, also be personal financial information concerning the proprietor in his individual capacity. Because of this possibility, the Department has included as systems some collections of records which contain primarily entrepreneurial information, but which may contain some small amount of information which is personal in character. In most cases, the notices for these systems contain a statement under the heading "Category of Individual" explaining the basis on which they were included. It is the Department's understanding that the collections of records covered by these system notices are "systems" subject to the Act only to the extent that they contain personal information. The entrepreneurial component of the collections is not subject to the Act.

The Department intends to follow closely any litigation which should develop on this difficult point and, if necessary, will adjust its notices to accommodate the law which develops out of such litigation.

Second, the Department concluded that collections of records containing personal information about individuals were not "systems" if that information is not retrieved by individual name or identifier. This reading seems to be the only one which can be given to the definition of "system of records."

Despite this conclusion, the Department has been fairly liberal in deciding whether personal information "is" retrieved by individual name or identifier. Included among the Department's systems are several from which information can physically be retrieved by individual name, but for which there is no significant history of use of this capability. It was the Department's conclusion with respect to these systems that the potential for such retrieval ought to be viewed as bringing them within the Act because the information in the systems was information in which individuals may have some privacy interest.

With respect to personal information not retrieved by individual name and thus not subject to the Act, the Department, of course, will, in the spirit of the Privacy Act, exercise appropriate caution in the handling and dissemination of records. In particular, invocation of the sixth exemption from the Freedom of Information Act's disclosure requirements will be seriously considered when such information is sought in a Freedom of Information request.

Third, the Department concluded that the Privacy Act does not reach records kept by employees which are not official records. It is the Department's view that personal records maintained by an employee are not under its control and, accordingly not "maintained by an agency" within the meaning of 5 U.S.C. section 552a(a)(4). In reaching this conclusion, the Department relied upon the analysis offered at page 28952 of the OMB guidelines.

The Department views this conclusion as excluding only a fairly narrow category of records from coverage by the Act, however. The type of records excluded are mainly personal telephone lists; birthday and similar lists developed by employees on their own time for purposes of exchanging greeting cards or gifts; and similar documents.

Fourth, the Department concluded that the Act does not apply to published works, including library books and standard research and reference authorities. The basis of this conclusion is the doctrine of statutory interpretation that legislation ought not to be interpreted so as to yield an absurd result. Even though a library book may contain personal information and may be retrievable by individual name through a card catalogue, application of the Privacy Act protections to that book would serve no sensible purpose. The publication of a book containing very sensitive personal information concerning a person may give rise to an action for damages, see, e.g., Garner v. Triangle Publications, 97 F. Supp. 546 (S.D.N.Y. 1951), but locking up the Government's copies of the book cannot reasonably be viewed as ameliorating the invasion of privacy which has occurred or protecting the individual from further invasions of privacy or adverse consequences stemming therefrom. Further, it would necessarily be beyond the capability of the Department to assure that the contents of the books in its many libraries are timely and accurate.

Fifth, the Department concluded that mailing lists containing solely lists of names and addresses are not "systems of records." The definition of "record," as quoted above, offers as examples of items of information within its scope information concerning "education, financial transactions, medical history, and criminal or employment history." Applying the principle of eiusdem generis, the Department is of the view that the words "item, collection or grouping of information" must be read as applying to things of the same general kind or class as those mentioned. The Department does not view an individual's address, without more, as being in the same class as the specifically enumerated items in the definition.

The Department's conclusion on this point does not mean that mailing lists which it maintains are open to the world. Subsection (n) of 5 U.S.C. § 552a precludes the sale of mailing lists and the Department will observe this prohibition. Further, where mailing lists are requested under the Freedom of Information Act, it will be the policy of the Department to consider carefully the application of exemption (6) and to withhold such lists where, even though disclosure in and of itself may not constitute an invasion of privacy, the requester will use the list in such a way as to invade personal privacy by, for example, conducting a commercial solicitation. See, Wine Hobby USA, Inc. v. I.R.S., 502 F.2d 133 (3rd Cir. 1974).

Further, mailing lists integrated with information beyond name and address are covered in the Department's system notices.

Finally, the Department concluded that, in resolving close questions concerning the application of the Act to records, it should view the Act as applicable if there was a significant possibility that the records might be used to make determinations adverse to an individual. As a result of this decision, the Department included as systems several collections of records which it might not have otherwise included. For example, the Supervisor's Record of Employees System, Interior/Office of the Secretary—16 is defined to include a supervisor's personal notes concerning employee conduct. An argument could have been made for excluding such notes on the ground that they are not "official records," but was not because of the possibility that these records might be used in making adverse determinations about employees.

The Department has not generally prepared notices covering records which are or will be covered in general Government-wide notices issued by other agencies. The principal category of records excluded from the Department's notices by this decision is official personnel records. These records will be covered in a series of general notices issued by the Civil Service Commission, which is, in any event, the technical owner of official personnel records in the hands of the Department.

In configuring collections of records subject to the Act into systems for purposes of notice publication, the Department's policy was to aggregate similar records maintained in widely dispersed locations geographically into either bureau- or Department-wide systems. Three factors influenced this decision. First, the Department concluded that such aggregation would promote greater uniformity and central direction in the handling and maintenance of records within the system, hence reducing the possibility of abuses. Second, the Department concluded that keeping the number of system notices which it needed to publish at a minimum would permit individuals to more readily identify general groupings of records which might contain information pertaining to them. Finally, the Department concluded that preparing separate notices for each component of decentralized systems would involve an unjustifiable expenditure of the taxpayers' money. Rather than the approximately 200 notices which the Department is proposing, this approach would have compelled preparation and publication of 5000 or more notices.

In organizing the proposed notices for publication, the Department has grouped the notices by bureau. While the Department views itself, for Privacy Act purposes, as a single agency, it was felt that organization of notices by bureau would facilitate easy location of records by individuals seeking to determine if the Department maintains records pertaining to them. This will be particularly so because a large portion of the Department's notices relate to administrative management matters (payroll, property management, travel, and so forth) which would be of particular interest to employees in the various bureaus of the Department.

The notices are organized in the following order:

Office of the Secretary
Office of the Solicitor
Office of Hearings and Appeals (OHA)
Fish and Wildlife Service (FWS)
Geological Survey (GS)
Bureau of Indian Affairs (BIA)
Bureau of Land Management (BLM)
Bureau of Mines (Mines)
Mining Enforcement and Safety Administration (MESA)
National Park Service (NPS)
Bureau of Outdoor Recreation (BOR)
Bureau of Reclamation (Reclamation)
Alaska Power Administration
Bonneville Power Administration (BPA)
Southeastern Power Administration
Southwestern Power Administration

It should be noted that under the category of Office of the Secretary, the Department has included not only notices covering records maintained exclusively within offices making up the Office of the Secretary, but several notices describing Department-wide systems of records.

Within the notice format, the Department has made one deviation which may not have been required by the Act or the format guidelines developed by the Office of the Federal Register. It has been persuasively argued that the "routine uses" for records subject to the Act can be distinguished from the primary or main use which is made of the records. The basis of this distinction is subsection 552a(a)(7), which defines "routine use" to mean use of a record "for a purpose which is compatible with the purpose for which it was collected." This definition suggests that use of a record for the purpose for which it was collected is not a routine use and, hence, that only corollary uses are "routine uses." While the Department views this distinction as a correct interpretation of the Act, it has nevertheless not applied the distinction in developing the "Routine Uses" section of its system notices. Rather, in preparing the "Routine Uses" section of notices, the Department has in most cases, included both the principal uses for which records in a system are used as well as corollary uses. Ordinarily, the principal uses are listed first, corollary uses are listed second.

The reason for this decision was to avoid confusion among readers of the Department's notices. The meaning of "routine uses" for purposes of the Act is obviously different from the colloquial meaning of the term and persons not versed in the details of the Privacy Act might well be misled by listing only corollary uses as "routine uses."

The impact of this decision is that many uses of records not involving their transfer outside of the Department of the Interior are listed as "routine uses," when, in a strict sense, they are not really "routine uses." For purposes of applying subsections (b) and (c) of 5 U.S.C. § 552a, which relate to conditions of disclosure and accounting for disclosures, the Department nevertheless will treat internal disclosures to officers or employees having a need for records in the performance of their duties as disclosures permitted by subsection (b)(1), rather than as disclosures under subsection (b)(3), which permits disclosures for "routine uses."

In developing the "Location" item of system notices, the Department determined that listing all locations of decentralized systems in each notice would lead to undue repetition, since a number of systems share common locations. Accordingly, the "Location" item on some notices lists only the categories of offices maintaining records within the system and not the address of each individual office. Final publication of the notices in September will be accompanied by publication of an Appendix listing all of the facilities of the Department and the addresses of these facilities. Persons interested in a particular system will be able to determine the addresses of the facilities at which it is located by cross-referencing the Appendix.

One final matter must be mentioned. The Department is continuing to review and evaluate its record and it is anticipated that an additional group of notices will be published prior to September 27, the effective date of the Act. If time permits, these notices will be published in their entirety as proposed notices. If not, only the "Routine Uses" sections will be published in proposed form. Whichever approach is utilized, the "routine uses" sections of these notices will not be finalized for 30 days after their initial publication, as is required by 5 U.S.C. § 552a(e)(11).

Comments on the proposed notices may be submitted to the Assistant Solicitor, General Legal Services, Office of the Solicitor, U.S. Department of the Interior, 18th and C Streets, Washington, D.C. 20240. All comments received on or before September 17, 1975, will be considered. Copies of the comments may be inspected in Room 6525 at the above address.

Pursuant to the authority vested in the Secretary of the Interior by 5 U.S.C. 301 and 552a and 43 U.S.C. 1460, the system of records notices set out below are, accordingly, proposed.

RICHARD R. HITE,
Deputy Assistant Secretary of the Interior.

(19) Transfer, in the event, there is indicated a violation or potential violation of a statute, regulation, rule, order, or license, whether civil, criminal, or regulatory in nature, to the appropriate agency or agencies, whether Federal, State, local, or foreign, charged with the responsibility of investigation or prosecuting such violation or charged with enforcing or implementing the statute, rule, regulation, order, or license violated or potentially violated.

Policies and practices for storing, retrieving, accessing, retaining, and disposing of records in the system: (1) Storage -- the master file information for processing pay, the payroll register, leave, and payroll history are stored on microfiche and computer printouts. In addition, standard forms and other authorized forms are maintained which cover personnel actions, income tax withholdings, health benefit deductions, insurance, bond, savings, union, and authorized deductions, retirement records, and pay history. Magnetic disk contains master information required to process each employee's pay. Magnetic tape containing denomination of bonds, amounts of net payroll checks, and payroll history is used as a device to transfer data to the Treasury Department. The bond and net check tape is destroyed after each payroll. Pay history is transferred to microfiche or hard copy via magnetic tape, and the tape containing each pay period's information is retained. (2) Retrievability -- data is filed by employee name and/or social security number. (3) Safeguards -- records are maintained in accordance with 43 CFR 2.51. (4) Retention and Disposal -- the various payroll records are retained in accordance with regulations which vary according to document.

FEDERAL REGISTER, VOL. 40, NO. 174—MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 8, 1975

rules and regulations

This section of the FEDERAL REGISTER contains regulatory documents having general applicability and legal effect most of which are keyed to and codified in the Code of Federal Regulations, which is published under 50 titles pursuant to 44 U.S.C. 1510. The Code of Federal Regulations is sold by the Superintendent of Documents. Prices of new books are listed in the first FEDERAL REGISTER issue of each month.

Title 24—Housing and Urban Development
CHAPTER V—OFFICE OF ASSISTANT SECRETARY FOR COMMUNITY PLANNING AND DEVELOPMENT, DEPARTMENT OF HOUSING AND URBAN DEVELOPMENT
[Docket No. R-75-292]

PART 570—COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT BLOCK GRANTS
Application Submission Dates

The Department is amending § 570.400 (c) (3) (iii) (A) of Title 24 of the Code of Federal Regulations which governs the deadline for submission of applications for community development block grants for new communities under section 107 (a) (1) of Title I of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974, Pub. L. 93-383. The Part 570 regulation was published in an amended form on June 9, 1975 (40 FR 24692). The purpose of this amendment is to extend the application submission deadline from May 15, 1975, to August 30, 1975. It is necessary that this amendment take effect at the earliest possible date so that applicants unable to meet previously established deadlines can have sufficient time to prepare and submit complete applications. Accordingly, the Assistant Secretary for Community Planning and Development finds good cause for foregoing the usual public comment and notice procedure, and he finds further good cause that this amendment to the regulations should take effect on the date of publication. In connection with the environmental review of this technical change to the final regulations, a Finding of Inapplicability has been made under HUD Handbook 1390.1, 38 FR 19182.

This section is amended as follows:
In Subpart E of Part 570, § 570.400(c) (3) (iii) (A) is revised to read as follows:

§ 570.400 General.

(3) . . . . .
(iii) . . . . .
(A) New communities. February 1, 1975, through August 30, 1975;

(Sec. 7(d) Department of Housing and Urban Development Act (42 U.S.C. 3535(d)))
Effective date. This amendment shall be effective September 8, 1975.

DAVID O. MEEKER, JR.,
Assistant Secretary for Community Planning and Development.

CHAPTER X—FEDERAL INSURANCE ADMINISTRATION, DEPARTMENT OF HOUSING AND URBAN DEVELOPMENT

SUBCHAPTER B—NATIONAL FLOOD INSURANCE PROGRAM
[Docket No. FI-686]

PART 1914—AREAS ELIGIBLE FOR THE SALE OF INSURANCE

Status of Participating Communities

● Purpose: The purpose of this notice is to list those communities wherein the sale of flood insurance is authorized under the National Flood Insurance Program (42 U.S.C. 4001-4128). ●

Insurance policies can be obtained from any licensed property insurance agent or broker serving the eligible community, or from the National Flood Insurance Association servicing company for the state (addresses are published at 39 FR 26186-93). A list of servicing companies is also available from the Federal Insurance Administration (FIA), HUD, 451 Seventh Street, SW., Washington, D.C. 20410.

The Flood Disaster Protection Act of 1973 requires the purchase of flood insurance as a condition of receiving any form of Federal or federally related financial assistance for acquisition or construction purposes in a flood plain area having special hazards within any community identified by the Secretary of Housing and Urban Development.

The requirement applies to all identified special flood hazard areas within the United States, and no such financial assistance can legally be provided for acquisition or construction in these areas unless the community has entered the program. Accordingly, for communities listed under this Part no such restriction exists, although insurance, if required, must be purchased.

The Federal Insurance Administration finds that delayed effective dates would be contrary to the public interest. The Administrator also finds that notice and public procedure under 5 U.S.C. 553(b) are impracticable and unnecessary.

Section 1914.4 of Part 1914 of Subchapter B of Chapter X of Title 24 of the Code of Federal Regulations is amended by adding in alphabetical sequence new entries to the table. In each entry, a complete chronology of effective dates appears for each listed community. The date that appears in the fourth column of the table is provided in order to designate the effective date of the authorization of the sale of flood insurance in the area under the emergency or the regular flood insurance program. These dates serve notice only for the purposes of granting relief, and not for the application of sanctions, within the meaning of 5 U.S.C. 551. The entry reads as follows:

§ 1914.4 List of Eligible Communities.

PART 1915—IDENTIFICATION OF SPECIAL HAZARD AREAS

List of Communities With Special Hazard Areas

• Purpose: The purpose of this notice is the identification of communities with areas of special flood or mudslide or erosion hazards in accordance with Part 1915 of Title 24 of the Code of Federal Regulations as authorized by the National Flood Insurance Program (42 U.S.C. 4001-4128). The identification of such areas is to provide guidance so that communities may adopt appropriate flood plain management measures to minimize damage caused by flood losses and to guide future construction, where practicable, away from locations which are threatened by flood hazards. •

The Flood Disaster Protection Act of 1973 requires the purchase of flood insurance on and after March 2, 1974, as a condition of receiving any form of Federal or federally related financial assistance for acquisition or construction purposes in an identified flood plain area having special flood hazards that is located within any community participating in the National Flood Insurance Program.

One year after the identification of the community as flood prone, the requirement applies to all identified special flood hazard areas within the United States, so that, after that date, no such financial assistance can legally be provided for acquisition and construction in these areas unless the community has entered the program. The prohibition, however, does not apply to loans by a federally regulated, insured, supervised or approved bank prior to January 1, 1976, to finance the acquisition of a previously occupied residential dwelling.

The effective date of identification shall be on or before October 8, 1975, or the date which appears in this notice, whichever is later.

This 30 day period does not supersede the statutory requirement that a community, whether or not participating in the program, be given the opportunity for a period of six months to establish that it is not seriously flood prone or that such flood hazards as may have existed have been corrected by floodworks or other flood control methods. The six months period shall be considered to begin 30 days after the date of publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER or the effective date of the Flood Hazard Boundary Map, whichever is later. Similarly, the one year period a community has to enter the program under section 201(d) of the Flood Disaster Protection Act of 1973 shall be considered to begin 30 days after publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER or the effective date of the Flood Hazard Boundary Map, whichever is later.

Where several dates appear in the column set forth below marked Effective Date of Identification, the first date is the date of initial identification; and all other dates represent modification by additions or deletions to identified areas with special hazards.

Accordingly, § 1915.3 is amended by adding in alphabetical sequence a new entry to the table, which entry reads as follows:

Title 7—Agriculture CHAPTER III—ANIMAL AND PLANT HEALTH INSPECTION SERVICE, DE- PARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

PART 354—OVERTIME SERVICES RELAT- ING TO IMPORTS AND EXPORTS

Commuted Traveltime Allowances

The purpose of this amendment is to establish commuted traveltime periods as nearly as may be practicable to cover the time necessarily spent in reporting to and returning from the place at which an employee of the Plant Protection and Quarantine Programs performs overtime or holiday duty when such travel is performed solely on account of such overtime or holiday duty. Such establishment depends upon facts within the knowledge of the Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service.

Therefore, pursuant to the authority conferred upon the Deputy Administrator, Plant Protection and Quarantine Programs, by 7 CFR 354.1 of the regulations concerning overtime services relating to imports and exports, the administrative instructions appearing at 7 CFR 354.2, as amended, February 3, 1975 (40 FR 4897), March 20, 1975 (40 FR 12646), May 6, 1975 (40 FR 19633), and July 22, 1975 (40 FR 30621), prescribing the commuted traveltime that shall be included in each period of overtime or holiday duty are further amended by adding (in appropriate alphabetical sequence) or deleting the information as shown below:

It is to the benefit of the public that this instruction be made effective at the earliest practicable date. Accordingly, it is found upon good cause, under the administrative procedure provisions of 5 U.S.C. 553, that notice and other public procedure with respect to the foregoing amendment are impractical and unnecessary and good cause is found for making it effective less than 30 days after publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Effective date. The foregoing amendment shall become effective September 8, 1975.

Done at Washington, D.C., this 3d day of September 1975.

In 40 FR 12670 there was published a notice of proposed rulemaking which, among other proposals, related to the inclusion of toxaphene and endrin, with DDT and TDE, as pesticides which, if used on tobacco, would make the tobacco ineligible for price support. In addition, it was proposed that flue-cured tobacco producers would not have to certify their acreage of flue-cured tobacco in order to qualify for price support. Interested persons were given 30 days after publication of the notice to submit data, views, and recommendations with respect to Effective date. The foregoing amendments shall become effective September 9, 1975.

The amendments impose certain restrictions necessary to prevent the spread of brucellosis in cattle and relieve certain restrictions presently imposed. They should be made effective promptly in order to accomplish their purpose in the public interest and to be of maximum benefit to persons subject to the restrictions which are relieved. It does not appear that public participation in this rulemaking proceeding would make additional relevant information available to the Department.

Accordingly, under the administrative procedure provisions of 5 U.S.C. 553, it is found upon good cause that notice and other public procedure with respect to the amendments are impracticable, unnecessary, and contrary to the public interest, and good cause is found for making them effective less than 30 days after publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Done at Washington, D.C., this 3rd day of September 1975.

PART 39—AIRWORTHINESS DIRECTIVES Beech Models and Cessna Models Series Airplanes

Amendment 39-2266 (31 FR 13697), AD 75-15-08, requires inspection, modification and/or replacement of the Beryl air oil separator installed by Supplemental Type Certificate on airplanes and helicopters and requires Beryl air oil separator assembly inspection and modification, filtrator assembly replacement or the removal of STC SA2219WE on the following Beech Models 35, A35, B35, C35, D35, E35, F35, 35R, 35-33, 35-A33, 35-C33, H35, J35, K35, M35, N35, and P35 series airplanes which have been modified in accordance with STC SA2219WE.

Since a situation exists that requires immediate adoption of this regulation, it is found that notice and public procedure hereon are impracticable and good cause exists for making this amendment effective in less than 30 days.

In consideration of the foregoing, and pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator (31 FR 13697), § 39.13 of Part 39 of the Federal Aviation Regulations, Amendment 39-2266 (31 FR 13697), AD 75-15-08, is amended by striking out the word and numbers "and 35-B33" from paragraph (b) (1) (ii) and adding the word and numbers "35-B33 and 35-C33".

This amendment becomes effective September 10, 1975.

PART 39—AIRWORTHINESS DIRECTIVES Grumman American Model G-1159 Airplanes

Amendment 39-1920 (39 FR 28611), AD 74-17-05, as amended by 39-2263 (39 FR 29814), requires the deactivation of the ground spoilers to prevent their deployment in flight on the Model G-1159 airplanes. After issuing Amendment 39-2263, the FAA determined that with the incorporation of Grumman Aircraft Service Change (ASC) 180, the ground spoilers on the G-1159 airplane may be reactivated. Therefore, the AD is being further amended to permit reactivation of the ground spoilers on the Model G-1159 airplanes after incorporation of ASC 180, or equivalent approved by the Chief, Engineering and Manufacturing Branch, Southern Region.

Since this amendment relieves a restriction and imposes no additional burden on any person, notice and public procedure hereon are unnecessary and the amendment may be made effective in less than 30 days.

In consideration of the foregoing, and pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator (31 FR 13697), § 39.13 of Part 39 of the Federal Aviation Regulations, Amendment 39-1920 (39 FR 28611), AD 74-17-05 as amended by 39-2263 (39 FR 29814), is further amended by adding the following new paragraph at the end of the existing AD, just prior to the effective date paragraph.

In order to reactivate the ground spoilers, Grumman ASC 180—Flight Controls (ATA No. 27) "Reactivation of Ground Spoilers" or equivalent approved by Chief, Engineering and Manufacturing Branch, Federal Aviation Administration, Southern Region, must be completed.

This amendment becomes effective September 1, 1975.

PART 39—AIRWORTHINESS DIRECTIVES Lockheed-California Company Model L-1011-385-1 Series Airplanes

Amendment 39-2256 (40 FR 28604), AD 75-14-07, as amended by Amendment 39-2299 (40 FR 32316), requires accomplishment of visual and dye-penetrant inspections, and repairs, as necessary, of the forward ring on the S-duct assembly aft of the forward articulating joint on Lockheed-California Company L-1011-385-1 series airplanes, certificated in all categories, which incorporate the Part I or Part II configuration S-ducts. After issuing Amendments 39-2256 and 39-2299, the Air Transport Association submitted a Petition for Reconsideration, dated August 1, 1975, on behalf of member air carriers, to the agency. The ATA petition, among other matters raised therein, requested a clarification of the agency's intent with respect to those airplanes which were required to comply with Part II, paragraph (a). While Part II begins by referencing certain serially numbered airplanes listed in the applicable manufacturer's service bulletin, paragraph (a), as presently written, can be read literally to narrowly define the range of applicability to only those airplanes which have the flight hours in service specified on the effective date of the AD. This statement can thus be read to exclude airplanes which, subsequent to the effective date of the AD, accumulate the total flight hours time in service. This exclusion was not the agency's intent.

To avoid any possible misunderstanding on this point, the agency is further amending the AD to provide for those airplanes which accumulate more than 5,000 flight hours in service after the effective dates of Amendments 39-2256 and 39-2299. No substantive change to the AD is intended by this amendment, and thus this amendment provides clarification only, and imposes no additional burden on any person. Notice and public procedure hereon are unnecessary and the amendment may be made effective in less than 30 days.

Amendment 39-2256 (40 FR 28604), AD 75-14-07, as amended by Amendment 39-2299 (40 FR 32316), is further amended as follows:

Revise paragraph II. (a), at line 3, to read, in pertinent part, as follows:

... on or after the effective date of this AD, as amended, ...

PART 39—AIRWORTHINESS DIRECTIVES Lockheed Model 382 Series

Pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator (31 FR 13697) an airworthiness directive was adopted on June 13, 1975, and amended on August 25, 1975, and made effective immediately to all known operators of Lockheed Model 382 series airplanes. The directive requires an inspection of the outer wing aft beam caps at OWS 54 and 108.

Since it was found that immediate corrective action was required, notice and public procedure thereon was impracticable and contrary to the public interest and good cause existed for making the airworthiness directive effective immediately to all known U.S. operators of Lockheed Model 382 series airplanes by individual telegrams dated June 13, 1975, and amended by telegrams dated August 25, 1975. These conditions still exist and the airworthiness directive is hereby published in the FEDERAL REGISTER as an amendment to § 39.13 of Part 39 of the Federal Aviation Regulations to make it effective to all persons.

Pursuant to the authority of the Federal Aviation Act of 1958, delegated to me by the Administrator, the following airworthiness directive applicable to operators of Lockheed Model 382 series airplanes certificated in all categories is effective immediately upon receipt of this telegram because of cracks in the outer wing lower aft beam cap and web. After issuing telegraphic AD, dated June 13, 1975, amendment 39-2249 (31 FR 13697), AD 75-14-05, requiring inspection of the beam cap and web on Lockheed Model 342 series airplanes, the FAA determined that nondestructive inspection procedures are necessary and that OWS 54 should be included. This telegram supersedes the telegram dated June 13, 1975.

LOCKHEED. Applies to all model 382 series airplanes, serial numbers 3946 and 4101 through 4541. On airplane serial numbers 3946 and 4101 through 4298 with 6300 hours or more total time in service, and on airplane serial numbers 4298 through 4541 with 12,600 hours or more total time in service, within the next 50 hours in service, unless already accomplished, eddy current inspect the outer wing lower aft beam caps at OWS 54 and 108 in accordance with Hercules Airfreight Inspection procedures SMP 515-A Card No. SP-88, revised August 11, 1975. Reinspect at the following intervals: (A) airplane serial numbers 3946 and 4101 through 4298, at intervals not to exceed 3400 hours time in service from the last inspection until 20,000 hours (without ECP 954) or 24,000 hours (with ECP 954) at which time the interval is not to exceed 1700 hours from the last inspection, and (B) airplane serial numbers 4298 through 4541 at intervals not to exceed 6300 hours time in service from the last inspection. If a crack or cracks are found, before further flight, contact the Chief, Engineering and Manufacturing Branch, FAA, Southern Region, Atlanta, Georgia, telephone number 404-526-7428.

This supersedes Amendment 39-2249, FR Doc. 75-17068, AD 75-14-05.

This amendment is effective September 12, 1975, and was effective June 13, 1975, for all recipients of the telegrams dated June 13, 1975, and August 25, 1975, which contained this amendment.

(Secs. 313(a), 601, 603, Federal Aviation Act of 1958 (49 U.S.C. 1354(a), 1421, 1423); sec. 6(c), Department of Transportation Act (49 U.S.C. 1655(c)))

Alteration of Transition Area

The purpose of this amendment to Part 71 of the Federal Aviation Regulations is to alter the Mt. Pleasant, Tex., transition area.

On July 17, 1975, a notice of proposed rulemaking was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (40 FR 30127) stating the Federal Aviation Administration proposed to alter the Mt. Pleasant, Tex., transition area.

Interested persons were afforded an opportunity to participate in the rule-making through submission of comments. All comments received were favorable.

In consideration of the foregoing, Part 71 of the Federal Aviation Regulations is amended, effective 0901 G.m.t., December 4, 1975, as hereinafter set forth.

In § 71.181 (40 FR 441), the Mt. Pleasant, Tex., transition area is amended to read:

Mt. Pleasant, Tex.

That airspace extending upward from 700 feet above the surface within an 8.5-mile radius of Mt. Pleasant Municipal Airport (latitude 33°07'45.4" N., longitude 94°58'31.3" W.) and within 3.5 miles each side of the Quitman, Tex., VORTAC 052° radial extending from the 8.5-mile-radius area to a point 10.5 miles southwest of the airport and within 3.5 miles each side of the Mt. Pleasant, Tex., NDB (latitude 33°10'03" N., longitude 94°58'03" W.) 012° bearing extending from the 8.5-mile-radius area to a point 15 miles northeast of the airport.

Title 17—Commodity and Securities Exchanges

CHAPTER II—SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

PART 240—GENERAL RULES AND REGULATIONS SECURITIES EXCHANGE ACT OF 1934

Adoption of Amendments to Uniform Net Capital Rule

Introduction. Several exchanges have asked the Commission to review the capital requirements applicable to floor brokers and registered traders in options on those exchanges under § 240.15c3-1, the Uniform Net Capital Rule, which will become effective on September 1, 1975.<sup>1</sup> In addition, the Commission was requested to postpone effectiveness of the Uniform Net Capital Rule with respect to registered floor traders.<sup>2</sup> The Commission, in response to those requests, has adopted modifications of the Uniform Net Capital Rule to provide an alternative financial responsibility standard for floor brokers and has concurred in the view that registered traders in options are specialists for the purpose of the Uniform Net Capital Rule. The Commission declined to postpone effectiveness of the rule with respect to other floor traders.

A. Floor brokers. Floor brokers deal only with other members on the floor of the exchange as agent for other broker-dealers, carry no customer accounts and do not engage in trading activity. Consequently, it would appear appropriate to establish a financial responsibility rule for floor brokers designed to provide protection against errors in handling trades for the floor brokers' principals.

In recognition of the limited risk involved, the Uniform Net Capital Rule already includes floor brokers in paragraph (a)(2), which requires minimum net capital of not less than $5,000. The American, Chicago Board Options and the New York Stock Exchanges have <sup>1</sup> Securities Exchange Act Release No. 11497 (June 26, 1975); 40 FR 28795 (July 16, 1975). The Uniform Net Capital Rule was adopted following three years of development by the Commission with extensive public comment on successive drafts. See Securities Exchange Act Release Nos. 9891 (Dec. 5, 1972); 38 FR 56 (January 3, 1973); 10525 (Nov. 29, 1973); 38 FR 34331 (December 13, 1973); 11094 (Nov. 11, 1974); 39 FR 41540 (November 29, 1974). The Rule becomes effective as to exchange members (other than specialists covered by section (b)(1)) on September 1, 1975, subject to the transitional provisions of section (g) thereof.

<sup>2</sup> Heretofore, members of designated exchanges have been exempted from the Commission's net capital rules subject to compliance with such exchanges' financial responsibility rules. In addition, such members were, until June 4, 1975, required to comply, and those exchanges were required to enforce compliance, with the provisions of former Section 8(b) of the Act. Since first proposed in 1972, the Uniform Net Capital Rule was contemplated the elimination of the exemption in effect until September 1, 1975, for members of national securities exchanges with capital rules intended to be more comprehensive than the predecessor of the Uniform Net Capital Rule.

suggested that a net capital, or net liquid asset test, need not be the sole financial responsibility test for floor brokers and have indicated that many of their members who act as floor brokers would not be able to meet the applicable net capital test of paragraph (a)(2).

As an alternative to a net capital test, it has been suggested that floor brokers, as a class, have the alternative of meeting a financial responsibility standard predicated on certain exchange rules pertaining to priorities of claims with respect to the distribution of proceeds from the sale of exchange memberships. Such rules require that the claims of other members (who are the only persons who could have claims that would arise as a result of transactions effected by floor brokers) be satisfied on a priority basis from the proceeds realized from the sale of the floor broker's exchange membership.<sup>3</sup> The substitute standard would require that the exchange membership be worth at least $25,000.

The alternative would be a departure from the customary net capital standard of financial responsibility since, ordinarily, the carrying value of exchange memberships (as assets of a member firm) is deducted from net worth in determining net capital. The deduction is made for two reasons. First, due to the priority provisions referred to above, public customers of a member would receive little protection from the fact that the member had an exchange membership. Second, the general principle of the net capital rule is to eliminate assets, such as exchange memberships, which are not readily convertible into cash. Neither consideration applies fully to floor brokers. Floor brokers generally do not have public customers. In addition, the proposed standard of $25,000, which is 5 times the $5,000 net capital requirement otherwise applicable, would, through application of the priority rules, protect those who have claims and at this time appears to compensate appropriately for the illiquidity of the membership asset.

B. Registered traders in options. With respect to registered traders in options, it has been suggested that, since such traders have obligations equivalent to specialists, market makers and supplemental market makers they too should be treated as specialists. The Commission has determined to view such registered traders as specialists and accordingly, paragraph (c)(2)(xi) respecting reg-

PART 249—FORMS, SECURITIES EXCHANGE ACT OF 1934

Registration as a Broker-Dealer

On August 11, 1975, the Securities and Exchange Commission announced in Securities Exchange Act Release No. 11585<sup>1</sup> that revised Form BD, a uniform registration form for broker-dealers, also would be used for the registration of municipal securities brokers and non-bank municipal securities dealers. Accordingly, the Commission has adopted certain minor amendments to Question 10<sup>2</sup> of Form BD in order to accommodate this expanded usage of the form.

Primarily, these amendments add the words "municipal securities dealer" or "Municipal Securities Rulemaking Board," and add certain references to section 15B of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 ("Municipal Securities") to Question 10(a) of Form BD.

Statutory basis. The Securities and Exchange Commission, acting pursuant to the provisions of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, particularly sections 15(b), 15B, and 23(a) thereof, and deeming it necessary for the exercise of the functions vested in it, and necessary and appropriate in the public interest and for the protection of investors, hereby amends Part 249 of Chapter II of Title 17 of the Code of Federal Regulations by amending, effective October 1, 1975, Form BD. Inasmuch as the amendments to Form BD are designed primarily to accommodate the form to its expanded use as a registration form for municipal securities brokers and non-bank municipal securities dealers, as announced in Securities Exchange Act Release No. 11585, the Commission has concluded that notice and procedure pursuant to the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U.S.C. 553) are unnecessary with respect to such amendments.

Text of amended paragraphs (a)(i), (a)(iv), (a)(v), (a)(xi) and (a)(xii) of Question 10 of Form BD. The text of amended paragraphs (a)(i), (a)(iv), (a)(v), (a)(xi) and (a)(xii) of Question 10 of Form BD (§ 249.501, as revised April 16, 1975, and as amended) is as follows:

(i) Has been found by the Securities and Exchange Commission or any jurisdiction willfully to have made or caused to be made any statement which was, at the time and in the light of the circumstances under which it was made, false and misleading with respect to any material fact, or to have omitted to state any material fact, which was required to be stated, in any application for registration or report required to be filed under the Federal securities laws or under the securities laws of any jurisdiction, or in any

<sup>2</sup> Question 10 requires the broker-dealer to report whether it or any associated person has been the subject of a statutory disqualification or has been involved in specified difficulties in the securities industry.

istered traders in options has been deleted.

Commission action. The Securities and Exchange Commission, acting pursuant to the provisions of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, and particularly sections 10(b), 15c(3), 17(a) and 23(a) thereof, effective September 1, 1975, hereby adopts amendments to Part 240 of Chapter II of Title 17 of the Code of Federal Regulations by amending paragraph (b)(2) of § 240.15c3-1. The Commission has determined that notice and public procedure are impracticable if an alternative financial responsibility standard for exchange floor brokers is to be provided on September 1, 1975, when § 240.15c3-1, as amended, is scheduled to become effective. The Commission has further determined that the amendments relieve restrictions; therefore, the Commission finds for good cause that the 30 day notice period for adoption required by 5 U.S.C. 553(d) is neither necessary nor desirable and declares the amendments to paragraph (b)(2) of § 240.15c3-1 effective on September 1, 1975. Paragraph (b)(2) is redesignated (b)(3) and new paragraph (b)(2) is added as follows:

§ 240.15c3-1 Net capital requirements for brokers and dealers.

(2) A member in good standing of a national securities exchange who acts as a floor broker (and whose activities do not require compliance with other provisions of this rule), may elect to comply, in lieu of the other provisions of this section, with the following financial responsibility standard: The value of the exchange membership of the member (based on the lesser of the most recent sale price or current bid price for an exchange membership) is not less than $25,000. Provided, That the rules of such exchange require that the proceeds from the sale of the exchange membership of the member shall be subject to the prior claims of the exchange and its clearing corporation and those arising directly from the closing out of contracts entered into on the floor of such exchanges.

Paragraph (c)(2)(xi) of § 240.15c3-1 is deleted and Paragraph (c)(2)(xii) and (c)(2)(xiii) are hereby redesignated Paragraph (c)(2)(xi) and (c)(2)(xii), respectively.

Statutory basis. The foregoing amendments to Rule 15c3-1, effective September 1, 1975, are adopted pursuant to sections 10(b), 15(c), 17(a) and 23(a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, 15 U.S.C. 78j(b), 78o(c)(3), 78q(a) and 78w(a).

By the Commission.

(iv) Has been found by the Securities and Exchange Commission or any jurisdiction or any court to have violated or to have aided, abetted, counseled, commanded, induced, or procured the violation by any other person of the Federal laws or the laws of any jurisdiction, relating to securities or relating to the conduct of business as a broker, dealer, municipal securities dealer, investment adviser, or investment company, any rule or regulation under any of such laws, or any rule of the Municipal Securities Rulemaking Board, or to have failed reasonably to supervise another person who committed such a violation, or to have been unable to comply with any of the foregoing.

(v) Has been the subject of any order of the Securities and Exchange Commission entered pursuant to paragraph (6) of Section 15(b) or paragraph (4) of section 15B(c) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 or an order of a court or jurisdiction (or any agency thereof), or an order of an appropriate regulatory agency entered pursuant to paragraph (5) of section 15B(c) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, barring or suspending the right of such person to be associated with a broker, dealer, or municipal securities dealer.

(xi) Has been, within the past 10 years, the subject of any cease and desist, order and refrain, prohibition, or similar order which was issued by the United States or any jurisdiction arising out of the conduct of the business of a broker, dealer, municipal securities dealer, or investment adviser.

(xii) Has been associated at any time as an officer, director, general partner, or owner of 10 percent or more of the voting securities, or has at any time directly or indirectly through agreement or otherwise exercised or had the power to exercise a controlling influence over the management or policies of a broker, dealer or municipal securities dealer which has been adjudicated bankrupt, or for which a trustee has been appointed pursuant to the Securities Investor Protection Act of 1970.

(15 U.S.C. 78o(b); Sec. 13, Pub. L. 94-29; (15 U.S.C. 78w(a))

The Commission has determined that the adoption of the amendments to Form BD will not impose a burden on competition.

By the Commission.

Title 21—Food and Drugs

CHAPTER I—FOOD AND DRUG ADMINISTRATION, DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH, EDUCATION, AND WELFARE

SUBCHAPTER D—DRUGS FOR HUMAN USE GRISOFULVIN (ULTRAMICROSIZED) TABLETS

The Commissioner of Food and Drugs has evaluated data submitted in accordance with regulations promulgated under section 507 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (21 U.S.C. 357), regarding approval of the antibiotic drug griseofulvin (ultramicrosize) tablets.

The Commissioner concludes that data supplied by the manufacturer concerning the subject antibiotic drug are adequate to establish its safety and efficacy when used as directed in the labeling and is amending the regulations to provide for its certification. This amendment shall become effective on September 8, 1975.

Therefore, under provisions of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (sec. 507, 59 Stat. 463, as amended (21 U.S.C. 357)) and under authority delegated to the Commissioner (21 CFR 2.120), Subchapter D of Chapter I of Title 21 of the Code of Federal Regulations is amended as follows:

PART 431—CERTIFICATION OF ANTIBIOTIC DRUGS

1. In Part 431, § 431.53(b)(1) is amended by alphabetically inserting a new item in the fee schedule, to read as follows:

§ 431.53 Fees.

	Chargeable fee per test
(b) . . . . .
(1) . . . . .

PART 436—TESTS AND METHODS OF ASSAY OF ANTIBIOTIC AND ANTIBIOTIC-CONTAINING DRUGS

2. In Part 436, a new section is added to read as follows:

§ 436.317 Solubility characteristic test for griseofulvin (ultramicrosize) tablets.

(a) Apparatus—(1) Vessel. A cylindrical glass tank. The approximate dimensions are 40 centimeters in diameter and at least 23 centimeters in height.

(2) Heating system. A 1,500-watt immersion heating element connected to a partial immersion, contact thermometer and an appropriate control relay.

(3) Circulating system components. The circulating system consists of three different circulating devices:

(i) Circulating pump of a centrifugal, immersion type. Tubing approximately 1 centimeter outside diameter and 40 centimeters in length is attached to the pump outlet producing a flow rate of approximately 1,600 milliliters per minute when operated as described.

(ii) A "4-element stirrer" consisting of a motor and a shaft approximately 45 centimeters long and 8 millimeters in diameter. The motor rotates the vertical shaft in a clockwise direction at approximately 180 revolutions per minute. There are 4 elements or sets of stirring blades on the shaft. One set, located at the bottom of the shaft, is a 3-bladed element of 2.5 centimeters overall radius with circular blades, 1.8 centimeters in diameter and 1 to 2 millimeters in thickness, pitched at an angle of approximately 45 degrees from the horizontal plane, so that fluid is propelled downward when the shaft is rotated in a clockwise direction. The three remaining sets of stirring blades have 4 blades each, symmetrically positioned about the shaft. Each set of blades is 3.2 centimeters in overall radius. Each blade is rectangular in shape, 2.4 centimeters in length, 1.2 centimeters in height, and 1 to 2 millimeters in thickness. The four sets of blades are located at 5 centimeter intervals on the shaft, the top three being fixed in a staggered configuration.

(iii) A rotating basket device consisting of a motor capable of constant speed of 100±5 revolutions per minute in a clockwise direction, a shaft, and a cylindrical basket. The shaft and the basket are fabricated from Type 316 stainless steel. The shaft is 6 millimeters in diameter and approximately 30 centimeters in length. It must run true on the motor axis so that the basket rotates smoothly and without perceptible wobble. The basket consists of two parts, one of which, the top, is attached to the shaft. It is of solid metal except for a 2-millimeter round vent, and is fitted with three spring clips that allow the removal of the lower part, or the basket proper, to admit the test sample. The detachable part of the basket is fabricated of welded seam stainless steel, 40 mesh woven wire cloth formed into a cylinder 3.66 centimeters high and 2.5 centimeters in diameter, with a narrow rim of sheet metal around the top.

(4) Circulating system configuration. All three circulating devices are located in one half of the tank. In clockwise order they are the circulating pump, the rotating basket, and the 4-element stirrer. There is a distance of 12 to 13 centimeters between each of the three devices. The rotating basket shaft and the stirring shaft are located 9 to 10 centimeters from the tank wall. The 4-element stirrer is positioned 1 to 1.5 centimeters from the bottom of the tank. The rotating basket is fixed at 7 to 8 centimeters from the bottom. The circulating pump intake is located approximately 3 centimeters from the top of the fluid in the tank and 5 to 6 centimeters from the wall of the tank. The pump's outlet hose is held by a clamp so that hose makes a clockwise arc around the inside wall of the tank, descending to a point near the bottom of the tank and 5 to 6 centimeters from the wall, which is 180 degrees from the pump inlet.

(b) Dissolution medium. Distilled water.

(c) Procedure. Place 24 liters of dissolution medium into the vessel and maintain the temperature at 37±0.5° C by means of the heater, circulating pump, and the 4-element stirrer. Withdraw a 25-milliliter portion of the dissolution medium as a sample-blank solution. Place one tablet into the basket, and lower it into its proper position in the tank. Rotate the basket at 100±5 revolutions per minute in a clockwise direction. After 60 minutes, withdraw a second 25-milliliter portion as the sample solution. Filter the sample blank solution and the sample solution through water-washed glass wool, or an equivalent filter, discarding the first 10 to 15 milliliters of each filtrate. Determine the amount of griseofulvin dissolved as directed in paragraph (d)(2) of this section.

(d) Griseofulvin assay—(1) Preparation of standard solution and standard-blank solution. Accurately weigh approximately 50 milligrams of griseofulvin working standard and place into a 100-milliliter volumetric flask. Dissolve and dilute to volume with methyl alcohol. Transfer 2.0 milliliters of this solution to a 200-milliliter volumetric flask and dilute to volume with distilled water. This is the standard solution. Transfer a 2.0-milliliter portion of methyl alcohol to a 200-milliliter volumetric flask and dilute to volume with distilled water. This is the standard-blank solution. Filter the standard blank solution and the standard solution through water-washed glass wool, or an equivalent filter, discarding the first 10 to 15 milliliters of each filtrate.

(2) Procedure. Using a suitable spectrophotometer and distilled water as the blank, determine the absorbance of the four filtered solutions at the absorbance peak at approximately 295 nanometers, using suitable spectrophotometer cells with a 1-centimeter light path. Determine the exact position of the absorbance peak for the particular instrument used.

(3) Calculation. Determine the percentage of griseofulvin dissolved as follows:

Percent griseofulvin dissolved =

$\frac{A \times W \times V \times 10}{A \times P}$

where:

A = Absorbance of the sample solution minus the absorbance of the sample-blank solution;

W = Weight of the working standard in milligrams;

V = Volume of the dissolution medium in liters;

A = Absorbance of the standard solution minus the absorbance of the standard-blank solution;

P = Labeled potency of the sample in milligrams of griseofulvin per tablet.

(e) Evaluation. The tablet passes the solubility characteristic test if it dissolves to the extent of not less than 50 percent at 60 minutes. If the tablet fails to meet this requirement, repeat the test on five additional tablets. The batch passes the solubility characteristic test if not less than 5 of 6 tablets meet the requirement.

PART 449—ANTIFUNGAL ANTIBIOTIC DRUGS

3. In Part 449, a new section is added to read as follows:

§ 449.120d Griseofulvin (ultramicrosize) tablets.

(a) Requirements for certification—(1) Standards of identity, strength, quality and purity. Griseofulvin (ultramicrosize) tablets are composed of ultramicro-size crystals of griseofulvin dispersed in polyethylene glycol 6,000. Each tablet contains 125 milligrams of griseofulvin. The potency is satisfactory if it contains not less than 90 percent and not more than 115 percent of the number of milligrams of griseofulvin that it is represented to contain. The loss on drying is not more than 5.0 percent. It passes the solubility characteristic test. The griseofulvin used conforms to the standards prescribed by § 449.20(a)(1).

RULES AND REGULATIONS

(2) Labeling. It shall be labeled in accordance with the requirements of § 432.5 of this chapter.

(3) Requests for certification; samples. In addition to complying with the requirements of § 431.1 of this chapter, each such request shall contain:

(i) Results of tests and assays on:

(a) The griseofulvin used in making the batch for potency, safety, loss on drying, melting point, specific rotation, identity, residue on ignition, heavy metals, specific surface area, and crystallinity.

(b) The batch for potency, loss on drying, and solubility characteristic.

(ii) Samples required:

(a) The griseofulvin used in making the batch: 10 packages, each containing not less than 1 gram.

(b) The batch: A minimum of 36 tablets.

(b) Tests and methods of assay—(1) Potency. Use either of the following methods; however, the results obtained from the spectrophotometric assay shall be conclusive.

(i) Spectrophotometric assay. Proceed as directed in § 449.20(b)(1)(i), except prepare the sample for assay as follows: Weigh accurately a representative number of tablets and determine the average weight per tablet. Reduce the tablets to a fine powder in a mortar and transfer an amount of powder containing 200 milligrams (estimate) of griseofulvin to a 200-milliliter glass-stoppered volumetric flask. Add about 100 milliliters of methyl alcohol to the flask. Warm the contents by heating the flask carefully over a steam bath. Swirl the contents several times during the heating period. Shake the flask on a mechanical shaker for 15 minutes, allow to cool to room temperature, and adjust to volume with methyl alcohol. Mix well. Filter 30 to 40 milliliters through paper, discarding the first 10 to 15 milliliters of filtrate. Transfer exactly 2.0 milliliters of the subsequent filtrate to a 200-milliliter volumetric flask, adjust to volume with methyl alcohol, and mix well. Using a suitable ultraviolet spectrophotometer and matched 1-centimeter quartz cells, set the instrument to 100 percent transmission with methyl alcohol. Determine the absorbance of the sample and working standard (prepared as described in § 449.20(b)(1)(i)(a)) at the absorption peak at approximately 292 nanometers. Calculate the milligrams of griseofulvin per tablet as follows:

Milligrams of griseofulvin per tablet =  $\frac{\text{Absorbance of sample} \times \text{Average weight of tablet in milligrams} \times 20,000}{\text{Absorbance peak at approximately 295 nanometers} \times \text{Weight of powder tested in milligrams}}$

where:

A = Absorbance (1 gram per liter, 1 centimeter) of the griseofulvin working standard measured at the absorbance peak at approximately 295 nanometers.

(ii) Microbiological agar diffusion assay. Proceed as directed in § 436.105 of this chapter, preparing the sample for assay as follows: Powder the tablets and weigh an amount of the powder as described in paragraph (a)(1)(i) of this section. Transfer the powder to a flask of 500-milliliter capacity. Add a sufficient quantity of dimethylformamide to give a stock solution of convenient concentration. Shake well, and carefully warm the contents over a steam bath. Stopper the flask, place on an automatic shaking machine, and shake for 15 minutes. Transfer 25 to 30 milliliters to a centrifuge tube, close the tube, and centrifuge sufficiently to obtain a clear supernatant. Dilute an aliquot of the supernatant with dimethylformamide to give a concentration of 100 micrograms of griseofulvin per milliliter (estimated). Further dilute with 0.1M potassium phosphate buffer, pH 8.0 (solution 3), to the reference concentration of 5.0 micrograms of griseofulvin per milliliter (estimated).

(2) Loss on drying. Proceed as directed in § 436.200(b) of this chapter.

(3) Solubility characteristic test. Proceed as directed in § 436.317 of this chapter.

Since the conditions prerequisite to providing for certification of the subject antibiotic have been complied with and since the matter is noncontroversial in nature, notice and public procedures and delayed effective date are not prerequisites to this promulgation.

Effective date. This order shall be effective on September 8, 1975.

(Sec. 507, 59 Stat. 463, as amended (21 U.S.C. 357))

Subpart C—Reimbursement Provisions

TECHNICAL GUIDANCE AND TRAINING COSTS

● Purpose. The purpose of this document is to allow Federal participation in a State's costs of providing technical guidance and training, relating to real property acquisition, to units of local government. ●

The Federal Highway Administration hereby amends § 710.304(b) of Part 710 to inform States of the availability of Federal participation in a State's costs of providing certain technical guidance and training. Federal participation will be available where State employees provide assistance to employees of a political subdivision in carrying out real property acquisition activities on specific projects. Such activities have increased in recent months.

In consideration of the foregoing § 710.304(b) of 23 CFR Part 710 is revised by adding subparagraph (5) as follows:

§ 710.304 Reimbursement policy.

(b) . . . .
(5) Technical guidance and training costs. Where State employees are directly engaged in project activities or provide technical guidance, consultation, training, or otherwise work directly on specific projects with employees of a political subdivision to accomplish real property acquisition or in escalating such project operations to an acceptable level of performance, Federal funds may participate in the costs of such project activity.

Issued on August 28, 1975.

Title 33—Navigation and Navigable Waters

CHAPTER I—COAST GUARD,

DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORTATION

[CGD 75-088]

PART 117—DRAWBRIDGE OPERATION REGULATIONS

Back Bay of Biloxi, Miss.

This amendment changes the regulations for the semi-high level bascule span bridge on Interstate 110 across the Back Bay of Biloxi, mile 3.0, Biloxi, Mississippi, to require at least 6 hours notice at all times prior to the draw being opened. This amendment was circulated as a public notice dated May 6, 1975 by the Commander, Eighth Coast Guard District, and was published in the Federal Register as a notice of proposed rulemaking (CGD 75-088) on April 30, 1975 (40 FR 18793). Two replies were received which offered no objection to the proposal.

Accordingly, Part 117 of Title 33 of the Code of Federal Regulations is amended by adding a new paragraph (1) (20-b) immediately after paragraph (1) (20-a) of § 117.245 to read as follows:

§ 117.245 Navigable waters discharging into the Atlantic Ocean south of and including Chesapeake Bay and into the Gulf of Mexico, except the Mississippi River and its tributaries and outlets; bridges where constant attendance of draw tenders is not required.

(1) . . . .
(20-b) Back Bay of Biloxi, Mile 3.0. The draw shall open on signal if at least 6 hours notice is given.

(Sec. 5, 28 Stat. 302, as amended, sec. 8(g) (2), 80 Stat. 937; (33 U.S.C. 499, 49 U.S.C. 1655 (g) (2)); 49 CFR 1.46(c) (5), 33 CFR 1.05-1(c) (4))

Effective date. This revision shall become effective on October 10, 1975.

CHAPTER IX—PENNSYLVANIA AVENUE DEVELOPMENT CORPORATION

PART 901—BYLAWS OF THE CORPORATION

Under the authority granted to the Board of Directors by the Pennsylvania Avenue Development Corporation Act of 1972, section 6(5), Pub. L. 92-578, as amended, 88 Stat. 1270(5) (40 U.S.C. 875 (5)), the Board promulgated and approved by unanimous vote on January 28, 1975, amendments to the Bylaws of the Corporation. The Bylaws as amended appeared at 40 FR 7719, dated February 21, 1975. The Bylaws as amended are reprinted here for inclusion in the Code of Federal Regulations, 36 CFR Chapter IX is amended by adding a new Part 901, reading as follows:

Sec.
901.1 Title and office.
901.2 Establishment.
901.3 Board of directors.
901.4 Officers.
901.5 Annual report.
901.6 Seal.
901.7 Amendments.

AUTHORITY: Sec. 6(5), Pub. L. 92-578, 88 Stat. 1270(5) (40 U.S.C. 875(5)).

§ 901.1 Title and office.

(a) Title. The name of the Corporation is the Pennsylvania Avenue Development Corporation.

(b) Office. The office of the Corporation shall be in the city of Washington, District of Columbia.

§ 901.2 Establishment.

(a) Creation. The Corporation, a wholly owned instrumentality of the United States subject to the Government Corporation Control Act (31 U.S.C. 841 et seq.), was established by the Pennsylvania Avenue Development Corporation Act of 1972 (Pub. L. 92-578, 86 Stat. 1266 (40 U.S.C. 871 et seq.)), as amended, hereinafter referred to as "the Act".

(b) Purposes. The purposes for which this Corporation was established are those stated and promulgated by Congress in the Act.

§ 901.3 Board of directors.

(a) Powers and responsibilities. The business, property and affairs of the Corporation shall be managed and controlled by the Board of Directors, and all powers specified in the Act are vested in them. The Board may, at its discretion and as hereinafter provided, delegate authority necessary to carry on the ordinary operations of the Corporation to officers and staff of the Corporation.

(b) Composition; number; selection; terms of office. The Board of Directors shall be comprised of fifteen voting members and eight non-voting members. The powers and management of the Corporation shall reside with the fifteen voting members, and the procedures of the Board shall be determined by them.

(1) The fifteen voting members shall include the seven government agency representatives specified in subsection 3 (c) of the Act (or, their designees), and eight individuals meeting the qualifications of that subsection, appointed by the President of the United States from private life, at least four of whom shall be residents and registered voters of the District of Columbia.

(2) The Chairman and Vice Chairman shall be designated by the President of the United States from among those members appointed from private life.

(3) Upon his appointment, the Chairman shall invite the eight representatives designated in subsection 3(g) of the Act to serve as non-voting members of the Board of Directors.

(4) Each member of the Board of Directors appointed from private life shall serve a term of six years from the expiration of his predecessor's term; except that the terms of the Directors first taking office shall begin on October 27, 1972 and shall expire as designated at the time of appointment. A Director may continue to serve until his successor has qualified.

(5) A Director appointed from private life wishing to resign shall submit a letter of resignation to the President of the United States, and his resignation shall become effective upon the date of the President's acceptance thereof.

(6) A Director, appointed to fill a vacancy occurring prior to the expiration of the term for which his predecessor was appointed, shall serve for the remainder of such term.

(c) Meetings. (1) The Board of Directors shall meet and keep its records at the office of the Corporation.

(2) Meetings of the Board of Directors shall be held at the call of the Chairman, but not less often than once every three months. The Chairman shall also call a meeting at the written request of any five voting members.

(3) The Chairman shall direct the Secretary to give the members of the Board notice of each meeting, either personally, or by mail, or by telegram, stating the time, the place and the agenda for the meeting. Notice by telephone shall be personal notice. Any Director may waive, in writing, notice as to himself, whether before or after the time of the meeting, and the presence of a Director at any meeting shall constitute a waiver of notice of that meeting. Notice, in whatever form, shall be given so that a Director will have received it five working days prior to the time of the meeting.

(4) Unless otherwise limited by the notice thereof, any and all Corporation business may be transacted at any meeting.

(5) The Chairman shall preside at meetings of the Board of Directors, or the Vice Chairman in the absence of the Chairman. In the event of the absence of both the Chairman and the Vice Chairman, the Directors present at the meeting shall designate a Presiding Officer.

(d) Quorum. The presence of any eight voting Directors at a meeting of the Board shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. The act of a majority of the voting Directors at any meeting at which there is a quorum shall be an act of the Board of Directors. If there shall be less than a quorum at any meeting, a majority of the voting Directors present may adjourn the meeting until such time as a quorum can practically and reasonably be obtained.

(e) Directors Serving in Stead. Each member of the Board of Directors specified in paragraphs (1) through (7) of subsection 3(c) of the Act, if unable to serve in person, may designate another official from his agency or department to serve on the Board in his stead. Such designation will be effected by a letter of appointment to the Chairman from the Director specified in the Act. A Director appointed to serve in stead shall serve as the voting Director of the represented agency until the Chairman receives written notice from the appointing official, or his successor, that the appointment is rescinded. The Chairman shall cause notice of appointments of Directors to serve in stead to be published in the Federal Register.

(f) Vote by proxy. Voting members of the Board of Directors unable to attend a meeting may vote by proxy on resolutions which have been printed in the agenda in advance for the meeting. (1) A Director unable to attend a meeting of the Board may submit a vote to be cast by the Presiding Officer by means of a written signed statement of his vote and the resolution to which it pertains together with any statement bearing on the matter the Director wishes to have read. The proxy vote shall be submitted to the Chairman with a separate signed copy to the Secretary, to be received not later than the close of business of the day prior to the date fixed for the meeting.

(2) The Presiding Officer shall cast proxy votes received by the Chairman in the following manner: (i) Upon the close of discussion on a resolution for which there has been submitted one or more valid proxy votes, the Presiding Officer shall announce that he holds proxy vote(s) from named Director(s), and shall read any explanatory statements submitted by the Director(s) voting by proxy; (ii) The Presiding Officer shall take the vote of the Directors present and then declare the proxy votes in hand; (iii) The Secretary shall orally verify the validity of the votes submitted to be cast by proxy, and shall record them with the votes cast by the Directors present on the resolution.

(3) Proxy votes shall not be utilized to effect the presence of a quorum.

(g) Compensation of Directors. Members of the Board of Directors shall be compensated in the manner provided in section 3 of the Act.

(h) Approval of Annual Budget. Upon completion by the staff of a draft annual budget request, the Chairman shall call a meeting of the Board of Directors for its review and consideration. Upon approval by the Board of the draft budget request, it may be submitted to the Office of Management and Budget.

§ 901.4 Officers.

(a) General provisions. The corporate officers of the Corporation shall consist of a President, an Executive Director, two Assistant Directors, a Secretary (who shall be appointed by the Chairman from among the staff of the Corporation), and such other officers as the Board of Directors may from time-to-time appoint. Any corporate officer elected or appointed by the Board of Directors may be removed at any time, with or without cause, by the affirmative vote of a majority of the Board of Directors.

(b) Powers and duties of the President. The Chairman of the Board of Directors shall be the President and chief executive officer of the Corporation and shall have the general powers and duties of supervision and management usually vested in the office of president of a corporation. The President shall see that all resolutions and policies of the Board are carried into effect, and shall have power to execute contracts, leases, agreements, and other documents necessary for the operation of the Corporation.

(c) Appointment of certain officers. The Board of Directors shall appoint an Executive Director and two Assistant Directors, who may be appointed and compensated without regard to the provisions of Title 5 of the United States Code governing appointments in the competitive service and Chapter 51 and subchapter IV of Chapter 53 of Title 5 of the United States Code. Between meetings of the Board of Directors the Chairman may make appointments to the foregoing positions, when they become vacant by resignation or otherwise. However, the Chairman shall move to have such interim appointments confirmed at the next meeting of the Board. The Chairman shall have power to increase or decrease the salaries of the officers appointed under this section.

(d) Powers and Duties of the Executive Director. The Executive Director shall be the chief of the Corporation's staff and shall have general powers of supervision and management over the administration of the Corporation. The Executive Director shall have power to:

(1) Execute contracts, agreements, and other documents necessary for planning and design work and for ordinary operations of the Corporation.

(2) Hire staff (including temporary or intermittent experts and consultants).

(3) Procure space, equipment, supplies, and obtain interagency and commercial support services.

(4) Direct and manage the day-to-day operations and work of the Corporation.

(5) Supervise planning and development activities of the Corporation in accordance with the development plan and resolutions of the Board of Directors.

(6) Perform such other duties and exercise such powers as the President and Board of Directors may prescribe.

(e) Powers and duties of the Assistant Director/Legal. The Assistant Director/Legal shall be the General Counsel of the Corporation, advising the Board of Directors and the staff on all legal matters affecting the functioning of the Corporation. He shall:

(1) Coordinate with the Department of Justice in assuring that the interests of the Corporation are represented in any litigation arising from its authorities or actions.

(2) Advise the Board of Directors and the staff of statutory or regulatory requirements, and assure compliance therewith.

(3) Prepare or review all contracts, agreements or other documents of a legal nature.

(4) Prepare or review all draft legislation, regulations, official notices and other legal publications.

(5) Perform such other duties as may be prescribed by the Board of Directors, the President, or the Executive Director.

(f) Powers and duties of the Assistant Director/Finance. The Assistant Director/Finance shall advise the Board of Directors and the officers of the Corporation on economic and financial matters, and guide the formulation of economic and financial policy for development activities. He shall:

(1) Contract for and coordinate the work of consultants and prepare or review proposals, studies, plans, and agreements relating to financing and economic development.

(2) Act as the treasurer of the Corporation, and shall have charge of the custody, safekeeping and disbursements of all development funds of the Corporation.

(3) Designate qualified persons to authorize disbursements of development funds.

(4) Be responsible for documents relating to development financing of the Corporation, including borrowing from the United States Treasury, commercial banks and others.

(5) Have authority to collect all non-appropriated monies due the Corporation, to receipt therefor and to deposit same for the account of the Corporation.

(6) Work and maintain liaison with appropriate committees of Congress and executive agencies on matters relating to appropriations, financing and the Corporation's budget.

(7) Perform such other duties as may be prescribed by the Board of Directors, the President, or the Executive Director.

(g) Powers and Duties of the Secretary. The Secretary, to be appointed by the Chairman from among the Corporation's staff, shall give notice of all meetings of the Board of Directors and record and keep the minutes thereof, keep in safe custody the seal of the Corporation, and shall affix the same to any instrument requiring it. When so affixed, the seal shall be attested by the signature of the Secretary. The Secretary shall also

§ 901.5 Annual report.

The Executive Director shall prepare annually a comprehensive and detailed report of the Corporation's operations, activities, and accomplishments for the review of the Board of Directors. Upon approval by the Board, the Chairman shall transmit the report in January of each year to the President of the United States and to the Congress.

§ 901.6 Seal.

The Corporation may adopt a corporate seal which shall have the name of the Corporation and year of incorporation printed upon it. The seal may be used by causing it or a facsimile thereof to be impressed, affixed, or reproduced.

§ 901.7 Amendments.

These bylaws may be altered, amended, or repealed by the Board of Directors at any meeting, if notice of the proposed alteration, amendment, or repeal is contained in the notice of the meeting.

CHAPTER III—COAST GUARD, DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORTATION

PART 401—GREAT LAKES PILOTAGE REGULATIONS

PART 402—GREAT LAKES PILOTAGE RULES AND ORDERS

Operating Rules and Suspension and Revocation of Certificates of Authorization

The purpose of these amendments to the Great Lakes Pilotage Regulations is to improve the efficiency of pilotage service on the Great Lakes under the Great Lakes Pilotage Act of 1960 (GLPA). These amendments establish operating requirements for holders of Certificates of Authorization and additional operating requirements for U.S. registered pilots. These amendments require the holders of Certificates of Authorization to comply with the requirements and qualifications for authorization to form a pool in § 401.320. These amendments also authorize the Director to dispatch pilots when pilotage service is not provided.

The Coast Guard proposed these rules in the FEDERAL REGISTER (39 FR 39047) on November 5, 1974. A public meeting on this proposed rulemaking document was held in Cleveland, Ohio on November 20, 1974. Written comments were also received. In light of the verbal and written comments the final rule is promulgated as proposed except as follows:

Several comments concurred with the proposal as a constructive approach to provide greater stability to pilotage on the Great Lakes.

Several comments discussed proposed § 401.335. One commenter requested that the reference to a "willful" violation be stricken from § 401.335(c), because of the difficulty in determining its application. The Coast Guard is not adopting this comment. The courts have provided guidance to the meaning of the word willful. Additionally, a willful violation of this part can have serious impact on pilotage service by threatening the stability of Great Lakes pilotage; therefore, the director should have the capacity to act without the notice requirements in § 401.335(b).

In response to a comment, the word "shall" has been added to the last sentence in § 401.335(c) to emphasize that the order to suspend enables the pool to identify its violation. Proposed § 401.335(c) provided for immediate suspension and revocation; § 401.335(c) is changed to delete "revoke" to allow only immediate suspension under this paragraph. Immediate suspension is a sufficient remedy to maintain an efficient pilotage system when a violation of this part involves public health, interest, or safety, or is willful. Paragraphs (d) and (e) are added to proposed § 401.335. Paragraph (d) provides for an opportunity for the holder to be heard if the holder receives a suspension of the Certificate of Authorization under § 401.335(c). Paragraph (e) sets the procedure for terminating a suspension. The suspension of a Certificate of Authorization is a means to obtain compliance with this part; it is not a penalty. If a holder of a Certificate of Authorization is not complying with this part it faces suspension but upon compliance the suspension is lifted. The holder does not remain under suspension because of a prior non-compliance with this part.

One comment stated that the only penalty authorized under the GLPA is a civil fine and that the Coast Guard does not have the authority to suspend a Certificate of Authorization. Under the GLPA the Coast Guard may authorize pools for the efficient dispatching of pilotage service, regulate the operation of pools, and limit the number of pools. The Coast Guard must regulate Great Lakes Pilotage in a manner that will provide for the efficient dispatching of pilotage service. Under the Act the Coast Guard not only can set the criteria for acquiring a Certificate of Authorization but also the criteria for withdrawing it.

Several comments noted that proposed § 401.710 (c) and (d) make the pool responsible for the individual pilot's actions. These paragraphs are changed in response to the comments to make it clear that the certificate holder must provide facilities and dispatch pilots on a first-come, first-serve basis and dispatch pilots under its working rules. These paragraphs do not make the certificate holder responsible for a pilot's actions after dispatching the pilot.

As a result of several comments and further study by the Coast Guard, § 401.720(b) is changed to authorize the Director to dispatch pilots only when pilotage service is not being provided or when the pool cannot dispatch pilots because its Certificate of Authorization is withdrawn. The purpose of this paragraph is to maintain pilotage service when problems arise that cause its curtailment. It is not a penalty against either the pools or the pilots. One comment questioned the Director's dispatching of pilots when pilotage service is not being provided equitably between U.S. and Canadian registered pilots. The change in this paragraph removes "equitable participation" as a basis for the Director's dispatching of pilots. Equitable participation is a requirement in section 216b (a) and (d) of the GLPA.

One comment stated that the Director's dispatching of pilots is outside the authority of the GLPA and is unworkable. The GLPA authorizes the Coast Guard to register pilots and authorize pools, regulate the operations of pools as necessary, and establish by regulations the rates, charges, and conditions on the pilots. When pilotage service is not being provided, the Coast Guard must be able to dispatch pilots to vessels to resume pilotage service. The Coast Guard may experience some difficulties in providing the arrangements and facilities to dispatch pilotage service; however, the Coast Guard does have the resources to be capable of dispatching pilots to vessels.

Another comment noted that there are collective bargaining agreements between the pilots and the pools and requested provisions in the regulation for the government to assume a pool's obligation under these agreements when the Director dispatches pilots. The Coast Guard will not intervene in the labor-management agreements between the pools and pilots, and this regulation is not being changed as a result of this comment.

A comment concerning the date for The Working Rules and Dispatching Procedures for District No. 1 is adopted and § 402.320(a) (1) is changed to read: February 1, 1965, amended to April 25, 1972.

Several commenters questioned the adequacy of pilotage rates. Since rate matters were not a part of the proposal the Coast Guard is not responding to these comments in this rulemaking action. However, the Coast Guard is continually studying the matters of pilotage rates and participation.

In consideration of the foregoing, Parts 401 and 402 of Title 46 of the Code of Federal Regulations are amended as follows:

1. By adding a new paragraph (a) (11) to § 401.110 to read:

§ 401.110 Definitions.

(11) "Person" includes an individual, registered pilot, partnership, corporation, association, voluntary association, authorized pool, or public or private organization, other than an agency.

2. By revising § 401.330(a) to read:

§ 401.330 Certificates of Authorization.

(a) Subject to § 401.300(b), an association that is qualified to establish a pool in a District or area is issued a Certificate of Authorization that is valid until suspended or revoked under the procedures in § 401.335.

3. By adding a new § 401.335 to read:

§ 401.335 Suspension or revocation of a Certificate of Authorization.

(a) The Director may issue an order to suspend or revoke a Certificate of Authorization if—

(1) The holder of a Certificate of Authorization does not continue to meet the requirements under § 401.320; or

(2) The holder of a Certificate of Authorization does not comply with the requirements of this part.

(b) Before issuing an order to suspend or revoke, the Director notifies the holder of a Certificate of Authorization of the reasons for the proposed suspension or revocation and gives the holder an opportunity to be heard or to comply with the requirements of this part.

(c) If the Director finds that the violation of a requirement of this part involves public health, interest, or safety, or that the violation is willful, the Director may issue an order to suspend the Certificate of Authorization without giving notice under paragraph (b) of this section. The order shall contain the reasons for the Director's action.

(d) A holder who has its Certificate of Authorization suspended under paragraph (c) of this section shall have an opportunity to be heard by notifying the Director in writing.

(e) The Director shall reinstate a Certificate of Authorization that has been suspended under paragraph (b) or (c) of this section when he determines that the holder is complying with this part.

4. By revising § 401.340(a) to read:

§ 401.340 Compliance with working rules of pools.

(a) United States or Canadian registered pilots utilizing the facilities and dispatching services of any authorized pool shall comply with its working rules approved under § 402.320, except to the extent inconsistent with the dispatch orders of the Director under § 401.720(b), and with other rules of the pool that are related to those facilities and services.

5. By adding a new Subpart G to read:

Subpart G—Operating Requirements for U.S. Registered Pilots and Holders of Certificates of Authorization; Authority of the Director Over Operations § 401.700 Operating requirements for U.S. registered pilots.

Each U.S. registered pilot shall—

(a) Provide pilotage service when dispatched by his pool; and

(b) Comply with the dispatching orders of the Director under § 401.720 (b).

§ 401.710 Operating requirements for holders of Certificates of Authorization.

Each holder of a Certificate of Authorization shall—

(a) Comply with the terms of any agreement for services by registered pilots on the Great Lakes between an appropriate agency of Canada and the Secretary, his designated agent, or the Director;

(b) Coordinate on a reciprocal basis its pool operations with pool operations of the Canadian Government, under the "Memorandum of Arrangements, Great Lakes Pilotage, Between the Secretary of Transportation of the United States of America and the Minister of Transport of Canada", effective July 7, 1970, as amended;

(c) Provide continuous arrangements and facilities for the efficient dispatching of pilotage service on a first-come, first-serve basis to vessels that give notice of pilotage service requirements to the pilotage dispatch station, except pilots are not required to board a vessel that does not furnish safe boarding facilities;

(d) Dispatch pilotage service under the terms of its approved working rules as referenced in § 402.320;

(e) Comply with its working rules approved under § 402.320, except to the extent inconsistent with the dispatch orders of the Director under § 401.720 (b);

(f) Comply with all accounting procedures and the reporting requirements in this chapter; and

(g) Make available to the Commandant all of its financial and operating records.

§ 401.720 Authority of the Director over operations.

(a) This section does not limit the authority of the Director under any other section in this chapter.

(b) When pilotage service is not provided or when the Certificate of Authorization is under suspension or revocation under § 401.335, the Director may order any U.S. registered pilot to provide pilotage service.

§ 402.320 [Amended]

6. By amending § 402.320(a) (1) by striking "approved as of March 25, 1965," and inserting "dated February 1, 1965, amended to April 25, 1972," in place thereof.

7. By amending § 402.320(a) (2) by striking the date "September 15, 1965" and inserting "October 14, 1970" in place thereof.

8. By amending § 402.320 by deleting paragraph (a) (4).

9. By amending § 402.320(a) (5) by striking the date "March 22, 1965" and inserting "April 1, 1971" in place thereof.

On September 10, 1974, the Hazardous Materials Regulations Board published an Amendment (39 FR 32615) extending the effective date from September 30, 1974 to September 30, 1975 for mandatory compliance with the regulations applicable to materials that are corrosive only to aluminum. The basis for the extension was the proposed alternative approach to dealing with such materials as proposed under Docket HM-112 (Notice 73-9; 39 FR 3022; January 24, 1974) which was not then, nor is it now, a completed rulemaking action.

In consideration of the fact that an unnecessary burden would be imposed if it is decided to include these materials in the Other Regulated Material (ORM) Group B classification as proposed under Docket HM-112, action on the classification and application of regulations to materials corrosive only to aluminum is as follows:

(1) The mandatory effective date of Amendment Nos. 171-14, 172-14, 172-20, 173-61, 173-74, 174-14, 175-7, 177-21,

CHAPTER X—INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION

[Ex Parte No. 73, Ex Parte No. MC-1]

PART 1320—EXTENSION OF CREDIT TO SHIPPERS BY RAIL CARRIERS

PART 1322—EXTENSION OF CREDIT TO SHIPPERS BY MOTOR CARRIERS

Payment of Rates and Charges

Revised rules governing the extension of credit by railroads and motor common carriers operating in interstate or foreign commerce.

These rulemaking proceedings concern the amendment of the rules and regulations governing the extension of credit to shippers by motor and rail common carriers published March 24, 1973 (38 FR 7820) and, specifically, the following proposed amendment:

Shippers to whom credit has been extended under the provisions of this part must pay the required transportation charges within the credit period prescribed herein.

In the instant second report of the Commission on further hearing, the Commission rejected the proposed amendment which would have extended its credit regulations to apply directly to shippers. Instead, it revised the present rules in two principal respects. First, it extended the credit period for rail shippers from the present 5 days, generally, to a maximum of 7 days similar to the present credit period now afforded shippers by motor carrier. Secondly, it revised the present rules for both rail and motor carriers to provide that the aforesaid credit period of 7 days excluding Saturdays, Sundays and legal holidays shall automatically be extended to a total of 30 calendar days for any shipper who has not paid the carrier's freight bill within the aforesaid 7-day period, and, also, to provide that such shipper will be assessed a service charge by the carrier equal to 1 percent of the amount of said period, subject to a $10 minimum charge, for such extension of the credit period.

At a general session of the Interstate Commerce Commission, held at its office in Washington, D.C., on the 5th day of August 1975.

It appearing, that pursuant to parts I and II of the Interstate Commerce Act (sections 3(2) and 223, respectively), and section 553 of the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U.S.C. sec. 553), a rule-making proceeding was instituted by the Commission on February 14, 1973, for the purpose of studying recent developments which may have caused or significantly contributed to difficulties being encountered by certain carriers subject to our jurisdiction in the proper extension of credit and the timely collection of their lawful charges, and also for the purpose of determining what, if any, effect upon carrier compliance with our current credit regulations may stem from various practices assertedly engaged in by shippers and other parties responsible for payment of the lawful charges of those carriers and what corrective measures may or should be implemented to bring about an improvement therein in the public interest.

It further appearing, that investigation of the matters and things involved in this proceeding has been made and that the Commission has made and filed its report herein containing its findings of facts and conclusions thereon, which report is hereby referred to and made a part hereof:

It is ordered, That Part 1320 of Chapter X of Title 49 of the Code of Federal Regulations be, and it is hereby, modified as follows:

(1) Sections 1320.1, 1320.15 and 1320.16 be amended to read as set forth below.

(2) Sections 1320.2, 1320.3, 1320.4, 1320.8, 1320.9 and 1320.14 be, and they are hereby, canceled;

It is further ordered, That Part 1322 of Chapter X of Title 49 of the Code of Federal Regulations be, and it is hereby, modified as follows:

(1) Section 1322.1 be amended to read as set forth below and present paragraphs (b) and (c) thereof be re-entitled (c) and (d).

It is further ordered, That this order shall become effective 35 days after the date of service, and shall remain in effect until modified or revoked in whole or in part by further order of the Commission.

And it is further ordered, That notice of this order shall be given to the general public by depositing a copy thereof in the Office of the Secretary of the Commission at Washington, D.C., and by filing a copy with the Director, Office of the Federal Register (49 U.S.C. 301, 302, 304, 308, and 323 5 U.S.C. 553, 559).

By the Commission.

[SEAL] ROBERT L. OSWALD,
Secretary.

49 CFR 1320.1 shall be revised to read as follows:

§ 1320.1 Carrier may extend credit to shipper.

of freight in advance of payment of the tariff charges thereon and may extend credit in the amount of such charges to those who undertake to pay them, such persons herein being called shippers, for a period of 7 days excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays. When the freight bill covering a shipment is presented to the shipper on or before the date of delivery, the credit period shall run from the first 12 o'clock midnight following delivery of the freight. When the freight bill is not presented to the shipper on or before the date of delivery, the credit period shall run from the first 12 o'clock midnight following the presentation of the freight bill. In regard to traffic of nonprofit shippers' associations and shippers' agents, within the meaning of section 402(c) of part IV of the Interstate Commerce Act, the carriers shall require such organizations to furnish the names of the beneficial owners of the property in the bills of lading or at least have the bills of lading incorporate by reference a document containing the names of the beneficial owners.

(b) Common carriers by rail must also provide in their tariffs that (1) the aforesaid credit period of 7 days excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays shall automatically be extended to a total of 30 calendar days for any shipper who has not paid the carrier's freight bill within the aforesaid 7-day period, (2) such shipper will be assessed a service charge by the carrier equal to 1 percent of the amount of said freight bill, subject to a $10 minimum charge, for such extension of the credit period, and (3) no such carrier shall grant credit to any shipper who fails to pay a duly presented freight bill within the 30-day period, unless and until such shipper affirmatively satisfies the carrier that all future freight bills duly presented will be paid strictly in accordance with the rules and regulations prescribed by the Commission for the settlement of carrier rates and charges: Provided, That no service charge authorized herein shall be assessed in connection with rates and charges on freight transported for the United States, for any department, bureau, or agency thereof, or for any State or territory, or political subdivision thereof, or for the District of Columbia.

§ 1320.15 Computation of credit period for payment of export traffic rates.

The period fixed for the payment of transportation rates and charges, insofar as applicable to export traffic which is loaded into vessels direct from railroad cars or piers or from such cars or piers by means of lighters, may be computed from the first 4 p.m. following the time when the vessel is completely loaded, freight bills to be delivered to vessel owner or his representative not later than the day on which the loading of the vessel is completed.

§ 1320.16 Computation of credit period for payment of freight rates at interior California points not served by railroads.

The period fixed for the payment of transportation rates and charges, insofar as applicable to freight from and to Bartle, Calif., when destined to or from interior points described in the report, in Siskiyou, Shasta, and Modoc Counties, Calif., not served by railroad, may be computed from the first 4 p.m. following 26 days after the mailing by petitioner of the freight bills for such traffic.

49 CFR 1322.1 shall be revised to read as follows:

§ 1322.1 Carrier may extend credit to shipper.

(a) Upon taking precautions deemed by them to be sufficient to assure payment of the tariff charges within the credit period herein specified, common carriers by motor may relinquish possession of freight in advance of payment of the tariff charges thereon and may extend credit in the amount of such charges to those who undertake to pay them, such persons herein being called shippers, for a period of 7 days excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays. When the freight bill covering a shipment is presented to the shipper on or before the date of delivery, the credit period shall run from the first 12 o'clock midnight following delivery of the freight. When the freight bill is not presented to the shipper on or before the date of delivery, the credit period shall run from the first 12 o'clock midnight following the presentation of the freight bill. In regard to traffic of nonprofit shippers' associations and shippers' agents, within the meaning of section 402(c) of part IV of the Interstate Commerce Act, the carriers shall require such organizations to furnish the names of the beneficial owners of the property in the bills of lading or at least have the bills of lading incorporate by reference a document containing the names of the beneficial owners.

(b) Common carriers by motor must also provide in their tariffs that (1) the aforesaid credit period of 7 days excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays shall automatically be extended to a total of 30 calendar days for any shipper who has not paid the carrier's freight bill within the aforesaid 7-day period, (2) such shipper will be assessed a service charge by the carrier equal to 1 percent of the amount of said freight bill, subject to a $10 minimum charge, for such extension of the credit period, and (3) no such carrier shall grant credit to any shipper who fails to pay a duly presented freight bill within the 30-day period, unless and until such shipper affirmatively satisfies the carrier that all future freight bills duly presented will be paid strictly in accordance with the rules and regulations prescribed by the Commission for the settlement of carrier rates and charges: Provided, That no service charge authorized herein shall be assessed in connection with rates and charges on freight transported for the United States, for any department, bureau, or agency thereof, or for any State or territory, or political subdivision thereof, or for the District of Columbia.

STANDARD FOR WORK IN CONFINED SPACES

Extension of Time for Comments

On 24 July 1975 an advance notice of proposed rulemaking regarding an occupational safety and health standard for entry into and work in confined spaces was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (40 FR 30980). Interested parties were given until 25 August 1975 to submit data, views, arguments, and comments.

It has now been determined that this deadline is too early to permit full comment by all interested parties. This rulemaking is expected to involve a number of important and complex issues and is of concern to a wide variety of occupations and industries.

Accordingly, it has been determined to be in the public interest to extend the deadline for public comment until October 24, 1975. Interested parties may submit data, views, and arguments relative to the issues set forth in 40 FR 30980 or other issues they feel are pertinent to setting a standard for entry into and work in confined spaces. All communications should be mailed to the Docket Officer, Docket H001, Occupational Safety and Health Administration, U.S. Department of Labor, Rm. N3618, 200 Constitution Ave., NW., Washington, D.C. 20210 by October 24, 1975.

This extension of time for comments is issued under section 41 of the Longshoremen's and Harbor Workers' Compensation Act (44 Stat. 1444, as amended; 33 U.S.C. 941), section 107 of the Contract Work Hours and Safety Standards Act as amended (83 Stat. 96; 40 U.S.C. 333), and section 6 of the Williams-Steiger Occupational Safety and Health Act of 1970 (84 Stat. 1593; 29 U.S.C. 655).

Signed at Washington, D.C., this 29th day of August 1975.

JOHN T. DUNLOP,

FEDERAL DEPOSIT INSURANCE CORPORATION

[12 CFR Part 337]

INSIDER TRANSACTIONS

Proposed Approval and Record Keeping Requirements; Amendment

1. On September 3, 1975, the Board of Directors of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation published for comment a proposed § 337.3 to be added to Part 337 of Title 12 of the Code of Federal Regulations entitled "Approval and Record Keeping Requirements Pertaining to Insider Transactions." The Board of Directors has decided to amend the proposed § 337.3 in order to make clear that the proposed regulation is intended at this time to apply only to insured State nonmember commercial banks.

2. The first sentence of the fifth paragraph of the notice of proposed rulemaking is amended to read as follows: The regulation would apply to all insured State nonmember commercial banks.

3. The following new paragraph is added immediately preceding the proposed § 337.3:

The proposed regulation does not apply to insured mutual savings banks, although the Corporation's Board of Directors fully intends at an early date to extend similar procedures, specifically adapted to such banks, to transactions involving their officers, employees and trustees. Comments on the proposed regulation are, therefore, solicited from mutual savings banks and their representatives.

4. The proposed new § 337.3 is amended to read as follows:

§ 337.3 Insider transactions.

(a) Definitions—(1) Bank. The term "bank" means any insured State nonmember bank, other than a mutual savings bank as defined in section 3(f) of the Federal Deposit Insurance Act (12 U.S.C. 1813(f)), and any subsidiary controlled by such a bank.

5. The Corporation intends at an early date to adapt provisions similar to the proposed regulation to the special circumstances of insured nonmember mutual savings banks. Thus, in addition to the comments previously solicited by the Corporation, the Corporation would be interested in receiving comments from insured nonmember mutual savings banks and other interested persons both on the substance of the proposed regulation and on how the provisions might best be adapted to such banks.

6. All interested persons are invited to submit comments in writing on or before October 31, 1975 to Alan Miller, Executive Secretary, Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, 550 17th Street, NW., Washington, D.C. 20429. All written comments will be made available for public inspection during regular business hours at the Office of the Executive Secretary, Room 6108, at the above address.

By order of the Board of Directors,
September 2, 1975.

Grade Loan Rates for Price Support on 1975-Crop Tobacco

Notice is hereby given that CCC is considering the grade loan rates to be applied in making price support available on 1975-crop burley tobacco.

Interested persons are invited to participate in establishing the grade loan rates to be applied by submitting views and recommendations in writing to the Director, Tobacco and Peanuts Division, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250. All comments received on or before October 6, 1975, will be considered. All written submissions made pursuant to this notice will be made available for public inspection at the office of the Director during the regular business hours (8:15 a.m. to 4:45 p.m.) (7 CFR 1.27(b)).

Under the Tobacco Loan Program published in this part, CCC proposes to establish loan rates by grades for the 1975-crop burley tobacco, type 31, as set forth herein. These proposed rates, calculated to provide the level of support of 96.1 cents per pound as determined under section 106 of the Agricultural Act of 1949 (7 U.S.C. 1445) are as follows:

COMMERCIAL FISHING OPERATIONS Hearing To Consider Reissuance of Incidental Take General Permits

Notice is hereby given that, pursuant to 50 CFR 216.24(b)(3), an informal public hearing will be held on October 9, 1975, commencing at 9 a.m. in the Civil Service Commission Auditorium, 1900 E Street, NW., Washington, D.C.

PURPOSE OF HEARING

The primary purpose of the hearing is to present the information referred to <sup>1</sup> Only the original producer is eligible to receive advances. Tobacco graded "U" (unsound), "W" (wet), "No-G" (no grade), or scrap will not be accepted. Cooperatives are authorized to deduct $1 per hundred pounds to apply against overhead costs.

PROPOSED RULES

in 50 CFR 216.24(b)(3) and to obtain comments and views of interested persons with respect to the reissuance of general permits to allow the taking of marine mammals incidental to commercial fishing operations. General permits now in effect expire December 31, 1975. The hearing will concern itself principally with the general permit for "Encircling Gear; Yellowfin Tuna Purse Seining" (50 CFR 216.24(d)(2)). Subjects to be discussed include, among others, the following: A proposed quota on the take of porpoise; the observer program; modifications of the existing regulations governing the taking and related acts incidental to commercial fishing operations (50 CFR 216.24); information described in section 103(d)(1)-(4) of the Marine Mammal Protection Act of 1972, 16 U.S.C. 1361 et seq., with reference to the regulations, general permits in effect and the research and development program; the Draft Environmental Impact Statement concerning the reissuance of general permits, which is available to the public at the Office of the Director, National Marine Fisheries Service (NMFS), 3300 Whitehaven Street, NW., Washington, D.C. 20235; and the Southwest Fisheries Center Administrative Report No. LJ-75-68 entitled "Progress of Research on Porpoise Mortality Incidental to Tuna Purse-Seine Fishing for Fiscal Year 1975", submitted to the Director, NMFS, and made available to the public on August 18, 1975.

If the general permit for "Encircling Gear; Yellowfin Tuna Purse Seining" is reissued, NMFS proposes to establish a quota on the incidental porpoise mortality (for purposes of the quota—the terms porpoise and dolphin shall be interchangeable) that may occur in connection with the use of such general permit. The quota presently being considered is in the range of 50,000–110,000. If a quota is adopted the exact number will be determined by the Director, NMFS, based on the comments and views presented at the hearing and written comments submitted within the time provided. The quota will be fixed on a basis that the allowable kill will, with reasonable assurance, enable the principal stocks of porpoises to increase in size. In addition to a quota, a lower desirable goal for the year will be established in order to move toward the ultimate reduction of porpoise mortality contemplated by the Act.

In order to assist the Director, NMFS, in arriving at a decision on the proposed quota, all interested persons who wish to comment or otherwise participate in the hearing are requested to document or otherwise substantiate their positions in detail. In particular, with respect to the quota, the holder of the general permit and certificate holders are expected to present all economic data they consider relevant with respect to the imposition of a quota, the amount of the quota, and the effect of a quota on the economic viability of their operations. Another matter to be considered is the extent of an observer program. If the Marine Mammal Protection Act's provision dealing with "Authorization of Appropriations" is amended (Section 114) and funds and manpower are available, NMFS intends to have a full observer program if the General Permit is reissued. NMFS observers placed aboard tuna vessels which are entitled to take porpoise incidental to yellowfin tuna purse seining in 1976, will among other things, gather scientific data and monitor compliance with the regulations governing the use of the general permit.

AMENDMENTS TO REGULATIONS

In the event the general permits are reissued for the 1976 fishing season, the Director, NMFS, will amend the existing regulations governing the incidental taking of marine mammals in connection with fishing operations (50 CFR 216.24) prior to reissuance of said general permits. In this connection, all parties interested in submitting proposed amendments to said regulations are invited to present the same in writing at the hearing or in advance of the hearing by sending them to the Director, National Marine Fisheries Service at the above mentioned address. All proposals to amend the regulations will be considered. In this regard, amendments are being proposed by NMFS to the following sections of 50 CFR 216.24:

1. Section 216.24(b)(5). To permit operations under a certificate issued while the holder is at sea.

2. Section 216.24(c)(4). To allow for reduced fees when more than one certificate is issued, other than category 2, or when applicants' income is below Federal poverty guidelines.

3. Section 216.24(d)(2)(i). To prohibit sets on striped dolphin, and provide for a quota on all other species of dolphin in order to assure growth of the populations.

4. Section 216.24(d)(2)(iv)(A). To revise the wording on the placement of the porpoise safety panel for ease of understanding and to simplify the language regarding markers and proof of closure of handhold openings.

5. Section 216.24(d)(2)(iv)(E)(2). To define reasons for towing on every set and when towing may cease. To extend the period of hand rescue procedures through "sack-up" and brailing.

6. Section 216.24(d)(2)(v). To delete requirement for torque-balanced cable.

7. To renumber certain subsections in § 216.24(d)(2) due to amendments.

8. Figures 1 through 6 have been revised for clarification.

9. Section 216.24(f). To require that NMFS observers accompany tuna purse-seine vessels which have been operated under a certificate of inclusion, and to require notification by certificate holders prior to embarking on a trip in order to allow placement of an observer.

The following are the specific changes to the regulations. New language has been underlined. Deleted language has not been noted. Due to the number of changes in § 216.24(d)(2), for ease of understanding, it is set forth in its entirety notwithstanding that all its subsections have not been amended.

§ 216.24 [Amended]

Section 216.24(b)(5) is amended as control to be set around marine mammals when conditions of wind, sea, visi-garding the porpoise safety panel and other gear are as follows:

(v) Following a net set where marine mammals are captured in the course of sessions when there are substantial changes in the Act, the regulations or required to attend other formal training vessel owner or charterer, board and/or

§ 216.24 [Amended]

Section 216.24(b)(5) is amended as follows: (5) The certificate must be in the possession of the person to whom it was issued in the course of his fishing operations and shall be shown upon request to an enforcement agent or other designated agent of the National Marine Fisheries Service: Provided, however, That persons at sea on a fishing trip on the date of their certificate of inclusion, to whom a certificate of inclusion for the next year has been issued, may take marine mammals under the terms of the new certificate of inclusion but such persons are obligated to physically obtain the new certificate when they next return to port.

Section 216.24(c)(4) is amended as follows: (4) Applications for certificates of inclusion must contain a payment in accordance with the following schedule for each person named in paragraph (c)(3)(i) of this section. The schedule of fee payment is:

Categories 1, 3, 4, and 5: Towed or Drugged Gear; Encircling Gear; Seining other than Yellowfin; Stationary Gear; Other Gear: $10.

Category 2: Encircling Gear, Yellowfin Tuna Purse Seining: $200.

Except as provided herein, applicants desiring a certificate of inclusion under more than one general permit will not be required to pay a full fee for each certificate. After the initial fee for a certificate is paid, additional certificates will be issued for a fee of fifty cents each. However, in any case, the full fee must be paid for certificates of inclusion in category 2. Applicants whose incomes are below Federal poverty guidelines will be issued certificates in categories 1, 3, 4 and 5 for a fee of $1.00 on a showing in their application that their income is below poverty guidelines.

Section 216.24(d)(2) is amended to read as follows:

(2) Encircling Gear; Yellowfin Tuna Purse Seining. (i) A certificate holder may take marine mammals, so long as such taking is an incidental occurrence in the course of normal commercial fishing operations. However, striped dolphin, Stenella coeruleoalba may not be taken and the number of all other species of porpoise that may be killed in the course of commercial fishing operations shall be limited to . . . This number may be adjusted from time to time during the year by the Director on the basis of information acquired during that year. Any adjustment in the number of porpoises that may be killed incidental to normal commercial fishing operations shall be published as a Notice in the "Federal Register" along with the reason for such adjustment. Marine mammals taken incidental to commercial fishing operations shall be immediately returned to the environment where captured without further injury. Each certificate holder shall take every possible step to minimize the incidental mortality and serious injury of marine mammals in the course of commercial fishing operations, including refraining from causing or permitting a purse seine under his control to be set around marine mammals when conditions of wind, sea, visibility, or the number of marine mammals and/or fish concerned would, in his judgment, be likely to prevent the effective use of the backdown and other procedures required herein. Such steps to minimize mortality and serious injury shall include, where appropriate, causing a purse seine already set on marine mammals to be released and/or opened to facilitate release of marine mammals where such a step will, in his judgment, be effective and conditions prevent the effective use of the procedures required hereunder. The Director may publish findings relating to the conditions of wind, sea, visibility or numbers of marine mammals and fish concerned which prevent the effective use of equipment and procedures required hereunder and result in an unacceptably high rate of incidental mortality and serious injury of marine mammals and under which conditions it would not be permissible to cause a set to be made on marine mammals.

A certificate holder may take such steps as are necessary to protect his catch, gear, or person from depredation, damage, or threat of personal injury without inflicting death or injury to any marine mammal.

(iii) All certificate holders shall maintain daily logs, in such form as the Director may prescribe, of all sets in which marine mammals are taken. Such logs must include the location, time and date of set; weather, and water conditions; estimated number and species of marine mammals upon which set was made; estimated number and species of marine mammals caught; method used to remove marine mammals from net; amount and kind of tuna caught; and an actual count of marine mammals killed, and seriously injured, if any, on each set. Such logs shall be subject to inspection at the discretion of the Regional Director, National Marine Fisheries Service, to whom a certificate application was submitted or his designated agents. In addition, copies of all such logs shall be mailed or delivered to the Regional Director, NMFS, to whom a certificate application was submitted, at the earliest possible opportunity, but no later than 5 days after the most recent recording in the log, except that if a vessel at sea returns to port later than five days after such occurrence, then it shall be reported within forty-eight hours after arrival in port. Certificate holders shall retain the original logs for a period of one year from the date the required copies are submitted to the Regional Director, National Marine Fisheries Service.

(iv) Certificates will be valid only on a vessel equipped with a porpoise safety panel in its purse seine, and using other gear and procedures as herein described. Porpoise safety panels and all other gear used in the course of catching and landing yellowfin tuna, backdown and other release procedures shall be maintained in a proper and seaworthy condition. The specifications and other particulars regarding the porpoise safety panel and other gear are as follows:

(A) The porpoise safety panel shall be installed so as to protect the entire perimeter of the backdown area from the outboard end of the number three cork bunching line to the tiedown point. This panel must be a minimum of 100 fathoms in length, except that the minimum length of the panel in nets deeper than 10 panels shall be determined at a ratio of 10 fathoms in length for each panel that the net is deep. The porpoise safety panel shall consist of small mesh webbing not to exceed 2" stretch mesh, extending from the corkline downward, a minimum depth equivalent to one strip of 100 mesh stretch meshing of 4 1/4" mesh.

(B) Each end of the porpoise safety panel must be identified with an easily distinguishable marker.

(C) Throughout the length of the corkline in which the porpoise safety panel is located, hand hold openings are to be secured so that the insertion of a 1 3/8 inch diameter cylindrical-shaped object meets resistance;

(D) In the area of the net where the porpoise safety panel is installed, bunchlines and other gear not necessary to fishing operations or porpoise release procedures should be removed to facilitate release of porpoise during backdown; and

(E) (1) The length of the net where the porpoise safety panel is installed throughout the corkline hangings shall be inspected following each trip. Hangings found to have loosened to the extent that a cylindrical object with a 1 3/8" diameter will not meet resistance when inserted between the cork and corkline hangings, must be tightened so that a cylindrical object with a one and three-eighths inch diameter cannot be inserted.

(2) Nets shall contain bunch lines arranged similar to Figure 6. The arrangements of bunchlines should allow up to 5 bunch lines to be pulled in normal fishing operations and for the use of speed boats to hold the net open by towing of reversed bunch lines as indicated in Figure 3 and 4. Each towing point at the conjunction of reversed bunch lines must be marked with large visible markers so that towing points can be easily located. All vessels operated by certificated holders under this section shall be equipped with two or more speed boats rigged with towing bridle similar to Figure 5 which can be quickly attached to the reverse bunch lines. On every set involving marine mammals speed boats shall be utilized to hook onto the reversed bunch lines and tow the net open in order to prevent the collapse of the net; pockets of loose webbing; and canopies of webbing that might entrap marine mammals. As the net is retrieved, the speedboats may discontinue towing either when their respective bunch lines begin to go up toward the power block or backdown commences. Certificate holders operating vessels that do not carry two or more speed boats may not conduct fishing operations which involve setting purse seines on marine mammals with such vessels.

(v) Following a net set where marine mammals are captured in the course of utilizing a purse seine for catching and landing yellowfin tuna, backdown and other release procedures shall be continued until all live animals have been released from the net. "Backdown procedure" means a series of maneuvers, which takes place after the net is tied down following a set and pursing, which keeps the net open to the greatest degree and allows porpoise or other marine mammals to leave the pursed net over the net floats which are submerged as a result of the vessel moving astern. During and after the backdown operation, at least two men shall remain at the corkline in a boat suitable to extricate live entangled porpoises, where possible, and release them over the corkline. The extrication and release shall be accomplished by hand and due consideration will be given to the safety of the crew. The two men shall remain in the boat or transfer to a platform from which they can continue to release any remaining live marine mammals up to and through the "sacking up" and brailing operations.

(vi) Purse seine nets and other gear and equipment utilized to catch and land fish under this section and to conduct backdown and other procedures herein required, shall be maintained in functional and seaworthy condition. All certificate holders shall maintain proficiency sufficient to perform the procedures required herein. Vessel gear and equipment as well as the proficiency of certificate holders will be subject to inspection and examination by authorized NMFS personnel at any time at the discretion of the Director. Any vessel found to not be equipped with gear which is in conformity with these regulations or is not maintained in a functional and seaworthy conditions shall be declared ineligible for use by a certificate holder for commercial fishing operations under this section and the certificate of any certificate holder who is found to lack proficiency in the procedures required herein shall be immediately suspended or revoked.

(vii) A certificate holder's proficiency shall be determined by proof of attendance at and satisfactory completion of a formal training session conducted under the auspices of the National Marine Fisheries Service. At the training session, a certificate holder shall be instructed concerning the provisions of the Marine Mammal Protection Act of 1972, the regulations promulgated pursuant to the Act, the requirements of his certificate of inclusion and the appropriate general permit, and the fishing gear and techniques which are required or will contribute to reducing serious injury and mortality of porpoises incidental to purse seining for yellowfin tuna. In addition, for continuation or renewal of a certificate, a certificate holder may be sessions when there are substantial changes in the Act, the regulations or the required fishing gear and techniques.

(viii) The Director may publish a finding of the rate of incidental mortality and serious injury of marine mammals in the course of commercial fishing operations conducted pursuant to these regulations.

(ix) Failure to comply with the provisions of this permit or these regulations, including, but not limited to, failure to submit upon demand to an inspection or examination by an authorized agent of the National Marine Fisheries Service, falsification of logs and reports required hereunder, or failure to satisfy the requirement of any provisions of these regulations, will subject certificate holders, vessel masters, or owners to immediate revocation of the certificate and/or right to be included under a general permit and further subject certificate holders, vessel masters, or owners to the penalties provided for under the Act.

Figures 1 through 6 in § 216.24(d)(2) have been revised.

Section 216.24(f) is amended as follows: (f) Any duly authorized agents of the Secretary may from time to time, after timely oral or written notice to the required to attend other formal training vessel owner or charterer, board and/or accompany on regular trips any commercial fishing vessel which has been operated by a certificate holder in the year in which the Secretary makes such notification for the purpose of conducting research or observation operations. Such research and observation operations shall be carried out in such manner as to minimize interference with commercial fishing operations. No masters, charterers, operator or owner of such vessel shall impair or in any way interfere with the research or observations being carried out. The Secretary shall provide for the payment of all reasonable costs directly related to the quartering and maintaining of such agents on board such vessels. Any holder of a certificate of inclusion under General Permit Category 2, Encircling Gear; Yellowfin Tuna Purse Seining shall notify the Regional Director, Southwest Region, National Marine Fisheries Service (telephone no. 213/548-2575) 72 hours in advance of each fishing voyage, in order to enable the Regional Director to, at his discretion, arrange for a designated observer to accompany the vessel on that voyage. Failure to notify the Regional Director, sufficiently in advance of departure on such voyage will subject the certificate holder, the vessel, and the crew to the provisions of the Act.

MARINE MAMMAL POPULATION DATA

In accordance with 50 CFR 216.24(b)(3), the Director hereby presents the information required therein:

(1) "A statement of the estimated existing levels of the species and population stocks of the marine mammal concerned."

Of the approximately 104 species of marine mammals throughout the world, about 19 may be involved in commercial fishing operations conducted by persons subject to the jurisdiction of the United States. These 19 species with estimated population levels are as follows:

1. California sea lion (Zalophus californianus californianus), 60,000.
2. Northern (Steller) sea lion (Eumetopias jubatus), 200,000.
3. Northern fur seal (Callorhinus ursinus), 1,645,000.
4. Harbor seal (Phoca vitulina), 900,000.
5. Gray seal (Halichoerus grypus), 60,000.
6. Bottlenosed dolphin (Tursiops truncatus), unknown.
7. Fraser's (Sarawak) dolphin (Lagenodelphis hosei), unknown.
8. Spotted dolphin (Stenella attenuata, S. frontalis, S. graffmani, S. dubia)—Eastern Tropical Pacific, 3,100,000 to 3,500,000.
9. Spinner dolphin (Stenella longirostris), 1,100,000 to 1,200,000.
10. Striped dolphin (Stenella coeruleoalba), unknown.
11. Common dolphin (Delphinus delphis), unknown.
12. Gulf of California Harbor porpoise (Phocoena sinus), unknown.
13. Harbor porpoise (Phocoena phocoena), unknown.
14. Pygmy Killer whale (Feresa attenuata), unknown.
15. False Killer whale (Pseudorca crassidens), uncommon-unknown.
16. Killer whale (Orcinus orca), unknown.
17. Beluga whale (Delphinapterus leucas), 32,000 to 58,000.
18. Dall porpoise (Phocoenoides dalli), unknown.
19. Sea otter (Enhydra lutris), unknown (126,500 in Alaska and California).

(2) "A statement of the expected impact of the proposed regulations on the optimum sustainable population of each species or population stock."

Porpoise and small whales in the eastern tropical Pacific Ocean are the species most frequently taken incidental to yellowfin tuna purse seining. Recent estimates of the NMFS regarding porpoise kills by U.S. yellowfin tuna purse seiners are 312,400 in 1971, 304,600 in 1972, 175,100 in 1973 and 97,800 in 1974. The projected kill in 1975 by U.S. purse seiners is 81,000 to 186,000. Population levels of the two population stocks principally involved (approximately 82% of the total killed in 1974), are estimated to be: the FAR 21.197 to a place where a replacement can be performed, providing the existing am-offshore spotted dolphin, Stenella attenuata, 3.1 to 3.5 million, and the eastern spinner dolphin, Stenella longirostris, 1.1 to 1.2 million.

Optimum sustainable population levels have not been determined; therefore, no statement can be made as to the effect of the proposed action on optimum sustainable populations. The estimated annual incidental mortality rate on spotted dolphin for 1974 is 2.1 percent to 2.3 percent of the estimated population and for eastern spinner dolphin 1.8 percent to 2.8 percent of the estimated population. At these levels of incidental fishing mortality, the present population stocks are either stable or increasing or decreasing slightly. There is no evidence that the porpoise populations would substantially increase or decrease as a result of the regulations and issuance of the general permit.

Striped dolphin have not historically been significantly involved in the fishery. When sets were made on striped dolphin, the yield of tuna was very low. The occurrence in tuna purse seine fishing is uncommon. It is felt prudent, therefore, to prohibit sets on striped dolphin in order to afford them complete protection.

The other marine mammals known to be taken incidental to commercial fishing operations are not considered to be taken in numbers which will affect population sizes.

Even though optimum sustainable populations have not been determined for most marine mammals, the expected impact of the proposed action is that mortality and serious injuries to marine mammals occurring incidental to commercial fishing operations will be minimized to the extent possible, allowing populations to maintain and in some cases increase their present population levels.

(3) "A statement describing the evidence before the Secretary upon which he proposes to base such regulations."

In addition to the reports referred to in (4) below, the evidence relied upon by the National Marine Fisheries Service includes the legislative history of the Marine Mammal Protection Act of 1972 and Inter-American Tropical Tuna Commission reports.

(4) "Any studies made by or for the Secretary or any recommendations made by or for the Secretary or the Marine Mammal Commission which relate to the establishment of such regulations."

Information available upon which proposed regulations were based in 1974 was listed in 39 FR 9685, March 13, 1974. Subsequent to that publication additional material was submitted for the record as evidence at the public hearing held in Seattle, Washington, May 15 and 16, 1974.

A final environmental impact statement (FEIS) regarding promulgated regulations was transmitted to the Council on Environmental Quality (CEQ) on August 29, 1974.

On December 10 and 11, 1974, a public hearing was held in Washington, D.C. to discuss, inter alia, a 1974 draft report on Tuna-Porpoise Research, Southwest Fisheries Center, La Jolla, California.

The following documents were made a part of the record at the December hearing:

Panel review report on background documents for the draft Tuna-Porpoise Report, dated December 16, 1974.
Statement and supplemental statement of the Sub-Committee on the Porpoise/Tuna Problem of the Committee of Scientific Advisors, Marine Mammal Commission, December 10 and 11 and 27, 1974.

Letters received from the public regarding the Dec. 10 and 11 hearing.

Subsequent to the December 10 and 11 hearing, the Deputy Director, NMFS, submitted a summary of all recommendations received at the hearing and recommended regulatory amendments which were promulgated effective January 3, 1975. (40 FR 761, Jan. 3, 1975).

The following reports have been published and are available for reference:

HEARING PROCEDURES

Procedures for the hearing will be as follows:

(a) The presiding official shall, at the opening of the hearing and prior to any presentation, have noted as part of the record: All applications for reissuance of general permits; all proposed amendments to the regulations submitted to the public; the Draft Environmental Impact Statement; and this Notice; and shall announce the order in which presentations will be made. The presiding official may commence the hearing with an opening statement.

(b) The presiding official shall have authority to:

(1) Change the time and place of the hearing, extend the hearing, or adjourn the hearing;

(2) Question participants;

(3) Do all acts, take all measures and adopt such further procedures not inconsistent with these procedures as he deems desirable for the maintenance of order and the efficient conduct of the proceeding. In particular he may: (i) exclude all irrelevant, immaterial or unduly repetitious matters; (ii) limit the number of times, and the length of time, any person may speak; and (iii) limit repetitious questioning of participants and the length of time a participant may be questioned.

(c) All interested persons may participate in the hearing and present their comments and views in the manner set forth in paragraph (d) below and pose questions for other persons who participate in the hearing;

(d) At the hearing, any interested person shall be given an opportunity to appear, either in person or through his authorized counsel or representative, and to be heard with respect to matters relevant and material to the proceeding. Any interested person who desires to be heard in person shall sign up on the list provided at the hearing room at the commencement of the hearing. Persons shall be allowed to speak in the order of listing subject to the discretion of the presiding official to arrange a more efficient order of presentations. A person shall, before proceeding to speak, state his name, address and occupation. If any such person is appearing through counsel or representative, such counsel or representative shall, before proceeding to speak or otherwise to participate in the hearing, state for the record on whose behalf he or she is speaking or otherwise participating, and the names and addresses and occupations of such person and such counsel or representative. Any such person or such counsel or representative shall give any other information respecting his appearance as the presiding official may request.

(e) Certification of Transcript. As soon as possible after the hearing, the presiding official shall transmit to the Director, NMFS, an original and two copies of the transcript of the hearing. He shall attach to the original transcript of the hearing his certificate stating that to the best of his knowledge and belief, the transcript is a true transcript of the hearing except in such particulars as he shall specify; and that the documents transmitted are all the documents as introduced and accepted at the hearing with such exceptions as he shall specify. A copy of such certificate shall be attached to each copy of the transcript of the hearing.

(f) Examination of the transcript. During the period in which the record remains open, a copy of the transcript and documents shall be kept on file in the Office of the Director, NMFS, where it shall be available for examination during official hours of business.

(g) Any interested person may submit written comments for inclusion in the official record to the Director, NMFS, 3300 Whitehaven Street, NW., Washington, D.C. 20235. Written comments will be accepted for the official record provided they are received no later than October 24, 1975.

Any inquiries with respect to the hearing or this Notice should be made to the Office of Marine Mammals and Endangered Species, NMFS, 3300 Whitehaven Street, NW., Washington, D.C. 20235 (telephone 202/634-7529).

Dated: September 2, 1975.

DEEP RIVER, WASHINGTON

Drawbridge Operation Regulations

At the request of the Washington State Highway Commission, the Coast Guard is considering revising the regulations for the highway bridge across the Deep River, mile 3.5, near Deep River, Washington, to require that the draw shall open on signal at all times if at least four hours notice is given. Present regulations require that the draw open on signal from 7 a.m. Monday through 4:30 p.m. Friday and from 4:30 p.m. Friday through 8 a.m. Monday if at least four hours notice is given. This change is being considered because of infrequent requests for openings for vessel passage.

Interested persons may participate in this proposed rule making by submitting written data, views, or arguments to the Commander (oan), Thirteenth Coast Guard District, Federal Building, 915 Second Avenue, Seattle, Washington 98174. Each person submitting comments should include his name and address, identify the bridge, and give reasons for any recommended change in the proposal. Copies of all written communications received will be available for examination by interested persons at the office of the Commander, Thirteenth Coast Guard District.

The Commander, Thirteenth Coast Guard District, will forward any comments received before October 17, 1975, with his recommendations to the Chief, Office of Marine Environment and Systems, who will evaluate all communications received and take final action on this proposal. The proposed regulations may be changed in the light of comments received.

In consideration of the foregoing, it is proposed that Part 117 of Title 33 of the Code of Federal Regulations, be amended by revising § 117.810(f)(9) to read as follows:

§ 117.810 Navigable waters in the State of Washington; bridges where constant attendance of draw tenders is not required.

(f) . . . . .
(9) Deep River, Wash., mile 3.5, state highway bridge one mile south of the town of Deep River. The draw shall open on signal if at least four hours notice is given.

Federal Aviation Administration

[ 14 CFR Part 39 ]

[Docket No. 75-CE-22-AD]

BEECH MODEL 200 AIRPLANES

Proposed Airworthiness Directives

The Federal Aviation Administration is considering amending Part 39 of the Federal Aviation Regulations by adding an Airworthiness Directive (AD) applicable to Beech Model 200 airplanes. There have been reports of unintended propeller featherings on Beech Model 200 airplanes which are caused by failure of the low pitch stop amplifier. These failures could result in a hazardous condition if feathering occurs during certain phases of the aircraft operation. The manufacturer is making available a new circuit board incorporating an improved design low pitch stop amplifier to preclude these failures. Accordingly, an AD is being proposed applicable to Beech Model 200 airplanes which will require replacement of presently installed circuit boards with those of the improved design.

Interested persons are invited to participate in the making of the proposed rule by submitting such written data, views or arguments as they may desire. Communications should identify the regulatory docket or notice number and be submitted in duplicate to the Federal Aviation Administration, Office of the Regional Counsel, 1558 Federal Building, 601 East 12th Street, Kansas City, Missouri 64106. All communications received on or before October 8, 1975, will be considered before action is taken upon the proposed Rule. The proposals contained in this Notice may be changed in light of the comments received. All comments will be available, both before and after the closing date for comments, in the Airworthiness Rules Docket for examination by interested persons.

This amendment is proposed under the authority of sections 313(a), 601 and 603 of the Federal Aviation Act of 1958 (49 U.S.C. 1354(a), 1421 and 1423), and of section 6(c) of the Department of Transportation Act (49 U.S.C. 1655(c)).

In consideration of the foregoing, it is proposed to amend § 39.13 of Part 39 of the Federal Aviation Regulations by adding the following new AD.

BEECH. Applies to Model 200 (Serial Numbers BB-2 thru BB-18 and BB-20 thru BB-60) airplanes.

Compliance: Required within 100 hours' time in service after the effective date of this AD, unless already accomplished.

To prevent unintentional feathering of a propeller due to failure of the secondary low pitch stop amplifier, accomplish the following:

(A) Replace both P/N 101-364170-1 and P/N 101-364170-9 printed circuit board assemblies with P/N 101-364170-15 printed circuit board assemblies in accordance with Beechcraft Service Instruction No. 0745-354 or later approved revisions or any equivalent method of compliance approved by the Chief, Engineering and Manufacturing Branch, FAA, Central Region.

(B) Airplanes which have accumulated 100 hours' time in service after the effective date of this AD may be flown in accordance with FAR 21.197 to a place where a replacement can be performed, providing the existing amplifiers have not malfunctioned.

Issued in Kansas City, Missouri, on August 27, 1975.

Director, Central Region.

FLAMMABLE, COMBUSTIBLE, AND PYROPHORIC LIQUIDS ABOARD VESSELS

Proposed Rulemaking

The purpose of this notice is to propose an amendment to the regulations in Title 49, Code of Federal Regulations, Part 102, Part 107 (as proposed under Docket HM-127; Notice 75-7; 40 FR 32758; August 4, 1975) and Parts 170-189 applicable to flammable, combustible, and pyrophoric liquids aboard vessels, consistent with the definitions adopted for these materials in amendment 172-23, 173-78, 174-19, 177-29, and 173-78A under Docket No. HM-102 published on January 24, 1974 (39 FR 2768), May 22, 1975 (40 FR 22263) and June 12, 1975 (40 FR 25024).

Rather than publishing extensive proposed changes to Title 46, Code of Federal Regulations, Part 146, the Materials Transportation Bureau (MTB) proposes to modify existing proposals dealing with these materials shipped aboard vessels that were made by the Hazardous Materials Regulations Board (the Board) under Docket No. HM-112; Notice 73-9 (39 FR 3022; January 24, 1974) wherein the Board proposed to consolidate the Department's Hazardous Materials Regulations.

In particular, the Bureau proposes to modify Notice 73-9 to specify in proposed § 170.8 that the regulations in the subchapter do not apply to combustible liquids aboard vessels in packagings having capacities of 110 gallons or less and remove limitations on applicability of the regulations specified in proposed § 176-300. The Bureau proposes that the terms flammable liquid, combustible liquid and pyrophoric liquid will have the same meaning in the Department's regulations pertaining to the carriage of hazardous materials in containers aboard vessels as they have to transportation by air, highway and rail. Commenters should note that specific packaging proposals were made by the Board in Notice 73-9 for combustible liquids transported aboard aircraft and passenger vessels (see proposed §§ 173.119a and 173.119b). Also, that same notice contained a proposal to modify the exemptions in § 173.118 thereby making the transportation of combustible liquids aboard aircraft and vessels subject to specification packaging requirements when in tanks having capacities of more than 110 gallons.

In order to expedite this proceeding and to limit the delay on final consideration, the following documents were made a part of the record at the September 2, 1975, hearing:

SMALL PRODUCERS

Exemption of Producers From Certain Filing Requirements

AUGUST 28, 1975.

Notice is hereby given pursuant to the Administrative Procedure Act, 5 U.S.C. 553, et. seq., and sections 4, 5, 7 and 16 of the Natural Gas Act, (52 Stat. 822, 823, 824, 825, 830; 56 Stat. 83, 84; 61 Stat. 459; 76 Stat. 72; 15 U.S.C. 717c, 717d, 717f, and 717g) that the Commission proposes prospectively to require small producers who are making jurisdictional sales under § 157.40 of the Commission's Regulations Under the Natural Gas Act at a rate in excess of the applicable just and reasonable ceiling for small producers established by the Commission in Opinion No. 742 issued August 28, 1975, to reduce such rate to the ceiling prescribed in Opinion No. 742. As a result, we propose to revise subparagraph (c) of § 157.40 relating to the rate a small producer may charge, and paragraph (f) of § 157.40 relating to purchases by a large producer from a small producer. We also propose to eliminate paragraph (e) of § 157.40 relating to the limitation on the right of a small producer to utilize certain contractual provisions and paragraph (d) of § 157.40 relating to pipeline purchases, inasmuch as there would be no need prospectively for such subparagraphs in the event we require small producers to reduce their rates to the applicable level prescribed in Opinion No. 742.

In Order No. 428 issued March 18, 1971, 45 FPC 454, the Commission established a blanket certificate procedure for small producers. Small producers certificated thereunder were authorized to make small producer sales nationwide pursuant to existing and future contracts at the price specified in each such contract. The Commission also provided there for the indirect regulation of small producer sales at the pipeline level through the review of purchased gas costs of each pipeline with respect to small producer sales. The United States Supreme Court in "F.P.C. v. Texaco," 417 U.S. 380, upheld the power of this Commission to regulate indirectly sales made by small producers, but remanded the case for other reasons. Following that remand the Commission in its notice of proposed rulemaking issued September 9, 1974, in Docket No. R-393, mimeo p. 2, indicated that it would not entertain any comments with respect to the indirect regulation of small producer sales. And, in Opinion No. 742, in addition to determining the just and reasonable ceilings for small producers, the Commission also provided for indirect regulation of such sales at the pipeline level. The Commission further provided that small producers would not be required to make refunds in those situations where a pipeline was unable to show that the rate paid by it to a small producer in excess of the applicable just and reasonable ceiling established in Opinion No. 742 was just and reasonable. In such circumstances, however, the pipeline would not be permitted to include in its cost of service any rate in excess of the just and reasonable rate. The purpose of this rulemaking proceeding is not to question the merits of indirect regulation. That matter was decided favorably in Order No. 428, and again in Opinion No. 742. Accordingly, we wish to make it quite clear that we will entertain no objections to indirect regulation.

We direct attention here to the question of whether we should require small producers to reduce prospectively their above-ceiling rates to the applicable just and reasonable ceiling established in Opinion No. 742. We seek comments directed to the public interest considerations involved in the need, if any, for a small producer to collect an above ceiling rate in the light of the just and reasonable differential established for small producers in Opinion No. 742. Under our proposal here, a small producer would be entitled to seek special relief pursuant to the applicable area or national rate opinion, but, the small producer would be limited to the applicable ceiling under Opinion No. 742 unless or until special relief was granted.

Any interested person desiring to participate in this proceeding shall file with the Secretary of the Commission on or before September 17, 1975, a notice of intent to participate in this proceeding setting forth the name of the person desiring to participate in the proceeding and the name, title, mailing address, and telephone number of the person or persons to whom communications concerning this proceeding should be addressed; and such notices shall be submitted on letter size paper (8" by 10 1/2" or 8 1/2" by 11") and single spaced. The Secretary will prepare, publish, and serve upon all persons who filed a notice of intention to participate, on or before September 26, 1975, a list of all persons filing a notice of intention to participate including groups of participants. Participants shall certify that all other participants or a group's designated representative have been served with a copy of each filing made hereunder.

Responses in writing concerning this rulemaking proceeding shall be filed with the Secretary of the Federal Power Commission, 825 North Capitol Street, NE, Washington, D.C. 20426, on or before October 27, 1975. Replies to these submissions shall be filed with the Commission on or before November 17, 1975. All such written comments shall state the name, title, mailing address, and telephone number of the person or persons to whom communications concerning this rulemaking proceeding should be addressed. The written submissions shall be single spaced and submitted upon letter size paper (8" by 10 1/2" or 8 1/2" by 11"). An original and fourteen (14) conformed copies of each such response shall be filed with the Commission, and copies of all written submissions will be placed in the Commission's public files and will be available for inspection in the Commission's Office of Public Information at 825 North Capitol Street, NE, Washington, D.C. 20426, during regular business hours. All statements and submissions in response to this notice shall be under oath, acknowledged by a notary public or comparable official, as follows: -----

It is our present belief that there is no need for any public conference on this notice. The procedures to be followed in this proceeding will be those of informal rulemaking and at this juncture we do not envision a trial-type adjudicatory hearing or oral cross-examination. All participants are afforded the opportunity to respond to this notice and to file written rebuttals to other responses, all of which will be considered by the Commission in issuing a final order in this proceeding.

Accordingly it is proposed to amend Part 157, Applications for Certificates of Public Convenience and Necessity and for Orders Permitting and Approving Abandonment under section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, Title 18 of the Code of Federal Regulations in the manner set forth below. The proposed amendments to Part 157 of Subchapter E, Regulations Under Natural Gas Act, Chapter I, Title 18 of the Code of Federal Regulations would be issued under the authority granted the Federal Power Commission by the Natural Gas Act, as amended, particularly sections 4, 5, 7 and 16 (52 Stat. 822, 823, 824, 825, 830; 56 Stat. 83, 84; 61 Stat.

(A) The following are proposed amendments to Part 157 of Subchapter E, Chapter I, Title 18 of the Code of Federal Regulations.

1. Revise paragraphs (c) and (f) of § 157.40 so that they read as follows:

§ 157.40 Exemption of small producers from certain filing requirements.

(c) Rate and certificate regulation under blanket certificate. Small producers certificated hereunder shall be authorized to make small producer sales nationwide pursuant to existing and future contracts at a rate not in excess of 130 percent of the Commission-determined base ceiling rate applicable to a comparable large producer sale, subject to any adjustments permitted or required under the particular order of general applicability involved. Such rate may be charged and received by the small producer and paid by the purchaser, as the lawful, just and reasonable rate approved by the Commission pursuant to sections 4, 5, and 7 of the Act. However, no small producer shall be relieved from compliance with section 7(b) of the Natural Gas Act with respect to any small producer sale regulated hereunder. Rate regulation as prescribed herein shall not apply to any jurisdictional sales made by a small producer where the gas reserves relating thereto were acquired by the purchase of developed reserves in place from a large producer. Nothing done hereunder shall be recognized by the Commission as triggering any escalation clause in an existing contract involving a producer not covered by a small producer certificate, except as provided in paragraph (f) of this section.

(f) Filings by large producers with respect to related resales. A large producer may file for the price specified in its related contract for the resale of any natural gas sold to it by a small producer pursuant to the exemption authorized hereunder. In determining whether to accept or suspend such a filing, we shall be guided by the rate level sought and the size of the differential between the purchase and resale price. A large producer under an area rate clause in its resale contract may file for the rate paid by it for gas purchased from a small producer as long as the rate does not exceed the just and reasonable rate prescribed in paragraph (c) of this section.

2. Eliminate paragraphs (e) and (i) of § 157.40.

The Secretary shall cause prompt publication of this Notice to be made in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

By direction of the Commission.

VETERANS ADMINISTRATION

[38 CFR Part 3]

VETERANS BENEFITS

Increased Compensation Rates and Clothing Allowance

The Administrator of Veterans' Affairs proposes regulatory changes in Part 3 of Title 38, Code of Federal Regulations, to implement provisions of Pub. L. 94-71 (89 Stat. 395).

Pub. L. 94-71, enacted August 5, 1975, and effective August 1, 1975, amended various sections of title 38, United States Code, to increase disability compensation rates and dependency and indemnity compensation rates for widows, widowers and children. The act also amended section 362, title 38, United States Code, by increasing the clothing allowance from $150 to $175. Section 3010(b) was amended to provide that increased disability compensation due to an increase in degree of disability may be paid from the earliest date as of which it can be ascertained an increase in disability had occurred if the claim is filed within 1 year from such date. Prior to this amendment the effective date of increased disability compensation could not be earlier than date of claim.

To implement the provisions of Pub. L. 94-71, the following changes to Part 3 of Title 38, Code of Federal Regulations, are proposed. Section 3.1 is amended to reflect rates of additional dependency and indemnity compensation payable to widows and widowers because of children under age 18 or because of need for aid and attendance. Amendments to §§ 3.350 and 3.552 incorporate the increased disability compensation rates. Section 3.400 (c) incorporates the provision for paying increased disability compensation effective the date the disability increased. Section 3.810 is amended to reflect the increase in the clothing allowance. An amendment to § 3.400(j) deletes obsolete provisions.

Interested persons are invited to submit written comments, suggestions, or objections regarding the proposal to the Administrator of Veterans' Affairs (271A), Veterans Administration, 810 Vermont Avenue, NW., Washington, DC 20420. All relevant material received before October 8, 1975, will be considered. All written comments received will be available for public inspection at the above address only between the hours of 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday (except holidays), during the mentioned 30-day period and for 10 days thereafter. Any person visiting Central Office for the purpose of inspecting any such comments will be received by the Central Office Veterans Assistance Unit in Room 132. Such visitors to any field station will be informed that the records are available for inspection only in Central Office and furnished the address and the above room number.

Notice is given that the amendments implementing Pub. L. 94-71 will be effective August 1, 1975. The amendment to § 3.400(j), will be effective the date of final approval.

1. In § 3.5, paragraph (e) (1) and (3) is revised and (e) (4) is added so that the revised and added material reads as follows:

§ 3.5 Dependency and indemnity compensation.

(e) Widow's or widower's rate. (1) The monthly rate of dependency and indemnity compensation for a widow or widower is based on the "pay grade" of the veteran. This rate is subject to increase as provided in paragraph (e) (3) and (4) of this section. (38 U.S.C. 411 (a))

(3) If there is a widow or widower with one or more children under the age of 18 (including a child not in the widow's or widower's actual or constructive custody and a child who is in active military, air, or naval service) the total amount payable shall be increased by $29 for each child. (38 U.S.C. 411(b); Pub. L. 94-71, 89 Stat. 395).

(4) If the widow or widower is determined to be in need of aid and attendance under the criteria in § 3.352 or is a patient in a nursing home, the total amount payable shall be increased by $72. (38 U.S.C. 411(c))

2. In § 3.350, the introductory portion of paragraphs (a), (b), (c), (e) and (f) preceding subparagraph (1) and paragraphs (d), (f) (1) and (2) (i) through (iv) and (h) are revised to read as follows:

§ 3.350 Special monthly compensation ratings.

The rates of special monthly compensation stated in this section are those provided under 38 U.S.C. 314.

(a) Ratings under 38 U.S.C. 314(k). Special monthly compensation (§52) is payable for each anatomical loss or loss of use of one hand, one foot, both buttocks, one or more creative organs, blindness of one eye having only light perception, deafness of both ears, having absence of air and bone conduction, or complete organic aphonia with constant inability to communicate by speech. This special compensation is payable in addition to the basic rate of compensation otherwise payable on the basis of degree of disability, provided that the combined rate of compensation does not exceed $814 monthly when authorized in conjunction with any of the provisions of 38 U.S.C. 314 (a) through (j) or (s). When there is entitlement under 38 U.S.C. 314 (l) through (n) or an intermediate rate under (p) such additional allowance is payable for each such anatomical loss or loss of use existing in addition to the requirements for the basic rates, provided the total does not exceed $1,139 per month. The limitations on the maximum compensation payable under this paragraph are independent of and do not preclude payment of additional compensation for dependents under 38 U.S.C. 315, or the special allowance for aid and attendance provided by 38 U.S.C. 314(r). (Pub. L. 94-71, 89 Stat. 395)

(b) Ratings under 38 U.S.C. 314(l). The special monthly compensation provided by 38 U.S.C. 314(l) is payable for anatomical loss or loss of use of both hands, both feet, one hand and one foot, blindness in both eyes with visual acuity of 5/200 or less or being permanently bedridden or so helpless as to be in need of regular aid and attendance. The monthly rate is $814.

(c) Ratings under 38 U.S.C. 314(m). The special monthly compensation provided by 38 U.S.C. 314(m) is payable for anatomical loss or loss of use of two extremities at a level or with complications preventing natural elbow or knee action with prosthesis in place; or for blindness in both eyes having light perception; or for blindness in both eyes rendering the veteran so helpless as to be in need of regular aid and attendance. The monthly rate is $896.

(d) Ratings under 38 U.S.C. 314(n). The special monthly compensation provided by 38 U.S.C. 314(n) is payable for the anatomical loss of two extremities so near the shoulder or hip as to prevent the use of a prosthetic appliance or anatomical loss of both eyes. The rate is $1,018 per month. Amputation is a prerequisite. If a prosthesis cannot be worn at the present level of amputation but could be applied if there were a reamputation at a higher level the requirements of this paragraph are not met; instead, consideration will be given to loss of natural elbow or knee action.

(e) Ratings under 38 U.S.C. 314(o). The special monthly compensation provided by 38 U.S.C. 314(o) is payable for conditions entitling to two or more of the rates (no condition being considered twice) provided in 38 U.S.C. 314 (l) through (n) or for bilateral deafness rated at 60 percent or more disabling, and the hearing impairment in one or both ears is service connected, in combination with service-connected blindness with bilateral visual acuity 5/200 or less. The monthly rate is $1,139.

(f) Intermediate or next higher rate; 38 U.S.C. 314(p). (1) Extremities. (i) Anatomical loss or loss of use of one extremity with the anatomical loss or loss of use of another extremity at a level or with complications preventing natural elbow or knee action with prosthesis in place will entitle to the rate intermediate between 38 U.S.C. 314 (l) and (m). The monthly rate is $855.

(ii) Anatomical loss or loss of use of one extremity with anatomical loss of another extremity so near the shoulder or hip as to prevent the use of a prosthetic appliance will entitle to the rate equal to 38 U.S.C. 314(m). The monthly rate is $896.

(iii) Anatomical loss or loss of use of extremity at a level preventing natural elbow or knee action with prosthesis in place with anatomical loss of another extremity so near the shoulder or hip as to prevent the use of a prosthetic appliance will entitle to the rate intermediate between 38 U.S.C. 314 (m) and (n). The monthly rate is $957.

(2) Eyes, bilateral, and blindness in connection with deafness. (i) Blindness of one eye with 5/200 visual acuity or less and blindness of the other eye having only light perception will entitle to the rate intermediate between 38 U.S.C. 314 (l) and (m). The monthly rate is $855.

(ii) Blindness of one eye with 5/200 visual acuity or less and anatomical loss, or blindness having no light perception accompanied by phthisis bulbi, eversion or other obvious deformity or disfigurement of the other eye, will entitle to a rate equal to 38 U.S.C. 314(m). The monthly rate is $896.

(iii) Blindness of one eye having only light perception and anatomical loss, or blindness having no light perception accompanied by phthisis bulbi, eversion or other obvious deformity or disfigurement of the eye, will entitle to a rate intermediate between 38 U.S.C. 314 (m) and (n). The monthly rate is $957.

(iv) Total blindness of both eyes having no light perception accompanied by phthisis bulbi, eversion, or other obvious deformity or disfigurement will entitle to a rate equal to 38 U.S.C. 314 (n). The monthly rate is $1,018.

(h) Special aid and attendance benefit in maximum monthly compensation cases; 38 U.S.C. 314(r). A veteran receiving the maximum rate ($1,139) of special monthly compensation under any provision or combination of provisions in 38 U.S.C. 314 who is in need of regular aid and attendance is entitled to an additional allowance during periods he or she is not hospitalized at United States Government expense. (See § 3.552(b) (2) as to continuance following admission for hospitalization.) The rate is $489. Determination of this need is subject to the criteria of § 3.352. This additional allowance is payable whether or not the need for regular aid and attendance was a partial basis for entitlement to the maximum $1,139 rate, or was based on an independent factual determination.

(i) Total plus 60 percent, or housebound; 38 U.S.C. 314(s). The special monthly compensation at the rate of $732 provided by 38 U.S.C. 314(s) is payable where the veteran has a single service-connected disability rated as 100 percent without resort to individual unemployability and.

3. In § 3.400, paragraphs (j) and (o) are revised to read as follows:

§ 3.400 General.

(j) Election of Veterans Administration benefits (§ 3.700 series). Unless otherwise provided, the date of receipt of election, subject to prior payments.

(o) Increases (38 U.S.C. 3010(a) and 3010(b) (2), Pub. L. 94-71, 89 Stat. 395; §§ 3.109, 3.156, 3.157). (1) General. Except as provided in paragraph (o) (2) of this section and § 3.401(b), date of receipt of claim or date entitlement arose, whichever is later. A retroactive increase or additional benefit will not be awarded after basic entitlement has been terminated, such as by severance of service connection.

(2) Disability compensation. Earliest date as of which it is factually ascertainable that an increase in disability had occurred if claim is received within 1 year from such date otherwise, date of receipt of claim.

4. In § 3.552, paragraphs (g) and (h) are revised to read as follows:

§ 3.552 Adjustment of allowance for regular aid and attendance.

(g) Where a veteran entitled to one of the rates under 38 U.S.C. 314 (l), (m), or (n) by reason of anatomical losses or losses of use of extremities, blindness (visual acuity 5/200 or less or light perception only), or anatomical loss of both eyes is being paid compensation of $1,139 because of entitlement to another rate under section 314(l) on account of need for aid and attendance the compensation will be reduced while hospitalized to the following:

(1) If entitlement is under section 314(l) and in addition there is need for regular aid and attendance for another disability, the award during hospitalization will be $896 since the disability requiring aid and attendance is 100 percent disabling. (38 U.S.C. 314(p)).

(2) If entitlement is under section 314(m), $1,018.

(3) If entitlement is under section 314(n), $1,139 would be continued, since the disability previously causing the need for regular aid and attendance would then be totally disabling entitling the veteran to the maximum rate under 38 U.S.C. 314(p).

(h) If, because of blindness, a veteran requires regular aid and attendance, but has better vision than "light perception only" the award under 38 U.S.C. 314(m) $896 will be reduced while hospitalized to the rate payable under 38 U.S.C. 314 (l) ($814).

5. In § 3.810, the introductory portion of paragraph (a) is revised to read as follows:

§ 3.810 Clothing allowance.

(a) A veteran whose service-connected disability is compensable under laws administered by the Veterans Administration is entitled, upon application therefor, to an annual clothing allowance of $175 (payable in a lump sum).

Approved: August 29, 1975.

DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE Office of the Secretary DEFENSE SCIENCE BOARD TASK FORCE ON NET TECHNICAL ASSESSMENT Meeting

The Defense Science Board Task Force on "Net Technical Assessment" will meet in closed session on October 1-2, 1975 at the Defense Advanced Research Projects Agency, 1400 Wilson Boulevard, Arlington, Virginia.

The overall mission of this Task Force is to advise the Secretary of Defense and the Director of Defense Research and Engineering on U.S./U.S.S.R. overall research and engineering technology programs and to provide guidance for U.S. technology exploitation in these areas to the Department of Defense.

The Task Force will examine in detail the important problem of determining critical intelligence technical requirements of the Department of Defense, the ways in which answers to these requirements would influence future U.S. R. & D. operational actions, any time urgency associated with the requirements and collection methods for satisfying these requirements.

In accordance with section 10(d) of Appendix I, Title 5, United States Code, it has been determined that this Task Force meeting concerns matters listed in section 552(b) of Title 5 of the United States Code, specifically subparagraph (1) thereof, and that accordingly this meeting will be closed to the public.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE Agricultural Research Service U.S. MEAT ANIMAL RESEARCH CENTER ADVISORY COMMITTEE

Public Meeting
Pursuant to the provisions of the Federal Advisory Committee Act of October

6, 1972, (Pub. L. 92-463, 86 Stat. 770-776) notice is hereby given that a meeting of the U.S. Meat Animal Research Center Advisory Committee will be held on October 29, 30 and 31, 1975, at the Research Center, Clay Center, Nebraska. This meeting is open to the public and will convene at 8:30 a.m. on all three days in the auditorium. Members of the public may submit comments before or after the meeting.

The purpose of the meeting is to bring committee members up to date on the research being conducted at the Research Center, to review plans for future research program, obtain Advisory Committee reaction on research program and plans, obtain recommendations of the Advisory Committee on research problem areas of highest priority for the beef cattle, sheep and swine industries.

Further information concerning these meetings may be obtained by contacting the Director, U.S. Meat Animal Research Center, P.O. Box 166, Clay Center, Nebraska 68933, phone number AC 402, 762-3241.

Done at Washington, D.C., this 29th day of August 1975.

Rural Electrification Administration TELEPHONE LOAN GUARANTEES Major Telephone Loans

REA Bulletin 320-22, "Guarantee of Loans for Telephone Facilities," states that it is the policy of REA to consider guaranteeing loans in order to facilitate the obtaining of major telephone loans from non-REA and non-Rural Telephone Bank sources by applicants having a reported net worth in excess of 20 percent of assets. A major telephone loan is defined in the bulletin as one requiring over four million dollars or such other sum as may be determined from time to time by the Administrator.

Notice is hereby given that a major telephone loan for the purposes of Bulletin 320-22 is currently determined to be one requiring over seven million dollars.

It should be noted that section IIC of Bulletin 320-22 states, "Consideration of the guaranteeing of a loan where the above criteria are not met is not precluded if the applicant requests a loan guarantee."

Dated at Washington, D.C., this 24 day of September, 1975.

DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE Bureau of the Census CENSUS ADVISORY COMMITTEE ON POPULATION STATISTICS

Public Meeting
The Census Advisory Committee on Population Statistics will convene on October 17, 1975, at 9:30 a.m. The Committee will meet in Room 2424, Federal Building 3, at the Bureau of the Census in Suitland, Maryland.

The Census Advisory Committee on Population Statistics was established in 1955 to advise the Director, Bureau of the Census, on current programs, on plans for the 1970 Census of Population and on other matters dealing with the collection and issuance of population statistics.

The agenda for the meeting is: (1) Developments since last meeting; (2) status of new current activities, (a) demographic analysis reports, (b) Current Population Survey data for each State; (3) status of 1980 census planning; (4) results of 1980 pretests, (a) income study, (b) household head study; (5) content of the 1980 census, (a) economic items, (b) demographic items, (c) follow-on surveys—health and Indians.

The meeting will be open to the public, and a brief period will be set aside for public comment and questions. Extensive questions or statements must be submitted in writing to the Committee Control Officer at least 3 days prior to the meeting.

Persons planning to attend and wishing additional information concerning this meeting should contact the Committee Control Officer, Dr. Paul C. Gilck, Senior Demographer, Population Division, Bureau of the Census, Room 2011, Federal Building 3, Suitland, Maryland. (Mailing address: Washington, D.C. 20233). Telephone (301) 763-7030.

Dated: September 2, 1975.

Domestic and International Business Administration [Case No. 476] BADRU PIRANI

Order Regarding Export Regulations

In the matter of Badru Pirani, 55 Charles Street, East, Toronto, Ontario, M4Y1S9, Canada, Respondent.

By a letter dated November 15, 1974, the Compliance Division, with the approval of the Office of General Counsel, charged the respondent, Badru Pirani, with having violated the Export Administration Regulations (hereinafter, the export regulations). Badru Pirani was manager of Industrial Promotion Services, (IPS) Kampala, Uganda, until the expulsion order by the Uganda Government against non-citizen Asians forced him to leave that country.<sup>1</sup> As suggested by its name the firm was established to provide industrial promoting and consulting services. The charging letter was issued based upon an investigation which followed a pre-license check on the proposed export to IPS of sensitive electronic equipment. Badru Pirani was charged, in short, with having violated § 387.5 of the export regulations by having failed to provide, with respect to previous exports of strategically-rated electronic equipment, required notification of a change of material facts and intentions.

No answer to the duly served charging letter has been received to date from the respondent. Section 388.4 of the export regulations provides that, "If a respondent fails to file an answer to the charging letter . . . within the time proscribed in § 388.5 (30 days from the date of service), he shall be held in default . . ." Accordingly, since Badru Pirani has failed to file an answer in a timely manner, he is held in default.

The evidence of record shows that on or about July 31, 1970, Badru Pirani, acting individually and as manager for Industrial Promotion Services Limited (IPS), executed a Multiple Transactions Statement by Customer of Distributor of United States Commodities Stocked Abroad (FC-243) which was submitted to then Office of Export Control by an American firm in support of its request to supply IPS, under the Foreign-Based Warehouse Procedure, with electronic components and parts. These electronic components and parts were to come from the stock of a subsidiary company in the Channel Islands. On the FC-243, Badru Pirani and IPS expressly certified and represented among other things, that: They would not sell, outside of Uganda, the commodities received under the Foreign-Based Warehouse Procedure; the commodities would be used for educational purposes and would be used in various Government locations by IPS staff and would remain the property of IPS; they would promptly send a supplemental statement to the Channel Islands company disclosing any change of facts or intentions set forth in the FC-243 occurring after the statement had been prepared and forwarded; except as specifically authorized by the then U.S. Export Control Regulations, they would not reexport, sell, distribute, or otherwise dispose of any commodities covered by the FC-243 without obtaining prior written U.S. Government approval, nor would any of the commodities be sold or otherwise disposed of to any person where there was reason to believe that the commodities would be reexported to a destination not authorized by the then Office of Export Control.

On or about August 17, 1970, relying upon the representations and certifications made by Badru Pirani on the aforementioned FC-243, the then Office of Export Control approved IPS as an FC-243 customer. During the period, August 1970 through December 1970, under the Foreign-Based Warehouse Procedure, IPS made eleven purchases of electronic components and parts valued at approximately $90,000 from the aforementioned Channel Islands company. Notwithstanding the certifications made on the FC-243 by Badru Pirani and IPS, the goods mentioned above were caused to be reexported from the Channel Islands to Otto Poeschl in Austria, an individual denied participation in United States export trade since 1962. Had Badru Pirani and IPS forwarded the required supplemental information indicating the identity of the party to whom the subject instruments were to be turned over, the then Office of Export Control would not have authorized such disposition. A reasonably prudent person, in the position of Badru Pirani would have known that a change in material facts and intentions with respect to statements and representations on the said FC-243, had occurred.

Consistent with usual practice in default cases, an informal hearing was held on July 18, 1975, at which the record in the case was reviewed.

The Hearing Commissioner has reviewed the charges and the evidence presented in support thereof and has submitted his report, including findings of fact and conclusions of law, together with a recommendation that sanctions be imposed against the respondent. On the basis of the Hearing Commissioner's submissions and the supporting evidence, I conclude that the respondent, Badru Pirani, violated § 387.5 of the export regulations in the manner charged and as set forth, above, in that he failed to notify the then Office of Export Control, directly or through the Channel Islands company, of a change of the material facts and intentions which were set forth originally in the aforementioned FC-243.

Section 388.4 of the export regulations provides, in pertinent part, that, "Any order . . . issued (following a finding of default) shall have the same effect as an order issued following the disposition of contested charges." With regard to determination of the appropriate sanction in this case, several elements are of particular significance. The failure to report a change of material facts and intentions is a serious matter, by its very nature, in a system of export controls which relies for its effectiveness largely upon voluntary compliance and the basic integrity of exporters. The facts that the dereliction in this case involved dealings with a denied party, and further, the transfer to that party of strategically-rated commodities render the offense charged particularly grave. It is therefore, Ordered,

I. All outstanding validated export licenses concerned with or affecting any transaction in which the respondent has any interest, direct or indirect, are hereby revoked and are ordered to be returned forthwith to the Office of Export Administration.

II. Except as qualified in III, below, the respondent, his successors or assigns, partners, representatives, agents and employees are hereby denied for ten years from the date of this order, the privileges of participating, directly or indirectly, in any manner or capacity, in any transaction involving commodities or technical data exported from the United States in whole or in part, or to be exported, or which are otherwise subject to the export regulations. Without limitation of the generality of such denial of export privileges, participation prohibited in any such transaction either in the United States or abroad shall include participation directly or indirectly, in any manner or capacity:

A. As a party or as a representative of a party to any validated export license application;

B. In the preparation or filing of any export license application or reexport authorization, or any document to be submitted therewith;

C. In the obtaining or using of any validated or general export license or other export control document;

D. In the carrying on of negotiations with respect to, or in the receiving, ordering, buying, selling, delivering, storing, using, or disposing of any commodities or technical data in whole or in part exported or to be exported from the United States.

III. Five years after the effective date of this order the respondent may apply to have some portion or all of the effective period of denial of his export privileges held in abeyance while he remains on probation. Such application must be supported by evidence showing his compliance with the terms of this order and with the provisions of the export regulations. For such application, the respondent shall also make available to, and permit examination by, the Office of Export Administration of such of his records as that Office deems necessary to determine whether the respondent has complied with this order and the export regulations. Such application will be considered on its merits. The respondent's export privileges may be restored and probation imposed, under such terms and conditions as may then appear to be appropriate.

IV. Such denial of export privileges shall extend not only to the respondent, but also, to his agents and employees and to any successor, and to any person, firm, corporation, partnership, or other business organization with which the respondent now or hereafter may be related by ownership, control, position of responsibility, affiliation, or other connection in the conduct of trade or related services.

V. During the time when the respondent or other parties within the scope of this order are denied export privileges, no person, firm, corporation, partnership or other business organization, whether in the United States or elsewhere, without prior disclosure to, and specific authorization from, the Bureau of East-West Trade, shall do any of the following acts, directly or indirectly, or carry on negotiations with respect thereto, in any manner or capacity, on behalf of, or in any association with, the respondent or any related party, or whereby the respondent or related party may obtain any benefit therefrom, or have any interest or participation therein, directly or indirectly.

A. Apply for, obtain, transfer, or use any license, Shipper's Export Declaration, bill of lading, or other export control document, relating to any exportation, reexportation, transshipment, or diversion of any commodity or technical data exported, or to be exported from the United States, by, to, or for the respondent, equivalent scientific value to the foreign

B. Order, buy, receive, use, sell, deliver, store, dispose of, forward, transport, finance, or otherwise service or participate in, any transaction which may involve the respondent or related party in any exportation, reexportation, transshipment, or diversion of any commodity or technical data exported or to be exported from the United States or which is otherwise subject to the export regulations.

VI. A copy of this order shall be served on the respondent.

Decision on Application for Duty-Free Entry of Scientific Article

The following is a decision on an application for duty-free entry of a scientific article pursuant to section 6(c) of the Educational, Scientific, and Cultural Materials Importation Act of 1966 (Pub. L. 89-651, 80 Stat. 897) and the regulations issued thereunder as amended (40 FR 12253 et seq., 15 CFR Part 701, 1975).

A copy of the record pertaining to this decision is available for public review during ordinary business hours of the Department of Commerce, at the Office of Import Programs, Department of Commerce, Washington, D.C. 20230.

Docket Number: 75-00510-33-90000. Applicant: Columbia University, Department of Biological Sciences, 659 Schermerhorn, New York, New York 10027. Article: 6KW Rotating Anode System. Manufacturer: Rigaku, Japan. Intended use of article: The article is intended to be used to provide a very high intensity X-ray source that is concentrated in a very fine focal spot in an experimental program entitled: "Structure and Function of Blood Proteins."

Comments: No comments have been received with respect to this application. Decision: Application approved. No instrument or apparatus of equivalent scientific value to the foreign article, for such purposes as this article is intended to be used, is being manufactured in the United States. Reasons: The foreign article provides a focused spot of minimal size (0.1 x 1 millimeter) and a rotating target for maximum x-ray beam intensity. The Department of Health, Education, and Welfare (HEW) advised in its memorandum dated August 15, 1975 that the capabilities described above are pertinent to the purposes for which the article is intended to be used. HEW also advised that it knows of no domestic instrument of equivalent scientific value to the foreign article for such purposes as the article is intended to be used.

The Department of Commerce knows of no other instrument or apparatus of equivalent scientific value to the foreign article, for such purposes as this article is intended to be used, which is being manufactured in the United States.

Docket Number: 75-00492-33-46040. Applicant: Iowa State University of Science and Technology, Ames, Iowa 50010. Article: Electron Microscope, Model HU-12A. Manufacturer: Hitachi, Ltd., Japan. Intended use of article: The article is intended to be used in a variety of studies which will include the following:

- (1) Ultrastructural studies of the hypophysis in stress prone pigs,
- (2) Examination of the fine structure of nuclear chromatin and of the rough endoplasmic reticulum and its contents in as great detail as possible, particularly in adrenocorticotrophs,
- (3) Correlation of ultrastructural studies of hepatocytes with biochemical and histochemical studies,
- (4) Comparative study of the fine structure of the adrenal glands and skeletal muscles from normal and stress-susceptible swine,
- (5) Localization of pathogens with relation to lesion production in swine dysentery and salmonellosis,
- (6) Resolution of virus particles and agglutinating globulins,
- (7) Identification and characterization of viruses involved in pseudorabies and transmissible gastroenteritis of swine,
- (8) Identification of unknown isolates of viruses by determining morphological features,
- (9) Study of the ultrastructure of various cell cultures injected with various bovine viruses,
- (10) Studies of subcellular damage caused by the turbulent flow in the femoral arteries of dogs, and
- (11) Studies of the effects of metabolic inhibitors on ultrastructural responses of steroid-secreting ovarian cells to gonadotrophins. The article will also be used to train faculty and graduate students in techniques of electron microscopy.

Comments: No comments have been received with respect to this application. Decision: Application approved. No instrument or apparatus of equivalent scientific value to the foreign article, for such purposes as this article is intended to be used, was being manufactured in the United States at the time the foreign article was ordered (October 15, 1974). Reasons: The foreign article has a specified resolving power of 3 Angstroms point to point. The Department of Health, Education, and Welfare (HEW) advises in its memorandum dated August 1, 1975 that the capability described above is pertinent to the applicant's intended uses. HEW also advises that it knows of no domestic instruments which provided the pertinent capability at the time the article was ordered.

The Department of Commerce knows of no other instrument or apparatus of equivalent scientific value to the foreign article, for such purposes as this article is intended to be used, which was being manufactured in the United States at the time the article was ordered.

Consolidated Decision on Applications for Duty-Free Entry of EMI Scanner Systems

The following is a consolidated decision on applications for duty-free entry of EMI Scanner Systems pursuant to Section 6(c) of the Educational, Scientific, and Cultural Materials Importation Act of 1966 (Public Law 89-651, 80 Stat. 897) and the regulations issued thereunder as amended (40 FR 12253 et seq., 15 CFR Part 701, 1975.) See especially § 301.11 (e.).

A copy of the record pertaining to each of the applications in this consolidated decision is available for public review during ordinary business hours of the Department of Commerce, at the Special Import Programs Division, Office of Import Programs, Department of Commerce, Washington, D.C. 20230.

Docket Number: 75-00507-33-90000. Applicant: St. Paul Hospital, 5909 Harry Hines Blvd., Dallas, Texas 75235. Article: EMI Scanner with Magnetic Tape Storage System. Manufacturer: EMI Limited, United Kingdom. Intended use of article: The article is intended to be used in experiments required to better define problems related to the equipment and patient in order to better evaluate central nervous system diseases, including any intracranial process. The experiments to be conducted will include methods and devices to eliminate patient motion while in the head holder, various experiments to eliminate artifacts related to the equipment, readability of contrast enhancement either routinely or on a selective basis, possible applications of the equipment to areas other than head, results of the diagnosed studies compared with other modalities such as nuclear scanning encephalography and carotid angiography and its role in the investigation of acute injuries to the head. The article will also be used to educate the young physicians in a method of examining the skull and its contents which is non-invasive and does not require patient hospitalization. Application received by Commissioner of Customs: May 6, 1975. Advice submitted by the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare on: August 1, 1975. Article ordered: March 5, 1975.

Docket Number: 75-00508-33-90000. Applicant: Dominican Santa Cruz Hospital, 1555 Soquel Drive, Santa Cruz, California 95965. Article: EMI Scanner System with high Definition Display Unit. Manufacturer: EMI Limited, United Kingdom. Intended use of article: The article is intended to be used in the study of uptake contrast material by neural tissue with diagnostic absorption values demonstrated by the article. Additional research will include quantitating the standardization absorption values of the article and comparing results with more expensive and hazardous techniques already available, such as angiography and pneumoencephalography, as well as nuclear brain scanning, with respect to accuracy in diagnosis of brain tumors, cerebral infarct, cerebral aneurysms, "idiopathic" epilepsy and hydrocephalus. The article will also be used in the training of radiologist, radiologic technologist, nurses and pharmacy residents in the use of this computerized modality in upgrading their skills. Application received by Commissioner of Customs: May 8, 1975. Advice submitted by the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare on: August 1, 1975. Article ordered: June 3, 1974.

Docket Number: 75-00509-33-90000. Applicant: Harris Hospital, 1300 West Cannon, Fort Worth, Texas 76104. Article: EMI Scanner System with Magnetic Tape. Manufacturer: EMI Limited, United Kingdom. Intended use of article: The article is intended to be used in the comparison of the relative accuracy of computerized axial tomographic units with radio nuclide scans and with pneumoencephalography and arteriography. The linear attenuation co-efficient of different intracranial densities will be studied in relation to the possibilities of delineating tumor formation, blood clot formation and fluid containing spaces in the brain. Application received by Commissioner of Customs: May 8, 1975. Advice submitted by the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare on: August 1, 1975. Article ordered: July 28, 1974.

Docket Number: 75-00512-33-90000. Applicant: Parkview Memorial Hospital, 220 Randall Drive, Ft. Wayne, Indiana 46805. Article: EMI Scanner System. Manufacturer: EMI Limited, United Kingdom. Intended Use of Article: The article is intended to be used to investigate and diagnose a large variety of neurologic disorders the most common of which are cerebral vascular accident (stroke) and brain tumors. Patients with suspected brain abnormalities will be studied and the findings will be correlated with those of the standard neuro-radiologic and isotopic diagnostic techniques. The technique will be of educational value in teaching the anatomical details of the normal and abnormal brains in the transaxial tomographic mode. Research will be limited to non-formal clinical research, particularly, studies to determine whether or not and to what degree the article will render other studies redundant. Application Received by Commissioner of Customs: May 14, 1975. Advice Submitted by the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare on: August 1, 1975. Article Ordered: November 27, 1974.

Docket Number: 75-00515-33-90000. Applicant: The University of Kansas Medical Center College of Health Sciences and Hospital, Department of Diagnostic Radiology, 39th & Rainbow Blvd., Kansas City, Kansas 66103. Article: EMI Scanner with Magnetic Tape System. Manufacturer: EMI Limited, United Kingdom. Intended Use of Article: The article is intended to be used in research on head trauma with the following objectives: (1) to identify and verify the distinctive patterns of subdural hematomas, cerebral contusions, etc. on CT scans, (2) to establish the efficiency of CT scan in distinguishing the nature and extent of multifocal cerebral lesions of diverse, pathogenicity, (3) to test the prognostic capability of CT scans as regards the late sequelae of closed head injury and to demonstrate the pathogenesis of potentially reversible secondary cerebral complications. The article will also be used for research in the areas of ischemic cerebral vascular disease. In addition, the article is intended to be used to train and teach diagnostic radiologists and technologists to use this tool and the techniques correctly. Application Received by Commissioner of Customs: May 14, 1975. Advice Submitted by the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare on: August 1, 1975. Article Ordered: June 4, 1974.

Docket Number: 75-00518-99-90000. Applicant: Little Company of Mary Hospital, 4101 Torrance Blvd., Torrance, CA 90503. Article: EMI Scanner System. Manufacturer: EMI Limited, United Kingdom. Intended Use of Article: The article is intended to be used in an investigation conducted to improve the diagnostic imaging at the interface of the bony skull and immediately adjacent soft tissues by computer program changes. Another area of investigation would be an attempt to reconstruct in coronal planes the data accumulated from horizontal transverse plane scanning. In addition to the normal clinical application, the article will be used to instruct medical residents (radiologists, neurosurgeons and neurologists) in the diagnosis of diseases of the brain and meninges. Application Received by Commissioner of Customs: May 15, 1975. Advice Submitted by the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare on: August 1, 1975. Article Ordered: June 14, 1974.

Docket Number: 75-00521-33-90000. Applicant: Baptist Memorial Hospital, 111 Dallas Street, San Antonio, Texas 78286. Article: EMI Scanner System. Manufacturer: EMI Limited, United Kingdom. Intended Use of Article: The article is intended to be used for investigative programs underway for post-irradiation brain malignancy patients and post-operative brain malignancy patients in an attempt to provide the best method of treatment of brain malignancy. In the realm of cerebral neoplasm primary and secondary, the article will be used to allow the study of the brain without hazard to the patient concerning the presence of a neoplasm and the results of treatment. The preliminary investigating effects of trauma on the skull are being researched with the use of the article in conjunction with the Department of Neurosurgery, Southwest Texas Medical School. The article will also be used in the training of x-ray technicians. Application received by Commissioner of Customs: May 15, 1975. Advice submitted by the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare on: August 1, 1975. Article Ordered: February 18, 1974.

Comments: No comments have been received with respect to any of the foregoing applications. Decision: Applications approved. No instrument or apparatus of equivalent scientific value to the foreign articles, for such purposes as these articles are intended to be used, is being manufactured in the United States.

Reasons: Each foreign article is a newly developed system which is designed to provide precise transverse axial X-ray tomography. The Department of Health, Education, and Welfare (HEW) advised in its respectively cited memoranda that the sensitivity and the non-invasive methodology of each article are pertinent to the purposes for which each foreign article is intended to be used. HEW also advised that it knows of no instrument of equivalent scientific value to any of the articles to which the foregoing applications relate for such purposes as these articles are intended to be used which was being manufactured in the United States at the time the articles were ordered.

The Department of Commerce knows of no other instrument or apparatus of equivalent scientific value to any of the foreign articles to which the foregoing applications relate, for such purposes as these articles are intended to be used, which were being manufactured in the United States at the time the articles were ordered.

UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS, ET AL. Consolidated Decision on Applications for Duty-Free Entry of Accessories for Foreign Instruments

The following is a consolidated decision on applications for duty-free entry of accessories for foreign instruments pursuant to Section 6(c) of the Educational Scientific and Cultural Materials Importation Act of 1966 (Public Law 89-651, 80 Stat. 897) and the regulations issued thereunder as amended (40 FR 12253 et seq., 15 CFR Part 701, 1975). (See especially § 301.11(e).)

A copy of the record pertaining to each of the applications in this consolidated decision is available for public review during ordinary business hours of the Department of Commerce, at the Special Import Programs Division, Office of Import Programs, Department of Commerce, Washington, D.C. 20230.

Docket Number: 75-00517-00-77040. Applicant: University of Illinois, Purchasing Division, 223 Administration Building, Urbana, Illinois 61801. Article: Combination Field Desorption/Field Ionization/Electron Impact Ion Source Device. Manufacturer: Varian MAT GmbH, West Germany. Intended use of article: The articles are accessories to an existing mass spectrometer to be used for studies of organic compounds and mixtures of interest in biology and medicine to determine their molecular weights and molecular formulas. The articles will also be used for educational purposes in various Chemistry courses. Application received by Commissioner of Customs: May 15, 1975. Advice submitted by the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare on: August 15, 1975.

Docket Number: 75-00519-00-46070. Applicant: Ear Research Institute, 2130 West Third Street, Los Angeles, California 90057. Article: Stereo TV Display for Stereoscan S4-10. Manufacturer: Cambridge Scientific Instruments, United Kingdom. Intended use of article: The article is intended to be used to examine both normal and diseased human inner and middle ear tissues obtained at the time of surgery and post-mortem. In addition, the article is intended to be used in the courses, January Otolologic Surgery and Temporal Bone Dissection, to disseminate information obtained under the electron microscope to students, physicians and university teachers. Application received by Commissioner of Customs: May 15, 1975. Advice submitted by the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare on: August 15, 1975.

Docket Number: 75-00522-00-46040. Applicant: VA Hospital #580, 2002 Holcombe Blvd., Houston, Texas 77211. Article: Goniometer Stage for EM 301 Electron Microscope. Manufacturer: Philips Electronic Instruments NVD, The Netherlands. Intended use of article: The article is an accessory to an existing electron microscope and an energy dispersive x-ray analyzer that will be used clinically to determine location and quantity of Zn and other trace metals in kidney microtubules. Application received by Commissioner of Customs:

May 15, 1975. Advice submitted by the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare on: August 15, 1975.

Docket Number: 75-00527-00-46040. Applicant: Cincinnati Children's Hospital, Elland and Bethesda Avenues, Cincinnati, Ohio 45229. Article: High Resolution Goniometer. Manufacturer: Carl Zeiss, West Germany. Intended use of article: The article is an accessory to an existing electron microscope manufactured by the same manufacturer which is being used in the study of lysosomal disease utilizing tissue cultures from patients with such diseases as Type II glycogenosis, Tay Sachs disease, mucopolysaccharidoses, mucosulfatidoses, etc. The morphologic alterations of lysosomes, which cells from these diseases demonstrate in tissue culture will be investigated. Application received by Commissioner of Customs: May 15, 1975. Advice submitted by the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare on: August 15, 1975.

Docket Number: 75-00546-00-46040. Applicant: Harvard University, Children's Hospital Medical Center, 300 Longwood Avenue, Boston, Mass. 02115. Article: Scanning Attachments, High Resolution Specimen Tilting/Rotating Device for Electron Microscope. Manufacturer: JEOL Ltd., Japan. Intended use of article: The article is intended to be used to convert an existing JEM 100B transmission electron microscope into an instrument which can perform both high resolution scanning and transmission electron microscopy. With scanning electron microscopy growing blood vessels can be examined topographically, including the relationships between such vessels and the tissues which they penetrate, such as tumors, connective tissues, etc. Application received by Commissioner of Customs: May 30, 1975. Advice submitted by the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare on: August 15, 1975.

Docket Number: 75-00571-00-19000. Applicant: University of Miami, Rosenstiel School of Marine and Atmospheric Science, 4600 Rickenbacker Causeway, Miami, Florida 33149. Article: Temperature Control for Densitometer. Manufacturer: TechniCorp, Canada. Intended use of article: The article is intended to be used to control the temperature of a densitometer unit which is being used to study the characteristics of the density of all the constituents of sea water. Application received by Commissioner of Customs: June 18, 1975. Advice submitted by the National Bureau of Standards on: August 20, 1975.

Comments: No comments have been received with respect to any of the foregoing applications. Decision: Applications approved. No instrument or apparatus of equivalent scientific value to the foreign articles, for the purposes for which the articles are intended to be used, is being manufactured in the United States. Reasons: The applications relate to compatible accessories for instruments that have been previously imported for the use of the applicant institutions. The articles are being manufactured by the manufacturers which produced the instruments with which they are intended to be used. We are advised by the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare (HEW) and/or the National Bureau of Standards (NBS) in the respectively cited memoranda that the accessories are pertinent to the applicants' intended uses and that it knows of no comparable domestic articles. The Department of Commerce knows of no similar accessories manufactured in the United States which are interchangeable with or can be readily adapted to the instruments with which the foreign articles are intended to be used.

UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN, MADISON Decision on Application for Duty-Free Entry of Scientific Article

The following is a decision on an application for duty-free entry of a scientific article pursuant to Section 6(c) of the Educational, Scientific, and Cultural Materials Importation Act of 1966 (Public Law 89-651, 80 Stat. 897) and the regulations issued thereunder as amended (40 FR 12253 et seq., 15 CFR Part 701, 1975).

A copy of the record pertaining to this decision is available for public review during ordinary business hours of the Department of Commerce, at the Office of Import Programs, Department of Commerce, Washington, D.C. 20230.

Docket Number: 75-00171-75-52400. Applicant: The University of Wisconsin, Madison, 750 University Avenue, Madison, Wisconsin 53706. Article: Proto-Cleo Stellarator Plasma System. Manufacturer: Culham Laboratory, United Kingdom. Intended use of article: The article is intended to be used in studies of hydrogen and deuterium plasmas to determine the scientific feasibility of achieving controlled thermonuclear fusion of deuterium-tritium plasmas in toroidal machines that produce rotational transforms by means of external helical windings in order to produce energy from fusion of these ions to helium. The article will also be used for educational purposes in the following courses to provide a basis to advanced undergraduate and graduate students in the area of plasmas and controlled fusion:

- (1) Introduction to Plasmas—ECE 525
- (2) Waves Instabilities of Plasmas—ECE 724.
- (3) Plasma Kinetics and Radiation Processes—ECE 725.
- (4) Research or thesis—ECE 990.

Comments: No comments have been received with respect to this application. Decision: Application approved. No instrument or apparatus of equivalent scientific value to the foreign article, for such purposes as this article is intended to be used, is being manufactured in the United States. Reasons: This application is a resubmission of Docket Number 74-00484-75-52400 which was denied without prejudice to resubmission on August 7, 1974 for informational deficiencies. The foreign article provides the specification of a Stellarator-geometry device. The National Bureau of Standards (NBS) advises in its memorandum dated August 6, 1975 that the specification listed above is pertinent to the applicant's intended purposes. NBS also advises that it knows of no domestic Stellarator Plasma System of equivalent scientific value to the foreign article for such purposes as the article is intended to be used.

The Department of Commerce knows of no other instrument or apparatus of equivalent scientific value to the foreign article, for such purposes as this article is intended to be used, which is being manufactured in the United States.

VIRGINIA COMMONWEALTH UNIVERSITY, ET AL. Consolidated Decision on Applications for Duty Free Entry of EMI Scanner Systems

The following is a consolidated decision on applications for duty-free entry of EMI Scanner Systems pursuant to Section 6(c) of the Educational, Scientific, and Cultural Materials Importation Act of 1966 (Public Law 89-651, 80 Stat. 897) and the regulations issued thereunder as amended (40 FR 12253 et seq., 15 CFR Part 701, 1975). (See especially § 301.11(e).)

A copy of the record pertaining to each of the applications in this consolidated decision is available for public review during ordinary business hours of the Department of Commerce, at the Special Import Programs Division, Office of Import Programs, Department of Commerce, Washington, D.C. 20230.

Docket Number: 75-00530-33-90000. Applicant: Virginia Commonwealth University, 520 North 12th Street, Richmond, Virginia 23298. Article: EMI Scanner with Magnetic Tape Storage System. Manufacturer: EMI Limited, United Kingdom. Intended Use of Article: The article is intended to be used for computerized tomographic evaluation of head injury patients in pursuit of the following:

- (a) Definition of anatomical changes secondary to mechanical head injury.
- (b) Definition of the presence or absence of secondary mass lesions within the skull, with treatment directed at these lesions.
- (c) Definition of the onset and progression of later effects on the head injury, such as hydrocephalus and/or cerebral atrophy, and correlation of these with the initial studies.

The article will also be used in the courses: Radiology Clerkship, Applications of Medical Physics, and Neuro-radiology, at the medical school, resident and fellowship levels. The modalities of computerized axial scanning techniques and the fundamentals of CAT scan interpretation will be introduced. Application Received by Commissioner of Customs: May 19, 1975. Advice Submitted by the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare on: December 6, 1974.

Docket Number: 75-00533-33-90000. Applicant: North Memorial Medical Center, 3220 Lowry Avenue North, Robbinsdale, MN 55422. Article: EMI Scanner with Magnetic Tape Storage System. Manufacturer: EMI Limited, United Kingdom. Intended Use of Article: The article is intended to be used in various medical education and research programs which will include the following:

- (1) Research efforts in the field of hereditary spinocerebellar ataxia in which tests are to be performed on patients who have clinical evidence of cerebellar ataxia or are at risk because of a strong familial tendency.
- (2) Correlation of deviations in quantitative sleep with known anatomical lesions in the central nervous system in a clinical program for sleep disturbances.
- (3) Neurology training to provide high quality teaching and direct experience in neurologically related conditions.
- (4) Differentiation of neurological disorders and psychiatric conditions during psychiatric instruction.

(5) Teaching of medical students, microbiologists, medical technologists, etc. in pathology of the brain.

(6) Pediatric teaching, and nurse training.

(7) Teaching the indications of the scanning equipment and its importance as an adjunct and direct diagnostic tool. Application Received by Commissioner of Customs: May 19, 1975. Advice Submitted by the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare on: August 15, 1975. Article Ordered: October 8, 1974.

Comments: No comments have been received with respect to any of the foregoing applications. Decision: Applications approved. No instrument or apparatus of equivalent scientific value to the foreign articles, for such purposes as these articles are intended to be used, is being manufactured in the United States. Reasons: Each foreign article is a newly developed system which is designed to provide precise transverse axial X-ray tomography. The Department of Health, Education, and Welfare (HEW) advised in its respectively cited memoranda that the sensitivity and the non-invasive methodology of each article are pertinent to the purposes for which each foreign article is intended to be used. HEW also advised that it knows of no domestic instrument of equivalent scientific value to any of the articles to which the foregoing applications relate for such purposes as these articles are intended to be used which was being manufactured in the United States at the time the articles were ordered.

The Department of Commerce knows of no other instrument or apparatus of equivalent scientific value to any of the foreign articles to which the foregoing applications relate, for such purposes as these articles are intended to be used, which were being manufactured in the United States at the time the articles were ordered.

WAYNE STATE UNIVERSITY Decision on Application for Duty-Free Entry of Scientific Article

The following is a decision on an application for duty-free entry of a scientific article pursuant to Section 6(c) of the Educational, Scientific, and Cultural Materials Importation Act of 1966 (Public Law 89-651, 80 Stat. 897) and the regulations issued thereunder as amended (40 FR 12253 et seq., 15 CFR Part 701, 1975).

A copy of the record pertaining to this decision is available for public review during ordinary business hours of the Department of Commerce, at the Office of Import Programs, Department of Commerce, Washington, D.C. 20230.

Docket Number: 75-00503-33-46040. Applicant: Wayne State University, School of Medicine, 450 Canfield, Detroit, Michigan 48201. Article: Electron Microscope, Model EM 201C with goniometer stage. Manufacturer: Philips Electronic Instruments NVD, The Netherlands. Intended Use of Article: The article is intended to be used to examine normal and pathologic processes, cell parts, and products of biological samples obtained from a variety of animals as well as from human samples obtained in clinical settings. Experiments to be conducted include observation of normal metabolism as well as physical and/or chemical manipulation of living systems including destruction or selective removal of all or part of a given system. Ultrastructural observations of normal systems will be compared with manipulated or altered systems. Biological systems to be studied include the central nervous system; the visual system including retina; lens and cornea; reproductive system with particular emphasis on spermatozoa. The article will also be used in the courses Cell and Tissue Ultrastructure and Advanced Histochemistry in which graduate students, medical students and faculty members will have an opportunity to become familiar with techniques and procedures of fine structure investigation when and as these skills become pertinent. Comments: No comments have been received with respect to this application. Decision: Application approved.

No instrument, or apparatus of equivalent scientific value to the foreign article, for such purposes as this article is intended to be used, is being manufactured in the United States. Reasons: This application is a resubmission of Docket Number 74-00484-75-52400 which was denied without prejudice to resubmission on August 7, 1974 for informational deficiencies. The foreign article provides the specification of a Stellarator-geometry device. The National Bureau of Standards (NBS) advises in its memorandum dated August 6, 1975 that the specification listed above is pertinent to the applicant's intended purposes. NBS also advises that it knows of no domestic Stellarator Plasma System of equivalent scientific value to the foreign article for such purposes as the article is intended to be used.

The following is a decision on an application for duty-free entry of a scientific article pursuant to Section 6(c) of the Educational, Scientific, and Cultural Materials Importation Act of 1966 (Public Law 89-651, 80 Stat. 897) and the regulations issued thereunder as amended (40 FR 12253 et seq., 15 CFR Part 701, 1975).

No instrument or apparatus of equivalent scientific value to the foreign article, for such purposes as this article is intended to be used, is being manufactured in the United States. Reasons: The foreign article is equipped with a eucentric goniometer stage and has a specified resolving power of 4A. At the time the foreign article was ordered the most closely comparable domestic instrument was the Model EMU-4C available from the Adam David Company. The Department of Health, Education, and Welfare (HEW) advised in its memorandum dated August 13, 1975 that the eucentric goniometer stage of the article is pertinent to the applicant's studies involving three dimensional relationships. HEW further advises that the EMU-4C does not have a scientifically equivalent eucentric goniometer stage. We, therefore, find that EMU-4C is not of equivalent scientific value to the foreign article for such purposes as this article is intended to be used.

The Department of Commerce knows of no other instrument or apparatus of equivalent scientific value to the foreign article, for such purposes as this article is intended to be used, which is being manufactured in the United States.

NATIONAL INSURANCE DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM

Public Hearings on Missouri "FAIR" Plan

The purpose of this notice is to announce that the Federal Insurance Administrator, U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development, Washington, D.C. 20410, will hold Public Hearings on certain practices of the Missouri FAIR Plan (the Plan) in Kansas City, Missouri, on September 24, 1975, in Conference Room 302, at 911 Walnut Street, and in St. Louis, Missouri on September 25, 1975, at Federal Building, Room 1612 (First Floor), 520 Market Street, commencing at 10 a.m.

The National Insurance Development Act of 1975 (Public Law 94-13), approved April 5, 1975, authorizes the continuation of authority for the Secretary of Housing and Urban Development to review each State's FAIR Plan in its entirety for conformity to statutory criteria (12 U.S.C. 1749bbb-3 to 1749bbb-6) and regulations thereunder (24 CFR Part 1905). "FAIR Plan" or "Plan" means a statewide Plan to assure "fair access to insurance requirements" that is approved by the Administrator as meeting the criteria of Part A of the Urban Property Protection and Reinsurance Act of 1968, codified as Title XII of the National Housing Act, including such modifications thereof as the Administrator shall promulgate in accordance with 12 U.S.C. 1749bbb-6(b).

The Federal Insurance Administrator to whom the Secretary of Housing and Urban Development delegated authority under the Urban Property Protection and Reinsurance Act has conducted such a review of the operations and requirements of the Missouri FAIR Plan. During the review, it has come to the attention of the Administrator that in a number of instances, the Plan purports to have rescinded certain insurance contracts ab initio, after loss, on the basis of alleged misrepresentations of material fact incident to a question in the application regarding the payment of property taxes, it being the Plan's position that such rescission violates the insurance policy not only in respect to the insured but also in respect to the mortgage named in a loss payable provision of the contract. Inasmuch as the legal and practical effect of the rescission is to avoid coverage as though the policy had never been written, such rescission is tantamount to the declination of coverage for nonpayment of taxes by the applicant for insurance. Inasmuch as Chapter X, Part 1905, § 1905.7(a) (3) of the Regulations of the Federal Insurance Administration provides, in effect, that an eligible risk may be declined only because "the property does not meet reasonable underwriting standards" and § 1905.7(c) defines the latter in terms of standards that are "relevant to the perils against which insurance is sought," the practices of the Plan in this regard appear to be contrary to the cited regulation provisions. Additionally, inasmuch as no similar question regarding payment of taxes is to be found in applications for insurance in the voluntary insurance market, the Administrator must determine whether FAIR Plan insureds and applicants for insurance are being unfairly discriminated against by the Plan, contrary to the Act's purpose of making necessary property insurance, meeting reasonable underwriting standards, more readily available.

Accordingly, the Public Hearings will include, but shall not be limited to, these matters and will be held to gather information as to whether the Administrator should consider further appropriate administrative action. Factors to be examined with respect to this further consideration include, but are not limited to, the following: (1) The numbers of affected policyholders and applicants; (2) any information concerning the appropriateness of the FAIR Plan's utilization of the above-mentioned criteria; (3) the appropriateness of further administrative action by the Administrator; (4) other material facts bearing on the question of unfair discrimination by the Plan. Furthermore, information on any aspect of the Administrator's review of the FAIR Plan's operation may be brought to the attention of the Administrator at the Hearing.

The Hearing is open to the public. Public attendance is encouraged but may be limited depending on available space. Any member of the public may file a written statement before, during, or after the meeting. Such written statements will be made a part of the record. To the extent time permits, members of the public or other interested persons will be allowed to present oral statements during the hearing. Scheduling will be at the discretion of the Administrator.

All communications concerning this Hearing should be addressed to the Federal Insurance Administrator, Department of Housing and Urban Development, 451 Seventh Street, S.W., Washington, D.C. 20410. Issued in Washington on August 1, 1975.

(Sec. 7(d) Department of Housing and Urban Development Act, 42 U.S.C. 3535(d); and Secretary's Delegation of Authority to the Federal Insurance Administrator, 34 FR 2680, February 27, 1969)

COMMODITY FUTURES TRADING COMMISSION

CONFIDENTIALITY OF INFORMATION

The Commodity Futures Trading Commission (the "Commission") has had numerous inquiries concerning information in its possession relative to positions of large traders in the cash and futures markets and in that regard wishes to make the following comments.

The Commission is acutely aware of the sensitive nature of the material furnished by futures commission merchants and traders on CFTC report forms '01, '03, '04, 40, and 102, and the Commission is also particularly mindful of the exemption from disclosure contained in the Freedom of Information Act pertaining to confidential commercial and financial information obtained from any person.<sup>1</sup>

In the past, the sensitive nature of information on the trades and positions of individual large traders was recognized and protected by the Commission's predecessor agency, the Commodity Exchange Authority ("CEA"). Such data on individual traders was released to the public by CEA ordinarily only in the normal course of administrative proceedings which concerned violations of the Act, and as required by law when such data on positions and transactions of large traders was requested by a committee of Congress which was acting within the scope of its jurisdiction. In regard to any such request, the Commission will at the very least inform the Committee of the consequences (violations of confidentiality) of its request, will insist upon the certification to it of an actual vote of the Committee, and whenever possible will argue forcibly against the Committee making such a request.

The CEA released data which would reveal the identity of individuals to other government bodies only in the course of criminal investigations or the violation of other Federal laws. Other CEA data released to government bodies which would reveal the transactions and positions of individuals did not reveal the identity of those individuals. The Commission intends to continue such policies and in that regard the Commission will not release information furnished by traders and FCM's on CFTC report forms '01, '03, '04, 40, and 102 other than in those very few cases when extraordinary circumstances of compelling public interest require disclosure. The Commission knows of no such compelling public interest which would require disclosure at the present time.

In order to maintain the confidentiality of individual data within the agency, the CEA carried out certain steps which the Commission continues to exercise. Code number assignments are made to individual reporting traders and FCM's and all reports filed by such persons are identified by code number only. Access to reports and to information which would link the code number and the individual large trader or FCM is limited to those CFTC employees who need such information in the pursuit of their official duties. All CFTC employees are prohibited from the unauthorized release of information concerning individual's positions and trades.

The Commission by this statement wishes to emphasize that it is the policy of this Commission to carefully safeguard all confidential information coming into its possession.

WORLD WIDE FILM TRANSPORT AND HANS BERMAN

Order of Revocation

By letter dated July 7, 1975, World Wide Film Transport, Hans Bermann d.b.a., 113 W. Grand Avenue, El Segundo, California 90245 was advised by the Federal Maritime Commission that Independent Ocean Freight Forwarder License No. 1604 would be automatically revoked or suspended unless a valid surety bond was filed with the Commission on or before August 6, 1975.

Section 44(c), Shipping Act, 1916, provides that no independent ocean freight forwarder license shall remain in force unless a valid bond is in effect and on file with the Commission. Rule 510.9 of Federal Maritime Commission General Order 4, further provides that a license will be automatically revoked or suspended for failure of a licensee to maintain a valid bond on file.

World Wide Film Transport, Hans Bermann d.b.a. has failed to furnish a valid surety bond.

By virtue of authority vested in me by the Federal Maritime Commission as set forth in Manual of Orders, Commission Order No. 201.1 (Revised) § 5.01(c) (dated June 30, 1975):

It is ordered, That Independent Ocean Freight Forwarder License No. 1604, issued to World Wide Film Transport, Hans Bermann d.b.a., be returned to the Commission for cancellation.

It is further ordered, That Independent Ocean Freight Forwarder License No. 1604 be and is hereby revoked effective August 6, 1975.

It is further ordered, That a copy of this Order be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER and served upon World Wide Film Transport, Hans Bermann d.b.a.

MONTAUP ELECTRIC CO.

Order Accepting for Filing and Suspending Proposed Rate Increase, Granting Petitions To Intervene, Denying Motion To Reject, and Establishing Hearing

AUGUST 29, 1975.

On July 30, 1975, Montaup Electric Company (Montaup) tendered for filing certain revised tariff sheets to its FPC Electric Tariff, Original Volume No. 1, exhibits and agreements<sup>1</sup> for the purpose of increasing rates for wholesale sales of electricity to three affiliated and four non-affiliated customers.<sup>2</sup> Montaup states that the proposed increased rates are intended to recover increased revenue requirements of $7,789,157 over its rates currently in effect based on costs for the 12 months ended August 31, 1976. Montaup requests that these rates become effective September 1, 1975.

<sup>1</sup> First Revised Sheet Nos. 4, 5, 6, and 11; Revised Exhibit B to contract for service to Narragansett Electric Company, designated as Supplement No. 20 to Rate Schedule FPC No. 35; Amendatory Agreement to Contract for service to Newport Electric Corporation, designated as Supplement No. 8 to Rate Schedule FPC No. 33; Amendatory Agreement to Contract for service to Middleboro, Massachusetts, designated as Supplement No. 7 to Rate Schedule FPC No. 36; and Revised Exhibits to contract for service to Pascoag Fire District, designated as Supplement Nos. 8 and 9 to Rate Schedule FPC No. 34.

Notice of Montaup's filing was issued August 7, 1975, with comments, protests and petitions to intervene due on or before August 20, 1975. Timely petitions to intervene were filed by the Town of Middleboro, Massachusetts (Middleboro), Newport Electric Corporation, and the Rhode Island Consumers' Council and Division of Public Utilities and Carriers of the State of Rhode Island. We believe that good cause exists to permit the intervention of these parties. On August 26, 1975 Montaup filed an answer to the petitions of the Rhode Island Consumer's Council and Middleboro.

Montaup states that the increased rates are necessary to cover increased demand costs which it expects to incur commencing September 1, 1975. Montaup also states that it has filed a fuel cost adjustment clause conforming to the standards of Order No. 517.<sup>3</sup>

Middleboro moves that we reject that part of Montaup's proposed rates which establishes the method of calculating the demand charges herein. We do not believe that summary rejection on the basis of Middleboro's pleading is appropriate. Instead, this matter should be developed by the parties in the evidentiary hearing established herein. Middleboro also requests a five month suspension for the increased rates. Our review of the proposed rates indicates that they have not been shown to be just and reasonable and may be unjust, unreasonable, unduly discriminatory or preferential, or otherwise unlawful. However, we believe that these rates should be suspended for one month<sup>4</sup>, when they will be permitted to become effective, subject to refund, pending hearing and decision as to the justness and reasonableness of the proposed rates.

In addition to the above and without limiting the rights of the parties or the issues to be raised in the hearing herein-after ordered, we direct the parties, including our Staff, to make an evidentiary showing on the following matters: the excess reactive demand charge and its operations; the proposed 100 percent demand ratchet; eliminations from rate base associated with unit sales; the propriety of including compensating bank balances in rate base, the appropriateness of normalized treatment of certain pension, tax, and interest expenses; the use of the statutory tax rate or the consolidated effective tax rate which may be available to Montaup; the increase in Operation and Maintenance expenses; all matters relating to Montaup's capital structure, including the equity investment in nuclear generating companies; the adequacy of Montaup's before and after tax interest coverage; and the appropriate return on equity for Montaup.

The Commission finds. (1) It is necessary and proper in the public interest and to aid in the enforcement of the provisions of the Federal Power Act that the Commission enter upon a hearing concerning the lawfulness of the rates and charges filed herein and that the revised rates and charges be suspended as hereinafter provided.

(2) Good cause exists to permit the intervention of the above mentioned parties.

(3) Good cause does not exist to grant Middleboro's Motion to Reject.

The Commission orders. (A) Pursuant to the authority of the Federal Power Act, particularly sections 205 and 206 thereof, and the Commission's rules and regulations, a public hearing concerning the lawfulness and reasonableness of the increased rates as proposed herein shall be held on January 27, 1976, at 10:00 a.m., e.s.t., in a hearing room of the Federal Power Commission, 825 North Capitol Street, N.E., Washington, D.C. 20426.

(B) Pending hearing and decision as to the justness and reasonableness of the increased rates proposed by Montaup, the revised tariff sheets, amendments and exhibits, filed herein are accepted for filing and suspended for one month or until October 1, 1975, when they will be permitted to become effective subject to refund.

(C) On or before December 19, 1975, the Commission Staff shall file its prepared testimony and exhibits. Any Intervenor testimony and exhibits shall be filed on or before January 2, 1976. Montaup's rebuttal testimony and exhibits shall be filed on or before January 16, 1976.

(D) A Presiding Administrative Law Judge to be designated for that purpose by the Chief Administrative Law Judge (See Delegation of Authority, 18 CFR 3.5(d)) shall preside at the hearings in these proceedings, shall prescribe relevant procedural matters not herein provided, and shall control this proceeding in accordance with the policies expressed in the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure and the terms of this order.

(E) The parties mentioned above are hereby permitted to intervene in this proceeding, subject to the Rules and Regulations of the Commission: Provided, however, That the participation of such intervenors shall be limited to matters affecting rights and interests specifically set forth in the respective petitions to intervene. And provided, further, That the admission of such intervenors shall not be construed as recognition that they or any of them might be aggrieved because of any order or orders issued by the Commission in this proceeding.

(F) Middleboro's Motion to Reject is hereby denied.

(G) The Secretary shall cause prompt publication of this order to be made in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

By the Commission.

[Docket No. RP75-108]

NATURAL GAS PIPELINE COMPANY OF AMERICA

Order Denying Application for Rehearing

AUGUST 29, 1975.

On July 30, 1975, Natural Gas Pipeline Company of America (Natural) filed herein an application for rehearing of the Commission's order issued in the above docket on June 30, 1975. The June 30 order rejected certain of Natural's proposed tariff sheets which (1) incorporated the effect of including construction work in progress in Natural's rate base and (2) included the costs associated with certain payments made by Natural to Exxon, U.S.A. to acquire rights with respect to gas reserves located in Alaska and the offshore Gulf of Mexico area. The latter costs were rejected because they had been previously considered by the Commission and disallowed by order issued on May 16, 1975, in Docket No. RP75-90. Rehearing of the May 16 order was denied on July 11, 1975.

In its application for rehearing Natural argues that we are without authority to reject the tariff sheets incorporating the disputed Exxon payments, notwithstanding our prior order explicitly disallowing such payments for ratemaking purposes. Natural states that the Commission "is without authority to reject a filing of proposed tariff changes which meet the formal filing requirement of the Natural Gas Act and the Commission's regulations. Rather, it is limited to the statutory provision of a 5-month suspension period, after which the new rates would be effective subject to refund." Mississippi River Fuel Corp. v. F.P.C., 202 F.2d 899, 902-3 (3d Cir.) cert. dismissed, 345 U.S. 988 (1953). (Application for rehearing, page 7).

We cannot accept Natural's argument. As we stated in the order of July 11, 1975, in Docket No. RP75-90, the Exxon payments were rejected as being inconsistent, as a matter of law and policy, with the "purpose, scope, and operation of our regulations." (mimeo p. 4). We found for this reason that reliance on the "Mississippi River Fuel Corp." case, supra, was misplaced (Ibid).

It seems clear that to permit the Exxon payments to be included in Natural's rates in this docket would render our prior disallowance of these same payments a virtual nullity, and would require Natural's customers to defray the cost of such payments in the present docket, albeit subject to refund, even though the payments have been disallowed in another docket. Clearly we are not required to interpret our regulations so as to produce such a contradictory result.

The issue of whether the Exxon payments shall be permitted for ratemaking purposes has been decided, and that issue cannot be revived anew by the inclusion of the same payments as part of Natural's general rate increase application in this docket. It follows that Natural's application for rehearing of the suspension order issued herein on June 30, 1975, must be denied.

The Commission orders. (A) Natural's application for rehearing filed herein July 30, 1975, is denied.

(B) The Secretary shall cause prompt publication of this order in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

By the Commission.

OHIO POWER CO.

Order Accepting for Filing and Suspending Proposed Rate Increase, Granting Interventions, and Establishing Dates

AUGUST 29, 1975.

On July 21, 1975, Ohio Power Company (Ohio) tendered for filing a proposed amendment<sup>1</sup> to its Interconnection Agreement with Wheeling Electric Company, (Wheeling), a full requirements customer and an affiliate of Ohio. The proposed rates would increase revenues from Wheeling by $6,228,660 for the twelve month period ending December 31, 1975, which is period II. The subject filing would place into effect a rate design consisting of single demand and energy blocks and would revise the current fuel clause by increasing the base cost of fuel and losses associated with sales to Wheeling. The company states that its revised fuel clause has been prepared in conformity with § 35.14 of our regulations. Ohio proposes an effective date of September 1, 1975.

Public notice of Ohio's tendered filing was issued on July 25, 1975, with comments, protests or petitions to intervene due on or before August 8, 1975. On August 7, 1975, a notice of intervention was filed by the Public Service Commission of West Virginia. On August 15, 1975, the West Virginia Commission filed a motion requesting that we suspend the subject filing on the ground that its analysis of Ohio's filing will be time consuming and that suspension will not substantially impact Ohio's financial position.

Evidence relevant to the issues raised by the instant filing should be submitted by all parties including the Commission Staff. Without limiting the rights of the parties, including Staff, in presenting such further evidence as they deem relevant and material, we hereby direct that the parties and our Staff present evidence which addresses itself to the following matters. Ohio is requesting herein that it be allowed a rate of return on common equity of 15.5 percent and an overall rate of return of 10.13 percent. All parties, including Staff, are directed to present evidence specifying the factors justifying a change from the rate of return we have previously approved for service to Wheeling. We further note that Ohio states that its annual expenditures for new facilities have doubled over five years. All parties, including Staff, are directed to present evidence as to how their rate of return recommendations relate to Ohio's alleged financing requirements and should address themselves specifically to Ohio's statements that it has low interest coverage ratios which adversely affect its ability to raise capital; that it must reobtain and maintain a bond rating of A, rather than its current rating of Baa; that its reduced debt ratio reflects inadequate earnings and that allowance for funds used during construction increased from a level of 33 percent of income available for common equity in 1970 to nearly 76 percent in 1974. Such analysis should also direct itself to the fact that Ohio's common stock is owned by American Electric Power Company (AEP) and AEP's stock, unlike Ohio's, is actively publicly traded. Evidence is to be submitted reviewing the propriety of allowing Ohio an allowance for Federal Income Taxes by the use of the 48 percent statutory tax rate, when in fact it participates with other AEP affiliates in filing a consolidated tax return and when AEP in fact pays no federal income taxes. A review of Ohio's submittal indicates that among other things it functionalized general plant, common plant and administrative and general expenses on functional plant ratios, allocated operation and maintenance expenses; and separated the transmission function into various sub-functions reflecting voltage or service levels for allocation purposes.

Our review of Ohio's proposed rates filed herein indicates that the proposed rates have not been shown to be just and reasonable. We shall, therefore, accept Ohio's tendered tariff sheets for filing and suspend the use thereof for two months, when they will be permitted to become effective subject to refund. We shall also provide for an evidentiary hearing to test the lawfulness of the proposed rates.

The Commission finds. (1) Ohio's filing should be accepted for filing and suspended for two months, as hereinafter ordered.

(2) It is necessary and proper in the public interest and to aid in the enforcement of the Federal Power Act that the Commission enter upon a hearing concerning the lawfulness of Ohio's proposed rate changes.

(3) The participation of the Public Service Commission of West Virginia in these proceedings is in the public interest.

The Commission orders. (A) Ohio's filing is hereby accepted for filing and suspended for sixty days until November 1, 1975, when the proposed rates will go into effect subject to refund.

(B) Pursuant to the authority of the Federal Power Act, particularly sections 205 and 206 thereof, the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, and the regulations under the Federal Power Act (18 CFR Chapter I), a public hearing shall be held on January 6, 1976, at 10 a.m., in a hearing room of the Federal Power Commission, 825 North Capitol Street, N.E., Washington, D.C. 20426.

(C) On or before November 4, 1975, the Commission Staff shall serve its prepared testimony and exhibits. Prepared testimony and exhibits of intervenors, if any, shall be served on or before November 25, 1975. Company rebuttal shall be served on or before December 16, 1975.

(D) A Presiding Administrative Law Judge to be designated by the Chief Administrative Law Judge for that purpose, (See Delegation of Authority, 18 CFR 3.5(d)), shall preside at the hearing in this proceeding, shall prescribe relevant procedural matters not herein provided, and shall control this proceeding in accordance with the policies expressed in the Commission's rules of practice and procedure.

(E) Nothing contained herein shall be construed as limiting the rights of parties to this proceeding regarding the convening of conferences or offers of settlement pursuant to § 1.18 of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure.

(F) The Public Service Commission of West Virginia is hereby permitted to intervene in these proceedings, subject to the rules and regulations of the Commission: Provided, however, That the participation of such intervenor shall be limited to matters affecting rights and interests specifically set forth in its petition to intervene. And provided, further, That the admission of such intervenor shall not be considered as recognition by the Commission that it might be aggrieved because of any order or orders issued by the Commission in this proceeding.

(G) The Secretary shall cause prompt publication of this order in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

By the Commission.

OTTER TAIL POWER CO.

Order Rejecting Filing, Setting Matter for Hearing, and Granting Interventions

AUGUST 29, 1975.

On June 23, 1975, Otter Tail Power Company ("Otter Tail") tendered for filing, pursuant to section 205 of the Federal Power Act and Part 35 of the regulations issued thereunder, a Rate for Firm Wheeling (Transmission) Service to the municipalities of Barnesville, Benson, Breckenridge, Detroit Lakes, Henning, Lake Park, Newfolden, Nielsville, Ortonville, Shelly, Stephen and Warren, Minnesota, and Badger, Big Stone City and Estelline, South Dakota, to commence September 1, 1975, supplanting certain present transmission service arrangements' whereby Otter Tail presently renders the municipalities excess capacity wheeling service. Although asserting that its filing constitutes an initial rate schedule for a new source, Otter Tail submits accompanying documents and data in support thereof as both an initial and changed rate under §§ 35.12 and 35.13 of the Commission's rules. Otter Tail notes that its proposed rate for firm transmission service to the municipalities is identical to that presented and currently being investigated in the Elbow Lake proceeding, Docket No. E-8152, and additionally tenders testimony prepared to support Commission acceptance of the rate in general.

Public notice of the filing was issued on July 2, 1975 and published on July 25, 1975 (40 FR 31287), calling for the submittal of petitions or protests in response thereto on or before July 24, 1975, which period was subsequently extended through August 4, 1975.

By joint petition and motion<sup>1</sup> of August 4, 1975, the Cities of Barnesville, Benson, Detroit Lakes, Henning, Lake Park, Ortonville, and Warren, Minnesota and Big Stone City, South Dakota (hereinafter "Cities") petition to intervene herein as USBR, wholesale power customers presently receiving full requirements purchases of United States Bureau of Reclamation ("USBR") electric power and energy as delivered over Otter Tail transmission facilities by the company pursuant to (1) its 26(c) contractual obligations under Contract No. 179-1592 with the Bureau, dated March 4, 1950, and designated Otter Tail Rate Schedule FPC No. 84, to transmit delivered USBR power to the Cities for a charge of one mill per kwh, and (2) separate USBR obligations to furnish, and deliver electric service to the Cities under various Bureau contracts therewith. Noting that these contracts continue to provide transmission service by Otter Tail to the Cities through December 31, 1976, and rejecting Otter Tail's instant filing as an offer to provide supplemental transmission service thereto which the Cities neither need nor desire, the Cities additionally move that the Commission reject Otter Tail's June 23rd submittal pursuant to § 35.5 of the Commission's Rules upon the same basis that an identical filing with respect to the Cities of Alexandria and Tyler was rejected in Docket No. E-9240,<sup>2</sup> namely that the proposed filing is fifteen months premature (of the December 31, 1976 contractual transmission service expiration date) in violation of Section 35.3 of our Rules, which requires that all rate schedules tendered for filing with the Commission and posted must be so submitted not less than 30 nor more than 90 days from the date upon which service is to commence.

Cast in the role of intended beneficiary-recipients of Otter Tail transmission service under the Bureau-Otter Tail Contract (Rate Schedule FPC No. 84), the Cities also maintain that the Commission should reject the Otter Tail filing because it violates binding contractual provisions for transmission rate review and adjustment pursuant to Article 28(b) of the Bureau-Otter Tail Contract, which specifically afford either party the opportunity to (1) request reconsideration of the one mill transmission rate, and (2) subsequently terminate its transmission service obligations upon four-years' written notice thereafter. Since Otter Tail has heretofore failed to avail itself of either of the aforementioned Article 28(b) remedies, its present attempt to raise the transmission service rate for the Cities by another means circumvents the terms of the Bureau-Otter Tail Contract, and should be accordingly rejected by this Commission as a gross violation thereof which would permit Otter Tail to collect a second time for wheeling service for which it is already recompensed by the Bureau. The Cities assert further that Otter Tail's irrevocable contractual obligation to render transmission service at the rate of one mill per kwh through December 31, 1976 when the Bureau-Otter Tail Contract expires or until the rate increase process in Article 28(b) is completed, does not depend upon the existence of any additional contractual arrangement between Otter Tail and the Cities, and that the Otter Tail-Municipal Special Electric Service Agreements pertain to "firming transmission service" and other matters beyond Otter Tail's basic obligation to transmit USBR power and energy to the Cities.

The Cities alternatively petition the Commission to reject the tendered filing upon the basis that it fails to conform to § 35.13 of our rules in allocating its cost of service to jurisdictional customers, and accordingly explain the contents of Statements A-0. Should the Commission accept the proposed filing, the Cities request the Commission to suspend the operation of the proposed change in rates for a full five months pending the conduct of a hearing to investigate the lawfulness thereof pursuant to sections 205(e), 206 and 307 of the Federal Power Act.

Otter Tail asserts in its prepared testimony that the Cities' Special Municipal Electric Service Agreements constitute but a single part of a three way interlocked package deal, which also includes the Bureau-Otter Tail Contract and the USBR contracts with its preference customers, executed in 1955 in part to provide the Bureau and its preference customers with Otter Tail excess capacity transmission service at an incremental cost far below fully allocated costs for firm transmission service. Otter Tail receives payments therefor of one mill per kwh from the Bureau and 1½ mills per kwh from each of the Cities for an additional service labeled "firming transmission service" designed to firm up the USBR transmission grid in delivering power to various points within the Otter Tail system for wheeling to the preference customer. Otter Tail concludes that it is no longer obligated to transmit power and energy for the Bureau and the Cities pursuant to the aforementioned interlocked package of contracts because the Court ordered invalidation in the antitrust case of "United States of America v. Otter Tail Power Company," 331 F. Supp. 54 (September 9, 1971) as affirmed by the United States Supreme Court, "Otter Tail Power Company v. United States of America," 410 U.S. 366 (February 22, 1973), of vital and non-severable provisions in the package violates and voids the package deal as a whole.

Otter Tail also argues that the charge for wheeling service under Rate Schedule No. 84 adversely affects the public interest by being so low as to cast upon other consumers an excessive burden contra the dictate of "FPC v. Sierra Pacific Power Company," 350 U.S. 348 (1958).

In a response to the Cities' Petition, tendered August 18, 1975, Otter Tail answers that it does not object to Cities' intervention herein, but takes issue with all of the Cities' ancillary contentions in support of the motion to reject. Otter Tail notes that its expressed difference of opinion with the Cities serves to frame certain contested issues for trial, including consideration of (1) whether the proposed compensatory rate for firm wheeling service is just and reasonable and non-discriminatory, (2) when the compensatory rate may legally take effect as to each of the Cities,<sup>4</sup> and (3) whether the one mill charge for wheeling service under the Bureau-Otter Tail Contract is non-compensatory, imposition of which may violate the rule of Sierra Pacific. Otter Tail alternatively requests that the Commission waive its 30-90 day filing provision under section 35.3 of the Rules and consider the tendered rate on a tariff basis prospectively, akin to procedure affirmed in "Municipal

Electric Utility Association of Alabama v. FPC," 485 F.2d 967 (1973).

The Commission previously rejected the same vitiation and package deal categorizations which Otter Tail posits here, accordingly finding an obligation on the part of Otter Tail to continue to provide the Cities with basic excess capacity transmission service under the Bureau-Otter Tail contract through December 31, 1976.<sup>5</sup> The question of whether the proposed rate for firm wheeling service is just and reasonable and non-discriminatory with respect to all the municipalities akin to the procedure followed in Municipal Electric is presently being addressed in the expanded investigation and hearing in Docket No. E-8152, and bears no need for duplication in this docket.

The rule of Sierra Pacific does not, of course, address the circumstance upon which a filed rate may be initially rejected by the Commission. The concern of Sierra Pacific is rather with rejection of a unilaterally filed rate increase in contravention of a fixed rate contract upon the merits, after completion of a hearing whereby it has been determined whether the contractually fixed rate is so low as to adversely affect the public interest. There is nothing in Otter Tail's instant submittal which serves to persuade us that we erred in rejecting Otter Tail's identical filing upon the basis of prematurity and not upon the merits of the filing itself. The circumstances remain unchanged here, and we must reject Otter Tail's present rate filing accordingly.

Otter Tail's controverted contention that imposition of the one mill fixed charge under the Bureau-Otter Tail Contract compels the provision of wheeling service to the Cities at a rate which is neither compensatory nor just and reasonable, however, raises questions which remain unanswered in the E-8152 proceeding and which merit investigation and hearing in a separate proceeding at this time.

The Commission finds. (1) The proposed rate for firm transmission service for the Cities has been tendered for filing by Otter Tail more than 90 days prior to the date on which the electric service is to commence and become effective, and should be accordingly rejected, pursuant to § 35.5 of the Commission's rules, as patently failing to substantially comply with § 35.3 thereof.

(2) Pursuant to the provisions of sections 206 and 307 of the Federal Power Act, an investigation and hearing should be instituted for the purpose of determining whether the rate schedule for wheeling service, under the Bureau-Otter Tail Contract, Otter Tail Power Company Rate Schedule No. 84, is compensatory, just and reasonable.

(3) The Cities of Barnesville, Benson, Detroit Lakes, Henning, Lake Park, Ortonville, and Warren, Minnesota and Big Stone City, South Dakota should be permitted to intervene in this proceeding subject to the Commission's Rules and Regulations.

The Commission orders. (A) The tendered rate for firm transmission service proposed by Otter Tail for the Cities has been prematurely filed in violation of § 35.3 of our rules, and is hereby rejected accordingly.

(B) Pursuant to the provisions of sections 206 and 307 of the Federal Power Act, an investigation and hearing is hereby instituted for the purpose of determining whether the rate schedule for wheeling service under the Bureau-Otter Tail Contract, Otter Tail Power Company Rate Schedule No. 84, is compensatory, just and reasonable.

(C) A prehearing conference shall be held on October 20, 1975, at 10 a.m., for the purpose of establishing necessary hearing procedures, including a schedule for the submission of evidence, if any, by the parties to the proceeding, and for the expeditious resolution of other related matters as may be required.

(D) The Cities of Barnesville, Benson, Detroit Lakes, Henning, Lake Park, Ortonville, and Warren, Minnesota and Big Stone City, South Dakota are hereby permitted to intervene in this proceeding subject to the Commission's rules and regulations.

(E) Any additional person desiring to intervene in this proceeding should file a petition to intervene with the Federal Power Commission, Washington, D.C. 20426, in accordance with § 1.8 of the rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8). All such petitions should be filed on or before October 3, 1975.

By the Commission.

PUBLIC SERVICE CO. OF OKLAHOMA
Cancellation

AUGUST 29, 1975.

Take notice that on August 22, 1975, Public Service Company of Oklahoma (PSCO) tendered for filing a notice of cancellation of Rate Schedule FPC No. 163, under which the Town of Mannford, Oklahoma (Mannford) has been receiving electric service. PSCO states that Mannford has elected to receive electric service from another supplier, commencing on or about September 2, 1975; therefore PSCO's Rate Schedule is cancelled on or after September 2, 1975.

Any person desiring to be heard or to protest said filing should file a petition to intervene or protest with the Federal Power Commission, 825 North Capitol Street, NE., Washington, D.C. 20426, in accordance with §§ 1.8 and 1.10 of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8, 1.10). All such petitions or protests should be filed on or before September 10, 1975. Protests will be considered by the Commission in determining the appropriate action to be taken, but will not serve to make protestants parties to the proceeding. Any person wishing to become a party must file a petition to intervene. Copies of this filing are on file with the Commission and are available for public inspection.

Extension of Time and Modification of Procedural Order

AUGUST 29, 1975.

On August 20, 1975, Michigan Wisconsin Pipeline Company filed a motion to extend the procedural dates, set by order issued July 21, 1975, and to provide for a seriatim presentation of evidence by the applicants and intervenors opposing the application, in the above-designated matter. On August 21, 1975, Michigan Wisconsin amended the above motion. On August 27, 1975, Roy M. Huffington, Inc., filed a response to the motion filed by Michigan Wisconsin in support of the modification of procedural dates and in opposition to the motion to provide a seriatim presentation of evidence by the applicants and intervenors opposing the application.

Notice is hereby given that the order of July 21, 1975, is modified to provide for a seriatim presentation of evidence by the applicants and intervenors opposing the application and the procedural dates are modified as follows: (1) The time for filing the direct case of intervenors opposing the application is extended to and including September 23, 1975; and (2) the hearing date in the above matter is deferred to October 21, 1975.

By direction of the Commission.

BIGLANE OPERATING CO.*Order Designating Matter for Hearing, Establishing Procedures and Granting Intervention

SEPTEMBER 2, 1975.

On May 12, 1975, Biglane Operating Company (Biglane) filed an application pursuant to section 7(c) of the Natural Gas Act for a limited term certificate of public convenience and necessity for a period of one year with pregranted abandonment authorizing the sale of natural gas in interstate commerce to Southern Natural Gas Company (Southern Natural) from the Oldenburg Field, Franklin County, Mississippi. Biglane proposes to sell the gas at the national rate as prescribed in Opinion No. 699-H when converted to a pressure base of 14.73 psia. It is noted however, that the March 11, 1975 sales contract between Biglane and Southern Natural, provides for a gathering allowance of 1.25¢ per Mcf, as well as upward and downward Btu adjustment from a rate of 1,000 Btu. Furthermore there is a contractual provision for 100 percent tax reimbursement.

Biglane commenced an emergency sale of the subject gas to Southern Natural on May 2, 1975 at the existing national rate, pursuant to § 157.29 of the Commission's regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR 157.29) and has been continuing such sale since July 1, 1975, the expiration of the 60-day exempt period, at the national rate pursuant to Opinion No. 699-B.

Biglane proposed to continue the sale for one calendar year commencing on June 1, 1975 within contemplation of § 2.70 of the Commission's General Policy and Interpretations (18 CFR 2.70), up to a maximum of 1,400 Mcf per day.

In Opinion No. 699-B (52 FPC—) which reinstated the limited term certificate provisions of § 2.70(b) (3) of the Commission's General Policy and Interpretations, the Commission stated that applicants for limited term certificates "will have the burden of demonstrating by substantial evidence that the price for which certification is sought is the lowest price at which that particular supply of gas may be obtained for the interstate market, and that the supply of gas is available only for the limited period for which certification is sought" (Mimeo p. 6). By letter dated June 3, 1975 the Secretary of the Federal Power Commission requested that Biglane supplement its application to demonstrate the "limited availability" of the gas since no justification for the limited term of the sale was provided in the original application.

In response, Biglane by letter filed on July 14, 1975, advised that there was presently only one producing well covered by the subject contract and the well is a low volume well which averages 58 barrels of oil per day, and 441 Mcf of associated natural gas. Biglane further stated that the proposed of the one year limited term contract "is to provide an interim market for the gas from the existing well pending further development." Biglane also stated that the location of a second well is being prepared and that "a temporary sale is required until the existence of additional reserves are confirmed."

Opinion No. 699-B, which reinstated the limited term certificate provisions of § 2.70(b) (3) of the Commission's General Policy and Interpretations has established two standards which the applicant for a limited term must demonstrate in addition to demonstrating that the pipeline purchaser is experiencing an emergency supply situation thus necessitating the need for this extraordinary procedure. First, the applicant must demonstrate by substantial evidence that "the price for which certification is sought is the lowest price at which the particular supply of gas may be obtained in the interstate market. Given the fact that Biglane intends to market its gas at the existing national rate, the pricing standard has been met. Secondly, the applicant must demonstrate by substantial evidence "that the supply of gas is available only for the limited period for which certification is sought." Biglane in its July 10, 1975, response indicating its justification for the limited availability of the subject gas indicated a need for an interim market while further development of the initial and second wells are completed and reserve estimates are confirmed.

In the past this Commission has designated for hearing applications for limited term certificates wherein the applicant in support of the limited availability standard of § 2.70(b) (3) has indicated that he cannot commit his subject reserves for a longer period in interstate commerce until further development and accurate reserve estimates are completed. In view of Biglane's presentation on the limited availability sufficient cause exists to make this an issue, subject to cross-examination in a full evidentiary hearing. Therefore, Biglane shall be required to present as part of its direct case all information concerning but not limited to its analyses, or other documents pertaining to Biglane's estimates of reserves on the subject wells. No affiliation of record exists between buyer and seller.

After due notice of the application in the Federal Register on May 29, 1975 (40 FR 23373), Southern Natural filed a timely petition to intervene on May 21, 1975, within the period designated for the filing of protests or interventions, which expired on June 17, 1975. No further petitions to intervene, notices of intervention, or protests to the granting of the instant application have been filed as of this date of issuance.

The Commission finds. (1) It is necessary and proper in the public interest and to aid in the enforcement of the provisions of the Natural Gas Act that the issues in this proceeding be the subject of a formal evidentiary hearing in accordance with the procedures as set forth below.

(2) The participation of Southern Natural Gas Company may be in the public interest.

The Commission orders. (A) Pursuant to the authority of the Natural Gas Act particularly Sections 7 and 15 thereof, the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedures, and the Regulations under the Natural Gas Act, a public hearing shall be held on September 25, 1975 at 10 a.m. (EDST) in a hearing room of the Federal Power Commission, 825 North Capitol Street, NW., Washington, D.C. 20426 concerning the issue of whether a certificate of public convenience and necessity should be granted as requested by Biglane Operating Company in its application of May 12, 1975.

(B) On or before September 15, 1975, Biglane Operating Company and any supporting party shall file with the Commission and serve on all parties including Commission Staff, their testimony and exhibits in support of their respective positions.

BOSTON EDISON CO.*Order Setting Dates for Comments on Proposed Settlement Agreement

SEPTEMBER 2, 1975.

On April 8, 1975, Boston Edison Company (Edison) and New England Power Company (NEPCO) jointly submitted a proposed settlement agreement in the instant proceeding which covers a proposed subtransmission rate schedule for wheeling service provided for NEPCO over Edison's 14/24 Kv facilities to serve approximately half of the load requirement of NEPCO's isolated Quincy-Weymouth service area. Attached to the proposed settlement agreement were (1) a letter from Staff Counsel to the company indicating Staff's support of the proposed settlement and (2) a letter to Staff Counsel from Counsel for the Towns of Concord, Norwood, and Wellesley, Massachusetts (Towns) which indicated opposition to the proposed settlement because there was a possibility that the proposed settlement might have an impact upon Towns in some fashion.

The proposed settlement was noticed on April 25, 1975, with comments due on or before May 13, 1975. On August 8, 1975, the Staff filed comments affirming its support of the proposed settlement which was first set forth in the letter from Staff to the company which was attached to the proposed settlement. No further comments were received from Towns.

In view of the fact that the position of Towns with regard to the proposed settlement is unclear, we believe it necessary and appropriate to aid in our evaluation of the proposed settlement to provide a further date for Towns to comment in order to ascertain whether or not

[Docket No. E-8997]

IOWA-ILLINOIS GAS AND ELECTRIC CO. Order Approving Settlement Agreement

SEPTEMBER 2, 1975.

On August 30, 1974, Iowa-Illinois Gas and Electric Company (Iowa-Illinois) tendered for filing proposed changes in its Electric Rate Schedule No. 20 under which Iowa-Illinois serves Sherrard Power System of Orion, Illinois (Sherrard). Iowa-Illinois' filing proposed to effect a $195,730 revenue increase, based upon a test period ended May 31, 1974.

By order issued September 27, 1974, the Commission accepted for filing and suspended for one day Iowa-Illinois' rate filing, to become effective October 1, 1974, and set the matter for hearing. No petitions to intervene were filed in the proceeding.

On March 3, 1975, the Commission Staff met with representatives of Iowa-Illinois to discuss a proposed settlement agreement reached independently by the Company and Sherrard on November 15, 1974. On April 22, 1975, Iowa-Illinois filed the proposed Stipulation and Agreement and a corresponding Motion for Approval of Stipulation and Agreement, together with cost support data.

Notice of the proposed Stipulation and Agreement was issued on April 28, 1975, with comments, protests, or petitions to intervene due on or before May 15, 1975. Staff filed comments in support of the proposed settlement on May 15, 1975. There were no other comments, petitions or protests.

The proposed Stipulation and Agreement would result in increased annual revenues from Sherrard of $154,929, based on the 12-month test period ended May 31, 1974, as compared to an increase of $195,730 reflected in Iowa-Illinois' original filing.<sup>1</sup> The overall rate of return under the settlement agreement is 8.35%.<sup>2</sup> The proposed agreement provides for a decrease in the ratchet in computing billing demand from 90% to 85% and an increase in the transformation discount from 8.0¢ per kW to 11.0¢ per kW of billing demand for load served at 69 kV, together with a reduction and refund of revenues previously collected under the suspended rate. Further, as a condition of the proposed settlement, Sherrard agrees to withdraw its Letter of Protest, filed September 25, 1974, in which it excepted to the 9.25% rate of return proposed by Iowa-Illinois and to the Company's inclusion of the 90% demand ratchet in the rate design.

Our review of the proposed settlement, Staff's comments and the related record indicates that it is a reasonable and appropriate resolution of the issues in this proceeding in the public interest and that, accordingly, it should be adopted, as hereinafter ordered.

The Commission finds. The proposed settlement of this proceeding as filed by Iowa-Illinois with the Commission on April 22, 1975, is reasonable and proper and in the public interest in carrying out

[Docket No. E-8224; Opinion No. 730-B]

SIERRA PACIFIC POWER CO.

Opinion and Order Clarifying as Well as Establishing New Procedural Schedule and Denying Motion To Expand Scope of Reopening of Record

SEPTEMBER 2, 1975.

On May 15, 1975, the Commission issued Opinion No. 730 which resolved numerous issues related to the May 22, 1973, wholesale electric rate increase filing of Sierra Pacific Power Company (Sierra). Subsequently, the Commission issued Opinion No. 730-A on July 16, 1975, in which rehearing was partially granted to the extent that the record was reopened for the limited purpose of permitting cross-examination and rebuttal of the "beyond-the-record" financial data considered by the Commission in determining the just and reasonable rate of return to be allowed Sierra.

Presently before the Commission are several matters which require further Commission action. To begin with, on August 6, 1975, intervenors Truckee-Donner Utility District and the City of Fallon protest Sierra's $4,100 reduction in rate base, made pursuant to the Commission edict in Opinion No. 730<sup>1</sup> requiring Sierra to functionalize common plant with factors derived from wages and salaries of the major functions. T-D and Fallon assert that the Commission here adopted Staff's adjustment, which consisted of a $4,100 reduction in cost of service resulting from a larger reduction in rate base due to the change in functionalization factors for common plant.

We find it necessary to clarify Opinion No. 730 in that we characterized this Staff adjustment as a "$4,100 reduction in the rate base" when in fact Staff appears to have sought a $4,100 reduction in cost of service through a reduction in rate base. The essence of our finding in Opinion No. 730 concerning functionalization of common plant is that Sierra functionalize common plant on the basis of factors derived from wages and salaries of the major functions (generation, transmission and distribution), just as it did functionalize general plant. Sierra should in fact recalculate its common plant rate base component based upon this method for the test year. We did not determine the exact amount of reduction to cost of service nor did we intend for Sierra to necessarily rely on the $4,100 figure. Sierra should refile within 30 days its allocated rate base taking into account this method of functionalization of general and common plant.

Secondly, on August 8, 1975, T-D and Fallon also moved to expand the scope of the reopening of the record established in Opinion No. 730-A so as to include consideration of a "price squeeze" allegedly being experienced by T-D and Fallon because of Sierra's wholesale rates. We deny this motion. Whatever the Commission's responsibility to consider wholesale-retail "price squeeze," pursuit of a rate reduction founded upon "price squeeze" allegations must await either a new rate increase filing by Sierra or a complaint by T-D and Fallon under section 206 of the Federal Power Act. We specifically limited the scope of this reopening, and the need for expeditious resolution of this docket justifies refusal of any expansion of its scope.

Thirdly, T-D and Fallon also requested an extension of procedural dates on August 8, 1975, in order that Sierra and Staff prepare and make available testimony concerning the "effect of beyond-the-record data on rate of return on equity capital." In response thereto the Commission deferred procedural dates on August 13, 1975, pending further order.

The hearing for purposes of reopening the record will now be scheduled to commence on September 22, 1975; however, we find that Staff and Sierra do not have to supply written testimony. Instead, both Staff and Sierra should make available for cross-examination of the five items enumerated in Opinion No. 730-A their respective witnesses who are responsible for the "beyond-the-record" data employed by the Commission. We reiterate that the scope of this reopening is limited to the reliability and credibility of this data. No other matters, such as relevancy or impact of this data, will be considered.

The Commission orders. (A) Sierra will file with the Commission within 30 days an adjusted rate base figure reflecting the impact of functionalizing its common plant on the basis of factors derived from wages and salaries of the major functions.

(B) The scope of the reopening of the record in this docket is specifically limited as provided in the body of this order.

(C) The public hearing previously scheduled to commence on August 18, 1975, will now commence on September

FEDERAL RESERVE SYSTEM BANCORPORATION OF MONTANA

Acquisition of Bank

Bancorporation of Montana, Great Falls, Montana, has applied for the Board's approval under section 3(a)(3) of the Bank Holding Company Act (12 U.S.C. 1842(a)(3)) to acquire 80 percent or more of the voting shares of The First State Bank of Thompson Falls, Thompson Falls, Montana. The factors that are considered in acting on the application are set forth in section 3(c) of the Act (12 U.S.C. 1842(c)).

The application may be inspected at the office of the Board of Governors or at the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis. Any person wishing to comment on the application should submit views in writing to the Secretary, Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, Washington, D.C. 20551, to be received not later than September 29, 1975.

Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, August 28, 1975.

MICHIGAN NATIONAL CORP.

Order Approving Acquisition of Bank

Michigan National Corporation, Bloomfield Hills, Michigan, a bank holding company within the meaning of the Bank Holding Company Act, has applied for the Board's approval under section 3(a)(3) of the Act (12 U.S.C. 1842(a)(3)) to acquire 100 percent of the voting shares (less directors' qualifying shares) of Michigan National Bank—Grand Traverse, Traverse City, Michigan ("Bank"), a proposed new bank.

Notice of the application, affording opportunity for interested persons to submit comments and views, has been given in accordance with section 3(b) of the Act. The time for filing comments and views has expired, and the Board has considered the application and all comments received, including those submitted on behalf of Traverse City State Bank, National Bank and Trust Company, and Empire National Bank, all located in Traverse City, Michigan (hereinafter collectively referred to as "Protestants"), in light of the factors set forth in section 3(c) of the Act (12 U.S.C. 1842(c)).

Applicant, the second largest banking a complex directional antenna array may need a year to gather all the data needed

Applicant, the second largest banking organization and bank holding company in Michigan, controls 14 banks with aggregate deposits of approximately $2.7 billion, representing about 9.5 percent of the total commercial bank deposits in the State.<sup>1</sup> Since Bank is a proposed new bank, its acquisition by Applicant would neither eliminate any existing competition nor immediately increase Applicant's share of commercial bank deposits in the State.

Bank is to be located within two blocks of Traverse City's central business district and represents the initial entry by Applicant into the northern portion of Michigan, as well as into the Grand Traverse Bay banking market (the relevant banking market).<sup>2</sup> There are eleven banks with thirty-two banking offices in the Grand Traverse Bay banking market and the four largest banking organizations control about 80 percent of market deposits.<sup>3</sup> Applicant's closest banking offices are located 140 miles south of Bank in Grand Rapids, and 150 miles southeast in Saginaw, and there are numerous banks in the intervening areas. Applicant's acquisition of Bank should have a procompetitive effect as it would mark the initial entry into Traverse City by a banking institution not associated with an existing Traverse City bank.

Bank would face competition primarily from the three banks located in Traverse City, the Protestants to this application, which control deposits of approximately $94 million, $54 million, and $48 million, respectively. In view of the size of each of the banks in Traverse City, as well as the fact that Applicant is entering the area through the establishment of a new bank, it does not appear the subject proposal will have any undue adverse effects on any of the competing banks in the market. On the other hand, the subject proposal should have a salutary effect on competition by introducing a new and effective competitor to the market. Accordingly, on the basis of the record, the Board concludes that competitive considerations are consistent with, and lend some weight toward, approval of the application.

In the course of its consideration of this application, the Board has received comments from Protestants which contend, in part, that Traverse City is not particularly attractive for de novo entry. The Board has reviewed the facts of record, including the past and projected growth of the economy of the area, and finds that the economy of the Traverse City market can reasonably be expected to support Applicant's entry. While the decision to establish a new bank almost always involves some measure of risk, the Board is unable to conclude that Applicant's proposal involves more than the usual entrepreneurial risks inherent in such a proposal.

Protestants also contend that Bank will not be profitable for a period longer than that estimated by Applicant and that the losses that will be experienced will further impair Applicant's ability to financially strengthen its subsidiaries and to fund its current expansion program. Even assuming that there is some merit to Protestants' contention that Bank will not be profitable within the period anticipated by Applicant, it appears that, in view of the projected size of Bank in relation to Applicant, any losses as may be incurred would probably be insignificant and would have little impact on the overall financial condition of Applicant.

Protestants finally contend that acquisition of Bank will have an adverse effect on the existing correspondent relationship between Empire National Bank and Michigan National Bank. Empire is concerned with the competitive advantage an affiliate of Applicant would have with respect to offering various services in Traverse City. Initially, the Board does not believe as a general matter that the mere fact that a bank in a holding company system has a correspondent relationship with another bank in a particular market should automatically bar the holding company from entering that market through the establishment of a new bank. In response to the specific comment of Protestants, Applicant contends that there are a number of communities in which are located both subsidiary banks of Applicant and banks having correspondent relationships with subsidiary banks of Applicant. Applicant further contends that establishment of Bank "would benefit the banking public through the offering of a wide range of services and extended banking hours." The Board is satisfied from its examination of the facts as presented that acquisition of Bank by Applicant would not have serious adverse competitive consequences. Moreover, Protestants' banks have experienced reasonably good growth. Each appears to have the ability to respond to any increase in competition which might result from consummation of this proposal. Accordingly, it is the Board's judgment, upon consideration of all the facts in the record, that the arguments raised by Protestants are not sufficient to warrant denial of the subject proposal.

The financial condition, management and prospects of Applicant and its subsidiary banks are regarded as generally satisfactory. Whereas the Board has previously indicated concern with the capital adequacy of certain of Applicant's subsidiary banks, the Board notes that Applicant has adopted a program to strengthen the overall capital positions of the holding company and its subsidiary banks, and that meaningful progress has been made along those lines. The Board believes that continued attention is needed in this area. However, in view of the minimal impact that the subject proposal would have upon Applicant's resources, it is the Board's view that banking factors are consistent with approval of the application.

Considerations relating to the convenience and needs of the communities to be served, in the Board's judgment, lend some weight toward approval, in view of Applicant's plans to offer extended banking hours and a wide range of banking services in an alternative location. Thus, considerations relating to the convenience and needs of the areas to be served lend some weight toward approval of the application. It is the Board's judgment that consummation of the proposed acquisition would be in the public interest and that the application should be approved.

On the basis of the record, the application is approved for the reasons summarized above. The transaction shall not be consummated (a) before the thirtieth calendar date following the effective date of this Order or (b) later than three months after the effective date of this Order, and (c) Michigan National Bank—Grand Traverse, Traverse City, Michigan, shall be opened for business not later than six months after the effective date of this Order. Each of the periods described in (b) and (c) may be extended for good cause by the Board, or by the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago pursuant to delegated authority.

By order of the Board of Governors, effective August 29, 1975.

[SEAL] THEODORE E. ALLISON,
Secretary of the Board.

In accordance with § 271.5 of its rules regarding availability of information, * Voting for this action: Chairman Burns and Governors Mitchell, Bucher, Holland, Wallach, and Jackson. Absent and not voting: Governor Caldwell.

there is set forth below the Committee's Domestic Policy Directive issued at its meeting held on July 15, 1975.<sup>1</sup>

The information reviewed at this meeting suggests that real output of goods and services leveled off in the second quarter of the year, as consumer spending continued to strengthen. Activity in residential real estate markets has picked up in recent months. In June industrial production rose slightly, following 8 months of decline. The calculated unemployment rate declined substantially, but this was attributed mainly to problems of seasonal adjustment. Average wholesale prices of industrial commodities rose somewhat more in June than in the preceding 3 months, chiefly because of increases in prices of petroleum products, but prices of farm and food products declined appreciably. From the first to the second quarter of the year, the advance in average wage rates continued to moderate.

In recent weeks the average exchange value of the dollar against leading foreign currencies has risen considerably, as interest rates on U.S. dollar assets increased relative to rates on foreign currency assets after mid-June. In May the U.S. foreign trade balance registered a substantial surplus, as imports dropped more sharply than exports. U.S. banks reported a sizable increase in claims on foreigners, while liabilities to foreigners were reduced slightly.

Growth in M<sub>1</sub>, M<sub>2</sub>, M<sub>3</sub>—which was substantial in May—was extremely rapid in June, in part because of Federal income tax rebates and of supplementary social security payments; beginning late in the month, after completion of such payments, the aggregates weakened. Business demands for short-term credit remained unusually weak both at banks and in the commercial paper market, while demands in the long-term market continued exceptionally strong. Market interest rates in general have risen appreciably in recent weeks.

In light of the foregoing developments, it is the policy of the Federal Open Market Committee to foster financial conditions conducive to stimulating economic recovery, while resisting inflationary pressures and working toward equilibrium in the country's balance of payments.

To implement this policy, while taking account of the forthcoming Treasury financing and of developments in domestic and international financial markets, the Committee seeks to maintain about the prevailing bank reserve and money market conditions over the period immediately ahead, provided that growth in monetary aggregates appears to be slowing substantially from the bulge during the second quarter.

By order of the Federal Open Market Committee, September 2, 1975.

ARTHUR L. BROIDA,
Secretary.

Request for clearance of a revision of FCC Form 302, Application for New Broadcast Station License required to be filed in all cases by applicants seeking a broadcast station license in the Radio Broadcast Services and the Experimental, Auxiliary, and Special Broadcast, and Other Program Distributional Services pursuant to FCC Rules and Regulations (Sections 1.536, 1.537, and 1.546). The man-hour burden could vary considerably from one day to one year depending upon the nature of the application. When this form is used to apply for either FM or TV licenses, approximately sixty hours is needed for completion. When this form is used to apply for an AM license, the time needed can vary greatly. A simple application could be completed in one day's time. On the other hand, a station with a complex directional antenna array may need a year to gather all the data needed to complete the form. The FCC receives approximately 950 applications annually.

Request for clearance of a revision of FCC Form 341, Application for Non-commercial Educational TV, FM, or Standard Broadcast Station License, required to be filed by applicants seeking a non-commercial educational TV, FM, or standard broadcast station license pursuant to FCC Rules and Regulations (Sections 1.536 and 1.537). Man-hour burden could vary considerably from one day to one year depending upon the nature of the application. When this form is used to apply for either FM or TV licenses, approximately sixty hours is needed for completion. When this form is used to apply for an AM license, the time needed can vary greatly. A simple application could be completed in one day's time. On the other hand, a station with section 332(g) of the Tariff Act of 1930 (19 U.S.C. 1332(g)) on the U.S.-Canadian Automotive Agreement as implemented under the Automotive Products Trade Act of 1964.

The investigation was ordered in response to a request of the Senate Committee on Finance. The Committee set forth the scope of its request as follows:

The Committee is interested in having a thorough analysis of the history and terms of the U.S.-Canadian Automotive Agreement and its impact on U.S. and Canadian trade, employment, production, balance of payments, capital flows, and investment patterns. We are particularly interested in the Commission's view as to whether or not Canada has fully complied with the letter and the spirit of the Agreement by phasing out the so-called "transitional provisions". In addition, it would be useful to know the relative structure of production of automobiles within the U.S.-Canadian markets and any shifts which may have occurred as a result of the current decline in industry sales in the U.S. as compared with Canada.

A public hearing in connection with the investigation will be held in Detroit, Michigan, beginning at 10 a.m., e.s.t., on Tuesday, November 18, 1975, at a place to be announced.

Requests to appear at the hearing should be filed in writing with the Secretary of the Commission not later than November 12, 1975. Written submissions in addition to or in lieu of oral testimony should be received by the Secretary of the Commission by November 28, 1975, to assure time for consideration.

Pursuant to section 10(a)(2) of the Federal Advisory Committee Act (Pub. L. 92-463), notice is hereby given that a meeting of the Artists-In-Schools Advisory Panel to the National Council on the Arts will be held on September 23, 24, 1975 from 9 a.m.—5:30 p.m. both days in the first floor conference room of the Shoreham Building, 806 15th Street, NW., Washington, D.C.

A portion of this meeting will be open to the public on September 23 from 9-10 a.m. and on September 24 from 12:45-5:30 p.m. on a space available basis. Accommodations are limited. During the open session on September 23 there will be a slide show on the Artists-in-Schools Program and a summary of the individual components of the Artists-in-Schools Program. During the open session on September 24, there will be a preview of the February panel policy; a film—Arts: An Alternative in Education; and a discussion of the report on AIS National Meeting in Notre Dame.

The remaining sessions of this meeting on September 23 from 11:15 a.m.—5:30 p.m. and on September 24 from 9-11:00 a.m. are for the purpose of Panel review, discussion, evaluation, and recommendation on applications for financial assistance under the National Foundation on the Arts and the Humanities Act of 1965, as amended, including discussion of information given in confidence to the agency by grant applicants. In accordance with the determination of the Chairman published in the FEDERAL REGISTER of June 16, 1975, these sessions, which involve matters exempt from the requirements of public disclosure under the provisions of the Freedom of Information Act (5 U.S.C. 552(b) (4) and (5)), will not be open to the public.

Further information with reference to this meeting can be obtained from Mrs. Eleanor A. Snyder, Acting Advisory Committee Management Officer, National Endowment for the Arts, Washington, D.C. 20506, or call (202) 634-6110.

RESEARCH PANEL ADVISORY COMMITTEE Meeting

AUGUST 25, 1975.

Pursuant to the provisions of the Federal Advisory Committee Act (Pub. L. 92-463) notice is hereby given that a meeting of the Research Panel will meet at Washington, D.C., September 25 and 26, 1975, from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

The purpose of the meeting is to review research grant applications submitted to the National Endowment for the Humanities for possible grant funding.

Because the proposed meeting will consider financial information and personnel and similar files the disclosure of which would constitute a clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy, pursuant to authority granted me by the Chairman's Delegation of Authority to Close Advisory Committee Meetings, dated August 13, 1973, I have determined that the meeting would fall within exemptions (4) and (6) of 5 U.S.C. 552(b) and that it is essential to close the meeting to protect the free exchange of internal views and to avoid interference with operation of the Committee.

It is suggested that those desiring more specific information contact the Advisory Committee Management Officer, Mr. John W. Jordan, 806 15th Street, NW., Washington, D.C. 20506, or call Area Code 202-382-2031.

BRUNSWICK STEAM ELECTRIC PLANT UNIT 2

Negative Declaration Regarding Proposed Changes to Technical Specifications of License DPR-62

The Nuclear Regulatory Commission (the Commission) has considered the issuance of changes to the Technical Specifications of Facility Operating License No. DPR-62. These changes would authorize the Carolina Power and Light Company (CP&L) (the licensee) to operate the Brunswick Steam Electric Plant Unit 2 (located near the town of Southport, Brunswick County, North Carolina) with changes to the limiting conditions for operation resulting from application of the Acceptance Criteria for Emergency Core Cooling System (ECCS) in conjunction with a reactor core using 7 x 7 fuel in Unit 2.

The U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission, Division of Reactor Licensing, has prepared an environmental impact appraisal for the proposed changes to the Technical Specifications of License No. DPR-62, Brunswick Unit 2, described above. On the basis of this appraisal, the Technical Specifications, (3) the Com- erating License in connection with item

On the basis of this appraisal, the Commission has concluded that an environmental impact statement for this particular action is not warranted because there will be no environmental impact attributable to the proposed action other than that which has already been predicted and described in the Commission's Final Environmental Statement for Brunswick Units 1 and 2 published in January 1974. The environmental impact appraisal is available for public inspection at the Commission's Public Document Room, 1717 H Street, NW., Washington, D.C., and at Southport-Brunswick County Library, 109 W. CAROLINA POWER & LIGHT CO.
Issuance of Amendment to Facility
Operating License

Notice is hereby given that the U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission (the Commission) has issued Amendment No. 5 to Facility Operating License No. DPR-62 issued to Carolina Power and Light Company which revised Technical Specifications for operation of the Brunswick Steam Electric Plant Unit 2 located in Brunswick County, North Carolina. The amendment is effective as of its date of issuance.

The amendment incorporates operating limits in the Technical Specifications for the facility (1) based on an acceptable evaluation model that conforms with the requirements of section 50.46 of 10 CFR Part 50 and (2) based on the new General Electric Thermal Analysis Basis in accordance with the Carolina Power and Light Company's request dated May 9, 1975.

The application for the amendment complies with the standards and requirements of the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as amended (the Act), and the Commission's rules and regulations. The Commission has made appropriate findings as required by the Act and the Commission's rules and regulations in 10 CFR Chapter I, which are set forth in the license amendment. Notice of Proposed Issuance of Amendment to Facility Operating License in connection with this action was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on June 12, 1975 (40 FR 25108). No request for a hearing or petition for leave to intervene was filed following notice of the proposed action.

For further details with respect to this action, see (1) the application for amendment dated May 9, 1975 and supplements thereto dated July 11, 22, 28, 1975, (2) Amendment No. 5 to License No. DPR-62 with change No. 5, to the Technical Specifications, (3) the Commission's concurrently issued related Safety Evaluation, and (4) the Commission's Negative Declaration dated July 16, 1975 (which is also being published in the FEDERAL REGISTER) and associated Environmental Impact Appraisal.

All of these items are available for public inspection at the Commission's Public Document Room, 1717 H Street, NW., Washington, D.C., and at the Southport-Brunswick County Library, 109 W. Moore Street, Southport, North Carolina 28461. A single copy of items (2), (3) and (4) may be obtained upon request addressed to the U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission, Washington, D.C. 20555. COMMONWEALTH EDISON CO.

Issuance of Facility License Amendment

Notice is hereby given that the U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission (the Commission) has issued Amendment No. 5 to Facility Operating License No. DPR-25 to the Commonwealth Edison Company (the licensee) which revised Technical Specifications for operation of the Dresden Nuclear Power Station Unit 3 (the facility) located in Grundy County, Illinois. The amendment is effective as of its date of issuance.

The amendment revised the provisions in the Technical Specifications for the facility to authorize operation (1) with additional 8 x 8 fuel assemblies, (2) using operating limits based on the General Electric Thermal Analysis Basis (GETAB), (3) using modified operating limits based on an acceptable evaluation model that conforms with § 50.46 of 10 CFR Part 50, and (4) with a slight increase in the APRM Flux Trip and Rod Block limit for operations involving high peaking factors, in accordance with the licensee's applications for the amendment as referenced in the last paragraph of this notice.

The applications for the amendment comply with the standards and requirements of the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as amended (the Act), and the Commission's rules and regulations. The Commission has made appropriate findings as required by the Act and the Commission's rules and regulations in 10 CFR Chapter I which are set forth in the license amendment. Notice of Proposed Issuance of Amendment to Facility Operating License in connection with items (1) through (3) above was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on May 27, 1975 (40 FR 22889) and Notice of Proposed Issuance of Amendment to Facility Operating License in connection with item (4) above was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on November 21, 1974 (39 FR 40880). No request for a hearing or petition for leave to intervene was filed following notices of the proposed actions.

For further details with respect to this action, see (1) the applications for amendment dated January 21, April 4, May 5, 1975, May 27, 1974, and supplements dated February 11, May 7, 21, June 18, August 15, 18 and 27, June 23, July 7 and 10, and August 25, 1975, and April 8, 1975 (Quad Cities 2 submittal applicable to Dresden 3 which is the non-proprietary version of the July 21, 1975 submittal), October 22 and December 5, 1974, (2) Amendment No. 5 to License No. DPR-25 with Change No. 22, (3) the Commission's concurrently issued related Safety Evaluation, and (4) the Commission's Negative Declaration dated August 29, 1975, (which is also being published in the FEDERAL REGISTER) and associated Environmental Impact Appraisal. All of these items are available for public inspection at the Commission's Public Document Room, 1717 H Street, NW., Washington, D.C., and at the Morris Public Library at 604 Liberty Street in Morris, Illinois 60451. A single copy of items (2), (3) and (4) may be obtained upon request addressed to the Nuclear Regulatory Commission, Washington, D.C. 20555. Attention: Director, Division of Reactor Licensing.

DRESDEN NUCLEAR POWER STATION
UNIT 3

Negative Declaration Regarding Proposed Changes to the Technical Specifications of License DPR-25

The Nuclear Regulatory Commission (the Commission) has considered the issuance of changes to the Technical Specifications of Facility Operating License No. DPR-25. These changes would authorize the Commonwealth Edison Company (the licensee) to operate the Dresden Nuclear Power Station Unit 3 (located in Grundy County, Illinois) with changes to the limiting conditions for operation associated with fuel assembly specific power (average planar linear heat generation rate) which would limit maximum fuel clad temperature in case of a loss of coolant accident, in accordance with the Acceptance Criteria for Emergency Core Cooling System (10 CFR 50.46 and Appendix K to 10 CFR Part 50).

The U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission, Division of Reactor Licensing, has prepared an Environmental Impact Appraisal for the proposed changes to the Technical Specifications of License No. DPR-25, Dresden Unit 3, described above. On the basis of this appraisal, the Commission has concluded that an environmental impact statement for this particular action is not warranted because there will be no environmental impact attributable to the proposed action other than that which has already been predicted and described in the Commission's Final Environmental Statement for Dresden Nuclear Power Station Units 2 and 3 published in November 1973. The Environmental Impact Appraisal is available for public inspection at the Commission's Public Document Room, 1717 H Street, NW., Washington, D.C., and at the Morris Public Library, 604 Liberty Street, Morris, Illinois.

DUKE POWER CO.

Issuance of Amendments to Facility
Operating Licenses

Notice is hereby given that the U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission (the Commission) has issued Amendments No. 12, 12 and 9 to Facility Operating Licenses No. DPR-38, DPR-47 and DPR-55, respectively, issued to Duke Power Company which revised Technical Specifications for operation of the Oconee Nuclear Station, Units 1, 2 and 3, located in Oconee County, South Carolina. The amendments are effective as of the date of issuance.

These amendments (1) allow the non-preferential use of either the in-core or out-of-core nuclear detector systems to determine quadrant power tilt and (2) make reference to explanatory figures as a substitution for deleted portions of the text.

The application for the amendments complies with the standards and requirements of the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as amended (the Act), and the Commission's rules and regulations. The Commission has made appropriate findings as required by the Act and the Commission's rules and regulations in 10 CFR Chapter I, which are set forth in the license amendments. Prior public notice of these amendments is not required since the amendments do not involve a significant hazards consideration.

For further details with respect to this action, see (1) the application for amendments dated June 10, 1975, (2) Amendments No. 12, 12 and 9 to Licenses No. DPR-38, DPR-47 and DPR-55, with Changes No. 22, 17 and 9, and (3) The Commission's related Safety Evaluation. GEORGIA POWER CO., (ALVIN W. VOGTLE NUCLEAR PLANT, UNITS 1 AND 2)

Supplemental Hearing on Proposed Amendment to Construction Permits

Pursuant to the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as amended (the Act), and the regulations in Title 10, Code of Federal Regulations, Part 50, "Licensing of Production and Utilization Facilities," and Part 2, "Rules of Practice," notice is hereby given that a public hearing will be held before an Atomic Safety and Licensing Board (the "Board" or the "Licensing Board") at a time and place to be set in the future by the Board, to consider proposed amendments filed under the Act by the Georgia Power Company (the Applicant) to construction permits the Applicant has received to build two pressurized water nuclear reactors designated as the Alvin W. Vogtle Nuclear Plant Units 1 and 2 (the facilities), each of which is designed for initial operation at approximately 3411 thermal megawatts with a net electrical output of approximately 1100 megawatts. The proposed facilities are to be located near the Savannah River in Burke County, Georgia, on a 3,177-acre site approximately 26 miles southeast of Augusta, Georgia, and 15 miles east of Waynesboro, Georgia. The hearing will be scheduled to begin in the vicinity of the site of the proposed facilities.

On July 15, 1975, the Applicant filed a request with the Director of the Office of Nuclear Reactor Regulation to amend the construction permits for Units 1 and 2 to reflect a contemplated ownership sale and certain other changed circumstances (including Applicant's decision to cancel construction of Units 3 and 4 and a request to extend estimated completion dates on Units 1 and 2). The Appeal Board (Atomic Safety and Licensing Appeal Board or "ALAB") remanded this proceeding "to the Licensing Board for the purpose of conducting a supplemental hearing on at least those issues which are directly raised by the pending applications of the applicant for amendments to its construction permits for Units 1 and 2" (ALAB-285, Aug. 12, 1975).

Although the precise scope of the issues to be heard and determined by the Board at the evidentiary hearing will be delineated in later orders of the Board, the need for this supplemental hearing is precipitated by, and will concern the effect the changed circumstances might have on the two construction permits, including issues related to the Applicant's proposed sale of a majority undivided ownership interest in Units 1 and 2 of Vogtle Nuclear Plant to three specified entities (Oglethorpe Electric Membership Corporation (OEMC), the Municipal Electric Authority of Georgia (MEAG), and the City of Dalton), and also the issue of a requested extension in completion dates.

An abbreviated history of this proceeding is as follows. On May 1, 1973, the Atomic Energy Commission published in the FEDERAL REGISTER a "Notice of Hearing on Application for Construction Permits" (38 FR 10751), which ordered a hearing to be held to consider issues pursuant to the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as amended, 42 U.S.C. 2011 et seq., and issues pursuant to the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (NEPA), 42 U.S.C. 4321 et seq. On June 6, 1973, a subsequent notice of the Atomic Safety and Licensing Board Panel entitled "Establishment of Atomic Safety and Licensing Board" designated this Board to conduct the hearing.

On April 16, 1974, pursuant to prior notice and publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER, the public evidentiary hearing on NEPA issues was held in Waynesboro, Georgia. On May 9, 1974, again pursuant to notice and FEDERAL REGISTER publication, an additional public evidentiary hearing was held in Bethesda, Maryland, relating to site suitability issues as required by recent amendments to the Commission's regulations, "Pre-Construction Permit Activities," 29 FR 14506, April 24, 1974.

On May 24, 1974, this Board issued its Initial Decision (Partial Construction Permit Proceeding—Environmental Matters and Site Suitability Only), which, the Board stated, would constitute a portion of the Initial Decision to be issued upon completion of this proceeding (RAI-74-5, LBP-74-39). This Board concluded therein that the appropriate action to be taken is issuance of construction permits for the proposed facility, subject to certain conditions for the protection of the environment and subject to this Board's conclusions after hearing the evidence in the later radiological health and safety phase of this proceeding.

Subsequent to issuance of the Board's partial Initial Decision, and on the basis of the findings and conclusions therein, the Director of Regulation on May 28, 1974, granted to Applicant, subject to certain enumerated conditions, a limited work authorization to conduct activities previously identified by Applicant which the Director determined are within the scope of activities described in 10 CFR Part 50, § 50(e) (1) (see Tr. 263, 277).

On May 15, 1974, this Board published its Notice of Health and Safety Hearing

(39 FR 17356), scheduling a public evidentiary hearing before the Board on pearance are requested to inform the Secretary of the Commission. United

Pursuant to 29 CFR 90.13, the petitioner or any other person showing a substantial interest in the subject mat-

(39 FR 17356), scheduling a public evidentiary hearing before the Board on May 29, 1974, in Augusta, Georgia. The hearing was held as scheduled and subsequent thereto the Board issued its Initial Decision authorizing the issuance of construction permits for Vogtle Units 1, 2, 3, and 4 (LEP-74-48, 7 AEC 1166, June 27, 1974). Pursuant to that authorization, on June 28, 1974, the AEC issued construction permits for all four planned Vogtle units (CPR-108 through CPR-111). The Appeal Board order remanding the proceeding to the Atomic Safety and Licensing Board (ALAB-285, supra) was issued August 12, 1975.

The Board will convene a special prehearing conference of the parties to the proceeding and persons who have filed petitions for leave to intervene, or their counsel, to be held at such time as may be appropriate, at a place to be set by the Board for the purpose of dealing with the matters specified in 10 CFR 2.751a. Notice of the special prehearing conference will be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

The Board will convene a prehearing conference of the parties, or their counsel, to be held subsequent to any special prehearing conference, after discovery has been completed, at a time and place to be set by the Board for the purpose of dealing with the matters specified in 10 CFR 2.752.

For further details, see the application for construction permits dated February 8, 1973, amendments thereto, copies of the construction permits (CPR-108 and 109), and the Applicant's July 15, 1975, request for amendments to the permits, which are available for public inspection at the Commission's Public Document Room, 1717 H Street NW., Washington, D.C., between the hours of 8:30 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. on weekdays. Copies of those documents are also available at the Burke County Library, Fourth Street, Waynesboro, Georgia 30830, for inspection by members of the public between the hours of 10:00 a.m. and 9:00 p.m. on Monday; 10:00 a.m. and 6:00 p.m. Tuesday through Friday; and 10:00 a.m. and 1:00 p.m. on Saturday. Copies of other related documents, including transcripts of the prior hearings, are also available at the above locations. Copies of the construction permits and application for amendment may be obtained by request to the Director, Division of Reactor Licensing, Office of Nuclear Reactor Regulation, United States Nuclear Regulatory Commission, Washington, D.C. 20555.

Any person who does not wish to, or is not qualified to become a party to this proceeding may request permission to make a limited appearance pursuant to the provisions of 10 CFR § 2.715. A person making a limited appearance may only make an oral or written statement on the record, and may not participate in the proceeding in any other way. Limited appearances will be permitted at the time of the hearing in the discretion of the Board, within such limits and on such conditions as may be fixed by the Board. Persons desiring to make a limited appearance are requested to inform the Secretary of the Commission, United States Nuclear Regulatory Commission, Washington, D.C. 20555, not later than October 8, 1975.

A person permitted to make a limited appearance does not become a party, but may state his position and raise questions which he would like to have answered to the extent that questions are within the scope of the hearing.

Any person whose interest may be affected by the proceeding, who does not wish to make a limited appearance and who wishes to participate as a party in the proceeding must file a written petition under oath or affirmation for leave to intervene in accordance with the provisions of 10 CFR 2.714.

A petition for leave to intervene shall set forth the interest of the petitioner in the proceeding, how that interest may be affected by the results of the proceeding and any other contentions of the petitioner including the facts and reasons why he should be permitted to intervene, with particular reference to the following factors: (1) The nature of the petitioner's right under the Act to be made a party to the proceeding; (2) the nature and extent of the petitioner's property, financial, or other interest in the proceeding; and (3) the possible effect of any order which may be entered in the proceeding on the petitioner's interest.

Any such petition shall be accompanied by a supporting affidavit identifying the specific aspect or aspects of the subject matter of the proceeding as to which the petitioner wishes to intervene and setting forth with particularity both the facts pertaining to his interest and the basis for his contentions with regard to each aspect on which he desires to intervene. A petition that sets forth contentions relating only to matters outside the jurisdiction of the Commission will be denied.

A petition for leave to intervene must be filed with the Office of the Secretary of the Commission, United States Nuclear Regulatory Commission, Washington, D.C. 20555, Attention: Docketing and Service Section, or may be delivered to the Commission's Public Document Room, 1717 H Street NW., Washington, D.C., not later than October 8, 1975. A petition for leave to intervene which is not timely will not be granted unless the Board determines that the petitioner has made a substantial showing of good cause for failure to file on time and after the Board has considered those factors specified in 10 CFR 2.714(a) (1)-(4) and 2.714(d).

Those permitted to intervene become parties to the proceeding, subject to any limitations in the order granting leave to intervene, and have all the rights of the Applicant to participate fully in the conduct of the hearing, such as the examination and cross-examination of witnesses, with respect to their contentions related to the matters at issue in the proceeding.

An answer to this notice, pursuant to the provisions of 10 CFR 2.705, must be filed by the Applicant not later than October 1, 1975.

Papers required to be filed in this proceeding may be filed by mail or telegram addressed to the Secretary of the Commission, United States Nuclear Regulatory Commission, Washington, D.C. 20555, Attention: Docketing and Service Section, or may be filed by delivery to the Commission's Public Document Room, 1717 H Street NW., Washington, D.C.

Pending further order of the Board, parties are required to file, pursuant to the provisions of 10 CFR 2.708, an original and twenty (20) conformed copies of each such paper with the Commission.

Issued at Bethesda, Md., this 3d day of September 1975.

For the Atomic Safety and Licensing Board.

VERMONT YANKEE NUCLEAR POWER CORP.

Issuance of Amendment to Facility Operating License

Notice is hereby given that the U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission (the Commission) has issued Amendment No. 15 to Facility Operating License No. DPR-28 issued to Vermont Yankee Nuclear Power Corporation which revised Technical Specifications for operation of the Vermont Yankee Nuclear Power Station, located near Vernon, Vermont. The amendment is effective as of its date of issuance.

The amendment permits changes to the testing requirements for the standby gas treatment system, makes changes to clarify the intent of the current requirement on system fan performance and flow distribution and changes the frequency for tests and sample analysis to be consistent with the operating cycle of the reactor. Changes were made to the Bases to provide guidance on recommended filter replacement quality levels and the use of removable charcoal samplers for laboratory test samples.

The application for the amendment complies with the standards and requirements of the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as amended (the Act), and the Commission's rules and regulations. The Commission has made appropriate findings as required by the Act and the Commission's rules and regulations in 10 CFR Chapter I, which are set forth in the license amendment. Prior public notice of this amendment is not required since the amendment does not involve a significant hazards consideration.

For further details with respect to this action, see (1) the application for amendment dated May 6, 1975, (2) Amendment No. 15 to License No. DPR-28, with Change No. 26 and (3) the Commission's related Safety Evaluation. All of these items are available for public inspection at the Commission's Public Document Room, 1717 H Street, NW., Washington, D.C. and at the Brook Memorial Library at 224 Main Street, Brattleboro, Vermont 05301. A copy of items (2) and (3) may be obtained upon request addressed to the U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission, Washington, D.C. 20555, Attention: Director, Division of Reactor Licensing.

Dated at Bethesda, Md., this 28th day of August, 1975.

Investigation Regarding Certification of Eligibility To Apply for Worker Adjustment Assistance

On August 27, 1975, the Department of Labor received a petition filed under section 221(a) of the Trade Act of 1974 ("the Act") by the International Union of Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers on behalf of the workers and former workers of Shenandoah, Virginia plant of Alliance Manufacturing Company, Alliance, Ohio (TA-W-129). Accordingly, the Acting Director, Office of Trade Adjustment Assistance, Bureau of International Labor Affairs, has instituted an investigation as provided in section 221(a) of the Act and 29 CFR 90.12.

The purpose of the investigation is to determine whether absolute or relative increases of imports of articles like or directly competitive with small electrical motors produced by Alliance Manufacturing Company or an appropriate subdivision thereof have contributed importantly to an absolute decline in sales or production, or both, of such firm or subdivision and to the actual or threatened total or partial separation of a significant number or proportion of the workers of such firm or subdivision. The investigation will further relate, as appropriate, to the determination of the date on which total or partial separations began or threatened to begin and the subdivision of the firm involved. A group meeting the eligibility requirements of section 222 of the Act will be certified as eligible to apply for adjustment assistance under Title II, Chapter 2, of the Act in accordance with the provisions of Subpart B of 29 CFR Part 90.

Pursuant to 29 CFR 90.13, the petitioner or any other person showing a substantial interest in the subject matter of the investigation may request a public hearing, provided such request is filed in writing with the Acting Director, Office of Trade Adjustment Assistance, at the address shown below, on or before September 18, 1975.

The petition filed in this case is available for inspection at the Office of the Acting Director, Office of Trade Adjustment Assistance, Bureau of International Labor Affairs, U.S. Department of Labor, 3rd St. and Constitution Ave., NW., Washington, D.C. 20210.

Investigation Regarding Certification of Eligibility To Apply for Worker Adjustment Assistance

On August 27, 1975, the Department of Labor received a petition filed under section 221(a) of the Trade Act of 1974 ("the Act") by the United Auto Workers on behalf of the workers and former workers of Heavy Vehicle Systems Group, Elyria, Ohio of The Bendix Corporation, Southfield, Michigan (TA-W-128). Accordingly, the Acting Director, Office of Trade Adjustment Assistance, Bureau of International Labor Affairs, has instituted an investigation as provided in section 221(a) of the Act and 29 CFR 90.12.

The purpose of the investigation is to determine whether absolute or relative increases of imports of articles like or directly competitive with components for airbrake systems produced by The Bendix Corporation or an appropriate subdivision thereof have contributed importantly to an absolute decline in sales or production, or both, of such firm or subdivision and to the actual or threatened total or partial separation of a significant number or proportion of the workers of such firm or subdivision. The investigation will further relate, as appropriate, to the determination of the date on which total or partial separations began or threatened to begin and the subdivision of the firm involved. A group meeting the eligibility requirements of section 222 of the Act will be certified as eligible to apply for adjustment assistance under Title II, Chapter 2, of the Act in accordance with the provisions of Subpart B of 29 CFR Part 90.

Pursuant to 29 CFR 90.13, the petitioner or any other person showing a substantial interest in the subject matter of the investigation may request a public hearing, provided such request is filed in writing with the Acting Director, Office of Trade Adjustment Assistance, at the address shown below, on or before September 18, 1975.

BORG-WARNER CORP., TOLEDO, OHIO
Negative Determination Regarding Eligibility To Apply for Worker Adjustment Assistance

In accordance with Section 223 of the Trade Act of 1974 the Department of Labor herein presents the results of TA-W-77: investigation regarding certification of eligibility to apply for worker adjustment assistance as prescribed in section 222 of the Act.

The investigation was initiated on July 8, 1975 in response to a worker petition received on June 30, 1975 which was filed by the United Automobile Aerospace and Agricultural Implement Workers of America International Union, (UAW) on behalf of workers formerly producing chainsaw carburetors at the Marvel-Schebler/Tillotson Division plant of Borg-Warner in Toledo, Ohio.

The notice of investigation was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (40 FR 30333) on July 18, 1975. No public hearing was requested and none was held.

The information upon which the determination was made was obtained principally from officials of Borg-Warner, its customers, the Department of Commerce, the Security Exchange Commission, "Chain Saw Age," and the Department files.

In order to make an affirmative determination and issue a certification of eligibility to apply for adjustment assistance, each of the group eligibility requirements of section 222 of the Trade Act of 1974 must be met:

(1) That a significant number or proportion of the workers in such workers' firm or an appropriate subdivision of the firm have become totally or partially separated, or are threatened to become totally or partially separated.

(2) That sales or production, or both, of such firm or subdivision have decreased absolutely, and

(3) That increases of imports of articles like or directly competitive with articles produced by such workers' firm or an appropriate subdivision thereof contributed importantly to such total or partial separation, or threat thereof, and to such decline in sales or production.

For purposes of paragraph (3), the term "contributed importantly" means a cause which is important but not necessarily more important than any other cause.

Significant total or partial separations. A significant number or proportion of the workers at the Marvel-Schebler/Tillotson, Toledo, Ohio plant became totally or partially separated in the first six months of 1975. Employment declined 47 percent from December 30, 1974, to June 30, 1975.

Sales or production, or both, have decreased absolutely. Sales declined 25 percent in the first half of 1975 compared to the first half of 1974.

Increased imports contributed importantly. Imports of articles like or directly competitive with those produced at the Toledo plant decreased from 104,000 units in the first six months of 1974 to 46,000 units in the first six months of 1975. The ratios of imports to domestic consumption and production decreased from 5.9 percent and 6.2 percent respectively in the first half of 1974 to 3.4 percent and 4.0 percent respectively in the first half of 1975.

The evidence developed in the Department's investigation indicates that the separation of workers engaged in the production of chainsaw carburetors was caused by the decrease in domestic demand for chainsaws. This resulted in the decrease in the production of chainsaw carburetors.

Conclusion. After careful review of the facts obtained in the investigation, I conclude that increases of imports like or directly competitive with chainsaw carburetors produced by Borg-Warner's Toledo plant did not contribute importantly to the total or partial separation of the workers of that plant.

Signed at Washington, D.C., this 29th day of August 1975.

CONTINENTAL FORWARDING CO., WASHINGTON, MISSOURI
Certification Regarding Eligibility To Apply for Worker Adjustment Assistance

In accordance with section 223 of the Trade Act of 1974 the Department of Labor herein presents the results of TA-W-67: investigation regarding certification of eligibility to apply for worker adjustment assistance as prescribed in section 222 of the Act.

The investigation was initiated on July 3, 1975, in response to a worker petition received on June 30, 1975, which was filed by Teamsters Local 688 on behalf of workers formerly handling and shipping footwear for men, women, and children at the Washington, Missouri, warehouse of the Continental Forwarding Company, a wholly-owned subsidiary of the International Shoe Company, a division of Interco, Incorporated, St. Louis, Missouri.

The notice of investigation was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (40 FR 29577) on July 14, 1975. No public hearing was requested and none was held.

The information upon which the determination was made was obtained principally from officials of International Shoe, its customers, industry analysts, and Department files.

In order to make an affirmative determination and issue a certification of eligibility to apply for adjustment assistance, each of the group eligibility requirements of section 222 of the Trade Act of 1974 must be met:

(1) That a significant number or proportion of the workers in such workers' firm or an appropriate subdivision of the firm have become totally or partially separated, or are threatened to become totally or partially separated.

(2) That sales or production, or both, of such firm or subdivision have decreased absolutely, and

(3) That increases of imports of articles like or directly competitive with articles produced by such workers' firm or an appropriate subdivision thereof contributed importantly to such total or partial separation, or threat thereof, and to such decline in sales or production.

For purposes of paragraph (3), the term "contributed importantly" means a cause which is important but not necessarily more important than any other cause.

Significant total or partial separations. A significant number or proportion of the workers at the Washington warehouse became totally or partially separated in the fourth quarter of 1974. Employment of production workers was terminated during the second quarter of 1975, and employment of clerical workers will be terminated during the third quarter of 1975.

Sales or production, or both, have decreased absolutely. Sales of the International Shoe Company declined 12.6 percent from 1973 to 1974. Sales declined 43.7 percent in the first quarter of 1975 compared to the first quarter of 1974.

Increased imports contributed importantly. Imports of articles like or directly competitive with those handled and shipped at the Washington warehouse have increased significantly over the past five years.

Imports of men's nonrubber footwear increased from about 45 million pairs in 1970 to about 69 million pairs in 1974. The import/consumption and import/production ratios increased from 35.4 percent and 54.7 percent respectively in 1970 to 44.5 percent and 80.1 percent in 1974.

Imports of women's nonrubber footwear increased from about 167 million pairs in 1970 to about 190 million pairs in 1974. The import/consumption and import/production ratios increased from 39.7 percent and 66.0 percent respectively in 1970 to 52.4 percent and 110.1 percent in 1974.

Imports of children's and misses' footwear increased as a ratio of domestic consumption and production from 27.9 percent and 38.7 percent respectively in 1970 to 37.8 percent and 60.7 percent in 1974.

The evidence developed in the Department's investigation indicates that the separation of workers engaged in operations at the Washington was caused by the increase of competitive imports. The company was forced to contract warehouse operations because it could not compete at a profitable level with imports.

Conclusion. After careful review of the facts obtained in the investigation, I conclude that increases of imports like or directly competitive with footwear for men, women, and children handled and shipped at the Washington, Missouri warehouse of the Continental Forwarding Company contributed importantly to the total or partial separation of the workers of that warehouse. Section 223(b)(2) of the Trade Act of 1974 provides that a certification of eligibility to apply for adjustment assistance may not apply to any worker last separated from the firm or subdivision more than 6 months before April 3, 1975, the effective date of the new program. In accordance with the provisions of the Act I make the following certification:

All hourly, piecework, and salaried worker employed at the Washington, Missouri warehouse of the Continental Forwarding Company, a wholly-owned subsidiary of the International Shoe Company, who became totally or partially separated from employment on or after October 3, 1974, are eligible to apply for adjustment assistance under Title II, Chapter 2 of the Trade Act of 1974.

Signed at Washington, D.C., this 29th day of August 1975.

for Trade and Adjustment Policy.

GARLAND CORP., BROCKTON, MASSACHUSETTS
Certification Regarding Eligibility To Apply for Worker Adjustment Assistance

In accordance with section 223 of the Trade Act of 1974 the Department of Labor herein presents the results of TA-W-66: investigation regarding certification of eligibility to apply for worker adjustment assistance as prescribed in section 222 of the Act.

The investigation was initiated on July 3, 1975, in response to a worker petition received on that date which was filed by workers at the Brockton, Massachusetts, plant of Garland Corporation formerly producing women's and misses' sweaters.

The notice of investigation was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (40 FR 29575) on July 14, 1975. No public hearing was requested and none was held.

The information upon which the determination was made was obtained principally from officials of the Garland Corporation, its customers, industry analysts, and Department files.

In order to make an affirmative determination and issue a certification of eligibility to apply for adjustment assistance, each of the group eligibility requirements of section 222 of the Trade Act of 1974 must be met:

(1) That a significant number or proportion of the workers in such workers' firm or an appropriate subdivision of the firm have become totally or partially separated, or are threatened to become totally or partially separated.

(2) That sales or production, or both, of such firm or subdivision have decreased absolutely, and

(3) That increases of imports of articles like or directly competitive with articles produced by such workers' firm or an appropriate subdivision thereof contributed importantly to such total or partial separation, or threat thereof, and to such decline in sales or production.

For purposes of paragraph (3), the term "contributed importantly" means a cause which is important but not necessarily more important than any other cause.

Significant total or partial separations. A significant number or proportion of the workers at the Brockton plant of Garland Corporation became totally or partially separated in the first half of 1975. Employment declined 34 percent from March 1975 to August 1975.

Sales or production, or both, have decreased absolutely. Production at the Brockton plant declined 17 percent from 1973 to 1974. Production declined 30 percent in the first half of 1975 compared to the first half of 1974.

Increased imports contributed importantly. Imports of articles like or directly competitive with those produced at the Brockton plant of Garland Corporation increased from 11.8 million units in 1972 to 127.7 million units in 1974. Imports increased 107 percent in the first quarter of 1975 compared to the first quarter of 1974. The ratios of imports to domestic consumption and production increased from 15.2 percent and 16.8 percent, respectively in 1972 to 135.0 percent and 68.0 percent in 1974.

The evidence developed in the Department's investigation indicates that the separation of workers engaged in production of women's and misses' sweaters was caused by increases of competitive imports. The company sharply cut back production in the second quarter of 1975 in order to adjust inventories which had increased to excess levels because of lost sales to imports. Customers surveyed had reduced purchases of Garland's sweaters and reported that imported sweaters constituted an increasing share of the available stock of sweaters for sale at their respective stores.

All hourly, piecework, and salaried workers employed at the Brockton, Massachusetts, plant of Garland Corporation who became totally or partially separated from employment on or after April 7, 1975, are eligible to apply for adjustment assistance under Title II, Chapter 2 of the Trade Act of 1974.

GENERAL ELECTRIC CO.
Investigation Regarding Certification of Eligibility To Apply for Worker Adjustment Assistance

On August 27, 1975, the Department of Labor received a petition filed under section 221(a) of the Trade Act of 1974 ("the Act") by the International Union of Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers on behalf of the workers and former workers of General Electric Lamp Plant and Austintown Coil Plant, Youngstown, Ohio of General Electric Company, Syracuse, New York (TA-W-130). Accordingly, the Acting Director, Office of Trade Adjustment Assistance, Bureau of International Labor Affairs, has instituted an investigation as provided in section 221(a) of the Act and 29 CFR 90.12.

The purpose of the investigation is to determine whether absolute or relative increases of imports of articles like or directly competitive with coils and incandescent lamps produced by General Electric Company or an appropriate subdivision thereof have contributed importantly to an absolute decline in sales or production, or both, of such firm or subdivision and to the actual or threatened total or partial separation of a significant number or proportion of the workers of such firm or subdivision. The investigation will further relate, as appropriate, to the determination of the date on which total or partial separations began or threatened to begin and the subdivision of the firm involved. A group meeting the eligibility requirements of section 222 of the Act will be certified as eligible to apply for adjustment assistance under Title II, Chapter 2, of the Act in accordance with the provisions of Subpart B of 29 CFR Part 90.

Pursuant to 29 CFR 90.13, the petitioner or any other person showing a substantial interest in the subject matter of the investigation may request a public hearing, provided such request is filed in writing with the Acting Director, Office of Trade Adjustment Assistance, at the address shown below, on or before September 18, 1975.

The petition filed in this case is available for inspection at the Office of the Acting Director, Office of Trade Adjustment Assistance, Bureau of International Labor Affairs, U.S. Department of Labor, 3rd St. and Constitution Ave., NW., Washington, D.C. 20210.

MARTIN MARLETTA AEROSPACE, DENVER, COLORADO*Negative Determination Regarding Eligibility To Apply for Worker Adjustment Assistance

In accordance with section 223 of the Trade Act of 1974 the Department of Labor herein presents the results of TA-W-78; investigation regarding certification of eligibility to apply for worker adjustment assistance as prescribed in section 222 of the Act.

The investigation was initiated on July 8, 1975, in response to a worker petition received on June 30, 1975, which was filed by the Denver Division employees on behalf of workers formerly involved with the Skylab project at the Denver Division of Martin Marietta Aerospace.

The notice of investigation was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (40 FR 30334) on July 18, 1975. No public hearing was requested and none was held.

The information upon which the determination was made was obtained principally from officials of Martin Marietta Aerospace, NASA, the European Space Agency (ESA), the U.S. Senate Aeronautics and Space Sciences Committee and Department files.

In order to make an affirmative determination and issue a certification of eligibility to apply for adjustment assistance, each of the group eligibility requirements of section 222 of the Trade Act of 1974 must be met:

(1) That a significant number or proportion of the workers in such workers' firm or an appropriate subdivision of the firm have become totally or partially separated, or are threatened to become totally or partially separated.

(2) That sales or production, or both, of such firm or subdivision have decreased absolutely, and

(3) That increases of imports of articles like or directly competitive with articles produced by such workers' firm or an appropriate subdivision thereof contributed importantly to such total or partial separation, or threat thereof, and to such decline in sales or production.

For purposes of paragraph (3), the term "contributed importantly" means a cause which is important but not necessarily more important than any other cause.

Significant total or partial separations. A significant number or proportion of the workers at the Denver Division became totally or partially separated in 1973.

Sales or production, or both, have decreased absolutely. Production at the Denver Division declined substantially in 1973.

Increased imports contributed importantly. Spacelab is part of a joint project between NASA and ESA with no connection to the Skylab project previously established by NASA. While certain technologies involved with the Spacelab program are being transferred between NASA and ESA, Spacelab cannot be considered a natural follow-on project to Skylab. Therefore the development of Spacelab by ESA cannot be considered to have contributed importantly to the separations at the Denver Division of Martin Marietta.

The evidence developed in the Department's investigation indicates that the separation of workers engaged in the Skylab project at the Denver Division was due to the completion of Martin Marietta's commitments under its Skylab contract.

Conclusion. After careful review of the facts obtained in the investigation, I conclude that increases of imports like or directly competitive with the space system built by the Denver Division of Martin Marietta Aerospace under the Skylab program did not contribute importantly to the total or partial separation of the workers of that plant.

Signed at Washington, D.C., this 29th day of August 1975.

SINGER CO., SAN LEANDRO, CALIFORNIA*Certification Regarding Eligibility To Apply for Worker Adjustment Assistance

In accordance with section 223 of the Trade Act of 1974 the Department of Labor herein presents the results of TA-W-70; investigation regarding certification of eligibility to apply for worker adjustment assistance as prescribed in section 222 of the Act.

The investigation was initiated on July 8, 1975, in response to a worker petition received on June 30, 1975, which was filed by the International Association of Machinists and Aerospace Workers, AFL-CIO, on behalf of workers producing cables and harnesses at the San Leandro plant of Singer Company.

The notice of investigation was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (40 FR 30335) July 18, 1975. No public hearing was requested and none was held.

The information upon which the determination was made was obtained principally from officials of Singer Company, the U.S. Department of Commerce, industry analysts, and Department files.

In order to make an affirmative determination and issue a certification of eligibility to apply for adjustment assistance, each of the group eligibility requirements of section 222 of the Trade Act of 1974 must be met:

(1) That a significant number or proportion of the workers in such workers' firm or an appropriate subdivision of the firm have become totally or partially separated, or are threatened to become totally or partially separated.

(2) That sales or production, or both, of such firm or subdivision have decreased absolutely, and contributed importantly to such total or partial separation, or threat thereof, and to such decline in sales or production.

(3) That increases of imports of articles like or directly competitive with articles produced by such workers' firm or an appropriate subdivision thereof,

For purposes of paragraph (3), the term "contributed importantly" means a cause which is important but not necessarily more important than any other cause.

Significant total or partial separations. A significant number or proportion of the workers within the Cable/Harness Shop at the San Leandro plant became totally or partially separated in the second quarter of 1975. Employment declined 37 percent from April 1975 to June 1975.

Sales or production, or both, have decreased absolutely. Production of cables and harnesses at the San Leandro plant declined 29 percent from April 1975 to May 1975.

Increased imports contributed importantly. The evidence developed in the Department's investigation indicates that the separation of workers engaged in the production of cables and harnesses at the San Leandro plant was caused by the transfer of such operations offshore. The company transferred production offshore to reduce unit labor costs and remain price-competitive in the sale of Processors and Disc Drives. Company imports increased 161 percent from May 1975 to June 1975 and will eventually constitute all company production of cables and harnesses.

Conclusion. After careful review of the facts obtained in the investigation, I conclude that increases of imports like or directly competitive with those produced in the Cable/Harness Shop at the San Leandro plant contributed importantly to the total or partial separation of the workers of that subdivision. In accordance with the provisions of the Act I make the following certification:

"All hourly workers employed at the San Leandro, California, plant of the Singer Company who became or will become totally or partially separated from employment related to the production of cables and harnesses on or after May 5, 1975, are eligible to apply for adjustment assistance under Title II, Chapter 2 of the Trade Act of 1974."

Signed at Washington, D.C., this 29th day of August 1975.

The investigation was initiated on July 8, 1975, in response to a worker petition received on June 30, 1975, which was filed on behalf of workers formerly producing record changers, tape recorders and phonographs at V-M Corporation, Benton Harbor, Michigan.

The notice of investigation was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (40 FR 30336) on July 18, 1975. No public hearing was requested and none was held.

The information upon which the determination was made was obtained principally from officials of V-M Corporation, its customers, industry analysts, the U.S. International Trade Commission, the U.S. Department of Commerce, and Department files.

In order to make an affirmative determination and issue a certification of eligibility to apply for adjustment assistance, each of the group eligibility requirements of section 222 of the Trade Act of 1974 must be met:

(1) That a significant number or proportion of the workers in such workers' firm or an appropriate subdivision of the firm have become totally or partially separated, or are threatened to become totally or partially separated.

(2) That sales or production, or both, of such firm or subdivision have decreased absolutely, and

(3) That increases of imports of articles like or directly competitive with articles produced by such workers' firm or an appropriate subdivision thereof contributed importantly to such total or partial separation, or threat thereof, and to such decline in sales or production.

For purposes of paragraph (3), the term "contributed importantly" means a cause which is important but not necessarily more important than any other cause.

Significant total or partial separations. Significant total or partial separations have occurred at V-M Corporation each year from 1972 to 1974. Employment at V-M declined 56 percent from January to June 1975.

Sales or production, or both, have decreased absolutely. Sales of record changers by V-M declined 55 percent from 1973 to 1974. In the first six months of 1975, record changer sales fell 88 percent from the same period in the prior year.

Increased imports contributed importantly. Imports of record changers like or directly competitive with those produced by V-M Corporation increased from 81.6 percent and 443.3 percent in 1974. The ratios of imports to consumption and production increased from 81.6 percent and 443.3 percent respectively in 1970 to 90.8 percent and 983.9 percent respectively in 1974.

In 1972, V-M was determined eligible to apply for firm adjustment assistance following a finding that increased imports generated by trade concessions were the major factor causing sales and production declines at the company. Since that time the company has struggled to compete successfully under the burden of market penetration by imports of record changers.

Customers surveyed reported reduced purchases of V-M record changers in favor of lower-priced imports. The consensus of opinion was that V-M's competitors in record changers were foreign-based manufacturers who in recent years have taken a substantial share of the U.S. market.

Conclusion. After careful review of the facts obtained in the investigation I conclude that increases of imports like or directly competitive with record changers produced at V-M Corporation, Benton Harbor, Michigan contributed importantly to the total or partial separation of the workers and to the absolute decline in sales or production at the firm. Section 223(b)(2) of the Trade Act of 1974 provides that a certification of eligibility to apply for worker adjustment assistance may not apply to any worker last separated from the firm or subdivision more than six months before April 3, 1975, the effective date of the new program. In accordance with this provision of the Act I make the following certification:

All hourly and salaried employees of V-M Corporation, Benton Harbor, Michigan, who became totally or partially separated from employment on or after October 3, 1974, are eligible to apply for adjustment assistance under Title II, Chapter 2 of the Trade Act of 1974.

Signed at Washington, D.C., this 29th day of August 1975.

Associate Deputy Under Secretary
for Trade and Adjustment Policy.

WARWICK ELECTRONICS INC., COVINGTON, TENNESSEE AND CHICAGO, ILLINOIS*Certification Regarding Eligibility To Apply for Worker Adjustment Assistance

In accordance with section 223 of the Trade Act of 1974 the Department of Labor herein presents the results of TA-W-74, investigation regarding certification of eligibility to apply for worker adjustment assistance as prescribed in section 222 of the Act.

The investigation was initiated on July 8, 1975, in response to a worker petition received on July 2, 1975, which was filed on behalf of workers formerly producing television receivers at the Covington, Tennessee plant of Warwick Electronics Incorporated, Chicago, Illinois.

The notice of investigation was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (40 FR 30336) on July 18, 1975. No public hearing was requested and none was held.

The information upon which the determination was made was obtained principally from officials of Warwick Electronics, its customers, industry analysts, and Department files.

In order to make an affirmative determination and issue a certification of eligibility to apply for adjustment assistance, each of the group eligibility requirements of section 222 of the Trade Act of 1974 must be met:

(1) That a significant number or proportion of the workers in such workers' firm or an appropriate subdivision of the firm have become totally or partially separated, or are threatened to become totally or partially separated.

(2) That sales or production, or both, of such firm or subdivision have decreased absolutely, and

(3) That increases of imports of articles like or directly competitive with articles produced by such workers' firm or an appropriate subdivision thereof contributed importantly to such total or partial separation, or threat thereof, and to such decline in sales or production.

For the purposes of paragraph (3), the term "contributed importantly" means a cause which is important but not necessarily more important than any other cause.

Significant total or partial separations. A significant number or proportion of the workers at the Covington plant and the Chicago, Illinois, plant became totally or partially separated in the first half of 1975. Employment declined 64 percent in January-June 1975 from the comparable period in 1974.

Sales or production, or both, have decreased absolutely. Production and sales at the Covington, Tennessee plant declined 77 percent and 70 percent respectively in the first half of 1974 compared to the first half of 1975. Production of circuit boards was transferred from Chicago to Reynosa, Mexico in late 1974.

Increased imports contributed importantly. Imports of color television receivers like or directly competitive with those produced at the Covington plant increased from 917 million units in 1970 to 1,459 million units in 1973, then declined to 1,303 million units in 1974. The ratios of imports to domestic consumption and production increased from 16.3 percent and 18.9 percent, respectively in 1973 to 18.4 percent and 21.7 percent in 1974.

The evidence developed in the Department's investigation indicates that the separation of workers engaged in the production of color television receivers at the Covington, Tennessee, plant was caused by the increased purchases of competitive imports by the major customer of Warwick's products. The company was forced to close because it could not offset the loss of sales to imports in order to compete at a profitable level. During the course of this investigation it was discovered that the company was also forced to transfer certain component production offshore to reduce production costs and remain price-competitive with imports. This transfer adversely affected employment at Warwick's Chicago, Illinois, facility. Company imports of components increased 72 percent for 1972 to 1974.

Conclusion. After careful review of the facts obtained in the investigation, I conclude that increases of imports like or directly competitive with color television receivers produced at the Covington, Tennessee, plant and increases in company imports of certain components produced at the Chicago, Illinois, plant contributed importantly to the total or partial separation of the workers of such plants. Section 233(b)(2) of the Trade Act of 1974 provides that a certification of eligibility to apply for worker adjustment assistance may not apply to any worker last separated from the firm or subdivision more than six months before April 3, 1975, the effective date of the new program. In accordance with this provision of the Act I make the following certification:

All hourly and salaried workers employed at the Covington, Tennessee, plant of Warwick Electronics Incorporated, including those workers at Warwick's Chicago, Illinois, plant engaged in employment related to production at the Covington plant who become totally or partially separated from employment on or after October 3, 1974, are eligible to apply for adjustment assistance under Title II, Chapter 2 of the Trade Act of 1974.

IRREGULAR-ROUTE MOTOR COMMON CARRIERS OF PROPERTY—ELIMINA-TION OF GATEWAY LETTER NOTICES

Notice

SEPTEMBER 3, 1975.

The following letter-notices of proposals to eliminate gateways for the purpose of reducing highway congestion, alleviating air and noise pollution, minimizing safety hazards, and conserving fuel have been filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission under the Commission's Gateway Elimination Rules (49 CFR Part 1065), and notice thereof to all interested persons is hereby given as provided in such rules.

An original and two copies of protests against the proposed elimination of any gateway herein described may be filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission on or before September 18, 1975. A copy must also be served upon applicant or its representative. Protests against the elimination of a gateway will not operate to stay commencement of the proposed operation.

Successively filed letter-notices of the same carrier under these rules will be numbered consecutively for convenience in identification. Protests, if any, must refer to such letter-notices by number.

No. MC 2633 (Sub-No. E2), filed May 12, 1974. Applicant: CROSSETT, INC., P.O. Box 946, Warren, Pa. 16365. Applicant's representative: M. A. Burgett (same as above). Authority sought to operate as a common carrier, by motor vehicle, over irregular routes, transporting: Liquid petroleum products, in bulk, in tank vehicles; (1) between points in that part of Ohio on, east, and north of a line beginning at Lake Erie, thence along Ohio Highway 14 to Unity, thence along Ohio Highway 165 to the Ohio-Pennsylvania State line, on the one hand, and, on the other, Jamestown, French Creek, Clymer, Sherman, Harmony, North Harmony, Busti, Ellery, Kiantone, Ellicott, Gerry, Charlotte, Carroll, Polan, Ellington, and Cherry Creek, N.Y.; (2) between points in that part of Ohio on, east, and north of a line beginning at Lake Erie, thence along Ohio Highway 14 to Unity, thence along Ohio Highway 165 to the Ohio-Pennsylvania State line (except Ashtabula County, Ohio), on the one hand, and, on the other, points in Niagara County, N.Y.; (3) between points in that part of Ohio on, east, and north of a line beginning at Lake Erie, thence along Ohio Highway 14 to Unity, thence along Ohio Highway 165 to the Ohio-Pennsylvania State line (except that part of Lake, Geauga, and Ashtabula Counties, Ohio north of U.S. Highway 322 and not within the Cleveland, commercial zone), on the one hand, and, on the other, points in Erie County, N.Y.; and (4) between points in that part of Ohio on, east, and north of a line beginning at Lake Erie, thence along Ohio Highway 14 to Unity, thence along Ohio Highway 165 to the Ohio-Pennsylvania State line, on the one hand, and, on the other, points in that part of New York (including those located on the highways described herein) south and west of a line extending from the New York-Pennsylvania State line along U.S. Highway 11 to Syracuse, thence along New York Highway 5 to junction New York Highway 31B, thence along New York Highway 31B to Weedsport, thence along New York Highway 31 to New York Highway 250, thence along New York Highway 250 to Lake Ontario (except points in Erie, Niagara, and Chautauque Counties, N.Y.). The purpose of this filing is to eliminate the gateway of Warren, Pa., and points within seven miles of Warren, Pa., in Warren County, Pa.

No. MC 4405 (Sub-No. E20) (correction), filed July 13, 1974, published in the FEDERAL REGISTER July 9, 1975. Applicant: DEALERS TRANSIT, INC., P.O. Box 361, Lansing, Ill. 60438. Applicant's representative: Robert E. Joyner, 2008 Clark Tower, 5100 Poplar Avenue, Memphis, Tenn. 38137. Authority sought to operate as a common carrier, by motor vehicle, over irregular routes, transporting: Machinery, equipment, materials, and supplies used in, or in connection with, the discovery, development, production, refining, manufacturing, processing, storage, transmission, and distribution of natural gas and petroleum, and their products and byproducts, and machinery, materials, equipment, and supplies used in, or in connection with, the construction, operation, repair, servicing, maintenance, and dismantling of pipe lines, including the stringing and picking up thereof, restricted against the transportation of any such commodity to be used in, or in connection with main or trunk pipe lines, restricted to commodities which because of size or weight, require the use of special equipment; (c) between points in Kentucky, on the one hand, and, on the other, points in Kansas south of U.S. Highway 54 or west of U.S. Highway 183. The purpose of this filing is to eliminate the gateway of points in Arkansas. The purpose of this partial correction is to correct the territorial description in (c) above. The remainder of this letter-notice remains as previously published.

No. MC 8973 (Sub-E42), filed May 16, 1974. Applicant: METROPOLITAN TRUCKING, INC., 2424 95th Street, N. Bergen, N.J. 07047. Applicant's representative: George A. Olsen, 69 Tonnele Avenue, Jersey City, N.J. 07306. Authority sought to operate as a common carrier, by motor vehicle, over irregular routes, transporting: Building materials (except commodities in bulk), from points in Essex, Hudson, Union, Somerset, and Bergen Counties, N.J., to points in Alabama, Arkansas, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Louisiana, Michigan, Ohio, Tennessee, and West Virginia, restricted to the transportation of building materials when moving in mixed loads with gypsum and gypsum products, asphalt and composition roofing products, composition boards, urethane and urethane products (except commodities in bulk) from either Edgewater, N.J., Carteret, N.J., Pittston, Pa., Sunbury, Pa., or the plantsite of Celotex Corporation at or near Philadelphia, Pa. The purpose of this filing is to eliminate the gateway of New York, New York.

No. MC 8973 (Sub-E44), filed May 16, 1974. Applicant: METROPOLITAN TRUCKING, INC., 2424 95th Street, N. Bergen, N.J. 07047. Applicant's representative: George A. Olsen, 69 Tonnele Avenue, Jersey City, N.J. 07306. Authority sought to operate as a common carrier, by motor vehicle, over irregular routes, transporting: Gypsum and gypsum products, asphalt and composition roofing products, composition boards, urethane and urethane products and insulating materials (except those of unusual value, household goods as defined by the Commission, Classes A and B explosives, commodities in bulk, and those requiring special equipment), from points in that portion of the New York, N.Y., commercial zone as defined in commercial zones and terminal areas, 53, M.C.C. 451, within which local operations may be conducted pursuant to the partial exemption of section 203(b)(8) of the Interstate Commerce Act (exempt zone) to points in Alabama, Arkansas, Illinois, Kentucky, Louisiana, Michigan, Mississippi, Ohio, Indiana, Tennessee, and West Virginia. The purpose of this filing is to eliminate the gateway of Carteret, New Jersey.

MOTOR CARRIER TEMPORARY AUTHORITY APPLICATIONS

SEPTEMBER 2, 1975.

The following are notices of filing of applications for temporary authority under Section 210a(a) of the Interstate Commerce Act provided for under the provisions of 49 CFR 1131.3. These rules provide that an original and six (6) copies of protests to an application may be filed with the field official named in the Federal Register publication no later than the 15th calendar day after the date the notice of the filing of the application is published in the FEDERAL REGISTER. One copy of the protest must be served on the applicant, or its authorized representative, if any, and the protestant must certify that such service has been made. The protest must identify the operating authority upon which it is predicated, specifying the "MC" docket and "Sub" number and quoting the particular provision of authority upon which it relies. Also, the protestant shall specify the service it can and will provide and the amount and type of equipment it will make available for use in connection with the service contemplated by the TA application. The weight accorded a protest shall be governed by the completeness and pertinence of the protestant's information.

NOTICES

Except as otherwise specifically noted, each applicant states that there will be no significant effect on the quality of the human environment resulting from approval of its application.

A copy of the application is on file, and can be examined at the Office of the Secretary, Interstate Commerce Commission, Washington, D.C., and also in the I.C.C. Field Office to which protests are to be transmitted.

IDENTIFICATION AND ADMINISTRATION OF CULTURAL RESOURCES

Proposed Policies and Procedures

Notice is hereby given that the Secretary of the Army, acting through the Chief of Engineers, is proposing a regulation to implement several historic preservation laws and Executive Order 11593, dated May 13, 1971, as they pertain to identification and preservation of cultural resources, and mitigation of losses thereto, at Civil Works projects undertaken, or proposed to be undertaken by the Corps of Engineers. The regulation provides policies and procedures for all stages of the Civil Works program, including planning, design, construction, and operation of water resources projects.

Prior to adoption of the proposed regulation, consideration will be given to any comments submitted to the Chief of Engineers prior to October 22, 1975, at the following address:

Office of the Chief of Engineers, Attn: DAEN-CWP-A, Department of the Army, Washington, D.C. 20314.

Until the final regulation is adopted and so published in the FEDERAL REGISTER, elements of the Office of the Chief of Engineers and field operating agencies having Civil Works responsibilities will utilize the policies and procedures to the extent practicable.

Dated: August 19, 1975.

Colonel, Corps of Engineers
Executive.

§ 305.13 Definitions.

The following definitions are applicable to this regulation:

(a) "Advisory Council." The Advisory Council on Historic Preservation, established pursuant to Title II of the National Historic Preservation Act of 1966 (16 U.S.C. 470i).

(b) "Agency Official." For purposes of 36 CFR Part 800, normally the District Engineer under whose jurisdiction actions are taken or recommended.

(c) "Appropriate historical or archeological authorities." The Secretary of the Interior or his designated representative, the State Historic Preservation Officer, the State Archeologist and the State Historian.

(d) "Cultural resource." Any building site, district, structure, object, data or other material significant in history, architecture, archeology or culture.

(e) "Cultural resources reconnaissance." A literature search and records review plus an on-the-ground surface examination of selected portions of the area to be affected, adequate to assess the general nature of the resources probably present and the probable impact of a project. Test excavations may be required at some sites so that evaluations may be adequately accomplished. This level of investigation is appropriate to preliminary planning decisions and will be of assistance in determining viable project alternatives.

(f) "Cultural resources survey." An intensive, on-the-ground survey and testing of an area sufficient to permit determination of the number and extent of the resources present, their scientific importance, and the time factors and cost of preserving, recovering or otherwise mitigating adverse effects on them. This level of investigation is appropriate when the project has been authorized and finally formulated, and will thus be accomplished during the Phase II GDM stage of project planning.

(g) "Mitigation." The amelioration of losses of significant paleontological, scientific, prehistorical, historical or archeological data which will be accomplished through preplanned actions to preserve or recover such data by application of professional techniques and procedures reflecting the contemporary state of the art. Mitigation measures will only be accomplished during the actual construction or operational phases of Civil Works projects except in unusual circumstances requiring prior approval by DAEN-CWP-V.

(h) "National Register." The National Register of Historic Places which is a register of districts, sites, buildings, structures and objects significant in American history, architecture, archeology and culture, maintained by the Secretary of the Interior under authority of Section 2(b) of the Historic Sites Act of 1935 and Section 101(a) (1) of the National Historic Preservation Act. The National Register is published in its entirety in the FEDERAL REGISTER each year in February. Addenda are published on the first Tuesday of each month.

(i) "One per centum of the total amount authorized to be appropriated for such project." One per centum of the total Federal project cost last presented to the Congress. For operating projects maintained by the Corps of Engineers, the one per centum applies to the last annual amount appropriated or requested for O&M of an individual project.

(j) "Principal Investigator." The person or contractor responsible for the validity of the material presented in cultural, historical and archeological reports. He shall sign the final report and in the event of controversy or court challenge shall testify on behalf of the Government in support of report findings. He shall have access to a depository for notes, photographs and artifacts where they will be permanently available to scholars. He is normally the employee of a university, college, museum or other qualified contractor engaged by the District Engineer to accomplish cultural resource studies or data recovery.

(k) "Significance." Attributable to districts, sites, buildings, structures and objects of historical, architectural, and archeological (cultural value when such properties are included in or have been determined by the Secretary of the Interior to be eligible for inclusion in the National Register of Historic Places.

(l) "State Historic Preservation Officer." The official within each State, authorized by the State at the request of the Secretary of the Interior, to act as liaison for purposes of implementing the National Historic Preservation Act.

(m) "Background." Primary responsibility for actions pertaining to cultural resources associated with Federal programs and projects was delegated by legislation to the Secretary of the Interior (National Park Service), up until 1966. With the enactment of the National Historic Preservation Act in 1966 and subsequent legislative and administrative actions, however, a major portion of this responsibility was shifted to the agencies having jurisdiction or control over those resources. As a result it is now necessary that the Corps coordinate and conduct all such activities with advice and consultation of the National Park Service, the Advisory Council on Historic Preservation, and State Historic Preservation Officers. While the National Park Service still has a major role in matters dealing with cultural resources, it is now more nearly that of a principal coordinator and expert adviser to other agencies of the Government rather than the sole agency with responsibilities and expertise in matters concerned with these resources.

§ 305.14 Background.

(a) From the initiation of preauthorization planning through postauthorization planning and design, construction and operation and management as well as regulation of work by others in navigable waters, all Corps of Engineers actions will be evaluated in terms of their effect on cultural resources within the overall policy provisions of this regulation. Those actions having an effect on significant cultural resources will be fully coordinated with the National Park Service, State Historic Preservation Officer, and the Advisory Council on Historic Preservation, and appropriate actions taken to discharge all Corps responsibilities involved in a spirit of proper stewardship of these resources for the benefit of present and future generations.

§ 305.15 General Policy.

(b) Division and District Engineers should consider the assignment of lead responsibility for this function to the appropriate organizational element under their command, normally the Environmental Analysis element (ER 10-1-3). This element will take the lead in coordinating and processing implementation actions involved. Within current space limitations, each Division and District Engineer should evaluate the need to staff this function as required to discharge his responsibilities in a competent and professional manner.

PROPOSED RULES

(c) At each stage of Corps planning, design and construction, the degree and scope of cultural resource investigations will be conducted and displayed at the same level of precision as other related studies, i.e., economics, hydrology, geology, biology, etc.

(d) Reports made available to the general public will not contain specific locations of archeological sites so as to preclude vandalism.

(e) When archeological or historic studies are related to a specific group of people whose descendants are still living in the general area, they should be informed of the studies and consulted, especially where interpretive developments are being considered. Human skeletal remains will not be placed on public display without prior approval of DAEN-CWP-P.

(f) Preservation of significant cultural resources is nearly always considered preferable to recovery of data by excavation and may often be more economical in terms of both economic and environmental costs. When a significant site can be preserved for an amount reasonably comparable to, or less than the amount required to recover the data, full consideration shall be given to this course of action.

§ 305.16 Specific Implementation Actions.

Action requirements for the implementation of current authorities vary with the type of action or program involved. Guidance for principal activities is as follows:

(a) Preauthorization Studies. (1) Upon initiation of general investigation studies, the District Engineer shall notify in writing the appropriate field official of the National Park Service (NPS) and the State Historic Preservation Officer(s) of the study area involved. The District Engineer shall conduct or have conducted a cultural resource reconnaissance in order to identify cultural sites, objects, buildings, ruins, etc., of interest or importance in history or prehistory which would be affected by proposed projects. This work may be performed by qualified in house personnel or by contract with a qualified institution which shall execute the contract through a principal investigator. Funds will not be transferred to the NPS for participation in preauthorization studies.

(2) The reconnaissance report shall describe or assess the general significance or values of the cultural resources located in the project area. In addition it should include a discussion of methods and an estimate of anticipated costs for a cultural resources survey within the project area during later stages of planning.

(3) Where regional or basinwide studies are being conducted or where numerous alternatives exist, the scope of the overall investigation may require that cultural resource studies include only literature research and a statistically valid sample field reconnaissance. This reconnaissance should be of the magnitude required to provide a predictive model for the numbers, types, and qualities of cultural resource problems in the area. The minimum surface coverage required to provide adequate quantifiable data for such a predictive model will vary, but will normally not exceed 15% of the total project area.

(4) The investigations shall conform to the standards prescribed for a reconnaissance level investigation as defined in § 305.13.

(5) Upon completion of cultural resource investigations, two copies of the report shall be forwarded to the National Park Service with a request for review and comment. Copies shall be also furnished the respective State Historic Preservation Officer, State Archeologist and State Historian for review and comment, and to other agencies, societies, universities, museums, institutions or individuals on a need-to-know basis. Information resulting from the cultural resource investigations will be incorporated in all pertinent reports. The draft Environmental Impact Statement (EIS) will include data from the report and will discuss in general terms recommendations for further study and testing.

(6) Expenditures to provide cultural resource inventories or reconnaissance studies on unauthorized projects will be presented in the Plan of Study. In instances where these investigations are estimated to exceed $10,000, review of the Scope of Work and the cost estimate will be made by DAEN-CWP-P prior to approval of the proposed expenditures.

(b) Phase I Advanced Engineering and Design (AE&D). Procedures for cultural investigations for the Phase I AE&D studies shall be essentially the same as for the preauthorization feasibility studies. In instances where the feasibility (survey) report is reasonably current and no significant changes in the authorized project are proposed, the information previously provided may be used in the Phase I GDM and updated EIS. In-depth studies will be made at this stage only if required in the decision-making process, i.e., the cultural resources involved are potentially of such significance as to affect the nature or location of the project.

(c) Phase II Advanced Engineering and Design (AE&D). (1) Upon initiation of Phase II AE&D studies, a cultural resources survey shall be made and a report prepared therefrom. The nature of this survey will be based on the recommendations contained in the cultural resources reconnaissance report obtained during the preauthorization or Phase I study.

(2) This report shall include assessment of eligibility for inclusion in the National Register of Historic Places, specific recommendations for all necessary mitigation, recommendations for development of interpretive displays and a discussion of the public or scientific value of proposed mitigation actions.

(ii) It may be desirable that the Principal Investigator complete nomination forms to the National Register, but in all cases he shall specifically define the reasons for significance in order to justify uals, or by transfer of funds to the National Park Service.

PROPOSED RULES

involving the utilization of project resources by others (see paragraph (i) of

Park Service with a view toward arriving at a mutually agreeable date by which Engineers will provide written notice to the Secretary of Interior (National Park

ective Director of the Advisory Council shall request the Chairman of the Coun-cases he shall specifically define the reasons for significance in order to justify expenditures of funds for data recovery or other mitigation during the project construction period. Nominations to the National Register will not be submitted to DAEN-CWP-P for sites not currently on fee-owned lands without an accompanying letter from the present landowner indicating concurrence in such action. Information on significant sites not on fee-owned lands at the time the survey is accomplished should be furnished to the State Historic Preservation Officer, who may submit nominations or make requests for eligibility determinations through State channels. This work may be accomplished by qualified in-house personnel, by direct contract with qualified institutions and individuals, or by transfer of funds to the National Park Service.

(2) Two copies of the draft report will be furnished the National Park Service, one copy each to the State Historic Preservation Officer, State Archeologist and State Historian with a request for review and comment.

(3) The information from the above report and comments obtained from officials and agencies cited in paragraph (c) (2) of this section shall be incorporated in the Phase II GDM and any EIS under preparation. If the final EIS has been filed with the Council on Environmental Quality, supplemental pages shall be prepared as deemed necessary by the reporting officer, and forwarded to CEQ as provided by ER 1105-2-507 (para. 7). Copies of the letter of transmittal and supplemental pages will be furnished to the Advisory Council on Historic Preservation, State Historic Preservation Officer and the National Park Service.

(d) Feature Design Memoranda. Full recognition shall be given to the cultural resources known or anticipated to exist on project lands during preparation of feature design memoranda. Designs and cost estimates shall reflect the agreed upon mitigation measures determined to be appropriate in the approved cultural resources reconnaissance and survey reports.

(e) Detailed Project Report. The procedures outlined in paragraph (c) of this section for Phase II GDM's shall be followed during the preparation of Detailed Project Reports under Continuing Authority Programs.

(f) Construction and Land Acquisition not Started. Upon receipt of initial construction funds, the District Engineer shall initiate mitigation measures recommended in the approved cultural resource survey which are in accordance with any executed Memorandum of Agreement between himself, the Advisory Council on Historic Preservation and the State Historic Preservation Officer.

(1) Initial mitigation efforts should be directed to critical items of construction such as access roads, project buildings, dam sites and borrow areas and relocations. The work may be accomplished by qualified in-house personnel, by contract with recognized institutions or individuals, or by transfer of funds to the National Park Service.

(2) To preclude deterioration and vandalism, consideration should be given to allowing present owners or others to occupy at reduced or no rental, or otherwise to utilize historic structures under lease arrangements until the property is actually required to be vacated.

(g) Projects Under Construction. (1) In instances where construction has been initiated without an adequate survey and plan for mitigation of losses of cultural resources, steps should be taken to include funds for such activities in the next project cost estimate and budget request, or preferably, after concurrence of DAEN-CWP-P and DAEN-CWB to reallocate available funds so as to insure compliance with the requirements of law and this regulation.

(2) All items having any apparent historical or archaeological interest which are discovered in the course of construction activities shall be carefully preserved. Contracts shall require the contractor to leave the find undisturbed and immediately report it to the Contracting Officer so that the proper authorities may be notified.

(h) Operation, Maintenance and Management. (1) The funding authorities and provisions of Public Law 93-291 apply to Operation and Maintenance activities on Federally-owned lands. Therefore, District Engineers shall establish and implement, with amounts not to exceed one-percent of annual amounts appropriated for Operations and Maintenance of individual projects, a program to insure consideration and protection of cultural resources at existing Corps-operated projects under their jurisdiction.

(i) In some cases, this will require a cultural resources reconnaissance or survey of lands which have been only partially or inadequately investigated in the past. The District Engineer will evaluate sites under his jurisdiction which are identified by such investigations and prepare and forward to DAEN-CWP-P nomination forms to the National Register of Historic Places for sites meeting Register criteria, in accordance with para. 5-3, TM 5-801-1. (RCS DOI-1005 applies).

(ii) In cases where cultural properties on or eligible for inclusion in the National Register are being or would be adversely affected as a result of past or future activities such as land alteration, shoreline erosion, traffic or public use; and methods for protection or preservation are infeasible or economically unreasonable, data recovery through scientific excavation shall be considered in the same manner as if the lands had recently been acquired for construction of a new project.

(iii) Consultation with the State Historic Preservation Officer and the Advisory Council on Historic Preservation will be accomplished as prescribed in Appendix B to this part.

(iv) Environmental Impact Statements prepared for the project will address impacts upon cultural resources.

(2) Administrative actions such as leases, licenses, easements and permits involving the utilization of project resources by others (see paragraph (i) of this section for section 10 permits) may result in significant effects on cultural resources and will therefore require separate consideration on a case-by-case basis. The effects of these actions shall be considered and treated in the environmental assessment or EIS pertaining to the action, and appropriate protective or mitigative provisions shall be included in the administrative action instrument.

(3) The authorities in Public Law 93-291 do not include the expenditure of appropriated Civil Works funds for the maintenance, rehabilitation, restoration or salvage of cultural resources which are not, or would not be, adversely affected as a direct result of Corps of Engineers construction or operation and maintenance activities. Cultural resource investigations and mitigation measures at completed projects which have been turned over to local interests for operation and maintenance are thus ineligible for funding under this authority.

(4) Permission for the examination of ruins, excavation of archeological sites or gathering of objects of antiquity on project lands will be granted in accordance with the provisions of ER 405-1-875.

(i) Regulatory Permits. Regulatory permits for activities in navigable waters and ocean waters will be administered as prescribed in ER 1145-2-303 which provides general policy, practice and procedure to be followed in connection with applications for permits required pursuant to section 10 of the Rivers and Harbors Act of 1899, Section 404 of the Federal Water Pollution Control Act and Section 103 of the Marine Protection, Research and Sanctuaries Act. In order to provide the Secretary of the Interior, the Advisory Council on Historic Preservation and the State Historic Preservation Officer the requisite written notification that scientific, prehistoric, historical or archeological data may be lost or destroyed as the result of approval of an application for a Department of the Army permit, and in order for these entities to carry out their responsibilities, the District Engineer will provide them a copy of every Public Notice and will:

(1) Include in every Public Notice a statement that the District Engineer has consulted the latest published version of the National Register of Historic Places (Appendix B) and of the presence or absence of registered properties or properties listed in the latest published version of the Register as being eligible for inclusion therein. Each Public Notice will also include a statement that presently unknown archeological, scientific, prehistoric or historical data may be lost or destroyed by work to be accomplished under the requested permit.

(2) In the event that the National Park Service advises in response to the Public Notice that it will conduct or have conducted a survey or other investigation of cultural resources in the requested work area, or that it will recover and preserve cultural resources or data located therein, notify the applicant and encourage him to contact the National Park Service with a view toward arriving at a mutually agreeable date by which such activities will be completed. The Advisory Council on Historic Preservation will be furnished a copy of all comments from the National Park Service and the State Historic Preservation Officer.

(3) The accomplishment of any cultural resources surveys or other investigations which he deems necessary, and the recovery and preservation of scientific, prehistoric, historical, or archeological data in a work area applied for under a Department of the Army Regulatory Permit is the responsibility of the Secretary of the Interior pursuant to Section 4 of Public Law 93-291, and Section 7(c) of the Act expressly authorizes funds to be appropriated to him for such purposes. Consequently, Civil Works funds will not be expended for such activities in conjunction with Regulatory Permits.

(j) Emergency Activities. Work conducted as a result of a natural disaster or other emergency actions cited in para. 8 of ER 1105-2-507 is excluded from the provisions of this regulation if cultural resources surveys and/or data recovery would impede remedial construction activities. However, action officers should exercise reasonable precaution to insure preservation of cultural resources consistent with the nature of the situation.

§ 305.17 Costs of Cultural Resource Studies and Mitigation.

All costs incurred for investigation, planning, coordination, preservation and mitigation of losses of cultural resources directly affected by Federal construction are non-reimbursable project costs. These costs are presumed to be at least equalled by the benefits to science and the public generally. Consequently, the costs incurred for cultural resources surveys, data recovery and analysis, and report preparation will be shown by footnote in project cost allocations and Justification Statements, but will not enter into the allocation or apportionment of project costs or into computation of benefit-cost ratios. Procedures for cost accounting are contained in ER 37-8-10.

§ 305.18 Coordination With Others.

Close coordination with other agencies and entities with responsibilities for preservation of cultural resources is required in all phases of project planning and execution. Specifically designated agencies for coordination and review of project impacts on cultural resources are the National Park Service, Advisory Council on Historic Preservation, and the appropriate State Historic Preservation Officer. It is also desirable to maintain coordination with other public interest groups, State Archeologists and Historians, State and local archeological and/or historical societies, other State and Federal agencies, institutions, foundations, or individuals with special interests or expertise in cultural resources.

(a) National Park Service. Pursuant to the Reservoir Salvage Act of 1960, as amended by Public Law 93-291, District

Engineers will provide written notice to the Secretary of the Interior (National Park Service) before undertaking any Federal construction project or the granting of approval for a Federally licensed project, activity or program which may cause irreparable loss or destruction of significant scientific, prehistoric, historical, or archeological data. Thereafter the District Engineer will maintain continuing coordination with the Service on cultural resource matters, including transfer of funds for post-authorization cultural resource surveys and/or mitigative actions when considered appropriate, including the analysis of data and publication of reports resulting from such investigations.

(1) Instructions for such work will specify the necessity for the Service to provide information at appropriate times in order that other planning studies and construction activities are not delayed.

(2) The National Park Service will be instructed to keep the District Engineer notified of the progress of any survey or data recovery effort in order that there will be as little disruption or delay as possible in the carrying out of functions of the Corps of Engineers.

(3) When cultural resources studies or data recovery are to be performed by direct contract, the District Engineer may request the National Park Service to review the proposals, and will furnish a copy of the contract to NPS. Upon completion of the work, the District Engineer will notify the appropriate field official of the Service of the findings, in writing, by furnishing two copies of the report prepared by the Corps or its consultants. Copies of all final reports of cultural resource investigations made by the Corps or its consultants should be provided the Service which may make them available to the public for inspection and review as required by Section 3(a) of Public Law 93-291.

(b) Advisory Council on Historic Preservation. If the District Engineer determines as a result of cultural resources investigations and coordination that there will be an effect on sites listed in, or determined by the Secretary of the Interior as being eligible for inclusion in, the National Register, he will request consultation with the Advisory Council as required by 36 CFR Part 800 (Appendix B).

(1) If possible, a Memorandum of Agreement will be executed (during Phase II AE&D studies) on proper mitigation measures to be accomplished after initiation of construction. This agreement will normally be between the District Engineer, acting in his capacity as the "Agency Official" for purposes of these procedures, the Advisory Council and the State Historic Preservation Officer. The Memorandum of Agreement, if one can be obtained, will be included with the EIS and discussed in the pertinent planning report.

(2) If agreement cannot be reached, the District Engineer will forward the Preliminary Case Report, (See Appendix E), to the Advisory Council and the State Historic Preservation Officer. The Executive Director of the Advisory Council shall request the Chairman of the Council to schedule consideration of the undertaking at the next Council meeting and notify the District Engineer of the request. Upon such notification, the District Engineer will delay further actions which would adversely affect Register properties or properties determined eligible for the Register, until the Council has transmitted its comments or the Chairman has given notice that the undertaking will not be considered at a Council meeting. The various steps to be followed are outlined in the flow chart "Compliance Procedures for Sec. 106 (Historic Preservation Act of 1966)," Appendix C, and the procedures of the Advisory Council contained in 36 CFR Part 800, (Appendix B).

(c) State Historic Preservation Officer. (1) Upon completion of the cultural resources reconnaissance report, the District Engineer shall forward a copy to the appropriate State Historic Preservation Officer and request his views concerning the significance of sites listed in the report and especially those sites recommended by the Principal Investigator for further testing during Phase II AE&D studies. In addition, the State Historic Preservation Officer should be requested to furnish any additional information concerning archeological, historical, or cultural sites in the project area which were not identified in the reconnaissance report. The views of the State Historic Preservation Officer shall be discussed in the planning report and draft EIS, and the exchange of correspondence appended thereto. In cases where his comments are unavailable prior to distribution of the draft EIS, he will be specifically requested, in the letter transmitting the draft for review and comment, to furnish a response for inclusion in the final EIS.

(2) Should the intensive cultural resources survey conducted during the Phase II GDM studies reveal sites considered eligible for the National Register, statements detailing such assessments will be completed by the Principal Investigator and forwarded to the State Historic Preservation Officer by the District Engineer. The State Historic Preservation Officer should be asked to return the eligibility statements, with his comments, to the District Engineer who will forward them to the keeper of the National Register for determination of eligibility for the Register. A copy of the letter of transmittal should be provided DAEN-CWP-P.

§ 305.19 Contract Procedures and Reports.

In instances where the District Engineer contracts directly with a qualified university, museum, firm, institution, foundation, agency or individual, the contract shall conform to standard A-E contracting procedures.

(a) Since many of these institutions are unfamiliar with A-E contracts, it should be made especially clear as a condition of the contract that neither the contractor nor his representatives shall release any sketch, photograph, report interpretative displays in project offices, of the agency are needed. The amount ex-release any sketch, photograph, report or other material of any nature obtained or prepared under the contract without specific written approval of the Contracting Officer.

PROPOSED RULES

(b) Upon award of the contract, a complete copy, including the scope of services, study design and cost to the United States, will be forwarded by the District Engineer to the appropriate field official of the National Park Service.

(c) Upon completion of the manuscript resulting from the investigation, two copies will be forwarded to the National Park Service for review and comment. The Service should be advised in the transmittal letter that if no response is received within a specified time, the reporting officer will assume that the Service is in agreement with the quality and legal sufficiency of the report. Additional review copies should be furnished the State Historic Preservation Officer, State Archeologist and State Historian, and may be sent to other qualified individuals, institutions or agencies for comment at the discretion of the District Engineer. Copies of final reports should be furnished to the National Park Service, the appropriate State Historic Preservation Officer, the Library of Congress, Smithsonian Institution, the State Archeologist and the State Historian.

(d) In instances where funds are transferred to the National Park Service for archaeological investigations at authorized projects, a Form 2213 will be forwarded to the appropriate National Park Service office for such services. It will then become the responsibility of the National Park Service to provide a Scope of Services for the contract and include any specific requirements of the Contracting Officer. As representative of the Contracting Officer, the National Park Service shall insure the quality, competency and timely completion of the report resulting from the investigation and be prepared to defend the report in the event of litigation or other adverse action. The National Park Service will thus fulfill the role of Principal Investigator for the District Engineer. Prior to completion of any report, the Service will forward a draft manuscript to the Corps for review and comment. In all cases, cultural resources reports will provide, in a timely manner, specific information needed for related Corps of Engineers reports.

(1) Materials recovered from Federal lands are the property of the United States. Normally, these materials will be maintained at the institutional facility of the Principal Investigator. Arrangements may also be made by District Engineers with reputable museums and large universities to provide storage and curatorial services for materials recovered as a result of activities performed by in-house personnel or by contract with private firms or small colleges lacking adequate facilities of this nature. After completion of the necessary analysis and report, these materials may be used by the holding institution if not required by the Corps of Engineers for interpretative displays in project offices, visitor centers, or other appropriate areas for the information and benefit of the public.

(2) Plans for such displays should be identified in the Phase I GDM with details developed in the Phase II GDM and applicable Feature Design Memorandums. For further guidance in this aspect, see ER 1130-2-401.

For the Chief of Engineers.

APPENDIX A—SYNOPSIS OF PERTINENT AUTHORITIES

1. Antiquities Act of 1906 makes it a Federal offense to appropriate, excavate, injure or destroy any historic ruin or monument located on lands owned or controlled by the United States without permission from the Secretary of the Department having jurisdiction thereof. Further guidance on this matter is contained in ER 405-1-875, 7 May 1973.

2. Historic Sites Act of 1935 declares "it national policy to preserve for public use cultural properties of national significance and vests certain powers in the Secretary of the Interior in this regard."

3. National Historic Preservation Act of 1966 establishes national policy for historic preservation, authorizes establishment by the Secretary of the Interior of a National Register of Historic Places, and creates the Advisory Council on Historic Preservation. Section 106 of the Act directs consultation by Federal agencies with the Advisory Council on Historic Preservation prior to commencing construction or issuing entitlements to others when these activities would affect cultural resources listed in the National Register. Executive Order 11593 (more below) applies the same consultation and protection provisions to properties which the Secretary of the Interior determines are eligible for inclusion in the Register. Implementing procedures for consultation with and securing the advice of the Advisory Council are contained in 36 CFR part 800, 25 January 1974; (Appendix B).

4. Reservoir Salvage Act of 1960, as amended, is applicable only to authorized Civil Works projects. The Act permits the expenditure of up to one percent (1%) of the amount authorized to be appropriated for an individual Civil Works project for survey, recovery, analysis and reporting of important scientific, historical, archaeological and paleontological data which are being or may be irreparably lost or destroyed as the result of Civil Works undertakings on lands under Corps jurisdiction including non-Federal lands provided by local interests for certain types of projects.

a. Before undertaking construction, written notice must be provided the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the site of the proposed project including the area to be flooded or otherwise changed.

b. If advised by the Secretary of the Interior or other appropriate authority that Federal construction activity may result in the loss of important cultural data, or when the agency finds that such losses may occur, notice will be provided the Secretary of the Interior. The agency may undertake directly, or by contract with qualified investigators or by transfer of funds to the Secretary of the Interior, the recovery, protection and preservation, analysis and publication of reports of such data, including surveys or other investigations as in the determination of the agency are needed. The amount expended for such activities may not exceed one percent of the amount authorized to be appropriated for the project, and all expenditures made for such activities are to be treated as non-reimbursable project costs.

c. The survey and recovery of cultural data at areas involved under Department of the Army Regulatory Permits are the responsibility of the Secretary of the Interior who must be notified of the proposed work by the District Engineer.

d. No survey or recovery work is required in connection with works conducted in connection with any emergency if in the determination of the Chief of Engineers such activities would impede necessary construction.

e. The Secretary of the Interior must report annually to Congress on Federal expenditures and accomplishments under this authority.

5. Executive Order 11593 directs Federal agencies to institute procedures to insure that their projects and programs contribute to preservation and enhancement of non-Federally owned cultural properties of significance. Consequently, Corps of Engineers planning reports and EIS will discuss the effects of proposed undertakings on significant non-Federally owned properties listed in or eligible for inclusion in the National Register of Historic Places.

a. Agencies are directed to inventory lands under their jurisdiction and nominate to the National Register cultural properties that appear eligible for inclusion in the Register. Nomination forms will be completed by District Engineers and after review by the State Historic Preservation Officer forwarded through the Division Engineer to DAEN-CWP-V for execution by the Federal Representative and transmittal to the Secretary of the Interior.

b. Agencies are directed to exercise caution to ensure that Federally owned cultural properties on lands under their jurisdiction are not inadvertently sold, demolished or substantially altered until the Secretary of the Interior has the opportunity to review the eligibility of the property for the National Register and if an eligible property is to be sold, demolished or altered, the Advisory Council on Historic Preservation has an opportunity to comment and steps are taken to make records of the property for deposit in the Library of Congress.

6. The National Environmental Policy Act charges the Federal Government with "the continuing responsibility" of using "all practicable means . . . to the end that the Nation may:

"(1) fulfill the responsibilities of each generation as trustees of the environment for succeeding generations;

"(2) assure for all Americans safe, healthful, productive, and esthetically and culturally pleasing surroundings;

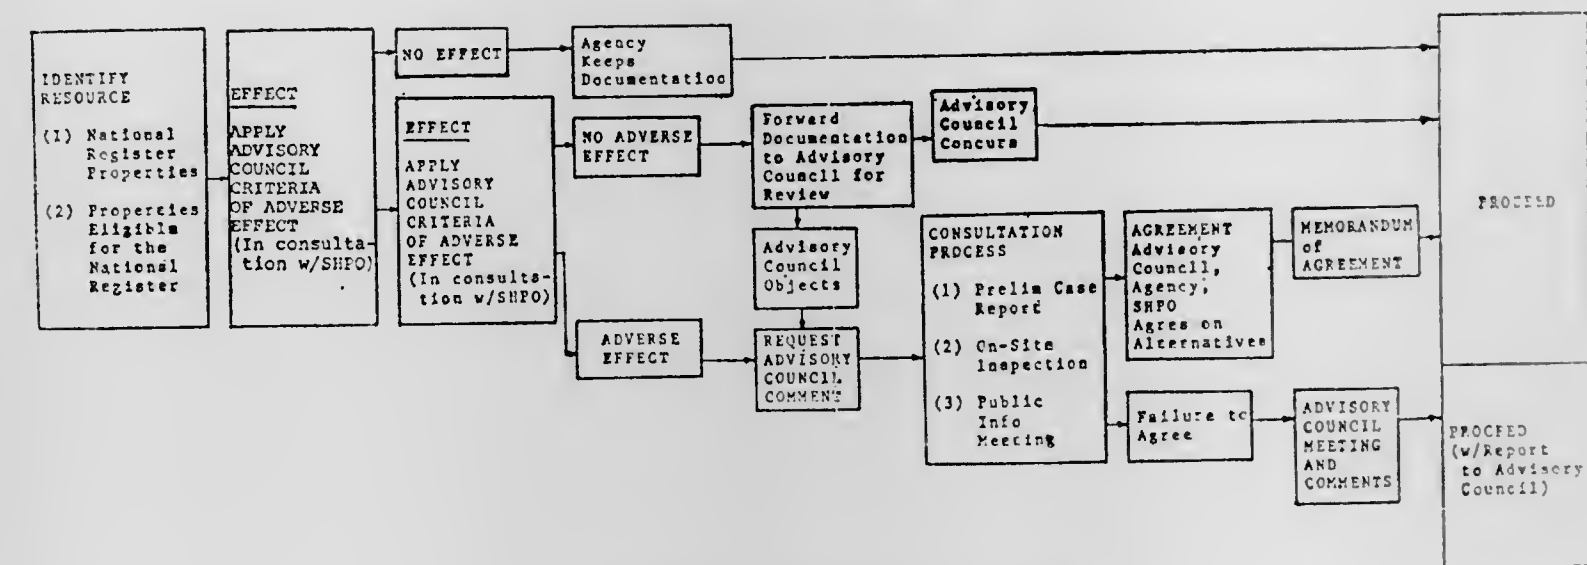

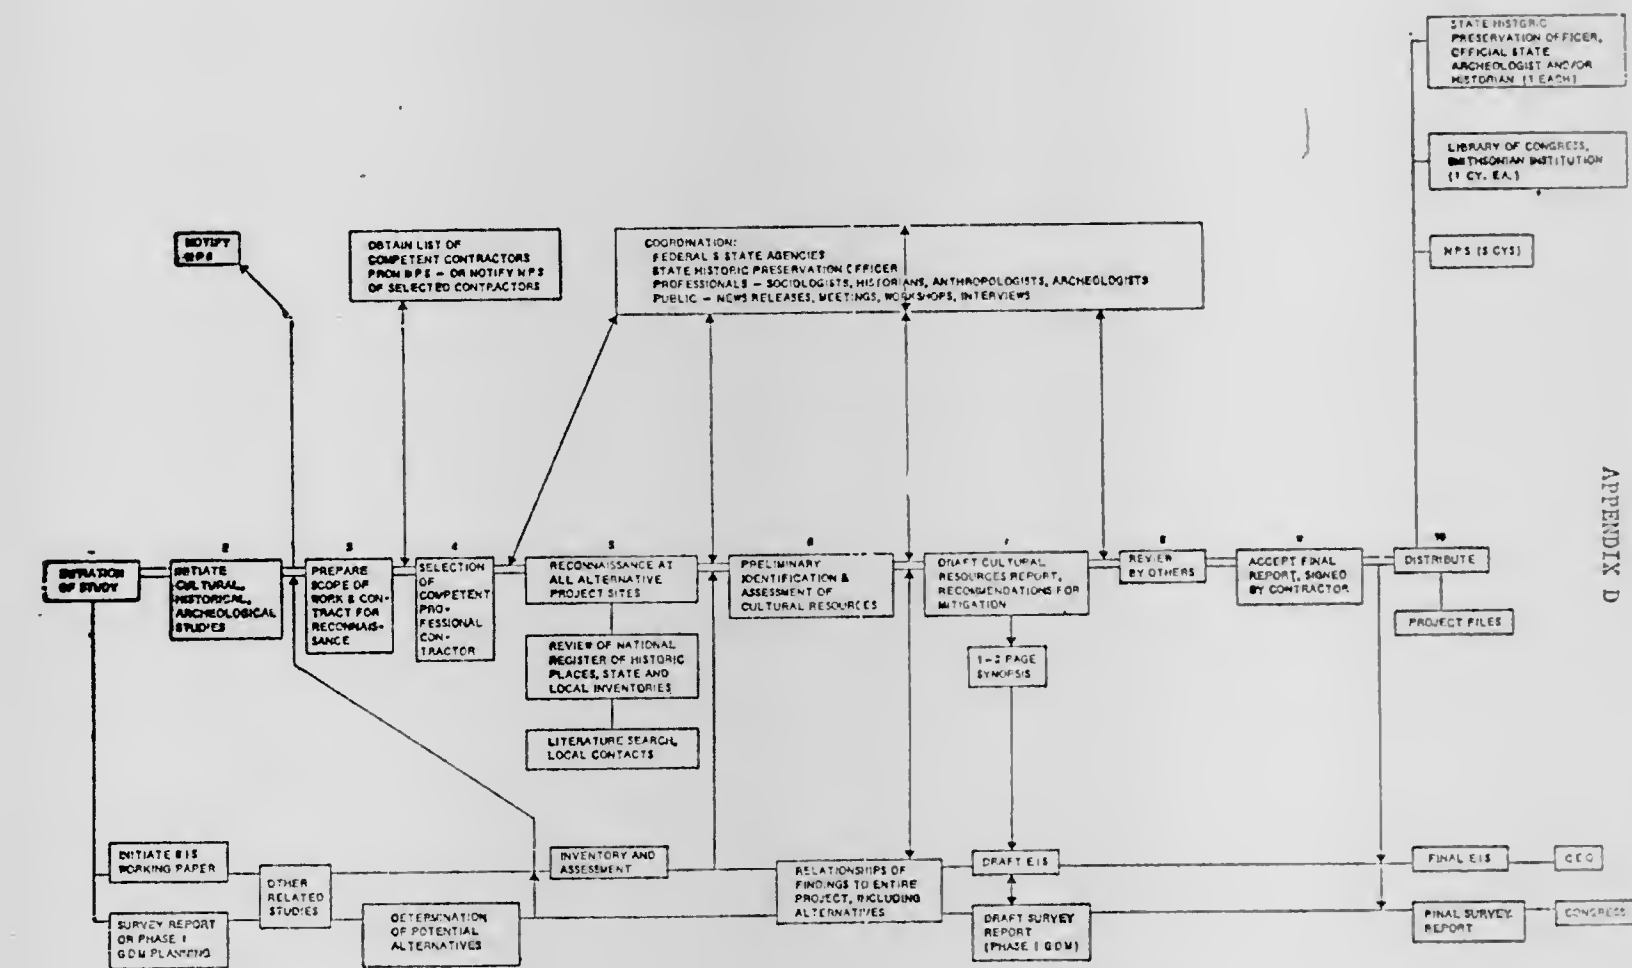

"(3) attain the widest range of beneficial uses of the environment without degradation, risk of health or safety, or other undesirable and unintended consequences;

"(4) preserve important historic, cultural, and natural aspects of our national heritage, and maintain, wherever possible, an environment which supports diversity and variety of individual choice."

This law charges the Government to administer its policies, regulations, and laws to the fullest extent possible in accordance with the policies. Agencies are directed to develop methods and procedures for "giving unquantified environmental amenities and values appropriate consideration in the decision-making process along with economic and technical considerations."

APPENDIX E—CONTENT OF SEC. 106
PRELIMINARY CASE REPORT

1. A general description of the proposed undertaking with explanatory graphic material;
2. A description of the properties included in or eligible for inclusion in the National Register to be affected by the undertaking, identifying any significant features of the properties;
3. An evaluation of the effect of the undertaking upon the properties included in or eligible for inclusion in the National Register;

4. An outline of measures taken in consideration of the undertaking's effect upon the properties included in or eligible for inclusion in the National Register, including:

- a. An expression of the views of the State Historic Preservation Officer;
- b. An indication of the support or opposition of units of government, as well as public and private agencies and organizations;
- c. A review of alternatives which would remove any adverse effects; and

d. A review of alternatives which would mitigate any adverse effects.

The Corps of Engineers will refrain from taking any action with regard to the undertaking that will foreclose proper Advisory Council consideration of alternatives to avoid or mitigate adverse effects of the undertaking on cultural properties listed or eligible for inclusion in the National Register of Historic Places.

GRANTS TO DESIGNATED AREAWIDE WASTE TREATMENT MANAGEMENT PLANNING AGENCIES AND TO STATE AGENCIES

Conditions, Procedures, Plan Content and Approval

The purpose of this notice is to propose amendments to 40 CFR Part 35, Subpart F. These proposed regulations set forth procedures for providing grants to regional and State planning agencies approved pursuant to Parts 126 and 130 respectively of this chapter, for the development of a planning process and a section 208 plan for water quality management.

Section 208 of the Federal Water Pollution Control Act Amendments of 1972 is designed to encourage and facilitate the development and implementation of areawide waste treatment management plans. The law requires the Governor of each State to designate eligible regional planning agencies to perform intensive areawide planning for geographic areas of the State which meet the criteria set forth in Part 126 of this chapter. The State is required to undertake areawide planning for remaining geographic areas. Grants are authorized for designated regional planning agencies and for State planning agencies.

These proposed regulations provide for funding both regional and State planning agencies pursuant to section 208(f) (1) of the Act. In addition, these regulations reflect the provisions of section 208(f) (2) of the Act which state that the Federal share shall be 75 percent after FY 1975.

Since section 208 planning must be done on a nationwide basis for all surface areas of the United States by either regional or State planning agencies pursuant to 40 CFR Part 162, it is important to have compatible planning requirements for both regional and State section 208 planning. The substantive requirements set forth in the section on plan content in the interim section 208 grant regulations have therefore been deleted and are replaced by references to appropriate portions of the proposed State planning regulations (40 CFR Parts 130 and 131), published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on July 16, 1975. This does not change any of the substantive section 208 planning requirements, but, rather, assembles all planning requirements together in one document. As a result, these proposed regulations primarily set forth the procedures for obtaining section 208 planning grants, while the proposed State planning regulations set forth the substantive planning content. EPA welcomes any suggestions for further coordinating the two planning programs.

In addition, the following changes are proposed:

(a) That the Regional Administrator establish a date (not more than one year from the date of the Administrator's approval of the designation) on which he determines that the grantee's planning process is operational. This date is to be recorded in the grant agreement. After the planning process is operational, the regional planning agency will then have two years to develop and submit a section 208 plan.

(b) That an amount, not to exceed 5 percent of the total grant amount, be provided for the development of work plans.

(c) That the payments section include letter of credit as a means of reimbursement.

(d) That the State's cost for coordinating 208 regional planning be an allowable cost for grants to regional planning agencies.

(e) That in cases where an entire plan cannot be approved, conditional approval be permitted.

These proposed amendments have been reviewed by representatives of State and local agencies. While this review has been more limited than EPA normally performs, the Agency was required to publish these regulations under a Court Order by a specified date. The EPA has revised these amendments to reflect most of the concerns raised, by either adopting the comments or substantially satisfying them through editorial changes.

Interested parties and government agencies are encouraged to submit written comments, suggestions or objections to the Director, Grants Administration Division, Environmental Protection Agency, Washington, D.C. 20460. All comments, suggestions or objections received on or before October 2, 1975, will be considered.

In consideration of the foregoing, it is hereby proposed that 40 CFR Part 35, Subpart F be amended to read as set forth below.

Dated: August 28, 1975.

RUSSELL E. TRAIN,
Administrator.

Subpart F—Grants to Designated Areawide Waste Treatment Management Planning Agencies and to State Agencies—Conditions, Procedures, Plan Content and Approval

§ 35.1050 Purpose.

The purpose of this subpart is to establish conditions, policies and procedures for grants to State and regional planning agencies, and to reference requirements for the substance of the planning process and the content of required plans. This subpart supplements the EPA general grant regulations and procedures set forth in Part 30 of this chapter.

§ 35.1051 Definitions.

As used in this part, the following terms shall have the meanings set forth below:

(a) "State reviewing agency" means that agency designated by the Governor to review 208 grant applications and 208 plans submitted by regional planning agencies.

(b) "Certification document" means any document either certifying or refusing certification pursuant to § 35.1054.

(c) The definitions of the terms contained in Part 126 and § 130.2 of this chapter shall be used in this subpart except as the context otherwise requires.

§ 35.1052 Allocations and allotments.

(a) Primary allocation. From sums authorized for each fiscal year after June 30, 1975 the Administrator shall establish the amounts which will be available for grants to regional planning agencies approved pursuant to Part 126 of this chapter and for grants to State planning agencies for planning in State water quality management planning areas.

(b) Allotments for grants for State planning agencies. Pursuant to § 35.1054-2, States must submit grant applications to the Regional Administrator within 120 days after these regulations become effective in order to qualify for a grant from funds available for Fiscal Year 1976. Grant applications received within 120 days after these regulations become effective shall be reviewed by the Regional Administrator who shall propose a level of funding for each applicant. The Administrator will establish for each region an allotment of funds reflecting the region's proportionate share of funds available pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section, based on the ratio of the total sums proposed by each Regional Administrator to the total of such sums available to all regions for State planning grants. Within the limits of the allotment, the Regional Administrator will negotiate a grant amount for each eligible applicant. Upon completion of negotiation of the grant amount and agreement, the Regional Administrator will request an Advice of Allowance from the Administrator authorizing the obligation of grant authority to cover the amount of the negotiated grant agreement.

Comment. This allotment formula is one of several alternative formulas. A second formula being considered is to establish an allotment based upon the extent of the pollution problems between the individual States using nationally derived (as opposed to State derived) values to indicate the extent of the problem. The necessity of deducting from a State's allotment funding for areas designated or to be designated pursuant to section 126 of this chapter is also contemplated.

(c) Reservation of funds for designated regional planning agencies.

(1) Upon approval of a regional planning area and agency designation pursuant to Part 126 of this chapter, there shall be reserved, from funds available for regional planning pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section, for subsequent issuance to the Regional Administrator, an amount of contract authority estimated to cover the reasonable cost of the planning for a designated area.

(2) Upon completion of review and negotiation of a grant application for planning by a designated regional planning agency, and at such time as the Regional Administrator is prepared to make a grant award, the Regional Administrator shall request an Advice of Allowance from the Administrator authorizing the obligation of contract authority to cover the amount of the negotiated grant agreement.

(d) In no case may a grant agreement be executed before an Advice of Allowance is issued.

§ 35.1053 Eligibility for grant award.

(a) Regional planning agency. Regional planning agencies shall be eligible for grant award pursuant to this subpart only if designated by the Governor or appropriate chief elected officials in conformance with § 126.12(c) (1) or § 126.12(c) (3) of this chapter and approved by the Administrator as the official regional waste treatment management planning agency for the area. The agency shall further agree to develop a plan and a continuing planning process for the entire regional area that meets the requirements of this Subpart and Parts 130 and 131 of this chapter.

PROPOSED RULES

(b) State planning agency. State agencies identified by the Governor pursuant to § 130.10(b) (5) of this chapter shall be eligible for grant award pursuant to this subpart.

§ 35.1054 Application for grant.

§ 35.1054-1 Preapplication requirements.

(a) All agencies applying for section 208 planning grants shall comply with all applicable requirements of Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular No. A-95, pursuant to § 30.305 of this chapter.

(b) Regional planning agencies designated by the Governor(s) pursuant to § 126.12(c) (1) of this chapter shall submit their application and supporting data to the State reviewing agency(ies). Interstate regional planning agencies shall submit the application to the State reviewing agency(ies) in the State which includes the greatest portion of the area's population, and provide copies to the Governors of other affected states. (c) Regional planning agencies designated by chief elected officials pursuant to § 126.12(c) (3) of this chapter shall submit their application to the appropriate EPA Regional Administrator and a copy to the appropriate Governor(s), and the State agency identified pursuant to § 130.10(b) (5) of this chapter.

§ 35.1054-2 Application requirements.

(a) Each agency shall meet the following application requirements:

(1) Applications shall be made to EPA on such forms as the Administrator may prescribe pursuant to § 30.315 of this chapter.

(2) Evidence shall be provided that all requirements of OMB Circular No. A-95 have been met.

(3) A statement shall be provided indicating that provisions have been made or will be made for the establishment of a policy advisory committee for each approved planning area; the membership and role of this committee shall be consistent with § 130.14 of this chapter.

(4) A statement shall be provided that the proposed activity is consistent with affected State, local and Federal programs, and with other applicable resource and developmental planning programs including State and local land use or development programs, and Federal resource and developmental programs such as:

- (i) The Coastal Zone Management Act (Pub. L. 92-583);
- (ii) The Rural Development Act of 1972 (Pub. L. 92-419);
- (iii) The Clean Air Act, as amended (Pub. L. 91-604);

(iv) The Solid Waste Disposal Act, as amended (Pub. L. 91-512);

(v) The Safe Drinking Water Act (Pub. L. 93-523);

(vi) Waste water management urban studies programs administered by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers;

(vii) Transportation planning administered by the Department of Transportation;

(viii) Other Federally assisted planning and management programs; and

(ix) The Housing and Community Development Act of 1974 (Pub. L. 93-383).

(5) A statement shall be included indicating that the planning process will become financially self-sustaining and provide for annual update of the plan once the initial plan is developed and approved.

(6) An outline of the work plan which the applicant will submit pursuant to § 35.1056, shall be provided.

(b) Regional planning agencies designated by the Governor(s) shall provide, in addition to the requirements set forth in paragraph (a) of this section a certification document submitted by the Governor or his designee, which document shall include a statement that the State has reviewed the application and finds:

(1) That the proposed work complies or does not comply with all State requirements, including any applicable plan(s) prepared under Part 131 of this chapter;

(2) That the proposed planning work program is or is not adequate and necessary to accomplish the development of a plan under section 208;

(3) That, insofar as is known, the planning will or will not duplicate any work which has been done or is being done to meet the facilities planning requirements of §§ 35.917-35.917-9; and

(4) That the State either recommends or does not recommend that the grant application should be approved by EPA.

(c) State water quality management agencies shall submit, in addition to the requirements of paragraph (a) of this section, evidence of compliance with the procedures of § 126.12 of this chapter.

§ 35.1055 Review, certification and approval of grant application.

§ 35.1055-1 State review and certification of applications from regional planning agencies designated by the Governor(s).

(a) The State reviewing agency designated by the Governor shall, within 45 days after receipt of the application, review the application and either certify or refuse to certify the application and proposed work plan as set forth in § 35.1054-2(a).

(b) Upon completion of the review, the reviewing agency will either:

(1) Return the application, including the certification document, to the applicant for forwarding of two copies to the appropriate EPA Regional Administrator, or

(2) Forward two copies of the application, including certification documents, to the appropriate EPA Regional Administrator.

PROPOSED RULES

Selection of alternatives in subparagraph (1) or (2) of this paragraph shall be at the applicant's option.

(c) If the application is not certified, the reviewing agency shall, in addition to its actions pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section, notify both the appropriate EPA Regional Administrator and the applicant as to the specific reasons for non-certification and specify the changes which are needed for State certification of the application.

(d) The procedures set forth in paragraphs (a) through (c) of this section shall be followed by the intrastate and interstate regional planning agencies, except that where the applicant is an interstate agency, the reviewing agency in the State which includes the largest portion of the area's population shall coordinate the review and certification process and shall have an additional 15 days to complete the process.

§ 35.1055-2 EPA review and approval.

(a) No grant application will be accepted for EPA review that is incomplete or unaccompanied by all State certification documents which have been submitted pursuant to § 35.1054-2.

(b) The Regional Administrator shall review the application and supporting documentation to determine its compliance with the applicable requirements of the Act and this subpart, the capability of the proposed program to meet the required outputs of section 208 of the Act, and reasonableness of the estimated costs of the proposed program.

(c) Generally within 45 days after receiving the application the Regional Administrator shall:

(1) Award a grant to the applicant in the amount determined to meet the requirements of § 35.1057.

(2) Notify the applicant that the grant application is deficient in one or more respects and specify in which ways the application must be modified to receive EPA approval. Copies of such notifications will be forwarded to all concerned States at the time the applicant is notified of EPA action.

§ 35.1056 Work plans.

§ 35.1056-1 Applicability.

The specific requirements of this section are applicable only to work plans under grants awarded after June 30, 1975.

§ 35.1056-2 Time for submission.

As expeditiously as possible, but no later than twelve months following the date of the Administrator's approval of the designation (or in the case of a State agency, within 120 days of the effective date of these regulations), the grantee must submit to the Regional Administrator a written work plan meeting the requirements of this section. Pursuant to § 35.1057-2, submission and approval of the work plan is a precondition to release of grant funds for further area-wide planning pursuant to § 131.11 of this chapter.

§ 35.1056-3 Content.

(a) Planning in State water quality management planning areas. Grantees undertaking planning in State water quality management planning areas must submit a State/EPA agreement consistent with the requirements of this subpart and the requirements of § 130.11 of this chapter. The agreement must specifically relate the planning to be done pursuant to Part 130 of this chapter to the amount of funds requested and must include:

(1) A work schedule which interrelates required work with anticipated dates of completion;

(2) A cost and resource budget, including a schedule of work to be performed under contract or interagency agreement; and

(3) A disbursement schedule which relates specific progress milestones under the work schedule to disbursements.

(b) Planning in regional planning areas. Designated regional planning agencies must submit a work plan which contains:

(1) A description of the objectives and scope of the waste treatment management planning process;

(2) A description of all work performed to date which will be used in the plan development;

(3) A description of the proposed planning process which will be utilized to (i) identify and evaluate feasible measures to control point and nonpoint pollution sources, which measures may take into account all source location and review measures necessary to meet State implementation plan requirements in the area, (ii) select an integrated area-wide plan to control these sources, and (iii) establish an area-wide management program (including financing) for plan implementation;

(4) A description of any necessary action in the planning to be taken by agencies other than the applicant and procedures to be used in coordination of such activities; documentation of the acceptance by the affected responsible agency of such required work or action shall be included and presented with the work plan;

(5) A schedule showing required interrelationships of work to be accomplished and anticipated dates of completion;

(6) A cost and resource budget, including work to be done under contract or by interagency agreement;

(7) A proposed disbursement schedule with specific progress milestones related to disbursements;

(8) A description of how compatibility with applicable plans prepared or in preparation under sections 209 and 303 of the Act will be attained; and

(9) A description of the procedures to be followed in assuring adequate public participation during the plan development, review and adoption in accordance with Part 105 of this chapter.

§ 35.1057 Funding conditions and limitations.

§ 35.1057-1 Grant award and adjustment.

Grants will be awarded pursuant to § 35.1056-3 in an amount which the Regional Administrator determines is appropriate for the program outlined in the application. Such grants shall be subject to adjustment by the Regional Administrator, after his review and approval of the work plan submitted pursuant to § 35.1056, and after consultation with the applicants, to reflect his determination of actual approved financial needs.

§ 35.1057-2 Funding for work plan and area-wide planning.

Each grant awarded pursuant to this Subpart is conditioned upon the subsequent submission of an approvable work plan pursuant to § 35.1056. A portion of grant funds in an amount to be determined by the Regional Administrator, generally not to exceed five percent of the total grant award, will be earmarked for payment of costs for development of the work plan and other approved activities. Additional grant funds will be released to the grantee only after approval of the work plan by the Regional Administrator, pursuant to the provisions of § 35.1058.

§ 35.1057-3 Rate of Federal assistance.

For grants awarded during the fiscal years ending on June 30, 1974, and June 30, 1975, the rate of Federal assistance furnished to a grantee shall be 100 percent of the EPA approved eligible and reasonable costs of developing or modifying an initial area-wide waste treatment management plan meeting the requirements of this subpart and operating an approved planning process. For grants awarded after June 30, 1975, the rate of Federal assistance shall be 75 percent of such costs.

§ 35.1057-4 Matching.

Pursuant to § 30.720 of this chapter, contributions required to match Federal funds may be reflected in contributions to either direct or indirect costs; in-kind contributions are permitted. Contributions to matching are allowable only if they are verifiable from the grantee's records; not included as cost sharing or matching contributions for any other Federally-assisted program; otherwise properly allocable to the project; and are expended for allowable project costs.

§ 35.1058 Budget and plan development periods.

§ 35.1058-1 Period of grant.

Federal assistance shall be for a budget period beginning on the date of execution of the grant agreement and ending on the date on which the plan is approved by the appropriate Regional Administrator pursuant to § 35.1064.

§ 35.1058-2 Plan development period—regional planning agencies.

(a) For each grantee, the Regional Administrator shall establish a date (not more than one year from the date of designation of the grantee agency) on which he determines that the grantee's planning process becomes operational. This date shall be recorded in the grant agreement. Pursuant to § 35.1064, the grantee's area-wide plan must be submitted to the Regional Administrator for approval no later than two years from the date so established. For grants awarded after June 30, 1975, the date so established will generally be the date of approval of the grantee's work plan submitted pursuant to § 35.1056. For grants awarded prior to July 1, 1975, the Regional Administrator shall select the date upon which the planning process becomes operational based on the following four elements:

(1) The hiring of sufficient personnel by the grantee to perform the work as outlined in the project control program;

(2) The establishment of an area-wide advisory or other appropriate committee by the grantee;

(3) The initiation of major work elements (or date of award contracts of one or more such elements) by the grantee; and

(4) Such other work plan requirement(s) the Regional Administrator shall determine as a requirement for the planning process to become operational.

(b) Pursuant to § 126.15 of this chapter, the Governor of each State may continue to designate appropriate regional planning agencies only until November 1, 1976. Where such a designation occurs after the State has already received a grant for section 208 planning, the plan development period for the regional planning agency so designated shall end on the earlier of two dates: (1) Two years from the date the planning process of the newly designated regional planning agency is determined by the Regional Administrator to be operational pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section or (2) November 1, 1978.

§ 35.1058-3 Plan development period—State planning agencies.

Pursuant to § 35.1063, State planning agencies must submit section 208 plans to the Regional Administrator for approval no later than November 1, 1978.

§ 35.1059 Payments.

§ 35.1059-1 Payment method.

The Regional Administrator or his designee will determine the payment method authorized for each grant award pursuant to § 30.615 of this chapter. Ordinarily, the advance payment method will be authorized. However, when the Regional Administrator determines it is in the Agency's interest, the reimbursement method may be required.

§ 35.1059-2 Advance payments—letter of credit.

(a) When the Regional Administrator determines that a grant award will be financed through advance payments, the Financial Management Officer will apply Treasury Department regulations to determine whether payment will be by letter of credit or Treasury check. Generally letter of credit will be used when annual payments under awards providing for advance financing, aggregate to $250,000 or more. When the letter of credit method is selected, it will be stipulated in the grant agreement. The grant agreement will require:

PROPOSED RULES

(1) That cash drawdowns be made only when actually needed for payment of the Federal share of liabilities relating to project costs,

(2) Timely reporting as required by § 35.1060,

(3) Imposition of the same Treasury Department standards on secondary recipients, and

(4) Obligation of funds in accordance with the grant agreement and milestone plan.

(b) The letter of credit may be issued for the entire award or any part thereof, with subsequent amendments for the balance as the Regional Administrator determines. An initial fund letter of credit, generally not to exceed five percent of the total grant award and which is earmarked for work plan development, will be issued to the extent that the grantee demonstrates the need for such funds. Subsequent amendments for the balance of the grant amount will be approved only after approval of the work plan by the Regional Administrator. Withdrawal of cash through the letter of credit will be monitored by EPA through the payment vouchers and quarterly financial reports.

§ 35.1059-3 Advance payments—Treasury check.

If a grant award for which advance financing is authorized does not meet the criteria for letter of credit, payment may be made by Treasury check. In this instance, the Regional Administrator or his designee will negotiate an initial cash advance, generally not to exceed five percent (5%) of the total grant award and which is earmarked for work plan development. If the grantee does not expect to use the advance immediately, payment must be scheduled for a later date when need becomes immediate. Once the initial advance is made, the grantee may request replenishment of funds expended by submitting the Request for Advance or Reimbursement form. This form may be submitted quarterly but no less frequently than annually. It is the policy of EPA that large amounts of cash advances not remain unused in the hands of grantees. Therefore, EPA will monitor use of cash advances through the required financial reports and will request reduction of the outstanding advance where lack of use is indicated.

§ 35.1059-4 Reimbursable payments.

Where advance financing is not authorized, payment will be made upon the grantee's submission of a Request for Advance or Reimbursement form. Through this form, the grantee will request reimbursement of the Federal share of expenditures related to the grant agreement for the period since the previous request for reimbursement. Submission of reimbursement requests may be made as often as necessary.

§ 35.1059-5 Work plan development.

Where the grant agreement pursuant to § 35.1057-2 provides for work plan development, the grantee will obligate generally not to exceed 5 percent of the total award for that purpose. Further additional obligation is not authorized until approval of the work plan is granted by the Regional Administrator. Where work plan development is set as a milestone in the grant agreement, the decision on size of the initial advance will take into account this five percent limitation.

§ 35.1059-6 Compliance.

Where the Regional Administrator determines that the grantee has failed to comply with the requirements for letter of credit, as stated in § 35.1059-2 or with reasonable cash management practices with cash advances by Treasury check, or is not in compliance with provisions of the grant agreement, he may convert either payment procedure to the reimbursement method.

§ 35.1060 Reports.

During the course of the grant, grantees will be required to submit interim progress reports and financial status reports at intervals set forth below. Failure to comply with established reporting requirements in a timely manner will result in appropriate action pursuant to § 30.430 of this chapter.

§ 35.1060-1 Interim progress reports.

Grantees shall monitor the performance under grant-supported activities to assure that time schedules are being met, projected work units by time periods are being accomplished, and other performance goals and milestones are being achieved. Within 30 days following the end of each six month period after the effective date of the grant, the grantee shall prepare and submit for review by EPA a semi-annual report of progress (interim progress report) as compared to the scheduling of approved milestones in the work plan. The report of progress need include, but should not be limited to, narrative presenting:

(a) A comparison of actual accomplishments to the goals established for the period;

(b) Any problems, delays, or adverse conditions which have (or will) affect the ability of the grantee to attain work plan objectives;

(c) Favorable developments or events which enable the grantee to meet time schedules or milestones sooner than anticipated;

(d) Any major changes in the overall program, work plan, budget, organization or staffing for the period; and

(e) Other pertinent information including, where appropriate, analysis and explanation of cost overruns or high unit costs.

§ 35.1060-2 Financial status reports.

(a) Grantees shall be required to submit the Financial Status Report at the end of each quarter. The report shall be on an accrual basis. However, if a grantee cannot report on this basis, a request for waiver may be submitted to the Regional waiver may be submitted to the Regional Administrator. The Regional Administrator or his designee may approve reporting on a cash basis. The original and one copy shall be submitted 30 days after the end of each reporting period. In addition, final reports shall be submitted 90 days after the end of the grant period or the completion of the project.

(b) Grantees financed under a letter of credit or advances by Treasury check will also submit the Federal Cash Transactions report within 15 days following the end of each quarter. The grantee will forecast Federal cash requirements for the next quarter in the Remarks section of this report.

§ 35.1061 Withholding of funds.

In accordance with the provisions of § 30.615-3 of this chapter, an amount not to exceed ten percent of the grant award amount may be withheld for non-compliance with a program objective, grant condition, or reporting requirement.

§ 35.1062 Suspension and termination; transfer of funds.

In accordance with the provisions of §§ 30.915 and 30.920 of this chapter, the Regional Administrator may suspend or terminate any grant awarded pursuant to this Subchapter. Areas included in regional planning areas whose grants are terminated pursuant to this section shall become part of the State water quality management planning areas for which State planning agencies shall do the planning pursuant to § 126.20 of this chapter; grant funds not obligated prior to termination may be transferred to the State planning agency in accordance with the provisions of § 30.900-3 of this chapter.

§ 35.1063 Allowable costs.

Eligible and ineligible costs shall be determined in accordance with § 30.705 of this chapter and by demonstration that the type and degree of work is necessary for successful completion of the project, and that the costs are reasonable with respect to the product or service to be obtained. Costs incurred by a State agency(ies) in monitoring and coordinating the progress of individual section 208 studies and providing liaison between the regional planning agency(ies) and the State and the Environmental Protection Agency shall be eligible costs. Generally, up to one man-year per year per project of State effort shall be allowable. While costs incurred as a result of following an approved work program would generally be allowable: Provided, That they are not prohibited elsewhere by Federal, State or local law or regulations, the costs incurred by activity related to the following shall be ineligible:

- (a) Costs incurred in development of a grant application for an areawide waste treatment management planning grant;
- (b) Costs incurred in sewer evaluation surveys as required under § 35.927-2;
- (c) Costs incurred in detailed sewer system mapping and surveys therefor;

(d) Costs related to sewage collection systems at less than the trunk line level;

(e) Costs related to obtaining or providing information for sewer systems other than the costs of determining the following items in sufficient detail to make informed judgments on the cost effectiveness of available alternatives: Tributary or service areas, routes, sizes, capacities and flows, critical control elevations required to show ability to serve tributary areas, lengths, staging, major impediments to construction, and costs of construction operation; data concerning lift stations shall be limited to location, size, energy requirements and capital and operating costs; costs of gathering and analyzing information required for economic, environmental and social evaluations shall be eligible;

(f) Costs related to obtaining or providing treatment works other than the costs of determining the following items in sufficient detail to make informed judgments on the environmental impacts and cost effectiveness of available alternatives: Size, location, which shows adequacy of the site including provision for expansion, major systems for treatment of influent and disposal of effluent and sludge, flow and waste reduction, anticipated effect of treatment, staging and capital and operating costs and energy requirement;

(g) Costs of special studies for the specific benefit of individual, industrial or commercial establishments; and

(h) Costs of activities which are primarily of a research nature.

§ 35.1064 Submission of the plan.

§ 35.1064-1 Plans for regional planning areas.

(a) No later than two years after the planning process is in operation as determined by the Regional Administrator pursuant to § 35.1058, three copies of a plan and local governmental recommendations thereon, in accordance with § 131.11 of this chapter, shall be submitted to the Regional Administrator through the State reviewing agency. The submission shall include certification that the State has reviewed the plan and:

(1) Has found the plan to be in conformance with the provisions of the State water quality management process and plans prepared pursuant thereto, as well as the annual plan required by section 106 of the Act; and that the plan will be accepted as a detailed portion of such State plans when approved by EPA;

(2) Has found the plan to be consistent with the water quality control needs of the area;

(3) Has found that the plan is consistent with all State and local legislation, regulations or other requirements or plans regarding land use and protection of the environment;

(4) Has found that the plan provides adequate basis for selection and designation of management agencies to be designated under section 208(c) of the Act; and

(5) Has approved the plan. If disapproval is necessary due to failure of the grantee to comply with one or more of these provisions, the Governor shall notify the Regional Administrator and the grantee in writing that the plan is deficient, and specify in which ways the plan must be modified to receive State certification of approval.

(b) The procedures set forth in paragraph (a) of this section shall be followed by intrastate and interstate regional planning agencies, except that where the plan has been developed by an interstate agency, the plan shall be submitted through the State reviewing agency designated by the Governor of the State which includes the largest portion of the area's population, which agency shall coordinate the plan review and certification process through all other affected States.

§ 35.1064-2 Plans for State water quality management planning areas.

Not later than November 1, 1978, three copies of the State water quality management plan meeting the requirements of Part 131 of this chapter, and the provisions of this Subpart shall be submitted to the Regional Administrator.

§ 35.1065 Content of plan.

Each planning agency shall develop and submit to the Regional Administrator a plan consistent with this subpart which meets the requirements of § 131.11 of this chapter.

§ 35.1066 Authority of States for non-point source planning in regional planning areas.

Whenever the Governor of any State determines (and notifies the Regional Administrator) that consistency with a Statewide regulatory program under section 303 of the Act so requires, the requirements of § 131.11 (j) through (l) of this chapter shall be developed by the State and submitted by the Governor to the Regional Administrator for application to all regions within such State. All requirements of such State programs shall be incorporated into each affected areawide plan. The plan shall set forth such additional local actions and programs as may be necessary for implementation of the plan developed by the State.

§ 35.1067 Designation of management agencies.

(a) The Governor of the State in consultation with the regional planning agency, affected local governments and following the public participation requirements set forth in Part 105 of this chapter shall, at the time the plan is submitted to the Administrator, designate one or more waste treatment management agencies (which may be an existing or newly created local, regional or State agency or political subdivision) for the regional planning area. Such agency or agencies shall, individually or in aggregate, have adequate authority to meet the requirements to carry out the provisions of section 208(c) (2) of the Act.

(b) The provisions of paragraph (a) of this section shall apply to designation of management agencies for intrastate and interstate areas, except that designations for interstate areas shall be the joint action of the Governors of all affected States.

§ 35.1068 EPA review of plan and designation of management agencies.

§ 35.1068-1 Submittal of certified plan and designation of proposed management agency(ies).

No submission for approval pursuant to this section shall be made to the Regional Administrator that does not include both a plan certified by the appropriate Governor(s) and proposed designations of management agencies.

§ 35.1068-2 Dual approval required.

The appropriate Regional Administrator shall neither approve nor conditionally approve a certified plan unless concurrently approving all appropriate designated management agencies; nor approve the designation of management agencies unless concurrently approving or conditionally approving a certified plan.

§ 35.1068-3 Review and approval of plan.

The Regional Administrator's approval of the plan and the management agencies will be based upon the State(s) certification of approval and EPA's review of the submission for conformance with provisions of sections 201 and 208 of the Act and the requirements of this part and other applicable regulations. Within 60 days after receiving the submission, the Regional Administrator shall:

(a) Notify the State(s) and the grantee of approval of the plan or the management agencies; or

(b) Either conditionally approve or disapprove the plan or the management agencies and so notify the Governor(s) or his designee(s) by letter stating:

(1) Specific revisions necessary to obtain approval; and

(2) The time period for resubmission of the revised plan or portions thereof, or, where appropriate, for compliance with established conditions of the approval; or

§ 35.1069 Disputes.

Final determinations by the Regional Administrator concerning applicant ineligibility and final determinations by the Regional Administrator concerning disputes arising under a grant pursuant to this Subpart shall be final and conclusive unless appealed by the applicant or grantee within 30 days from the date of receipt of such final determination in accordance with the "Disputes" article of the General Grant Conditions (Article 7 of Appendix A to this subchapter).

AREAWIDE WASTE TREATMENT MANAGEMENT PLANNING AND RESPONSIBLE PLANNING AGENCIES

Proposed Policies and Procedures

The purpose of this notice is to propose an amendment to 40 CFR Part 126 setting forth policies and procedures to be followed in the designation of areawide waste treatment management planning areas and responsible planning agencies pursuant to section 208(a) of the Federal Water Pollution Control Act Amendments of 1972 (86 Stat. 816 (33 U.S.C. 1251, 1288(a)(1))). These proposed regulations change the nomenclature of the previous regulations to reflect the statutory mandate that section 208 planning be done by both regional and State planning agencies.

In accordance with section 208(a) of the Act, the Governor of each State is required to designate, consistent with criteria established by EPA, those areas meeting the requirements for eligibility and those agencies within eligible areas capable of establishing and operating an areawide waste treatment management planning process and developing the plans required by the Act. Where no such area or agency exists, the State is responsible for carrying out the requirements of the continuing planning process pursuant to Part 130 of this chapter by undertaking the appropriate State water quality management planning for the geographic area pursuant to Part 131.

The proposed regulations provide a more definitive presentation of the criteria to be used in the designation of 208 planning areas, i.e., those areas which, as a result of urban-industrial concentrations or other factors, have substantial water quality control problems which require a regional approach in planning for and implementing corrective action.

These regulations also propose a more definitive designation procedure to assure that 208 planning will be initiated by either regional or State planning agencies on a nationwide basis, in sufficient time to comply with the court established deadline, thus assuring compliance with the Order of the United States District Court for the District of Columbia (Civ. Act. No. 74-1485, July 23, 1975). This Court Order states that section 208 plans for areas for which regional planning agencies have not been designated must be completed by the State by November 1, 1978.

To achieve this, the designation procedure proposed in § 126.12 establishes a procedure, to be followed within 120 days after the effective date of the regulation, that would result in identification of all areas to be designated (either by the Governor or local officials), as well as those that are not to be designated. The proposed procedure provides for the integration of designated regional planning areas with the State water quality management planning areas and is designed to assure consistency with the State Strategy submitted pursuant to §§ 35.1056-2, 130.11, 130.20 and 130.21 of this chapter.

This designation procedure differs slightly from the present procedure, which allows the Governor either to "nondesignate" an area (thereby precluding local self-designation), or to remain silent (allowing local officials to act to self-designate without any time limitation). The option of remaining silent would be altered; the Governor would, at the end of the 120-day period be required to identify areas that will, by virtue of their not being designated (for whatever reason), be included in the State water quality management planning area; and chief elected officials would have to make their decision as to self-designation within a 90-day period. The Governor would have the option of "nondesignating" an area, but only after consideration of requests by chief elected officials for the opportunity to self-designate. The specific time schedule is as follows:

(a) Within 60 days after these proposed regulations become effective the Governor must identify the areas eligible for designation, list those areas which he wishes to designate along with a time schedule for designation, and notify the Administrator, the chief elected officials of general purpose government and all planning agencies with regional jurisdiction within the State, of those areas that he intends to designate.

(b) Within 90 days after these proposed regulations become effective, chief elected officials must notify the Governor and the State planning agency of any other areas meeting the criteria specified in the regulations which they wish to designate.

(c) Within 120 days after these regulations become effective, and after public meetings or hearings:

(1) The Governor must submit to the Administrator his determination of those areas that he will designate and a time schedule for designation;

(2) The Governor must submit to the Administrator an identification of those areas that do not meet the designation criteria and will not be designated by either the Governor or chief elected officials. Such areas will constitute the State water quality management planning area for which section 208 planning will be done by the State planning agency identified in Part 130 of this chapter.

(3) Chief elected officials must notify the Administrator of those areas meeting the designation criteria which will be designated by them and a timetable for designation.

(4) The Governor must submit the State Strategy document. The designation determinations must be consistent with this Strategy. In addition, the Strategy must reflect recognition of the State's responsibility for assuring ultimate compliance with the planning and Implementation provisions of section 208 of the Act as interpreted by the above-from concentrations of population and manufacturing activity or other factors. The plan shall have a substantial

Fiscal Year 1976, a submission pursuant to § 126.13 shall also be provided.

(4) The Governor shall submit the Implementation provisions of section 208 of the Act as interpreted by the above-mentioned Court Order.

In addition, the proposed regulations specify that for those areas to be designated in FY 76, all supporting documentation pertinent to designation must be submitted to the Administrator within 120 days after these regulations become effective.

In view of the November 1, 1978 submission date for section 208 plans for areas that are not designated, these proposed regulations specify that approval of all revisions to designations or new designations will be at the discretion of the Administrator who must take into account the ability of the revised or later designated regional planning areas to have their section 208 plans completed by November 1, 1978.

These proposed amendments have been reviewed by representative State and local agencies. The EPA has revised these amendments to reflect most of the concerns raised, by either adopting the comments or substantially satisfying them through editorial changes.

Prior to the final adoption of these amendments to this Part, consideration will be given to comments, suggestions, or objections which may be submitted in writing to:

Director, Water Planning Division (WH-454), EPA, 401 M Street SW., Room E813, Washington, D.C. 20460

Consideration will be given to all comments, suggestions, or objections received on or before October 2, 1975.

In consideration of the foregoing, it is hereby proposed that 40 CFR Part 126 be amended to read as set forth below.

Dated: August 28, 1975.

RUSSELL E. TRAIN,
Administrator.

Subpart A—Purpose and Definitions

§ 126.1 Purpose.

The purpose of this part is to specify procedures and criteria to be followed by Governors and chief elected officials in designating areas and regional planning agencies pursuant to section 208(a) (2) through (4) of the Act.

§ 126.2 Definitions.

As used in this part, the following terms shall have the meanings set forth below:

(a) "Act" means the Federal Water Pollution Control Act Amendments of 1972 (86 Stat. 816 (33 U.S.C. 1251, 1258(a)(1))).

(b) "EPA" means the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency.

(c) "Administrator" means the Administrator of the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency.

(d) "Regional planning areas" means the area designated pursuant to section 208(a) (2), (3), or (4) of the Act.

(e) "State water quality management planning area" means all areas of the State that are not designated pursuant to section 208(a) (2), (3), or (4) of the Act.

(f) "Regional planning agency" means that agency designated in accordance with section 208(a) (2), (3), or (4) of the Act.

(g) "State planning agency" means that agency designated in accordance with section 208(a) (6) of the Act.

(h) "Urban-industrial concentration" means that portion of a standard metropolitan statistical area (SMSA—as defined by the Office of Management and Budget), or those portions of SMSA's having substantial concentrations of population and manufacturing production or other factors which result in substantial water quality control problems.

(i) "Chief elected officials" means chief elected officials of general purpose governments having jurisdiction within designated or proposed regional planning areas.

(j) The definitions of the terms contained in § 130.2 of this chapter shall be used in this part except as the context otherwise requires.

Subpart B—Procedures for Designation of Regional Planning Areas and Agencies Responsible for Planning

§ 126.10 Criteria for identification of regional planning areas.

The following criteria will be utilized in designation of regional planning areas.

(a) Because of the Act's legislative history and in view of the institutional nature of urban-industrial concentrations, preference will be given by the Administrator, in approving designations of regional planning areas, to areas of urban-industrial concentrations. The entire SMSA(s) may be designated as the regional planning area. Such areas may be enlarged to include areas outside the SMSA(s), which are contiguous to the SMSA(s), and which have substantial water quality control problems resulting from concentrations of population and manufacturing activity or other factors.

(b) The area must have a substantial water quality control problem. This condition will be determined to exist when water quality has been or may be degraded to the extent that desired beneficial water uses are impaired or precluded and when the water quality control problem is complex.

(c) Impairment or preclusion of desired beneficial water uses exists when:

(i) A substantial portion of the segments in the area are classified as water quality limited in accordance with § 130.10(b) (4) of this chapter; or

(ii) Preservation of existing high quality surface and/or groundwater is the major concern for water quality planning. This concern will be determined to exist when:

(A) The water resources which would be impaired are so unique that it would be in the national interest to preserve them; or the amount of water resources which would be impaired are so great that it is in the national interest to prevent impairment or degradation;

(B) The sources of pollution are so complex that only an areawide approach can effectively consider the demands of water quality; and

(C) The State has made an explicit statement adopting preservation and protection of existing high water quality as a policy for the area; or the State has implicitly adopted preservation and protection of existing high water quality as a policy for the area by establishing water quality parameters which are at the preservation level.

(2) A complex water quality control problem shall be considered to exist when three or more of the below conditions exist in the area:

(i) There is municipal waste management by two or more governments;

(ii) There is a substantial industrial pollution problem;

(iii) The area has a population growth rate above the national average, or the area has large seasonal fluctuation in its population;

(iv) There is a substantial urban stormwater drainage problem;

(v) There is a substantial nonpoint source pollution problem; or

(vi) There is a substantial groundwater pollution problem where:

(A) Groundwater pollution contributes to a surface water problem; or the impaired groundwater is a major source or water supply for the area;

(B) There is a complex groundwater problem due to a multiplicity of type, number, size, and extent of sources or unique physiography of the area;

(C) Remedial control action is possible within the area; and

(D) The State and the area have a groundwater quality goal.

(c) The affected general purpose or other appropriate units of local government within the boundaries of the regional area must:

(1) Have in operation a coordinated waste treatment management system, or

(2) Show their intent, through formally adopted resolutions, to join together to develop and implement a plan which will result in a coordinated waste treatment management system for the area.

(d) Affected units of local government must have legal authority to enter into agreements for coordinated wastewater management in compliance with section 208 of the Act.

§ 126.11 Designation criteria.

(a) The regional planning agency shall:

(1) Be a representative organization whose membership shall include but need not be limited to elected officials of local governments or their designees having jurisdiction in the designated planning area;

(2) Have waste treatment planning jurisdiction in the entire designated area;

(3) Have the capability to have the water quality management planning process for designated regional planning areas fully underway no later than 1 year after approval of the designation;

(4) Have the capability to complete the initial water quality management plan no later than two years after the planning process is in operation; and

(5) Have established procedures for plan adoption and resolution of major issues.

(b) In designating a regional planning agency for interstate or intrastate areas the Governor shall also consider:

(1) The legal authority of the agency with regard to water quality management planning, including, but not limited to, authority to coordinate with or participate in comprehensive planning, land use planning, water sewer planning, coastal zone management planning, and other related planning and development activities and controls;

(2) The relationship of the agency to planning agencies of different levels of government, including, but not limited to, Federal, State, interstate and Federal-State entities, as well as local government entities; and

(3) The relationship of the agency to management and regulatory agencies such as those that have zoning and subdivision authority, and those that construct and operate wastewater facilities.

(c) Existing capable regional agencies may be designated consistent with the policies in Title IV of the Intergovernmental Cooperation Act of 1968, as implemented by Part IV of OMB Circular A-95. In designating an existing regional agency the Governor shall consider, in addition to the factors set forth in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section:

(1) The agency's past record in water quality management planning, with special regard to plan quality, technical, fiscal, political, and economic feasibility, and environmental soundness;

(2) The agency's expertise, either in-house or readily available, with particular regard to water quality and comprehensive planning;

(3) The agency's fiscal, manpower, data, and other resources in light of existing and proposed commitments in other areas; and

(4) The agency's capability for having the plan implemented or of implementing all or portions of the plan itself.

(d) A single qualified regional planning agency may be designated as being responsible for planning in more than one planning area.

§ 126.12 Designation procedures.

(a) Within 60 days after these regulations become effective, the Governor shall:

(1) Identify each area of the State, not already designated, which he determines to be eligible for designation pursuant to § 126.10;

(2) List all areas among those eligible that he wishes to designate, with a time schedule for designation; and

(3) Notify the Administrator, the chief elected officials of general purpose government and all planning agencies with regional jurisdiction within the State, of his determination pursuant to paragraphs (a) (1) and (2) of this section.

(b) Within 90 days after these regulations become effective, chief elected officials of general purpose local governments wishing to designate areas under their jurisdiction which meet the criteria of § 126.10, but which have not been designated by the Governor, shall notify the Governor, in writing, of their intent to designate. Notification shall also be provided to the appropriate State agency identified pursuant to § 130.10(b) (5) of this chapter and to the Administrator.

(c) Within 120 days after these regulations become effective, and after public meeting or hearing in compliance with § 126.30:

(1) The Governor(s) shall determine which areas shall be designated pursuant to section 208(a) (2) and (3) of the Act, and submit this determination to the Administrator. A time table for designation consistent with the provisions of § 126.15 shall also be provided to the Administrator. For areas to be designated during Fiscal Year 1976, a submission pursuant to § 126.13 shall also be provided.

(2) The Governor(s) shall submit to the Administrator an identification of those areas which he has determined either by the Governor or by chief elected officials. Such determination shall reflect consideration of the requests of chief elected officials pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section, and a determination that these and other areas not designated do not meet the criteria set forth in § 126.10, or that there is no regional organization eligible in accordance with § 126.11. These areas shall constitute the State water quality management planning area.

(3) Chief elected officials in areas not covered by subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph shall notify the Administrator of their intention to designate areas under their jurisdiction pursuant to section 208(a) (4) of the Act. A time table for designation consistent with the provisions of § 126.15 shall also be provided. For areas to be designated during

Fiscal Year 1976, a submission pursuant to § 126.13 shall also be provided.

(4) The Governor shall submit the State Strategy document required to be prepared and submitted pursuant to §§ 35.1056-2, 130.11, 130.20 and 130.21 of this chapter. Designation determinations pursuant to subparagraphs (1) through (3) of this paragraph shall be consistent with this Strategy. The Strategy shall reflect recognition of the State's responsibility for assuring ultimate compliance with the planning and implementation priorities of section 208 of this Act as interpreted by Order of the United States District Court for the District of Columbia (Civ. Act. No. 74-1485, July 23, 1975).

(d) In designating an intrastate area, the Governor or chief elected officials shall define its boundaries, and designate a single representative agency to be responsible for the planning, after consultation with appropriate elected and other officials of local governments having jurisdiction in such areas, with the State agency identified in accordance with § 130.10(b) (5) of this chapter, and with any other State agencies as may be appropriate.

(e) The designation of interstate areas shall be in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (d) of this section: Provided, however, That appropriate interstate agencies shall also be consulted: And, provided further, That, except for designations by chief elected officials, the designation shall be the joint action of the Governors of all the affected States.

§ 126.13 Submission procedures.

(a) Within 120 days after promulgation of this part, for each regional area to be designated during Fiscal Year 1976 and identified pursuant to § 126.12(c) (1) and (3), the following information shall be provided:

(1) An exact description of the boundaries of each area including a statement relating the boundaries of any area to the boundaries of the SMSA(s) contained within or contiguous to the area, or for those areas not within an SMSA a statement relating the boundaries of the area to the nearest SMSA, and a statement indicating:

(i) Population of the area;

(ii) Nature of the concentration and distribution of industrial activity in the area;

(iii) Degree to which it is anticipated that the area could improve its ability to control water quality problems were it designated as a regional planning area; and

(iv) Factors responsible for designation, as described in § 126.10.

(2) Identification and supporting analysis of each water quality segment included in each area, as identified pursuant to Part 130 of this chapter.

(3) For each area a copy of the charter of existing regional waste treatment management agencies or formally adopted resolutions which demonstrate that the general purpose units of local government involved will join together in the planning process to develop and implement a plan which will result in a coordinated waste treatment management system for the area. The resolutions shall also state that all proposals for grants for construction of a publicly owned treatment works will be consistent with the approved plan and will be made only by the designated management agency.

(4) For each area, the name, address, and official contact for the agency designated to carry out the planning.

(5) A statement on the factors considered in agency designation as described in § 126.11.

(6) A summary of public participation in accordance with the requirements set forth in § 126.30.

(b) For regional agencies to be designated after Fiscal Year 1976, the information required by paragraph (a) of this section shall be submitted at a later date to be established by the Administrator.

§ 126.14 Review of submissions.

(a) The Administrator shall review each submission pursuant to §§ 126.12 and 126.13 to determine compliance with the Act and the criteria set forth in this part.

(b) Upon completion of his review, the Administrator shall publish notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER and shall notify in writing the appropriate Governor(s) or chief elected officials making designations of his approval or disapproval of each designation. In the event that the Administrator disapproves any of the designations, he shall specify his reasons with his notice of disapproval.

§ 126.15 Limitations on later designations.

The appropriate Governor(s) or chief elected officials (where the original designation was not made by the Governor(s)) may from time to time designate regional planning areas and agencies in previous State water quality management planning areas. In such cases, approval of the designation shall be at the discretion of the Administrator, taking into account its consistency with the State Strategy submitted pursuant to §§ 35.1056-2, 130.11, 130.20, and 130.21 of this chapter. The Administrator shall also take into account the ability of the later designated regional planning area to have its section 208 plan completed by November 1, 1978. The effective date of designation is the date of the Administrator's approval.

Subpart C—State Water Quality Management Planning Areas

§ 126.20 Planning in State water quality management planning areas.

The State shall act as the planning agency for the State water quality management planning areas pursuant to Parts 130 and 131 of this chapter.

Subpart D—Public Participation

§ 126.30 Public participation requirements in designation of regional planning areas and designation of agencies responsible for planning.

(a) All designation determinations pursuant to § 126.12 shall be the subject of appropriate public participation in accordance with section 101(e) of the Act and with Part 105 of this chapter.

(b) The Governor(s), or, where appropriate, chief elected officials, shall, after adequate public notice, hold one or more public hearings or meetings within any proposed regional planning area for the purpose of gaining public advice on the designation or nondesignation of the regional planning area and agency. All units of local government and members of the general public wishing to do so shall have the opportunity to be heard.

(c) Record of such public meetings or hearings including notice of same shall be kept and made available to the Administrator upon request. A summary of the comments and meeting notes shall be submitted to the Administrator with each designation.

Subpart E—Assistance to State and Regional Planning Agencies

§ 126.40 Determination of eligibility.

Assistance under section 208(f) of the Act shall be provided to those regional planning agencies designated under § 126.12(c) (1) and (3) and to State planning agencies identified under § 126.12(c) (2). Grant assistance is available under the terms and conditions and within the limitations set forth in Subpart F of Part 35 of this chapter.

Title 29—Labor

CHAPTER XXV—OFFICE OF EMPLOYEE BENEFITS SECURITY, DEPARTMENT OF LABOR

SUBCHAPTER C—MINIMUM STANDARDS FOR EMPLOYEE PENSION BENEFIT PLANS UNDER THE EMPLOYEE RETIREMENT INCOME SECURITY ACT OF 1974

PART 2530—RULES AND REGULATIONS FOR MINIMUM STANDARDS FOR EMPLOYEE PENSION BENEFIT PLANS

The regulations in this document amend Chapter XXV, Employee Benefits Security, by adding thereto Part 2530. The regulations in Part 2530 relate to Part 2 of Subtitle B of Title I of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (hereinafter referred to as "the Act"). Part 2 of the Act (sections 201 through 211) prescribe minimum standards for covered employee pension benefit plans in the areas of participation, vesting and benefit accrual. More liberal plan provisions which do not conflict with the Act or the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 (hereinafter referred to as "the Code") and the regulations issued thereunder are permitted.

The regulations contained in this document are both temporary regulations effective immediately and proposed regulations for final adoption. The primary reason for making these regulations effective immediately on a temporary basis is that plans not in existence on January 1, 1974 must meet the requirements of the Act for plan years beginning after September 2, 1974. For many plans the first plan year beginning after September 2, 1974 will be a plan year beginning on September 1, 1975, as a result of procedures set forth by the Internal Revenue Service in Revenue Procedures 74-38, -39 & -40 issued September 10 & 11, 1974. These procedures classified plans as "pre-existing plan" (adopted and put into effect by an employer on or before January 1, 1974), "new plan subject to prior law" (adopted and put into effect by an employer after January 1, 1974, whose first plan year begins on or before September 2, 1974, whether or not it is adopted and put into effect by an employer before September 2, 1974), and "new plan subject to new law" (adopted and put into effect by an employer after January 1, 1974, whose first plan year begins after September 2, 1974). The effect of these procedures was to permit plans adopted after January 1, 1974 to meet the requirements of prior law rather than the requirements of the Act by making the plan year begin on or before September 2, 1974. Many of these plans will now have plan years beginning September 1, 1975 during which they will be required to meet the standards of the Act. In addition, pre-existing plans must meet the requirements of the Act for plan years beginning after December 31, 1975. The regulations in Part 2530 will allow these plans to make the necessary adjustments. Any changes or modifications contained in "final" regulations will be prospective only.

In addition, section 7476 of the Code, which provides jurisdiction in the United States Tax Court for declaratory judgments relating to qualification of certain retirement plans, is effective with respect to pleadings filed in that court after September 2, 1975. Cases proceeding in that court may be decided with reference to these temporary regulations.

For the foregoing reasons, the undersigned finds that good cause exists for making these regulations temporarily effective without advance publication as specified in the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U.S.C. 553(d) (3)).

These regulations are also proposed for final adoption as soon as possible. Interested persons are invited to submit written data, views, or arguments concerning any or all of the proposed regulations contained in this document on or before November 7, 1975. Such data, views and arguments should be submitted to the Office of Employee Benefits Security (DEVD—PV Comments), Labor Management Services Administration, U.S. Department of Labor, Washington, D.C. 20216. All comments should be clearly referenced to the numbers of the sections to which the comments are directed.

It is emphasized that because the regulations proposed in this document must be effective without delay, comments received later than November 7, 1975 will not be considered in the preparation of the final regulations. While under other circumstances the Department of Labor may grant extensions of time for filing comments in order to compile the fullest record possible, such a policy is precluded in this case by the requirements of prompt publication in final form to serve the needs of affected persons or organizations. Therefore, no request will be entertained to grant an extension to any person for filing comments relating to the regulations proposed in this document.

BACKGROUND

INTER-RELATIONSHIP OF PART 2 AND THE CODE

With only a few exceptions, provisions substantially identical to those in part 2 of the Act are contained in the Code. Except for certain concepts for which the Secretary of Labor has been specifically authorized to prescribe regulations, regulations prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury under sections 410 and 411 of the Code shall, pursuant to section 3002(c) of the Act, also implement the counterpart provisions of part 2. Generally, these provisions of the Act are sections 202 (minimum participation standards), 203 (minimum vesting standards), and 204 (benefit accrual requirements). Similarly, regulations for which the Secretary of Labor has been given regulatory authority shall also be used in implementing sections 410 and 411 of the Code. Regulations for other provisions of part 2 of Title I of the Act which have substantially identical counterparts in the Code, but for which no exclusive regulation authority is delegated to either the Secretary of the Treasury or his delegate or the Secretary of Labor, shall be prepared by the Secretaries of Labor and Treasury in concert.

Regulations for implementing part 2 of Title I of the Act and, in cases where the Secretary of Labor has exclusive jurisdiction for issuing regulations under specific provisions, the counterpart provisions of sections 410 and 411 of the Code, will be promulgated in Part 2530. Regulations pertaining to a specific section of the Act will be prescribed under the corresponding section of the regulations. For example, the regulations contained in § 2530.202 relate to section 202 of the Act. Regulations pertaining to concepts common to several or all sections in part 2 of Title I of the Act will be set forth in Subpart A, Scope and General Provisions.

With few exceptions, such as the regulations pertaining to coverage, the regulations presently being issued pertain to certain concepts for which regulatory authority is specifically delegated to the Secretary of Labor for purposes of part 2 of Title I of the Act and sections 410 and 411 of the Code. These concepts relate generally to the methods for computing service to be credited to an employee and include years of service, hours of service, years of participation and breaks in service, as well as seasonal and maritime industries.

FRAMEWORK AND BASIC STANDARDS OF PART 2 OF THE ACT

The rules contained in Part 2530 are applicable to the minimum participation, vesting and benefit accrual standards of sections 202, 203 and 204. Regulations to be issued by the Secretary of the Treasury under sections 410 and 411 of the Code will be the official interpretation of these sections, but an outline of the standards is contained herein to put the Department of Labor regulations in context.

It should be emphasized that plan provisions more liberal than the standards of the Act are not prohibited. For example, under section 202(a) (1) (A) of the Act most pension plans may not require, as a condition of participation in the plan, that an employee complete a period of service with the employer maintaining the plan extending beyond the later of the date on which the employee attains age 25 or completes 1 year of service. But, a plan to which section 202 of the Act applies could provide that every employee is eligible to participate regardless of age or service or that an employee who has attained age 24 is eligible to participate.

The central theme of these standards is that sections 202 and 204 work in harmony to determine when an employee must become a participant in the plan and when he or she must accrue benefits while a participant. Section 203 generally applies to determine whether an employee has nonforfeitable rights to accrued benefits.

(1) Eligibility to participate. Section 202 requires generally that an employee cannot be excluded from a plan on account of age or service if he or she is at least 25 years old and has had at least one year of service. However, if the plan provides full and immediate vesting for all participants, it may require employees to complete 3 years of service in order to participate. As an alternative, any plan which is maintained exclusively for employees of a tax-exempt educational organization which provides full and immediate vesting for all participants may have a participation requirement of age 30, with 1 year of service.

In general, for purposes of the participation requirements, the term "year of service" means a 12-month period during which the employee has worked at least 1,000 hours. This 12-month period is measured from the date the employee enters service. Thus, the employee has fulfilled his or her 1,000-hour requirement if he or she has 1,000 hours of work by the first anniversary date of employment. The employee (if age 25 or older) would then be admitted to the plan within 6 months of his or her anniversary date of employment or by the beginning of the first plan year following the first anniversary date, whichever occurred earlier. (Of course, this does not mean that an employee would have to be admitted to the plan if he or she were lawfully excluded for reasons other than age or service.) If the employee did not complete 1,000 hours of service by the first anniversary date, but were still employed, then he or she would start over toward meeting the 1,000 hour requirement. For this purpose, the plan could provide (on a consistent basis) that the relevant 12-month period is either (a) the year between the first anniversary of employment and the second anniversary date, or (b) the plan year which began before the first anniversary date.

The regulations with respect to "year of service" for purposes of eligibility to participate are found in § 2530.202, which introduces the concept of an "eligibility computation period" for reference to the periods described in the preceding paragraph. The term "hour of service" is defined in Subpart A of Part 2530, along with other regulations that pertain to computing years of service.

(2) Accrual of benefits. Section 204 requires plans other than defined benefit plans to make a separate accounting for each employee's accrued benefit. A defined benefit plan is required to satisfy one of three accrued benefit tests (which limit the extent of "back-loading" permitted under the plan). The three tests each require some increment of accrual to be credited for each year of participation, which is defined as a period of service beginning from the date of participation established under section 202. This period of participation in the plan, however, need not include any period which is not required to be taken into account under section 202(b), which deals with breaks in service. The break in service rules of section 202(b), therefore, apply both to eligibility to participate and for measuring the period of participation on which benefits must be accrued. Therefore these rules (§ 2530.200b-4) govern both eligibility to participate initially and retention of eligibility to participate. As long as an employee retains participant status, he or she is eligible to accrue benefits although benefits under most plans need not be accrued for years in which the employee fails to complete 1,000 hours of service.

The Secretary of Labor is authorized to prescribe regulations which provide for the calculation of the period of participation on any reasonable and consistent basis. The regulations with respect to "year of participation" are found in § 2530.204-2 which introduces the concept of an "accrual computation period" for plans which are required to accrue benefits on a yearly basis. Some plans with certain defined benefit formulas will not be required to accrue benefits on a yearly basis and the rules with respect to these plans are found in § 2530.204-3.

(3) Vesting. Section 203 requires that a plan must provide full and immediate vesting in benefits derived from employee contributions. In general, with respect to employer contributions, the plan (except class year plans) must meet one of three alternative standards, which are expressed in terms of vesting schedules. Generally, once an employee becomes eligible to participate in a pension plan, all his or her years of service with an employer (including preparticipation service, and service performed before the effective date of the Act) are to be taken into account for purposes of determining his or her place on the vesting schedule. However, the plan may ignore periods for which the employee declined to make mandatory contributions and periods for which the employer did not maintain the plan or a predecessor plan, as defined in Treasury regulations. Generally, the plan may also ignore service performed before age 22; however, if a plan elects to use the rule of 45 as a vesting schedule, service before age 22 may be ignored only if the employee was not a participant in the plan for the years before age 22. Service performed prior to January 1, 1971, may be ignored by the plan, unless (and until) the employee has at least 3 years of service after December 31, 1970. Also, if the employee has had a "break in service", service performed prior to the break may be ignored to the extent permitted under the "break in service" rules of section 203(b) (3).

All of the vesting schedules and the rules governing what service must be counted in determining an employee's place on the plan's vesting schedules are phrased in terms of "years of service." Years of service for purposes of vesting are not necessarily the same as years of service for purposes of eligibility to participate in the plan, and § 2530.203 of these regulations introduces the concept of a "vesting computation period" for computing the year of service which must be counted for vesting purposes. This vesting computation period will also be used for other purposes, such as calculating breaks in service, with some exceptions.

DESCRIPTION OF THE REGULATIONS

SECTION 2530.200b-1 (CROSS-REFERENCE .202, .203 AND .204)

Section 2530.200b-1(a) states the relationship between the various computation periods established pursuant to sections 202, 203 and 204 of the Act and sections 410 and 411 of the Code (see Framework above). Subsection (b) states rules generally applicable to all computation periods. This section does not, however, establish the rules governing each separate computation period. These rules are stated in §§ 2530.202, 2530.203 and 2530.204.

In general, creditable service and the incidence of a break in service are determined by the number of hours completed during an applicable computation period. There are three primary computation periods: (1) The eligibility computation period, used to determine eligibility to participate in the plan and deferral of benefit accrual for two years when the plan exercises a special option; (2) the vesting computation period used to determine the employee's place on the vesting schedule and, with only very limited exceptions, to determine a break in service; and (3) the accrual computation period used to determine whether an employee, once participation in the plan has begun, will accrue full, partial or no retirement benefits for the period.

The eligibility computation period and the vesting computation period are always 12-consecutive-month periods. The accrual computation period is usually a 12-consecutive-month period but special rules are provided for shorter periods resulting (1) from an employee's beginning participation on a date other than the beginning of the period or (2) from plan amendments changing the accrual computation period. In addition, some plans which recognize the employee's total service under the plan and accrue benefits on that basis need not use a 12-consecutive-month accrual computation period (see § 2530.204-3).

The minimum standards prescribe that an employee who completes 1,000 hours of service during the applicable computation period shall be credited with a year of service for vesting or a year of service for eligibility to participate in the plan. The number of hours of service required for full accrual of benefits in each accrual computation period may be set by the plan, but an employee who completes at least 1,000 hours of service during an accrual computation period must be given at least a ratable portion of the full accrual. Employment for the full computation period is not required for obtaining credit for that period; credit for a particular purpose is to be determined solely on the basis of the number of hours of service completed during the computation period in question.

A plan may designate any 12-consecutive-month period as the vesting computation period. Similarly, plans which must use an annual accrual computation period may designate any 12-consecutive-month period as the accrual computation period. These periods need not necessarily coincide with the "plan year," which is defined by section 3(39) of the Act as the year on which the records of the plan are kept, and which is likely to be the employer's tax year. This was provided to allow plans maximum latitude in developing their requirements.

As a result, plans may designate one the plan may treat this person as a new employee. Section 2530.200b-4(b) of the

As a result, plans may designate one computation period for vesting purposes and the same or a different computation period for accrual purposes. For example, to simplify record keeping, a plan may designate the plan year as both the vesting and accrual computation periods. This approach would allow all record keeping to be on one period unless the plan has a service requirement for eligibility, in which case the eligibility computation period is statutorily mandated to begin with the employment commencement date determined under § 2530.202. Therefore, plans may feel compelled to use at least two computation periods, one for vesting and accrual purposes and one for eligibility purposes. The eligibility computation period may be ignored after completion of the service requirement, and the plan could then make all computations on the plan year. Of course, a plan could designate all three computation periods (eligibility, vesting and accrual) to be the 12-consecutive-month periods which begin with the employment commencement date and anniversaries thereof. This approach, however, probably will not serve the record keeping needs of most plans.

Other approaches for limiting the problems caused by a separate eligibility computation period center on easing the eligibility requirements from what is allowed by the Act. For example, a plan with no service requirement for eligibility will not be required to keep an eligibility computation period. Admitting every employee to participation on the beginning of the first plan year after commencement of employment would allow all computations to be made on the plan year.

In setting rules for computation of years of service and years of participation, an attempt has been made to provide maximum flexibility to plan administrators within the limits of fairness to employees and plan participants. A plan is not required to establish different eligibility, vesting and accrual computation periods. The Secretary recognizes that most plans will prefer to have these periods coterminous with the plan year for accounting and record keeping purposes. Some plans, however, will have peculiar problems that will be more easily resolved with the flexibility provided by three different computation periods. The potential of these periods for generating confusion among employees is offset by the protective provisions applicable to overlapping years of service or partial years of participation when changes are made in the designated computation periods.

Section 2530.200b-2. The basic element of creditable service under the minimum participation, vesting and benefit accrual standards of sections 202, 203, and 204 of the Act and sections 410 and 411 of the Code is the hour of service. The number of hours of service completed during a particular computation period will determine whether an employee has completed a year of service or a year of participation. Section 2530.200b-2 provides a definition of an hour of service.

The definition of an hour of service consists of a general rule and two special rules. The general rule is that an employee is credited with each hour for which he or she is directly or indirectly paid, or entitled to payment, by the employer for the performance of duties during the applicable computation period. These hours include overtime hours, but credit is only required to be given for the hours actually worked irrespective of any increase in the rate of pay for such hours. For example, if an employee works 42 hours but, because of the application of a time-and-one-half rate for hours in excess of 40, is compensated on the basis of 43 hours, the plan is not required by this rule to credit more than 42 hours.

The immediate source of the funds for payment is not determinative of whether payment is on behalf of the employer, and hours must be credited when payment is from sources such as tips by customers or a share in the proceeds of an event or a separate account maintained on behalf of the employer. The hours are to be credited in the period during which the services are performed regardless of when payment is made or due.

The first special rule provided by the regulations is that an award of backpay will result in crediting hours of service retroactively for the period or periods to which the award or agreement pertains rather than the period in which it is made. This rule flows from the principles of equity that back pay is dependent upon a showing that a person was legally entitled to have been compensated as an employee but in fact was either not employed or not fully compensated. The hours to be credited will be determined without regard to mitigation of damages for reasons such as the employee's bad faith or receipt of compensation from other sources during the period wrongfully not employed. Thus, if the award is based on 2000 hours for which the employee should have been employed but is decreased to 100 hours by reason of compensation from other sources, then the number of hours to be credited during the applicable computation period or periods is 2000.

The second special rule relates to determining whether an employee has incurred a break in service. In addition to hours for services performed, credit must be given for hours directly or indirectly paid, or payable, for reasons other than the performance of duties during the applicable computation period. These hours would include vacation, holidays, sickness, disability, paid layoff and similar paid periods of nonworking time. The immediate source of payment may be indirectly on behalf of the employer in such situations as vacation pay from a union fund when employers have contributed to the fund. In many instances these hours will have accrued in prior computation periods on the basis of performance of duties in the prior periods. Credit for these hours, however, must be given in the computation period in which they are either paid or payment should have been made and was, for whatever reasons, not made. For example, hours of paid vacation are credited in the period during which the employee takes the hours of vacation regardless of when entitlement to them was earned. The rationale for this limit is that an employee on, for example, disability or lay-off pay during an entire computation period should not incur a break in service. On the other hand, he or she should not necessarily receive a year of service or a year of participation toward increased vesting and accrual of benefits, unless the plan chooses to provide this credit. It is recognized that many multi-employer plans may be required to institute new procedures for obtaining information about these hours. The necessary procedures, however, should not be unduly burdensome, particularly since they need not be implemented except in the case of an employee who would otherwise incur a break in service.

An explicit statement of nonintervention in rights granted by separate federal law with respect to hours of service is contained in § 2530.200b-2(c). This statement is designated to clarify that these regulations are not intended to affect the interpretation of statutes such as those providing for veteran's reemployment rights. It is anticipated, however, that section 514 of the Act will result in preemption of any state laws that would affect the hours required to be credited, such as state laws regarding jury duty.

Section 2530.200b-3. This section prescribes the methods by which hours of service, defined in § 2530.200b-2, are to be determined. The basic method of ascertaining the number of hours of service completed by an employee during a particular computation period is crediting the employee, on an hour for hour basis, with each hour of service actually completed. This is accomplished by keeping detailed records of hours worked and paid, as well as other hours that might be creditable to avoid a break in service. For employees who are paid on an hourly basis, this method of determination should present few problems because these records (e.g., payroll) are already being maintained. The regulations, therefore, prescribe that hours of service are to be credited to hourly employees on an hour for hour basis as determined from employment records.

Determination of hours of service for employees who are not compensated on an hourly basis, (i.e., salaried, commissioned or piece-work employees) would require, unless an alternative form of determination were provided, that records of hours be kept for these employees. Many of these employees are exempt from preexisting wage-hour laws and a new requirement that records be maintained would be unduly burdensome upon plans, if not impossible in some situations. The legislative history of the Act recognizes this difficulty and contemplates the availability of an alternative computation method.

In view of these factors the regulations provide for translating weeks of service into 40 hours of service or days into eight hours of service for nonhourly employees. Application of the equivalency formula is limited to nonhourly employees whose hours are not required to be counted and recorded by a separate federal statute such as the Fair Labor Standards Act. Moreover, the formula must yield an equivalency of at least 1000 hours of service per computation period.

Sections 202(b)(1), 203(b)(1) and 204(b)(1)(D) of the Act and sections 410(a)(5), 411(a)(4) and 411(b)(1)(D) of the Code require, in specific instances, counting hours of service completed prior to the effective date of these provisions to compute years of service and participation for prior service. The Secretary is aware that many plans and employers have not kept records in the form now required by the Act. To alleviate this problem, the regulations prescribe that either an approximation of hours or an estimate of hours is to be made, depending upon the degree to which accessible records are capable of yielding a reliable calculation. For example, if a plan or an employer maintaining the plan has, or has access to, only the records of compensation of employees for prior years, it may make an approximation of the pre-effective date hours of service by using the hourly rate or the hours customarily worked for such compensation during the period in question. When accessible records are insufficient to yield a reliable approximation, the plan may, using whatever evidence is available, make a reasonable estimate of the hours of service completed by each employee during the particular period. The estimate may be made on the basis of a group of employees, job classification, or single employee. By making a request under section 105(a), an employee will be able to obtain a statement of past service credited and could challenge the determination through court action or the claims procedure under section 503.

Section 2530.200b-4. Sections 202(b) and 203(b)(3) provide rules dealing with when a plan may charge an employee with a break in service and the consequences of a break. These requirements are stated in terms of what periods of service must be counted for purposes of eligibility, vesting and, by incorporation through section 204(b)(3), accrual of benefits. The rules can be summarized as follows: A break in service is defined as a computation period during which the employee completes 500 or less hours of service. Once a participant acquires any degree of vested rights in employer contributions, a break in service means only that he or she may be required to meet the eligibility requirements under section 202(a) for reentry to the plan, at which time retroactive accrual must be granted for service completed during the eligibility waiting period. A participant with no degree of vested rights in employer contributions or an employee with prior years of service who incurs a break is subject to the "rule of parity," which allows forfeiture of prior service credit when the number of consecutive breaks equal the number of prior years of service. Finally, an employee who has prior years of service credited for eligibility to participate in a plan which is allowed to require three years of service before participation but who has not yet become a participant, may lose all prior service credit upon incurring a break in service.

The general rules on breaks in service are contained in § 2530.200b-4. This section requires that, with one exception, breaks in service must be measured by the vesting computation period. This general rule is warranted by the implications of a break in service, which relate to the extent to which a participant is vested or has prior years of service with no degree of vesting. In the case of a participant with some degree of vesting in employer-derived accrued benefits, prior service credit is nonforfeitable and the only consequence of a break is possible suspension of participant status. To prevent possible confusion, the regulations require that breaks must be measured on the vesting computation period. In the case of an employee with prior years of service toward vesting but no degree of vested rights, for purposes of the rule of parity the prior years of service for vesting will be measured by the vesting computation period (see § 2530.203-2(d)), and the general rule requires that breaks also be measured by the vesting computation period. It would have been possible for the regulations to provide that a plan could have a separate computation period for breaks in service, but this could add unnecessary confusion and could work to the detriment of a participant. Similarly, while breaks could be measured by the accrual computation period on the condition that prior service be measured by the vesting computation period, there could be unnecessary confusion in applying this rule.

The single exception to the rule that the vesting computation period must be used to measure breaks in service relates to determining eligibility to participate. If the eligibility computation period is used to compute prior service, the plan may elect to measure breaks on the eligibility computation period. An employee may have more years for eligibility than for vesting (e.g., years completed prior to age 22). This employee would not forfeit accrued benefits until the number of consecutive breaks equals the prior years for eligibility although vesting credit may be forfeited when the number of consecutive breaks equals the employee's years of service for vesting purposes.

For the purpose of maintaining eligibility to participate (and consequent nonforfeiture of accrued benefits), the employee's prior service for eligibility may be measured by continuing the eligibility computation periods throughout or by switching to the vesting computation period when the employee first obtains eligibility to participate (§ 2530.202-2(c)(1)). The plan must use the same computation periods both for measuring prior service and for measuring breaks in service.

For purposes of determining whether a participant who has incurred a break in service completes a subsequent year of service for reentry to active participation, the plan may treat this person as a new employee. Section 2530.200b-4(b) of the regulations requires that a reemployment commencement date be established on the first date that the employee completes an hour of service following the last break in service. The reemployment commencement date is required by section 202(b)(3) of the Act, which speaks of a year of service as defined in section 202(a)(3), which in turn speaks of a 12-consecutive-month period following commencement of employment. A new eligibility computation period, consisting of the twelve consecutive months following the reemployment commencement date, will also be established. Completion of at least 1000 hours within this period entitles the employee to resume active participation retroactively (see regulations prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury under sections 410 and 411 of the Code). Retroactive accrual of benefits would be required if a partial year of participation is credited under the rules provided in § 2530.204-2(c) (based on the normal accrual computation period). Vesting credit will depend upon years of service completed during the normal vesting computation periods both prior to and after the break in service in question. On the other hand, failure to complete 1000 hours during the new eligibility computation period may be treated by the plan in the same fashion as failure to complete 1000 hours during the initial eligibility computation period under the rules in § 2530.202-2(b), allowing the plan to change the eligibility computation period to coincide with the plan year or begin a new eligibility computation period on the first anniversary of the reemployment commencement date.

Section 2530.200b-6. Sections 202(a)(3)(D), 203(b)(2)(D) and 204(b)(3)(E) of the Act and sections 410(a)(3)(D), 411(a)(5)(D) and 411(b)(2)(E) of the Code require plans covering employees in the maritime industry to count days of service rather than hours of service, with 125 days of service being equated to 1,000 hours of service. Section 2530.200b-6 defines the maritime industry and sets out the manner in which service is to be credited for employees in this industry for a particular purpose, such as a year of service for vesting and a year of participation.

The maritime industry is defined generally as that industry in which the duties of employees involve operation of any vessel operating on the various listed bodies of water. These duties must pertain to the actual operation of the vessel rather than being activities which merely involve waterborne transportation. A pilot on inland navigable waterways or a steward serving food on a vessel is engaged in the actual operation of a vessel. On the other hand, an employee whose duties require him to travel by watercraft from island to island to perform duties on the islands is not an employee in the maritime industry unless his or her duties include operation of the craft. In addition, employees performing duties on an offshore port or other similar site such as an offshore oil tower would be computation period used in determining a year of participation.

The function of a year of participation is the determination of a participant's benefit accrual for a particular such as an offshore oil tower would be in the maritime industry while their counterparts on dry land would not be.

The regulations require assessing whether each individual employee is in the maritime industry and if so, require measurement of service on the basis of days of service completed during an applicable computation period rather than hours of service for each such employee. The typical situation will be that a single employer will have maritime employees who are actually engaged in the operation of vessels covered by a multiemployer plan and nonmaritime employees covered by a different plan. When a plan does cover both maritime and nonmaritime employees, the nonmaritime employees will continue to be credited with hours of service rather than days of service.

The computation periods and methods of computing years of service and years of participation for employees in the maritime industry shall be the same as for employees in other industries.

Section 2530.200b-7. Section 2530.200b-7 defines a day of service for the purposes of determining creditable service for employees in the maritime industry. The rules prescribed by this section are substantially identical to those prescribed in the definition of hours of service in § 2530.200b-2. Therefore, the discussion under § 2530.200b-2 is equally applicable here.

Section 2530.200b-8. Section 2530.200b-8 sets forth the methods of determining days of service for employees in the maritime industry. The rules in this section are substantially identical to the regulations prescribing the methods of determining hours of service prescribed in § 2530.200b-3. Therefore, the explanation under § 2530.200b-3 is equally applicable here.

These regulations divide the method of determining days of service into two categories based upon the method of compensation. For employees who are paid on a per day basis pursuant to articles, other similar employment arrangements or by custom, days of service, (including pre-effective date days of service) are to be counted and recorded in the same manner that hours of service for hourly employees are determined under § 2530.200b-3(a). Days of service for employees in the maritime industry who are not paid on a per day basis are determined on the same basis as for non-hourly employees under the rules prescribed in § 2530.200b-3(b).

Section 2530.201. Section 2530.201 sets forth the categories of employee benefit plans which are subject to the minimum participation, vesting, benefit accrual and other standards of part 2 of Title I of the Act. This regulation is essentially a reiteration of the statutory language of section 201 of the Act and contains no substantive provisions which are not already in the statute.

Two points should, however, be emphasized. First, coverage under section 201 of the Act and § 2530.201 is predicated upon coverage under Title I, which is stated in section 4 of the Act. Therefore, a plan which is not covered under section 4 of the Act will not be within the coverage of section 201. Second, only employee pension benefit plans as defined in section 3(2) of the Act are covered by part 2 of Title I of the Act; employee welfare benefit plans are not. For further delineation of coverage and definitions applying to the Act generally, see Part 2510 published in the FEDERAL REGISTER of August 15, 1975.

Section 2530.202. Section 202 of the Act and section 410 of the Code prescribe a 12-month computation period for determining eligibility to participate in the plan. This eligibility computation period is used to determine whether an employee has fulfilled the service requirements for admission into the plan. It also could have a continuing use in determining whether an employee or participant with no degree of vested interest in employer-derived accrued benefits retains his or her eligibility to be a plan participant under the rule of parity (see discussion of § 2530.200b-4 above). An example of the latter situation is the case in which an employee becomes a plan participant but fails to meet the service requirements to continue participation (e.g., the employee is credited with less than 501 hours during the applicable computation period), thereby permitting the plan to disregard prior years of service under the break in service rules of the plan. Section 2530.202 states the requirements for establishing the eligibility computation periods for both initial participation in the plan and retention of eligibility to participate in the plan. The rules pertaining to actual loss of retention of eligibility to participate are established by section 202(b) of the Act and section 410(a)(5) of the Code and the regulations issued under the latter section by the Secretary of Treasury.

The eligibility computation period used to establish initial eligibility to participate in the plan shall be, for plans requiring one year of service for eligibility to participate in the plan, the 12-consecutive-month period beginning with the employment commencement date. For plans permitted by section 202(a)(1)(B)(i) of the Act and section 410(a)(1)(B)(i) of the Code to require up to three years of service for initial eligibility to participate in the plan, the eligibility computation period shall be the 12-consecutive-month period beginning with the employment commencement date and succeeding 12-consecutive-month periods beginning on the anniversaries of this date. The employment commencement date is defined as the first day in which the employee first performs an hour of service as defined by § 2530.200b-2. Thus, the employment commencement date for an employee who signed an employment contract on February 2, 1978 but did not complete an hour of service until November 3, 1978, would be November 3, 1978.

As explained in the preamble to § 2530.200b-1 (Computation Periods), the Secretary recognizes that many plans will find it awkward to use the employment commencement date as the starting date for the eligibility computation period. This is especially true because the minimum standards do not allow delay of entry into the plan to the beginning of the next accrual computation period or plan year following completion of the eligibility requirements if that period begins more than 6 months after completion of eligibility. It is anticipated that plans will provide more favorable participation and plan entry standards in conjunction with the flexibility afforded in establishing computation periods for vesting and benefit accrual to achieve a single computation period for all purposes. An example of how this may be done is provided in the preamble to § 2530.200b-1.

In the event that an employee does not complete a year of service during the first eligibility computation period, the plan may shift the eligibility computation period to the plan year. There are, however, several requirements attached to this provision. The shift must be to the plan year that includes the last day of the 12-month eligibility computation period beginning with the employee's employment commencement date. Exercise of the option to shift in these cases must be expressed in the plan documents and must apply to all employees who fail to complete the first year of service for eligibility to participate. For plans requiring up to three years of service for eligibility to participate in the plan, this shift is available only if the employee fails to complete a year of service during the first eligibility computation period beginning on the employee's employment commencement date. Use of the plan year for this purpose is required by the statute but many plans will want to shift to the vesting computation period. This would be permitted if the vesting computation period were designated to coincide with the plan year.

For purposes of determining years of service for retention of eligibility to participate in the plan and consequent non-forfeiture of accrued benefits (see sections 204(b)(3)(A) and 202(b)(4) of the Act), plans are afforded an option to choose one of two computation periods. First, the plan may continue to measure these years of service on eligibility computation periods beginning on the employee's employment commencement date and anniversaries thereof. Plans which use computation periods beginning on specified calendar dates will find this computation period awkward to use. For example, a plan which determines vesting and benefit accrual on a calendar year basis would still be required to compute retention of eligibility to participate in the plan on different periods for different employees.

To alleviate this situation, plans may shift to the vesting computation period to determine years of service for retention of eligibility to participate in the plan. There are two primary requirements pertaining to this shift. First, the shift may be made only after the employee has completed the service requirement for initial entry into the plan. It should be noted that only the service requirements must be completed, and the shift to the vesting computation period may still be made even though the employee has not completed other requirements, such as minimum age, for entry into the plan. Second, the shift must be accomplished in the same manner that a plan amendment changing the vesting computation period would be accomplished. Thus, the vesting computation period that a plan must first use to measure continued eligibility to participate in the plan following the shift must be the vesting computation period which includes the last day of the eligibility computation period in which the employee first completes the service requirements for plan participation. This overlapping of periods is essential to assure that the employee does not lose creditable service as a result of a gap between computation periods.

Section 2530.203. Section 203 of the Act and section 411(a) of the Code use a "year of service" as the unit of measurement in determining the percentage of accrued benefits derived from employer contributions to which an employee must have a nonforfeitable (vested) right. Section 203(b)(2)(A) and section 411(a)(5)(A) of the Code define a year of service for this purpose as a 12-consecutive-month period designated by the plan (and not prohibited by the Secretary) during which the employee completes 1000 hours of service. Section 2530.203-2 prescribes the requirements for establishing the vesting computation period for determining years of service for vesting.

The regulations allow the plan to designate any 12-consecutive-month period as the vesting computation period. This computation period must be applied uniformly to all employees although the periods need not be identical for each employee. For example, designation of the vesting computation period as the periods between the employment commencement date and anniversaries thereof would result in different periods for different employees but would still be of uniform application. The plan is prohibited, however, from using any period that would result in artificial postponement of vesting credit, such as a period measured by anniversaries of the date four months following the employment commencement date.

A plan may be amended to change the vesting computation period to a different 12-consecutive month period. The first new vesting computation period however, must include the last day of the preceding vesting computation period. Although this will result in a limited degree of double counting of hours of service, it is designed to ensure that the employee will have all creditable service counted without a gap between computation periods.

Section 2530.204. Section 204 of the Act and section 411(b) of the Code contain benefit accrual requirements relating to certain employee pension benefit plans. In general, each covered employee pension benefit plan must satisfy certain benefit accrual requirements, some of which are based on years of participation. Section 2530.204-1 sets forth the requirements for establishing the accrual computation period used in determining a year of participation.

A year of participation (for accrual purposes) differs slightly in concept from a year of service for eligibility to participate or for vesting. Under the minimum standards of sections 202 and 203 of the Act and 410(a) and 411(a) of the Code, an employee is to be credited with a full year of service upon the completion of 1,000 hours of service during either an eligibility or vesting computation period. Under section 204 of the Act and section 411(b) of the Code, however, completion of the same number of hours during an accrual computation period requires a defined benefit plan to credit the participant with at least a partial year of participation for benefit accrual. Credit for a full year of participation for accrual may be made dependent upon the participant's completion of a number of hours of service specified by the plan (such as 1,600 or 2,000) during the accrual computation period. Setting this number of hours of service for full accrual is left to the plans and is not addressed in these regulations.

The period for determining a year of participation is the accrual computation period. Unless the plan uses the alternative career method stated in § 2530.204-3, the accrual computation period shall be a 12-consecutive-month period. This period may be any 12-consecutive-month period chosen by the plan provided that the period is applied uniformly to all participants. Thus, a plan could designate an accrual computation period beginning on one specified date for determining all participants' years of participation or the plan may choose to compute years of participation on a participant-by-participant basis by designating that the accrual computation period begins with the date that the participant enters the plan and anniversaries thereof.

For purposes of applying the accrual rules of section 204(b)(1)(D) of the Act and section 411(b)(1)(D) of the Code (relating to accrual standards for defined benefit plans for pre-effective date periods), the regulations establish a method for determining the date of commencement of participation. The general rule is that the date for commencement of participation that is specified in the plan documents will be controlling. Some plan documents, however, do not establish this date. In this case, the date that the employee commenced employment covered under the plan will be presumed also to establish commencement of participation in the plan. The plan may rebut this presumption by showing from the circumstances of employment or operation of the plan that participation did not begin on the date of entry into covered service. For example, a plan may show that even though an employee entered service covered under the plan, the first three years of such service for all employees is on a part-time basis. The presumption of immediate participation in this case would be rebutted if the plan could also demonstrate that part-time employees were excluded from the plan.

The function of a year of participation is the determination of a participant's benefit accrual for a particular accrual computation period. Full accrual, as stated above, may be dependent upon the completion of a requisite number of hours, stated by the plan, during a computation period. Participants who complete at least 1000 hours of service but less than the number required for a full year of participation must be credited with at least a ratable portion of benefit accrual (section 204(b)(3)(B)). This prorata portion of benefit accrual will generally be expressed as partial years of participation. For example, a plan requires 1,800 hours of service per accrual computation period for full benefit accrual. A participant completes 1,350 hours of service during the accrual computation period. The participant is credited with three-fourths of a year of participation (1350/1800).

With many plans, prorata accrual will be built into the defined benefit formula. For example, a defined benefit formula which specifies the monthly retirement benefit to be a certain amount for each hour of service completed while the individual was a plan participant (e.g., 10 cents per hour of service) has a built-in proration effect. Proration of the benefit accrual for a computation period in which the employee failed to complete the requisite number of hours of service for full benefit accrual would result in double proration of benefit accrual. Therefore, plans that have this type of built-in proration are not permitted to prorate further on the basis of the number of hours completed during a computation period. Other plans that do not contain built-in proration will be allowed to compute partial years of participation based on the ratio between hours completed and hours required for a full year of participation.

Partial years of participation must also be computed and credited in two other situations: (1) When the employee becomes a participant or resumes active participation following a break in service on a date other than the first day of the designated accrual computation period, and (2) when the plan is amended to change accrual computation periods. In either of these situations, the plan must compute a partial year based on the hours completed in the gap before the beginning of the next accrual computation period.

The method of computing partial years of participation provided by the regulations consists of finding the percentage of a calendar year involved, using this percentage against 1000 hours to find the number of hours that must be completed during the short period, and then crediting employees who complete at least that number with a partial year of participation based on the number normally required for a full year of participation, as illustrated by the example below.

For example, assume that an employee becomes a participant on July 1, 1976 in a plan using a calendar year accrual computation period. The employee completes 750 hours of service between July 1,

1976 and December 31, 1976. The plan these purposes: Provided, That the new

Act of 1974 (hereinafter referred to as "the Act") contains minimum standing to minimum vesting standards) and 411(b), of the Code (relating to benefit 1976 and December 31, 1976. The plan may not disregard the hours of service because they fall short of 1000; the applicable figure, 500, is determined by multiplying 1000 hours by the percentage of a year of participation to be credited (50 percent multiplied by 1000). If the plan is allowed to prorate benefit accrual further and if the plan has set 2000 hours of service as the amount necessary for a full year of participation, the employee would be credited with 37.5 percent (750 divided by 2000) of a year of participation.

Section 2530.204-3 prescribes an alternative accrual computation method. Section 204(b)(3)(A) of the Act and section 411(b)(3)(A) of the Code define a year of participation for purposes of determining benefit accrual as a period of service "as determined under regulations prescribed by the Secretary [of labor] which provide for the calculation of such period on any reasonable and consistent basis." Unlike the year of service for eligibility to participate in the plan and for achievement of vesting, the Act does not dictate that this period be a 12-month period. Normally, a plan's year of participation (accrual computation period) will be a 12-month period. Indeed, plans which have any "back-loading" (rate of accrual of benefits increasing with length of service) must use a 12-month accrual computation period, since the benefit accrual standards pertaining to maximum back loading limits are based upon accrual in yearly increments.

There are some plans, however, which use the employee's career participation in the plan to determine benefits rather than doing so on yearly increments. Requiring these plans to shift to a 12-month accrual computation period would require them to rework their entire defined benefit formula. If these plans had no minimum service requirements for benefit accrual and no back loading, then there would be no additional protections for plan participants to be gained by requiring these changes.

The regulations provide an alternative accrual computation method which allows plans to use a participant's career participation in the plan as the accrual computation period rather than being confined to 12-month periods. Plans must meet two requirements, however, before this option is available. First, the plan must base accrual of benefits upon all the service completed by the participant during his or her career. There may be no minimum standards for any period that a participant must meet for service to be counted for benefit accrual. Second, the plan must accrue benefits at the same rate per increment of service irrespective of length of service. In other words, the plan may have no "back loading" provisions. Otherwise, the accrual rules of section 204(b)(1) of the Act and section 411(b)(1), which require accrual in 12-month increments, must be applied to determine whether the back loading remains within permissible limits. An amendment to the plan which increases benefit accrual is not "back loading" for these purposes: Provided, That the new benefit accrual rate is applied equally to all participants and is in no way predicated on an advanced degree of service.

Section 2530.210. Section 202(a) of the Act requires that all service with the employer or employers maintaining the plan shall be counted for determining eligibility to participate in the plan. Similarly, section 203(b)(1) of the Act requires generally that all service with the employer or employers maintaining the plan shall be counted toward advancement on the vesting schedule, with exceptions such as for service when the employer did not maintain the plan or a predecessor plan. On the other hand, section 204(b) of the Act requires only that periods of actual participation in the plan be counted for purposes of benefit accrual. Section 210 provides rules applicable to sections 202, 203 and 204 for determining who is an "employer or employers maintaining the plan". These rules are phrased in terms of the conditions under which all employers are to be treated as a single employer in the case of multiple employer plans, controlled groups of corporations, and trades or businesses under common control. These rules are expanded upon and refined in § 2530.210 of the regulations. The general rule provided by the regulations is that the term "employer or employers maintaining the plan" shall include those employers for whom an employee has completed one or more years of service under the attribution rules contained in three separate paragraphs, (b) through (d). In the case of a multi-employer plan as defined in section 3(37) of the Act and section 414(f) of the Code, the plan shall not be required to apply the attribution rules contained in paragraphs (c) and (d) to service not otherwise attributable under paragraph (b), nor must service under the plan be attributed to other plans maintained by employers described in paragraphs (c) or (d) by operation of paragraph (b).

Paragraph (b) provides that a plan maintained by more than one employer shall be treated as if all maintaining employers constituted a single employer so long as an employee maintains continuity of either employment or plan coverage. This rule applies to both multi-employer plans and other multiple employer plans that do not meet the test for classification as multiemployer. It requires credit for participation, vesting and accrual purposes when a participant moves from one employer to another within service covered under the multiple employer plan. When an employee moves from uncovered to covered service for the same employer, past service must be credited for participation and vesting purposes but not for accrual of benefits, since section 204(b)(3) requires counting service only from the first date of participation in the plan. Similarly, when an employee moves from covered service to uncovered service for the same employer, he or she continues to receive credit toward vesting in the benefits accrued while a participant. With respect to a multiemployer plan, only service with the employers maintaining the plan is taken into account. If, for example, one of the maintaining employers is also a member of a controlled group of corporations, service with other members of the group who are not maintaining the multiemployer plan may be disregarded. The last sentence contained in § 2530.210 (a) (1) limits double attribution in such cases.

Lack of continuity breaks the service required to be counted for the multiple employer plan, as when an employee moves from uncovered service for one employer to covered service with another employer even if both employers maintained the plan during the relevant periods. The same result is reached when the employee moves from covered service with one maintaining employer to uncovered service with another maintaining employer; in this case there is lack of continuity and the employee need not continue to vest in the accrued benefits under the plan. Moreover, service performed without the continuity described in the regulations may be treated as a break in service by the plan with the result that a participant with no degree of vested rights to employer derived contributions may forfeit credit for past service when breaks equal prior service. The continuity rules implement the statutory language of section 210(a)(2), "except that the application of any rules with respect to breaks in service shall be made under regulations prescribed by the Secretary."

Paragraph (c) provides that all employees of all corporations which are members of a controlled group of corporations (within the meaning of section 1563(a) of the Code, determined without regard to section 1563 (a) (4) & (e) (3)) shall be treated as employed by a single employer. This rule does not contemplate that employees of one member of the controlled group be treated as employees of the other members of the controlled group. Instead, all employees within the controlled group are treated as if employed by a single fictional employer which is not any one of the members of the group.

Paragraph (d) provides that under regulations prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury, all employees or trades or businesses (whether or not incorporated) which are under common control shall be treated as employed by a single employer. This rule is subject to the same principles and analysis as controlled groups of corporations.

The regulations contain several examples to illustrate § 2530.210.

The Secretary realizes that these rules will be difficult for many plans, particularly multiple employer plans, to apply because of record keeping problems. The most significant problems, however, can be solved through the reporting and disclosure requirements of the Act. For example, a multiemployer plan might have no knowledge of prior service when an employee moves from uncovered service into covered service with the same employer. Section 209(a)(2) requires the employer who adopts a multiemployer plan to furnish records to the plan administrator under regulations to be issued by the Secretary. Section 105(d) requires annual reporting to plan participants of their accrued benefits by multi-employer plans only to the extent provided in regulations prescribed by the Secretary in coordination with the Secretary of the Treasury. The Secretary intends to implement these provisions with regulations easing the burden of reporting and disclosure on multiple employer plans.

Accordingly, Chapter XXV of Title 29 of the Code of Federal Regulations is amended by adding a new Subchapter C and Part 2530 which read as follows:

Subpart A—Scope and General Provisions

§ 2530.200a Scope.

(a) Part 2 of Subtitle B of Title I of the Employee Retirement Income Secuity Act of 1974 (hereinafter referred to as "the Act") contains minimum standards that an "employee pension benefit plan" must satisfy. Substantially identical requirements are imposed by Subchapter D of Chapter I of Subtitle A of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 (hereinafter referred to as "the Code") for plans seeking qualification for tax benefits under the Code. In general, the Code provisions apply to "qualified" pension, profit-sharing, and stock bonus plans described in section 401(a) of the Code, annuity plans described in section 403(a) of the Code and bond purchase plans described in section 405(a) of the Code. The standards contained in Title I of the Act apply generally to both "non-qualified" and "qualified" employee pension benefit plans. The standards contained in the Act, and the related Code provisions, are "minimum" standards. In general, more liberal plan provisions (in terms of the benefit to be derived by the employee) are not prohibited.

(b) For a definition of the term "employee pension benefit plan", see section 3(2) of the Act and § 2510.3-2.

(c) For a statement of the coverage of part 2 of the Act, see sections 4 and 201 of the Act and §§ 2510.3, 2510.4, and 2530.201.

§ 2530.200a-2 Treasury regulations for purposes of the Act.

Regulations prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury or his delegate under sections 410 and 411 of the Code (relating to minimum standards for participation and vesting) shall apply for purposes of sections 202 through 204 of the Act. Thus, except for those provisions (such as definition of a year of service or an hour of service) for which authority to prescribe regulations is specifically delegated to the Secretary of Labor, regulations prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury shall also be used to implement the related provisions contained in the Act. Those regulations specify the credit that must be given to an employee for years of service and years of participation completed by the employee. The allocation of regulatory jurisdiction between the Secretary of Treasury or his delegate and the Secretary of Labor is governed by Titles I through III of the Act. See section 3002 of the Act (88 Stat. 996).

§ 2530.200a-3 Labor regulations for purposes of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954.

The Secretary of Labor is specifically authorized to prescribe certain regulations (generally relating to hour of service, year of service, break in service, year of participation and special rules for seasonal and maritime industries) applicable to both Title I of the Act and sections 410 and 411 of the Code. These regulations are contained in this Subpart (A) and Subpart B of this Part (2530) and must be integrated with regulations prescribed by the Secretary of Treasury or his delegate under sections 410 of the Code (relating to minimum participation standards), 411(a) of the Code (relating to minimum vesting standards) and 411(b) of the Code (relating to benefit accrual requirements). The allocation of regulatory jurisdiction between the Secretary of Labor and the Secretary of Treasury or his delegate is governed by Titles I through III of the Act. See section 3002 of the Act (88 Stat. 996).

§ 2530.200b-1 Computation periods.

(a) General. For purposes of sections 202, 203 and 204 of the Act and sections 410 and 411 of the Code, whether an employee must be credited with a year of service, a year of participation, or a break in service depends, in general, on the number of hours of service for which the employee must be given credit in the applicable computation period. A plan must designate eligibility computation periods pursuant to § 2530.202, vesting computation periods pursuant to § 2530.203, and accrual computation periods pursuant to § 2530.204. If an employee completes 1000 hours of service during an eligibility computation period, the employee completes a year of service for purposes of section 202 of the Act and section 410 of the Code (relating to minimum participation standards). If an employee completes 1000 hours of service during a vesting computation period, then he or she completes a year of service for purposes of section 203 of the Act and section 411(a) of the Code (relating to minimum vesting standards). If an employee completes 1000 hours of service during an accrual computation period, then the employee must be given credit for at least a partial year of participation for purposes of section 204 of the Act and section 411(b) of the Code (relating to benefit accrual requirements). With respect to benefit accrual, however, the plan may not be required to credit the employee with a full year of participation and, therefore, full accrual for such year unless the employee completes the number of hours of service prescribed under the plan for completion of a full year of participation.

(b) Rules generally applicable to computation periods. (1) Where alternative computation periods are permitted under the Act and Subpart B, the selected alternative must be set forth in the plan documents.

(2) Employment at either the beginning or the end of an applicable computation period shall not be determinative of whether an employee has a year of service, a year of participation, or a break in service. Rather, these determinations must be made solely with reference to the number of hours of service which must be credited to the employee during the applicable computation period. Thus, for example, if an employee completes more than 1,000 hours of service during any portion of a vesting computation period, then he or she has completed a year of service for vesting purposes.

§ 2530.200b-2 Hour of service.

(a) General rule. Except as otherwise provided in paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section, an hour of service which must, as a minimum, be counted for the purposes of determining a year of service, a year of participation for benefit accrual, a break in service and employment commencement date under sections 202, 203 and 204 of the Act and sections 410 and 411 of the Code, is an hour of service as defined in subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph (a). The employer may round up hours at the end of a computation period or more frequently.

(1) An hour of service is each hour for which an employee is directly or indirectly paid, or entitled to payment, by the employer for the performance of duties during the applicable computation period. These hours shall be credited to the employee for the computation period or periods in which the duties were performed.

(2) An hour of service is each hour for which back pay, irrespective of mitigation of damages, has been either awarded or agreed to by the employer. These hours shall be credited to the employee for the computation period or periods to which the award or agreement pertains rather than the computation period in which the award, agreement or payment is made. Hours shall not be credited under both paragraphs (a) (1) and (2) of this section. Thus, for example, an employee who receives a back pay award following a determination that he or she was paid at an unlawful rate for hours of service previously credited will not be entitled to additional credit for the same hours of service.

(b) Special rule for break in service purposes. (1) Solely for the purposes of determining whether an employee has incurred a break in service under sections 202, 203 and 204 of the Act and sections 410 and 411 of the Code, an hour of service is, in addition to hours of service as defined in paragraph (a) of this section each hour for which an employee is directly or indirectly paid, or entitled to such payment, by the employer for reasons (such as vacation, sickness or disability) other than for the performance of duties during the applicable computation period. For purposes of this paragraph (b), irrespective of whether these hours have accrued in other computation periods, these hours shall be counted in the computation period in which either payment is actually made or amounts payable to the employee come due. Thus, an employee who does not perform duties during a computation period because of a prolonged illness which is compensable by sick pay, whether previously or currently accrued, would be credited currently with hours of service for the purpose of determining whether the employee incurs a break in service, irrespective of whether the sick pay is actually paid.

(2) For purposes of this paragraph hours of service shall be determined by dividing the payments received or due for reasons other than the performance of duties by the lesser of

(i) the employee's most recent hourly rate of compensation for the performance of duties; or

(ii) the employee's average hourly rate of compensation for the performance of duties for the most recent computation period in which the employee completed more than 500 hours of service.

(3) Examples. (i) Employee A's rate of compensation immediately prior to going on vacation leave was 5 dollars per hour. Employee A was on vacation for 8 weeks and received 1,600 dollars. Employee A is to be credited with 320 hours of service for these weeks for the purpose of determining a break in service (1,600 dollars divided by 5 dollars per hour).

(ii) Employee B became disabled on the first day of the 1979 computation period and was given a lump sum disability payment of 3,600 dollars for the period. Employee B's rate of compensation immediately before becoming disabled was 4 dollars an hour. However, during the 1978 computation period, employee B worked 1500 hours with an average rate of compensation (excluding overtime rate) of 3 dollars an hour. Employee B is credited with 1200 hours of service for the purpose of determining a break in service (3,600 dollars disability pay divided by 3 dollars per hour). The plan, however, need not credit these hours of service for purposes of determining the completion of a year of service for eligibility or vesting or a year of participation for benefit accrual.

(c) Other federal law. Nothing in this section shall be construed to alter, amend, modify, invalidate, impair or supersede any law of the United States or any rule or regulation issued under any such law. Thus, for example, nothing in this section shall be construed as denying an employee credit for an "hour of service" if credit is required by separate federal law. Furthermore, the nature and extent of such credit shall be determined under such law.

(d) Examples. (1) During a computation period, an employee was paid for working 38 1/4 hours a week for 45 weeks. During the remaining 7 weeks of the computation period the employee was not employed by this employer. The employee completed 1721 1/4 hours of service (45 weeks worked multiplied by 38 1/4 hours a week). The employer may also round up hours at the end of the computation period or more frequently. Thus, this employee could be credited with 1722 hours of service or with 1755 hours of service (39 hours per week if the employer rounded up at the end of each week).

(2) During a computation period, an employee was paid for a work week of 40 hours a week for 40 weeks and, including overtime, for working 50 hours a week for 8 weeks. The employee completed 2000 hours of service (40 weeks worked multiplied by 40 hours a week, plus 8 weeks worked multiplied by 50 hours a week).

(3) During a computation period, an employee was paid for working 40 hours a week for 2 weeks and then became disabled. The employer maintained a disability benefit plan which paid the employee 80 per cent of compensation for the remaining 50 weeks of the computation period. For purposes of determining whether the employee completed a year of service for participation or vesting, or a year of participation for benefit accrual, the employee completed 80 hours of service during the computation period (2 weeks worked multiplied by 40 hours a week). For purposes of determining whether the employee incurred a break in service, the employee completed 1680 hours of service (2 weeks worked multiplied by 40 hours a week, plus 50 weeks for which disability compensation was made multiplied by 32 hours a week).

(4) During a computation period, an employee worked 40 hours a week for the first 2 weeks. The employee then began serving on active duty in the Armed Forces of the United States, which service occupied the remaining fifty weeks of the computation period. The employee would be credited with 80 hours (2 weeks worked multiplied by 40 hours) plus such credit as may be prescribed by separate Federal laws relating to military service. The nature and extent of the credit that the employee receives upon his return and the purpose for which such credit is given, e.g. the percentage of his or her accrued benefits derived from employer contributions which are nonforfeitable (or vested), will depend upon the interpretation of the federal law governing veterans' reemployment rights.

§ 2530.200b-3 Determination of hours of service.

(a) General rule. For the purpose of determining an employee's creditable service, hours of service shall be ascertained from the records of hours worked or hours for which payment is made or owing. Any records, such as payroll records, which accurately reflect hours of service may be used to determine the hours of service for a particular employee for the applicable computation period or periods. The plan need not prescribe in its documents which records are to be used to determine an hour of service.

(b) Alternative method of determination for nonhourly employees. (1) Except as provided in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph, a plan may use an alternative method of computing hours of service. Under this alternative, a plan need not determine hours of service from employment records as required in paragraph (a) of this section if the plan credits each employee with 40 hours of service per week (or 8 hours of service per day) in which the employee would be credited with hours of service pursuant to § 2530.200b-2.

(2) Use of the alternative method of determination of hours of service specified in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph—

(i) Is limited to determining hours of service for employees, such as salaried employees or employees compensated on a commission or piece-work basis, whose compensation is not determined on the basis of certain amounts for each hour worked during a given period;

(ii) Is permitted only if each employee for whom the alternative is applied is credited with no less than 1,000 hours of service per computation period; and

(iii) Is prohibited with respect to any employees whose hours are required to be counted and recorded by any other federal law, such as the Fair Labor Standards Act.

(c) Determination of pre-effective date hours of service. For purposes of determining hours of service completed prior to the effective date of Part 2 (see section 211 of the Act), a plan may use whatever records may be reasonably accessible to it and may make whatever calculations are necessary to determine the approximate number of hours of service completed during such prior period or periods. For example, if a plan or an employer maintaining the plan has, or has access to, only the records of compensation of employees for prior years, it may derive the pre-effective date hours of service by using the hourly rate for the period or the hours customarily worked during such compensation period. If accessible records are insufficient to make an approximation of the number of pre-effective date hours of service for a particular employee or group of employees, the plan may make a reasonable estimate of the hours of service completed by such employee or employees during the particular period. For example, if records are available with respect to some employees, the plan may estimate the hours of other employees in the same job classification based on these records.

§ 2530.200b-4 Break in service.

(a) Computation period. (1) For purposes of sections 202(b), 203(b)(3) and 204(b)(3)(A) of the Act and sections 410(a)(5), 411(a)(6) and 411(b)(3)(A) of the Code, a plan may charge an employee with a break in service for a computation period or periods if the employee fails to complete more than 500 hours of service or, in the case of any maritime industry, 62 days of service in such period or periods.

(2) Except as provided in subparagraph (3) of this paragraph, the computation period that a plan must use in determining whether an employee may be charged with a break in service shall be the vesting computation period designated by the plan in accordance with § 2530.203.

(3) For purposes of determining a non-participant employee's eligibility to participate in the plan under section 202(a)(1) of the Act and section 410(a)(3)(A) of the Code, if the plan measures prior service by the eligibility computation periods (see § 2530.202(d)(1)), the computation period for determining breaks in service must be the eligibility computation periods designated by the plan in accordance with § 2530.202.

(b) Service following a break in service. (1) (i) For purposes of section 202(b)(3) of the Act and section 410(a)(5), (C) of the Code (relating to the completion of a year of service for eligibility following a break in service), a year of service shall be determined in the same manner that a year of service is determined under § 2530.202 (years of service for eligibility to participate in the plan) for employees having no prior service with the employer. For purposes of section 202(b)(3) of the Act, section 410(a)(5)(C) of the Code and § 2530.202, determination of a reemployment commencement date pursuant to section 202(a)(3)(A) of the Act and section 410(a)(3)(A) of the Code as incorporated into section 202(b)(3) of the Act and section 410(a)(5)(C) of the Code (year of service for eligibility to participate) shall be made with reference to the first date on which the employee completes an hour of service following the last computation period in which a break in service occurred.

(ii) For purposes of section 203(b)(3)(B) of the Act and section 411(a)(6)(B) of the Code (relating to the completion of a year of service for vesting following a break in service), a year of service shall be determined in the same manner that a year of service is determined under § 2530.203 (years of service for vesting) for employees having no prior service with the employer.

(2) For example, employer X maintains a pension plan which uses a calendar year vesting computation period. Employee A commenced employment with employer X on January 1, 1976 and completes a year of service for eligibility to participate and vesting in both the 1976 and 1977 computation periods. Employee A becomes a participant in the plan on January 1, 1977. Employee A terminates employment with employer X on November 3, 1977, completes no hours of service in 1978, incurring a break in service, and is reemployed by X on June 1, 1979. The employee completes 800 hours of service during the remainder of 1979 and 600 hours of service from January 1, 1980 through May 31, 1980. Employee A's reemployment commencement date is June 1, 1979. By June 1, 1980, the employee has completed a year of service during the 12-consecutive-month period following his return and would receive credit for his or her pre-break service under sections 410 and 411 of the Code and regulations thereunder. The plan is not, however, required to credit the employee with a year of service for vesting during 1979 because he or she failed to complete 1,000 hours of service during that vesting computation period. Assuming A completed 400 or more hours of service from June 1, 1980 to December 31, 1980, then A would be credited with one year of service for vesting purposes completed during the 1980 vesting computation period. Pursuant to § 2530.203-2(b), A would receive credit for a year of service even if he or she completed less than 400 hours after May 31, 1980.

(c) Prior service for eligibility to participate. For rules relating to computing service preceding a break in service for the purpose of eligibility to participate in the plan, see § 2530.202-2(c).

(d) Prior service for vesting. For rules relating to computing service preceding a break in service for the purpose of credit toward vesting, see § 2530.203-2(d).

§ 2530.200b-5 Seasonal industries. [Reserved]

§ 2530.200b-6 Maritime industries.

(a) Definition. For purposes of sections 202, 203, and 204 of the Act and sections 410 and 411 of the Code, the maritime industry is that industry in which employees are engaged in the operation of commercial, exploratory, service or other vessels on the high seas, inland waterways, Great Lakes, coastal zones, harbors and noncontiguous areas, or performing duties on offshore ports, platforms or other similar sites.

(b) Computation periods. For employees in a maritime industry, computation periods shall be established as for employees in any other industry.

(c) Year of service. To the extent that a plan covers employees engaged in a maritime industry, those employees so engaged who complete 125 days of service in the applicable computation period must be credited with a year of service. Other employees shall have their service computed on the basis of hours of service.

(d) Year of participation for benefit accrual. To the extent that a plan covers employees engaged in a maritime industry, those employees so engaged who complete 125 days of service in the applicable computation period must be credited with at least a partial year of participation for accrual purposes. The method of computing partial years of participation specified in § 2530.204-2(c) shall be applied as if one day of service equaled eight hours of service. Thus, 125 days of service shall be equal to 1,000 hours of service. Employees who are not engaged in the maritime industry shall have their service computed on the basis of hours of service.

§ 2530.200b-7 Day of service for employees in the maritime industry.

(a) General rule. Except as otherwise provided in paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section, a day of service in the maritime industry which must, as a minimum, be counted for the purposes of determining a year of service, a year of participation for benefit accrual, a break in service and employment commencement date under section 202, 203 and 204 of the Act and sections 410 and 411 of the Code, is a day of service as defined in subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph (a).

(1) A day of service is each day for which an employee is directly or indirectly paid, or entitled to such payment, by the employer for the performance of duties during the applicable computation period. These days shall be credited to the employee for the computation period or period in which the duties were performed.

(2) A day of service is each day for which back pay, irrespective of mitigation of damages, has been either awarded or agreed to by the employer. These days shall be credited to the employee for the computation period or periods to which hour of service for an employer maintaining the plan. (For establishment of each pension benefit plan subject to section 203 of the Act or section 411(a) of the award or agreement pertains rather than the computation period in which the award, agreement or payment is made. Days shall not be credited under both subparagraph (1) and this subparagraph (2) of this paragraph. Thus, an employee who receives a back pay award following a determination that he or she was paid at an unlawful rate for days of service previously credited will not be entitled to additional credit for the same days of service.

(c) Amendments to change the vesting computation period. (1) A plan may

(b) Special rule for break in service purposes. (1) Solely for the purposes of determining whether an employee has incurred a break in service under sections 202, 203 and 204 of the Act and sections 410 and 411 of the Code, a day of service is, in addition to days of service as defined in paragraph (a) of this section, each day for which an employee is directly or indirectly paid, or entitled to such payment, by the employer for reasons (such as vacation, sickness or disability) other than for the performance of duties during the applicable computation period. For purposes of this paragraph (b), irrespective of whether these days have accrued in other computation periods, these days shall be counted in the computation period in which either payment is actually made or the amounts payable to the employee come due. Thus, an employee who does not perform duties during a computation period because of a prolonged illness which is compensable by sick pay, whether previously or currently accrued, would be credited currently with days of service for the purpose of determining whether the employee incurs a break in service, irrespective of whether the sick pay is actually paid.

(2) For employees in the maritime industry receiving payments for reasons other than performance of duties, days of service shall be determined by dividing the total of such payments during the computation period by the lesser of:

(i) The employee's most recent daily rate of compensation for the performance of duties; or

(ii) The employee's average daily rate of compensation for the performance of duties for the most recent computation period in which the employee completed more than 62 days of service for the performance of duties.

(3) For employees in the maritime industry who are paid on a nondaily basis, hours of service shall be determined under § 2530.200b-2(b)(2).

(c) Other federal law. Nothing in this section shall be construed to alter, amend, modify, invalidate, impair or supersede any law of the United States or any rule or regulation issued under any such law. Thus, for example, nothing in this section shall be construed as denying an employee credit for any "day of service" if credit is required by separate federal law. Furthermore, the nature and extent of such credit shall be determined under such law.

§ 2520.200b-3 Determination of days of service.

(a) Determination for daily employees. In the maritime industry, for employees whose compensation is determined on a per day basis pursuant to articles (or other similar contracts or agreements) or by custom, days of service shall be determined from the records of days worked or days for which payment is made or owing. Any records, such as payroll records, which accurately reflect days of service, may be used to determine the days of service for a particular employee for the applicable computation period or periods. The plan need not prescribe in its documents which records are to be used to determine a day of service.

(b) Determination for nondaily employees. For maritime employees whose compensation is not determined on the basis of certain amounts for each day worked during a given period service shall be credited on the basis of hours of service as determined in accordance with (and for the same purposes as) § 2530.200b-3.

(c) Determination of pre-effective date days of service. For purposes of determining days of service completed prior to the effective date of Part 2 (see section 211 of the Act), a plan may use whatever records may be reasonably accessible to it and may make whatever calculations are necessary to determine the approximate days of service completed during such prior period or periods. For example, if a plan or an employer maintaining the plan has, or has access to, only the records of compensation of employees for prior years, it may derive the pre-effective date days of service by using the daily rate for the period or the days customarily worked for such compensation are insufficient to make an approximation of the number of pre-effective days of service for a particular employee or group of employees, the plan may make a reasonable estimate of the days of service completed by such employee or employees during the particular period. For example, if records are available with respect to some employees, the plan may estimate the days of other employees in the same job classification based on those records.

Coverage of the provisions of Part 2 of Subtitle B of Title I of the Act is determined under a multiple step process. First, the plan must be an employee benefit plan as defined under section 3(3) of the Act and § 2510.3-3. (See also the definitions of employee welfare benefit plan, section 3(1) of the Act and § 2510.3-1 and employee pension benefit plan, section 3(2) of the Act and § 2510.3-2). Second, the employee benefit plan must be subject to Title I of the Act. Coverage for Title I is specified in section 4 of the Act and the regulations thereunder. Third, section 201 of the Act specifies the employee benefit plans subject to Title I which are not subject to the minimum standards of Part 2 of Subtitle B, of Title I of the Act. Section 2530.201-2 specifies the employee benefit plans subject to Title I of the Act which are exempted from coverage under Part 2 of Title I of the Act and this Part (2530).

§ 2530.201-2 Plans Covered by Part 2530.

This part (2530) shall apply to any employee benefit plan described in section 4(a) of the Act (and not exempted under section 4(b)) other than—

(a) An employee welfare benefit plan as defined in section 3(1) of the Act and § 2510.3-1;

(b) A plan which is unfunded and is maintained by an employer primarily for the purpose of providing deferred compensation for a select group of management or highly compensated employees;

(1) [Reserved]

(2) [Reserved]

(c) A plan established and maintained by a society, order, or association described in section 501(c)(8) or (9) of the Code, if no part of the contributions to or under such plan are made by employers of participants in such plan;

(d) A trust described in section 501(c)(18) of the Code;

(e) A plan which is established and maintained by a labor organization described in section 501(c)(5) of the Code and which does not at any time after the date of enactment of the Act provide for employer contributions;

(f) Any agreement providing payments to a retired partner or a deceased partner's successor in interest, as described in section 736 of the Code;

(g) An individual retirement account or annuity described in section 408 of the Code, or a retirement bond described in section 409 of the Code;

(h) An excess benefit plan as described in section 3(36) of the Act.

Subpart B—Participation, Vesting and Benefit Accrual

§ 2530.202-1 Eligibility to participate; general.

(a) Section 202 of the Act and section 410 of the Code contain minimum participation standards relating to certain employee pension benefit plans. In general, no employee pension benefit plan may require, as a condition of participation in the plan, that an employee complete a period of service with the employer or employers maintaining the plan in excess of limits establishing by section 202 of the Act and section 410 of the Code and the regulations issued thereunder. Service for this purpose is measured in terms of years of service. This section sets forth the computation periods used to determine whether an employee has completed a year of service for participation purposes.

(b) For rules relating to "service with the employer or employers maintaining the plan", see § 2530.210.

§ 2530.202-2 Eligibility computation period.

(a) Initial period. (1) For purposes of section 202(a)(1)(A)(ii) of the Act and section 410(a)(1)(A)(ii) of the Code, the eligibility computation period the plan must use initially is the 12-consecutive-month period beginning with the employment commencement date. The employment commencement date is the date on which the employee first performs an hour of service for an employer maintaining the plan. (For establishment of a reemployment commencement date following a break in service, see § 2530.200b-4(b)(1).)

(2) For purposes of section 202(a)(1)(B)(i) and section 410(a)(1)(B)(i) of the Code, the eligibility computation periods the plan must use initially to measure completion of years of service are

(i) the 12-consecutive-month period beginning with the employment commencement date and

(ii) the succeeding 12-consecutive-month periods beginning on the anniversaries of the employment commencement date.

(b) Failure to Complete 1000 Hours of Service in Initial Period. In the event that an employee fails to complete 1,000 hours of service in the 12 consecutive months beginning with the employment commencement date, a plan may use either of the following eligibility computation periods to measure completion of years of service:

(1) The 12-consecutive-month period beginning with the first anniversary of the employment commencement date, and, where additional computation periods are necessary, the 12 "consecutive" month periods beginning on succeeding anniversaries of the employment commencement date; or

(2) The plan year which includes the first anniversary of the employment commencement date, and, where additional eligibility computation periods are necessary, succeeding plan years.

(c) Service prior to a break in service. (1) For purposes of applying section 202(b)(4) of the Act and section 410(a)(5)(D) of the Code (relating to years of service completed prior to a break in service for eligibility to participate in the plan), the computation periods used by a plan in computing the years of service before such break may be either:

(i) The eligibility computation periods beginning at the employee's employment commencement date or

(ii) the eligibility computation period or periods prior to the time that the employee has met the service requirement of the plan plus all vesting computation periods beginning with the vesting computation period which includes the date on which the employee completes the service requirement of the plan.

(2) For purposes of shifting to the vesting computation period in paragraph (c)(1)(i) of this section, the shift must be made in the same manner as that prescribed by § 2530.203-2(c) for changes in vesting computation periods.

(3) For applying the break in service rules of section 202(b)(4) of the Act and section 410(a)(5)(D) of the Code, the plan must use the same computation periods for measuring breaks in service that it uses for measuring prior service for purposes of eligibility to participate.

(a) Section 203 of the Act and section 411(a) of the Code contain minimum vesting standards relating to certain employee pension benefit plans. In general, each pension benefit plan subject to section 203 of the Act or section 411(a) of the Code must meet several requirements relating to an employee's nonforfeitable (vested) right to his or her normal retirement benefit. One of these requirements specifies that an employee's right to his or her accrued benefit derived from employer contributions must be nonforfeitable in accordance with certain schedules. The schedules (or alternative minimum standards) are based on years of service with the employer or employers maintaining the plan. This section sets forth the computation periods used to determine whether an employee has completed a year of service for vesting purposes.

(b) For rules relating to "service with the employer or employers maintaining the plan", see § 2530.210.

§ 2530.203-2 Vesting computation period.

(a) Designation of vesting computation periods. A plan may designate any 12-consecutive-month period as the vesting computation period that it will use to measure completion of years of service for the purpose of determining the percentage of accrued benefits derived from employer contributions to which a participant has a nonforfeitable right. The period so designated must apply equally to all participants. This requirement may be satisfied even though the actual time periods are not the same for all employees (e.g., if the designated vesting computation period is the 12-consecutive-month period beginning on the employee's employment commencement date and anniversaries of that date). The plan is prohibited, however, from using any period that would result in artificial postponement of vesting credit, such as a period measured by anniversaries of the date four months following the employment commencement date.

(b) Special rule for overlapping periods. In any case in which (1) an employee's eligibility computation period for a plan requiring one year of service for eligibility to participate overlaps two vesting computation periods, (2) an employee completes 1000 hours of service in the eligibility computation period but fails to complete 1000 hours in either of the overlapped vesting computation periods, and (3) the employee is admitted to participation in the plan, the year of service completed for eligibility to participate shall also be considered a year of service for vesting purposes at the time the employee becomes a participant. For example, assume that a plan uses a vesting computation period of April 1 to March 31. An employee with an employment commencement date of July 1, 1980 completes 800 hours by March 31, 1981 and 300 hours from April 1 to June 30, 1981 (completing a year of service for eligibility). Assume that the plan year begins September 1, at which time the employee becomes a participant. Even if the employee fails to complete at least 700 additional hours by March 31, 1982 (the end of the next vesting computation period), he or she must nevertheless be credited with a year of service for vesting purposes.

(c) Amendments to change the vesting computation period. (1) A plan may be amended to change the vesting computation period to a different 12-consecutive-month period. The first new vesting computation period must begin before the last day of the preceding vesting computation period. For example, a plan which has been using a calendar year vesting computation period is amended to provide a July 1-June 30 period starting in 1977. Employees who complete more than 1,000 hours of service in each of the 12-month periods, January 1, 1977 to December 31, 1977 and July 1, 1977 to June 30, 1978, must be advanced two years on the vesting schedule.

(2) For additional requirements pertaining to changes in the vesting schedule, see section 203(c)(1) of the Act and section 411(a)(10) of the Code and the regulations issued thereunder.

(d) Service preceding a break in service. For purposes of applying section 203(b)(3)(D) of the Act and section 411(a)(6)(D) of the Code, (relating to counting years of service before a break in service for vesting purposes), the computation periods used by the plan in computing years of service before such break must be the vesting computation periods. (For application of the break in service rules, see section 203(b)(3)(D) and section 411(a)(6)(D) of the Code and regulations issued thereunder.)

§ 2530.204-1 Year of participation for benefit accrual; general.

Section 204 of the Act and section 411(b) of the Code contain benefit accrual requirements relating to certain employee pension benefit plans. In general, each covered employee pension benefit plan must satisfy certain benefit accrual requirements, some of which are based on years of participation. This section sets forth the computation periods for determining a year of participation for benefit accrual.

§ 2530.204-2 Accrual computation period.

(a) Designation of accrual computation periods. An employee pension benefit plan may designate any 12-consecutive-month period as the accrual computation period except that the period so designated must apply equally to all participants. This requirement may be satisfied even though the actual time periods are not the same for all participants. For example, the accrual computation period may be designated as the vesting computation period, the plan year, or the 12-consecutive-month period beginning on either of two semiannual dates designated for entry to participation under the plan. Plans choosing to have one fixed annual computation period may be required (1) to admit participants retroactively on completion of the service requirements for eligibility (see section 202(a)(4) of the Act and section 410(a)(4) of the Code) or (2) to credit a partial year of participation under § 2530.204-2(c).

(b) Participation prior to effective date. (1) For purposes of applying section 204(b)(3)(C) of the Act and section 411(b)(3)(C) of the Code, all years of service with the employer or employers maintaining the plan shall be the same as in each pension benefit plan subject to section 203 of the Act or section 411(a) of the Code must meet several requirements relating to an employee's nonforfeitable (vested) right to his or her normal retirement benefit. One of these requirements specifies that an employee's right to his or her accrued benefit derived from employer contributions must be nonforfeitable in accordance with certain schedules. The schedules (or alternative minimum standards) are based on years of service with the employer or employers maintaining the plan. This section sets forth the computation periods used to determine whether an employee has completed a year of service for vesting purposes.

(b) For rules relating to "service with the employer or employers maintaining the plan", see § 2530.210.

§ 2530.203-2 Vesting computation period.

(a) Designation of vesting computation periods. A plan may designate any 12-consecutive-month period as the vesting computation period that it will use to measure completion of years of service for the purpose of determining the percentage of accrued benefits derived from employer contributions to which a participant has a nonforfeitable right. The period so designated must apply equally to all participants. This requirement may be satisfied even though the actual time periods are not the same for all employees (e.g., if the designated vesting computation period is the 12-consecutive-month period beginning on the employee's employment commencement date and anniversaries of that date). The plan is prohibited, however, from using any period that would result in artificial postponement of vesting credit, such as a period measured by anniversaries of the date four months following the employment commencement date.

(b) Special rule for overlapping periods. In any case in which (1) an employee's eligibility computation period for a plan requiring one year of service for eligibility to participate overlaps two vesting computation periods, (2) an employee completes 1000 hours of service in the eligibility computation period but fails to complete 1000 hours in either of the overlapped vesting computation periods, and (3) the employee is admitted to participation in the plan, the year of service completed for eligibility to participate shall also be considered a year of service for vesting purposes at the time the employee becomes a participant. For example, assume that a plan uses a vesting computation period of April 1 to March 31. An employee with an employment commencement date of July 1, 1980 completes 800 hours by March 31, 1981 and 300 hours from April 1 to June 30, 1981 (completing a year of service for eligibility). Assume that the plan year begins September 1, at which time the employee becomes a participant. Even if the employee fails to complete at least 700 additional hours by March 31, 1982 (the end of the next vesting computation period), he or she must nevertheless be credited with a year of service for vesting purposes.

(c) Amendments to change the vesting computation period. (1) A plan may be amended to change the vesting computation period to a different 12-consecutive-month period. The first new vesting computation period must begin before the last day of the preceding vesting computation period. For example, a plan which has been using a calendar year vesting computation period is amended to provide a July 1-June 30 period starting in 1977. Employees who complete more than 1,000 hours of service in each of the 12-month periods, January 1, 1977 to December 31, 1977 and July 1, 1977 to June 30, 1978, must be advanced two years on the vesting schedule.

(2) For additional requirements pertaining to changes in the vesting schedule, see section 203(c)(1) of the Act and section 411(a)(10) of the Code and the regulations issued thereunder.

(d) Service preceding a break in service. For purposes of applying section 203(b)(3)(D) of the Act and section 411(a)(6)(D) of the Code, (relating to counting years of service before a break in service for vesting purposes), the computation periods used by the plan in computing years of service before such break must be the vesting computation periods. (For application of the break in service rules, see section 203(b)(3)(D) and section 411(a)(6)(D) of the Code and regulations issued thereunder.)

§ 2530.203-3 Suspension of benefits upon reemployment of retirees. [Reserved]

hour of service for an employer maintaining the plan. (For establishment of a reemployment commencement date following a break in service, see § 2530.200b-4(b)(1).)

(2) For purposes of section 202(a)(1)(B)(i) and section 410(a)(1)(B)(i) of the Code, the eligibility computation periods the plan must use initially to measure completion of years of service are

(i) the 12-consecutive-month period beginning with the employment commencement date and

(ii) the succeeding 12-consecutive-month periods beginning on the anniversaries of the employment commencement date.

(b) Failure to Complete 1000 Hours of Service in Initial Period. In the event that an employee fails to complete 1,000 hours of service in the 12 consecutive months beginning with the employment commencement date, a plan may use either of the following eligibility computation periods to measure completion of years of service:

(1) The 12-consecutive-month period beginning with the first anniversary of the employment commencement date, and, where additional computation periods are necessary, the 12 "consecutive" month periods beginning on succeeding anniversaries of the employment commencement date; or

(2) The plan year which includes the first anniversary of the employment commencement date, and, where additional eligibility computation periods are necessary, succeeding plan years.

(c) Service prior to a break in service. (1) For purposes of applying section 202(b)(4) of the Act and section 410(a)(5)(D) of the Code (relating to years of service completed prior to a break in service for eligibility to participate in the plan), the computation periods used by a plan in computing the years of service before such break may be either:

(i) The eligibility computation periods beginning at the employee's employment commencement date or

(ii) the eligibility computation period or periods prior to the time that the employee has met the service requirement of the plan plus all vesting computation periods beginning with the vesting computation period which includes the date on which the employee completes the service requirement of the plan.

(2) For purposes of shifting to the vesting computation period in paragraph (c)(1)(i) of this section, the shift must be made in the same manner as that prescribed by § 2530.203-2(c) for changes in vesting computation periods.

(3) For applying the break in service rules of section 202(b)(4) of the Act and section 410(a)(5)(D) of the Code, the plan must use the same computation periods for measuring breaks in service that it uses for measuring prior service for purposes of eligibility to participate.

(a) Section 203 of the Act and section 411(a) of the Code contain minimum vesting standards relating to certain employee pension benefit plans. In general, each pension benefit plan subject to section 203 of the Act or section 411(a) of the Code must meet several requirements relating to an employee's nonforfeitable (vested) right to his or her normal retirement benefit. One of these requirements specifies that an employee's right to his or her accrued benefit derived from employer contributions must be nonforfeitable in accordance with certain schedules. The schedules (or alternative minimum standards) are based on years of service with the employer or employers maintaining the plan. This section sets forth the computation periods used to determine whether an employee has completed a year of service for vesting purposes.

(b) For rules relating to "service with the employer or employers maintaining the plan", see § 2530.210.

§ 2530.203-2 Vesting computation period.

(a) Designation of vesting computation periods. A plan may designate any 12-consecutive-month period as the vesting computation period that it will use to measure completion of years of service for the purpose of determining the percentage of accrued benefits derived from employer contributions to which a participant has a nonforfeitable right. The period so designated must apply equally to all participants. This requirement may be satisfied even though the actual time periods are not the same for all employees (e.g., if the designated vesting computation period is the 12-consecutive-month period beginning on the employee's employment commencement date and anniversaries of that date). (b) Special rule for overlapping periods. In any case in which (1) an employee's eligibility computation period for a plan requiring one year of service for eligibility to participate overlaps two vesting computation periods, (2) an employee completes 1000 hours of service in the eligibility computation period but fails to complete 1000 hours in either of the overlapped vesting computation periods, and (3) the employee is admitted to participation in the plan, the year of service completed for eligibility to participate shall also be considered a year of service for vesting purposes at the time the employee becomes a participant. For example, assume that a plan uses a vesting computation period of April 1 to March 31. An employee with an employment commencement date of July 1, 1980 completes 800 hours by March 31, 1981 and 300 hours from April 1 to June 30, 1981 (completing a year of service for eligibility). (2) For additional requirements pertaining to changes in the vesting schedule, see section 203(c)(1) of the Act and section 411(a)(10) of the Code and the regulations issued thereunder.

(d) Service preceding a break in service. For purposes of applying section 203(b)(3)(D) of the Act and section 411(a)(6)(D) of the Code, (relating to counting years of service before a break in service for vesting purposes), the computation periods used by the plan in computing years of service before such break must be the vesting computation periods. (For application of the break in service rules, see section 203(b)(3)(D) and section 411(a)(6)(D) of the Code and regulations issued thereunder.)

§ 2530.203-3 Suspension of benefits upon reemployment of retirees. [Reserved]

§ 2530.204-1 Year of participation for benefit accrual; general.

Section 204 of the Act and section 411(b) of the Code contain benefit accrual requirements relating to certain employee pension benefit plans. In general, each covered employee pension benefit plan must satisfy certain benefit accrual requirements, some of which are based on years of participation. This section sets forth the computation periods for determining a year of participation for benefit accrual.

§ 2530.204-2 Accrual computation period.

(a) Designation of accrual computation periods. An employee pension benefit plan may designate any 12-consecutive-month period as the accrual computation period except that the period so designated must apply equally to all participants. This requirement may be satisfied even though the actual time periods are not the same for all participants. For example, the accrual computation period may be designated as the vesting computation period, the plan year, or the 12-consecutive-month period beginning on either of two semiannual dates designated for entry to participation under the plan. Plans choosing to have one fixed annual computation period may be required (1) to admit participants retroactively on completion of the service requirements for eligibility (see section 202(a)(4) of the Act and section 410(a)(4) of the Code) or (2) to credit a partial year of participation under § 2530.204-2(c).

(b) Participation prior to effective date. (1) For purposes of applying section 204(b)(3)(C) of the Act and section 411(b)(3)(C) of the Code, all years of service with the employer or employers maintaining the plan shall be the same as in each pension benefit plan subject to section 203 of the Act or section 411(a) of the Code must meet several requirements relating to an employee's nonforfeitable (vested) right to his or her normal retirement benefit. One of these requirements specifies that an employee's right to his or her accrued benefit derived from employer contributions must be nonforfeitable in accordance with certain schedules. The schedules (or alternative minimum standards) are based on years of service with the employer or employers maintaining the plan. This section sets forth the computation periods used to determine whether an employee has completed a year of service for vesting purposes.

(b) For rules relating to "service with the employer or employers maintaining the plan", see § 2530.210.

§ 2530.203-2 Vesting computation period.

(a) Designation of vesting computation periods. A plan may designate any 12-consecutive-month period as the vesting computation period that it will use to measure completion of years of service for the purpose of determining the percentage of accrued benefits derived from employer contributions to which a participant has a nonforfeitable right. The period so designated must apply equally to all participants. This requirement may be satisfied even though the actual time periods are not the same for all employees (e.g., if the designated vesting computation period is the 12-consecutive-month period beginning on the employee's employment commencement date and anniversaries of that date). The plan is prohibited, however, from using any period that would result in artificial postponement of vesting credit, such as a period measured by anniversaries of the date four months following the employment commencement date.

(b) Special rule for overlapping periods. In any case in which (1) an employee's eligibility computation period for a plan requiring one year of service for eligibility to participate overlaps two vesting computation periods, (2) an employee completes 1000 hours of service in the eligibility computation period but fails to complete 1000 hours in either of the overlapped vesting computation periods, and (3) the employee is admitted to participation in the plan, the year of service completed for eligibility to participate shall also be considered a year of service for vesting purposes at the time the employee becomes a participant. For example, assume that a plan uses a vesting computation period of April 1 to March 31. An employee with an employment commencement date of July 1, 1980 completes 800 hours by March 31, 1981 and 300 hours from April 1 to June 30, 1981 (completing a year of service for eligibility). Assume that the plan year begins September 1, at which time the employee becomes a participant. Even if the employee fails to complete at least 700 additional hours by March 31, 1982 (the end of the next vesting computation period), he or she must nevertheless be credited with a year of service for vesting purposes.

(c) Amendments to change the vesting computation period. (1) A plan may be amended to change the vesting computation period to a different 12-consecutive-month period. The first new vesting computation period must begin before the last day of the preceding vesting computation period. For example, a plan which has been using a calendar year vesting computation period is amended to provide a July 1-June 30 period starting in 1977. Employees who complete more than 1,000 hours of service in each of the 12-month periods, January 1, 1977 to December 31, 1977 and July 1, 1977 to June 30, 1978, must be advanced two years on the vesting schedule.

(2) For additional requirements pertaining to changes in the vesting schedule, see section 203(c)(1) of the Act and section 411(a)(10) of the Code and the regulations issued thereunder.

(d) Service preceding a break in service. For purposes of applying section 203(b)(3)(D) of the Act and section 411(a)(6)(D) of the Code, (relating to counting years of service before a break in service for vesting purposes), the computation periods used by the plan in computing years of service before such break must be the vesting computation periods. (For application of the break in service rules, see section 203(b)(3)(D) and section 411(a)(6)(D) of the Code and regulations issued thereunder.)

§ 2530.204-1 Year of participation for benefit accrual; general.

Section 204 of the Act and section 411(b) of the Code contain benefit accrual requirements relating to certain employee pension benefit plans. In general, each covered employee pension benefit plan must satisfy certain benefit accrual requirements, some of which are based on years of participation. This section sets forth the computation periods for determining a year of participation for benefit accrual.

§ 2530.204-2 Accrual computation period.

(a) Designation of accrual computation periods. An employee pension benefit plan may designate any 12-consecutive-month period as the accrual computation period except that the period so designated must apply equally to all participants. This requirement may be satisfied even though the actual time periods are not the same for all participants. For example, the accrual computation period may be designated as the vesting computation period, the plan year, or the 12-consecutive-month period beginning on either of two semiannual dates designated for entry to participation under the plan. Plans choosing to have one fixed annual computation period may be required (1) to admit participants retroactively on completion of the service requirements for eligibility (see section 202(a)(4) of the Act and section 410(a)(4) of the Code) or (2) to credit a partial year of participation under § 2530.204-2(c).

(b) Participation prior to effective date. (1) For purposes of applying section 204(b)(3)(C) of the Act and section 411(b)(3)(C) of the Code, all years of service with the employer or employers maintaining the plan shall be the same as in each pension benefit plan subject to section 203 of the Act or section 411(a) of the Code must meet several requirements relating to an employee's nonforfeitable (vested) right to his or her normal retirement benefit. One of these requirements specifies that an employee's right to his or her accrued benefit derived from employer contributions must be nonforfeitable in accordance with certain schedules. The schedules (or alternative minimum standards) are based on years of service with the employer or employers maintaining the plan. This section sets forth the computation periods used to determine whether an employee has completed a year of service for vesting purposes.

(b) For rules relating to "service with the employer or employers maintaining the plan", see § 2530.210.

§ 2530.203-2 Vesting computation period.

(a) Designation of vesting computation periods. A plan may designate any 12-consecutive-month period as the vesting computation period that it will use to measure completion of years of service for the purpose of determining the percentage of accrued benefits derived from employer contributions to which a participant has a nonforfeitable right. The period so designated must apply equally to all participants. This requirement may be satisfied even though the actual time periods are not the same for all employees (e.g., if the designated vesting computation period is the 12-consecutive-month period beginning on the employee's employment commencement date and anniversaries of that date). The plan is prohibited, however, from using any period that would result in artificial postponement of vesting credit, such as a period measured by anniversaries of the date four months following the employment commencement date.

(b) Special rule for overlapping periods. In any case in which (1) an employee's eligibility computation period for a plan requiring one year of service for eligibility to participate overlaps two vesting computation periods, (2) an employee completes 1000 hours of service in the eligibility computation period but fails to complete 1

(b) Participation prior to effective date. For purposes of applying the accrual rules of section 204(b)(1)(D) of the Act and section 411(b)(1)(D) of the Code (relating to accrual requirements for defined benefit plans for periods prior to the effective date of those sections), all service from the date of participation in the plan as determined in accordance with applicable plan provisions, shall be considered in determining an employee's years of participation. When the plan documents do not provide a definite means for determining the date of commencement of participation, the date of commencement of employment covered under the plan during the period that the employer maintained the plan shall be presumed to be the date of commencement of participation in the plan. The plan may rebut this presumption by demonstrating from circumstances surrounding the operation of the plan, such as the date of commencement of mandatory employee contributions, that participation actually began on a later date.

(c) Partial accrual computation periods. (1) When an employee first becomes a participant or resumes active participation following a break in service, on a date other than the first day of the designated accrual computation period, the plan must credit the employee with a partial year of participation for the period beginning with his first day of such participation and ending at the beginning of the succeeding accrual computation period.

(2) When a partial accrual computation period occurs, plans having a minimum service requirement for benefit accrual expressed in hours of service required for a year of participation (as permitted under section 204(b)(3)(B) of the Act and section 411(b)(3)(B) of the Code) may use only a ratable portion of the minimum hours requirement for this partial period. For example, an employee becomes a participant on July 1, 1976 in a plan which uses a calendar year accrual computation period. The employee completes 750 hours of service between July 1, 1976 and December 31, 1976. The plan may not disregard the hours of service because they fall short of 1,000; the applicable figure, 500, is determined by multiplying 1,000 by the percentage of a year of participation to be credited (50 percent multiplied by 1,000). If the plan is allowed under § 2530.204-2(d) to prorate benefit accrual further and if the plan has set 2,000 hours of service as the amount necessary for full accrual, the employee would be credited with 37.5 percent (750 divided by 2,000) of a year of participation.

(d) Prohibited double proration. (1) In the case of a defined benefit plan that (i) defines benefits on the basis of hours or compensation and (ii) does not adjust less-than-full-time service to reflect the equivalent of full-time hours or compensation (as the case may be), the plan may not further prorate benefit accrual under section 204(b)(3)(B) of the Act and section 411(b)(3)(B) of the Code by crediting partial years of participation. These plans must credit, except when service may be disregarded under section 204

(b)(3)(C) of the Act and section 411(b)(3)(C) of the Code (relating to less than 1000 hours of service), less-than-full-time employees with a full year of participation for the purpose of accrual of benefits.

(2) Example: (i) A plan's defined benefit formula provides that the annual retirement benefit shall be 2 percent of the average compensation in all years of participation multiplied by the number of years of participation. Employee A is a full-time employee who has completed 2,000 hours during each of 20 accrual computation periods. A's average hourly rate was 5 dollars an hour. Thus, employee A's average compensation for each year during participation in the plan is 10,000 dollars (5 dollars per hour multiplied by 2,000 hours). If the plan states that a full year of participation is 2,000 hours, then employee A's annual retirement benefit, if he or she retired at that time, would be 4,000 dollars (average of 10,000 dollars a year of compensation multiplied by .02 multiplied by 20 years of participation). Employee B, however, is a part-time employee who completes 1,000 hours of service during each of 20 accrual computation periods. Like employee A, B's average hourly rate is 5 dollars per hour. Employee B's average compensation for his or her total years of participation is 5,000 dollars (5 dollars per hour multiplied by 1,000 hours).

(ii) If double proration were permitted, then employee B's total years of participation would be only 10 since he or she would be credited with only one-half of a year of participation during each of the accrual computation periods (1000/2000). Thus, B's annual retirement benefit would be 1,000 dollars (5,000 dollars average compensation multiplied by .02 multiplied by 10 years of participation). Under the rule of subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, the plan would not be permitted to prorate B's years of participation since the average compensation for the period of participation in the plan already reflects a proration on the basis of hours of service. Therefore, B's annual retirement benefit would be 2,000 dollars (5,000 dollars average compensation multiplied by .02 multiplied by 20 years of participation).

(iii) If the plan adjusted the average compensation during plan participation to reflect full compensation, then the plan could prorate years of participation. Thus, the average full annual compensation for employee B would be 10,000 dollars rather than the 5,000 dollars actually paid. Employee B's annual retirement benefit would then be 2,000 dollars (10,000 dollars average full compensation multiplied by .02 multiplied by 10 years of participation).

(e) Amendments to change accrual computation periods. A plan may be amended to change the accrual computation period to a different 12-consecutive-month period. The plan must measure on a ratable basis, and credit to participants, a partial year of participation for the time between the end of the preceding 12-month accrual computation period and the first day of the first new accrual computation period. The method of computation shall be the same as in paragraph (c) of this section for computing partial years of participation. For example, a plan is amended to change the accrual computation period from a calendar year basis to a July 1-June 30 plan year basis beginning in 1977. The plan requires 2,000 hours of service for a full year of participation. Employees who complete 1,500 hours of service between January 1, 1976 and December 31, 1976 and 750 hours of service between January 1, 1977 and June 30, 1977 must be credited with 75 percent of a full year of participation coinciding with calendar year 1976, and 37.5 percent of a full year of participation for the period January 1, 1977 to June 30, 1977.

§ 2530.201-3 Alternative computation method.

(a) General. Section 204(b)(3)(A) of the Act and section 411(b)(3)(A) of the Code provide that a plan may accrue benefits according to any method of calculating the employee's period of service on a reasonable and consistent basis. A defined benefit pension plan which (1) provides that benefits accrue on the basis of all service completed by the employee during his or her participation in the plan and (2) can clearly demonstrate that the plan satisfies at least one of the benefit accrual rules of section 204(b)(1) of the Act and section 411(b)(1) of the Code may use either the employee's career participation in the plan or the periodic computation period, specified in § 2530.204-2, as the computation method for accrual of benefits.

(b) Examples—(1) Career Compensation. A defined benefit formula based on a percentage of compensation earned in a participant's career or during participation with no variance depending on hours completed in given periods.

(2) Credited Hours. A defined benefit formula pursuant to which an employee is credited with a specified amount of accrual for each hour of service completed by the employee during his or her career.

§ 2530.204-4 Deferral of benefit accrual.

For purposes of section 204(b)(1)(E) of the Act and section 411(b)(1)(E) of the Code, an employee shall be credited with a year of service for each computation period in which he or she completes 1,000 hours of service. The computation period shall be the eligibility computation period, and successive computation periods, prescribed by § 2530.202-2.

Subpart C—Form and Payment of Benefits

§ 2530.205 [Reserved]

§ 2530.206 [Reserved]

Subpart D—Plan Administration as Related to Benefits

§ 2530.207 [Reserved]

§ 2530.208 [Reserved]

§ 2530.209 [Reserved]

§ 2530.210 Employer or employers maintaining the plan.

(a) (1) Eligibility to participate and vesting. Except as otherwise provided in sections 202(b) or 203(b)(1) of the Act and sections 410(a)(5), 411(a)(5) and 411(a)(6) of the Code, all years of service with the employer or employers maintaining the plan shall be taken into account for purposes of section 202 (relating to minimum eligibility standards) and section 203 (relating to minimum vesting standards) of the Act and sections 410 and 411(a) of the Code. The term "employer or employers maintaining the plan" shall include those employers for whom an employee has completed one or more years of service under the attribution rules contained in paragraphs (b) through (d) of this section. In the case of a multiemployer plan as defined in section 3(37) of the Act and section 414(f) of the Code, the plan shall not be required to apply the attribution rules contained in paragraphs (c) and (d) of this section to service not otherwise attributable under paragraph (b) of this section, nor shall service under the plan be attributed to other plans maintained by employers described in paragraphs (c) and (d) of this section by operation of paragraph (b) of this section.

(2) Accrual of benefits. Except as otherwise provided in section 202(b) of the Act and section 410(a)(5) of the Code, all years of participation must be taken into account for purposes of section 204 of the Act and section 411(b) of the Code (relating to benefit accrual).

(b) Multiple employer plans. A plan maintained by more than one employer shall be treated as if all maintaining employers constituted a single employer so long as an employee maintains continuity of either employment or plan coverage.

(c) Controlled groups of corporations. All employees of all corporations which are members of a controlled group of corporations (within the meaning of section 1563(a) of the Code, determined without regard to section 1563(a)(4) and (e)(3)) shall be treated as employed by a single employer.

(d) Commonly controlled trades or businesses. Under regulations prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury, all employees of trades or businesses (whether or not incorporated) which are under common control shall be treated as employed by a single employer.

(e) Examples. For purposes of paragraph (a)(1), paragraphs (b), (c) and (d) of this section are illustrated by the following examples:

(1) Multiple employer. (i) Assume that X and Y below are both employers who are signatories to a multiple employer plan, coverage of which is represented by the shaded segment of the diagram.

A and B are both employees who start in uncovered service and move to service covered by the plan, while C moves from covered service to covered service for a different employer.

A—credit for past service.
B—no credit.
C—credit.

B is not required to be given credit because of the lack of continuity in either employment or plan coverage. A has continuity of employment, while C has continuity of plan coverage.

(ii) Service for employer X prior to X's adoption of the plan need not be counted even if there is continuity of employment. In this instance the employer did not maintain the plan during the period of service prior to adoption. Assume, however, that employee D (not shown) completed three years of covered service for employer Y prior to employer X's adoption of the plan. D then shifted to employer X in service covered by the plan after X had adopted the plan. His prior service must be counted and he remains a participant. If D shifted to employer X prior to X's adoption of the plan and subsequently was covered by the plan when X adopted it, then his prior service must be counted, subject to the break in service rules as applied to the period during which he was not employed by an employer maintaining the plan (i.e. the period that he was employed by X prior to X's adoption of the plan).

(iii) Service after leaving plan coverage is illustrated by employees E and F below.

G has no continuity (essentially the same as F above). H maintains continuity in moving to X (continuity of covered service) but breaks continuity for purposes of the multiemployer plan in moving to Z. Neither G nor H would continue to vest while working for Z. If Z, however, also maintains a separate nonmultiemployer plan covering the unshaded portion of employees, then H would be credited for purposes of that plan with service performed for X but not with service performed for Y.

(4) Breaks in service.

J incurs a break in service while working for Y in uncovered service but when J enters covered service with Y all service with Y must be counted for eligibility

E continues to receive credit toward vesting while F would not (lack of continuity).

(2) Controlled group. The rule is illustrated in the case of a controlled group of corporations (as defined by section 1563(a)) by assuming that X and Y in example (1) are both members of a controlled group of corporations. The shaded segment represents a plan maintained by several members of the controlled group but which is not a multiemployer plan within the definition of section 3(37) of the Act. Employee B as well as employees A and C would be entitled to credit for past service because he has maintained continuity of employment.

(3) Multiple employer—controlled group. Assume that employer Z is controlled by X but Y is not related to X or Z other than by maintaining the multiemployer plan to which X, Y and Z are all signatories. The multiemployer plan is depicted by the shaded portion of the diagram.

to participate and vesting. J may then aggregate all service with X and Y unless the service credit with X has been forfeited through operation of section 202(b)(4) or 203(b)(3)(D) (consecutive breaks equalling prior service). Even though Z is controlled by X, there would not be continuity and another break in service would occur when J moves to Z. For purposes of the multiemployer plan (shaded) K incurs a break in service during uncovered service with Y and a second break in uncovered service with Z. For purposes of a nonmultiemployer plan maintained by Z, however, K incurs a break in service while working for Y but incurs no break in service in later moving from X to Z (Z controlled by X).

METRIC EDUCATION PROGRAM

Notice of Proposed Rulemaking

Pursuant to the authority contained in section 403, Title IV, of the Education Amendments of 1974, Pub. L. 93-380, notice is given that the Commissioner of Education, with the approval of the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare, proposes to issue the following rules governing the operation of a program of education in the use of the metric system of measurement, hereinafter called the Metric Education Program.

The Congress has found that:

(a) The metric system of measurement is in general use in industrially developed nations and its use is increasing;

(b) Increased use of the metric system in the United States is inevitable, and such a metric system will become the dominant system of weights and measures in the United States; and

(c) There is no existing Federal program designed to teach children to use the metric system and, if the American people are to adapt to using the metric system of weights and measures, this program is necessary.

As is stated in section 403(a)(2) of the Education Amendments of 1974: "It is the policy of the United States to encourage educational activities which will help individuals learn to use the modernized version of the metric system with ease and facility."

A. SUMMARY OF PROPOSED REGULATION

1. Organization. The proposed regulation is divided into three subparts: Subpart A contains general provisions applicable to all programs or projects funded under this part; Subpart B contains provisions on eligible applicants and authorized activities; Subpart C contains pre-application requirements, application requirements, a section on the costs which will be allowed and the funding criteria upon which applications will be judged.

2. Subpart A. The sections in this subpart set forth the purpose, scope, definitions, applicability of the general provisions, regulations, and reference to the International System of Units as published by the National Bureau of Standards.

3. Subpart B. (a) Section 160a.11 sets forth eligible applicants for participation in the Metric Education Program. Determination of eligibility will be made pursuant to this section.

(b) Section 160a.13 sets forth the minimum elements for school-based interdisciplinary projects.

(c) Section 160a.14 sets forth the minimum elements for teacher development projects.

(d) Section 160a.15 sets forth the minimum elements for State and multi-State cooperative metric education funding projects.

PROPOSED RULES

(e) Section 160a.16 sets forth the minimum elements of a national metric education technical support project.

(f) Section 160a.17 sets forth the duration of the projects listed in the Subpart.

4. Subpart C. (a) Sections 160a.21 through 160a.24 set forth the basic application requirements for funding for all project types.

(b) Section 160a.25 sets forth the funding criteria upon which applications will be judged for purposes of making awards on a competitive basis.

(c) Section 160a.26 sets forth the manner in which a panel may be created to review the applications.

(d) Section 160a.27 sets forth the anticipated general range of awards for the various project types.

(e) Section 160a.28 sets forth the procedure for State review of local educational agency applications.

(f) Section 160a.29 sets forth cost principles which will govern the administration of programs under this part.

B. CITATIONS OF LEGAL AUTHORITY

As required by section 431(a) of the General Education Provisions Act, a citation of statutory or other legal authority for each section of the regulation has been placed in parentheses on the line following the text of the section.

On occasion, a citation appears at the end of a subdivision of the section. In that case, the citation applies to all that appears in that section between the citation and the immediately preceding citation. When the citation appears only at the end of the section, it applies to the entire section.

C. OTHER APPLICABLE REGULATIONS

The proposed regulation does not contain provisions relating to general fiscal and administrative matters. Requirements of this nature are covered by the Office of Education General Provisions Regulations (45 CFR Parts 100 and 100a), which include rules on direct and indirect costs.

In addition, a number of rules common to all of the programs, including the Metric Education Program, funded pursuant to the Special Project Act are being prepared for publication as Part 160 of Title 45 of the Code of Federal Regulations. These include definitions of terms used in this proposed regulation and in other regulations related to the Special Projects Act.

D. NOTICE TO PROSPECTIVE APPLICANTS

This first publication is not the final regulation. It is followed by a thirty-day period which allows interested members of the public to submit comments and recommendations. Each comment will be given careful consideration, and will be responded to substance in the preamble to the final regulation.

Following this review, the regulation will be published in final form, with any appropriate changes, in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

As more fully explained below, no money is available at the present time for awards under the program and no proposals are being accepted. Application forms are not available.

The publication of proposed regulations is only a beginning step in a series of formal procedures and actions required before funds can begin to flow to grantees.

Following an enactment of an appropriation for the program, further administrative steps would have to take place before the award of grants.

These steps would include the preparation for distribution of appropriate application forms, the publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER of a notice of closing date informing applicants of the period within which applications must be filed, where application forms may be obtained, and allowing the applicants sufficient time for the preparation of applications, and the last date for the receipt of the applications. Finally, the terms of the actual award documents must be negotiated with those applicants whose applications have been selected.

In the meantime, in addition to providing comments on the proposed regulation, prospective applicants may wish at this early stage to reflect upon the scope and nature of the projects they may later propose in the light of the criteria set forth in this notice.

Invitation for public comment. All interested parties are invited to submit written comments, suggestions, or objections regarding these proposed rules to Dr. Floyd A. Davis, Project Manager, Metric Education Program, U.S. Office of Education, Room 5640, Regional Office Building Three, Seventh and D Streets, SW., Washington, D.C. 20202. All relevant material received on or before October 8, 1975, will be considered. Comments received in response to this notice will be available for public inspection at the above office, Mondays through Fridays, between 8:30 a.m. and 4 p.m.

It is hereby certified that the economic and inflationary impacts of this proposed regulation have been carefully evaluated in accordance with OMB Circular A-107. (20 U.S.C. 1862)

Dated: August 4, 1975.

DUANE J. MATTHEWS,
Acting U.S. Commissioner of Education.

Approved: August 27, 1975.

Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare.

Subpart A—General

§ 160a.1 Purpose.

The purpose of the Metric Education Program conducted pursuant to this part is to encourage educational agencies and institutions to prepare students to use the revised metric system of measurement (as opposed to the customary system used in the United States), with ease and facility as a part of the regular educational program as provided for in section 403 of the Education Amendments of 1974, Pub. L. 93-380, hereinafter called the "Act".

(20 U.S.C. 1862(a)(2))

§ 160a.2 Program objectives.

The objectives of the Metric Education Program under this part, more than one of which may be met by a single project, are as follows:

(a) To increase measurably the number of elementary and secondary school teachers and students (as well as parents and other adults) who are able to use the revised metric system;

(b) To provide for the development or further testing of promising metric education program models which possess potential for responding to the metric educational needs of students;

(c) To increase measurably the number of educational personnel who are qualified to teach the metric system of measurements through preservice or inservice education programs;

(d) To establish or increase interstate and/or interagency cooperation for the purposes of developing and expanding metric education programs;

(e) To develop and provide technical assistance to enhance and ensure the quality of teacher-learner experiences in metric education;

(f) To develop Statewide or multi-State metric educational planning efforts designed to enhance or expand the metric education experience available to teachers, students, parents and other adults; and

(g) To support other public and private non-profit agencies, organizations, and institutions, in their efforts to develop and enhance the quality of the Metric Education Program for students at all levels.

(20 U.S.C. 1851-1862)

§ 160a.3 Definitions.

For the purpose of this part the following definitions shall apply:

"Academic year" means a period of time, usually eight (8) or nine (9) months, during which a full-time student would normally be expected to complete the equivalent of two semesters, two trimesters, three quarters or 900 clock hours of instruction.

"Accountability factors" means measurable activities which may be used to determine the degree of success of the program effort.

"Act" means section 403 of the Education Amendments of 1974, Pub. L. 93-380 (20 U.S.C. 1862) which authorizes the Metric Education Program.

"Customary system" means the system of measurement unit (yard, pound, second, degree Fahrenheit, and units derived from these) most commonly used in the United States, often referred to as the "English system" or the "U.S. system". This system is derived from but not identical to the Imperial system used in the United Kingdom and other English-speaking countries.

"Interdisciplinary" means the involving of two or more academic disciplines.

"International System of Units (SI)" means the coherent system of units based upon and including the meter (length), kilogram (mass), second (time), kelvin (temperature), ampere (electric current), and candela (luminous intensity), as established in 1960 by the General Conference on Weights and Measures under the Treaty of the Meter. A seventh base unit, the mole (for amount of substance) is being considered as another (SI) base unit. The radian (plane angle) and the steradian (solid angle) are supplemental units of the system.

"Local educational agency" means a public board of education or other public authority legally constituted within a State for either administrative control or direction of, or to perform a service function for, public elementary or secondary schools in a city, county, township, school district, or other political subdivision of a State, or such combination of school districts or counties as is recognized in a State as administrative agencies for the State's public elementary or secondary schools. The term also includes any other public institution or agency having administrative control and direction of a public elementary or secondary school.

(20 U.S.C. 1862)

"Metric Education Program" is the short or popular name for the Education for Use of the Metric System of Measurement Program.

(20 U.S.C. 1862)

"Metric system" means the measurement system that commonly uses the meter for length, the kilogram for mass, the second for time, the degree Celsius (same as "Centigrade") for temperature, and units derived from these. This system has evolved over the years and the modernized version today is identified as the "International System of Units", which is abbreviated (SI).

"(SI)" is the abbreviation for the modernized metric system, otherwise known as the International System of Units (Le Systeme International d'Unites).

(20 U.S.C. 1862)

"State educational agency" means the State board of education or other agency or officer primarily responsible for the State supervision of public elementary and secondary schools, or, if there is no such agency, an officer or agency designated by the Governor or by State law.

§ 160a.4 General Provisions.

(20 U.S.C. 1862)

Assistance provided under this part is subject to applicable provisions contained in Subchapter A of this chapter, 45 CFR Parts 100, 100a, Appendices A-D (relating to fiscal, administrative, property management, and other matters), and to part 160 of this chapter. Procurement contracts awarded pursuant to this Part will be subject to 41 CFR Chapters 1 and 3.

§ 160a.5 International System of Units.

The International System of Units published by the National Bureau of Standards of the Commerce Department in the FEDERAL REGISTER, for June 19, 1975, 40 FR 25837, shall be used by recipients of Federal assistance under the Act for purposes of implementing the program. All references to the Metric System in this part will mean the International System of Units as published and amended by the National Bureau of Standards.

(20 U.S.C. 1862(a)(3))

Subpart B—Eligible Applicants; Authorized Activities; Duration of Projects

§ 160a.11 Applicant eligibility.

The Commissioner may make grants to and contracts with institutions of higher education, State and local educational agencies, and other public and private non-profit organizations, institutions and agencies, to develop and carry out the policy set forth in the Act.

(20 U.S.C. 1862(b)(2))

§ 160a.12 Types of projects.

The objectives specified in § 160a.2 will be carried out through grants or contracts for the following types of projects:

(a) School-based interdisciplinary;

(b) Teacher development;

(c) State and multi-State planning;

and

(d) Technical support.

needs of elementary and secondary students and teachers as well as parents and other adults.

(b) Requirements. Applicants for school-based interdisciplinary grants or contracts will be those agencies which develop and provide local programs of instruction for the general elementary and secondary student population. All projects funded under this category of metric education grants or contracts will provide:

(1) Interdisciplinary curricular experiences in metric education which will foster the acquisition of skills in the use of the metric system of measurement;

(2) In-service teacher development in the area of metric education where necessary to accomplish in paragraph (b) (1) of this section;

(3) A precisely described multiplier strategy which will insure maximum metric education training opportunities to as many teachers, students, parents and other adults (for example, participant teachers teaching non-participating teachers skills for metric education);

(4) Metric education opportunities for parents and other adults so as to reinforce activities required under § 160a.13 (b) (1) (2) (3);

(5) Adequate proof that, if the applicant is a local educational agency, the State educational agency has been notified of the application and has been given a reasonable opportunity to offer recommendations with respect to the approval thereof, in compliance with section 403 (c) (2) of the Act;

(6) Indication that the diverse learning styles of gifted as well as less facile learners have been considered; and

(7) Opportunity for bilingual instruction where significantly critical to program effectiveness.

§ 160a.14 Teacher development.

(a) Description. Eligible applicants under this category of grants or contracts shall, through a planned sequence of experience-based instructions, focus on the in-service and pre-service development of teachers, teacher trainers, and instructional leaders, for example, instructional supervisors.

(b) Requirements for teacher development projects. Eligible teacher training institutions or other authorized applicants under this category of grants or contracts shall satisfy the following requirements:

(1) The program strategy shall be a planned sequence of instruction so as to enhance the teacher's skills in using the metric system where appropriate;

(2) The metric program shall stress the effective teaching of parents and adults in the metric system;

(3) The teacher development curriculum shall respond to anticipated changes in requirements for teacher certification;

(4) The teacher developmental experiences shall provide for the teacher's acquisition of metric educational teaching skills to meet the educational needs of both the low achiever as well as the facile learner with an emphasis on bilingualism where the nature of the student population warrants such;

(5) The project shall provide for special strategies, such as the development of individualized instruction, for students with diverse learning styles;

(6) The project shall precisely describe the specific strategy for project participating teachers teaching other non-participating fellow teachers; and

(7) The project shall provide a schedule of events to emphasize and illustrate the realization of project goals and objectives.

§ 160a.15 State and multi-State cooperative metric education planning.

(a) Grants or contracts provided under this category of the Metric Education Program shall support statewide educational program planning and development. Grantees or contractors shall focus on the evolution of a master plan for a statewide or cooperatively developed multi-State metric education program which emphasizes the acquisition of skills in the use of the metric system of measurement.

(b) Grantees and contractors, for purposes of short-term and long-range metric education planning, or to expand promising and effective programs currently underway, may enter into cooperative arrangements with other such eligible applicants to apply for funds under this section. (45 CFR 100a.19)

(c) When an application is submitted by several cooperating agencies, it may include a composite budget reflecting cost allocations for each of the several cooperating applicant agencies' proposed activities to be funded by the grant in an academic year.

(d) When the application is for a cooperative multi-State arrangement, one State shall be designated to serve as the fiscal agent for the planned multi-State cooperative metric education project but all shall be jointly and severally legally responsible for administering the project assisted under the metric education grant or contract.

(20 U.S.C. 1221c(b) (1), 1232c(b) (1))

(e) The project shall include a schedule of events designed to emphasize or illustrate the realization of stated project goals and objectives.

(f) The project shall provide detailed plans for developing a statewide (or multi-State) master plan for metric education with specific detailed implications for:

(1) Staff development;

(2) Interdisciplinary curriculum development;

(3) Teacher certification;

(4) Textbook adaptation;

(5) Parent and adult metric education;

(6) Bilingual elements where essential for program success; and

(7) Other diverse learning styles.

(g) The application shall provide a descriptive statement of pending and existing State legislative or State educational policy developments with implications for metric education.

(h) Multi-State applications shall provide letters of commitment, signed by the appropriate official(s) from each of the cooperating States.

§ 160a.16 National metric education technical support.

(a) Description. Contracts awarded pursuant to this section shall support an effective national technical support program to serve State and cooperative multi-State metric education planning projects; school-based demonstration and pilot metric education planning projects; in-service and pre-service teacher development models for metric education; and to identify and dispatch metric education experts to agencies which are developing and implementing metric educational programs in response to stated needs; and where deemed appropriate, the development of mobile metric instructional laboratories. To ensure consistency of program thrust, orientation, modes of accountability, and to facilitate fiscal responsibility and effective services management, the technical assistance efforts will be national in scope. It is assumed, therefore, that a limited number of applications, possibly only one, will be funded for national metric education technical support.

(b) Requirements. Applicants for this type of grant or contract shall:

(1) Possess the capacity to provide technical assistance for program development, expansion, and implementation on a large scale;

(2) Assist in staff development;

(3) Possess a potential for directing media development;

(4) Assist in project evaluation and the evaluation of the overall metric education program; and

(5) Assist in all areas of curriculum and curriculum material adaptation for metric education.

§ 160a.17 Project duration.

(a) Awards made pursuant to this part will be for a project period of one academic year, unless otherwise specified in paragraph (b) of this section. If an award recipient seeks to receive assistance pursuant to this part for an additional academic year, the recipient must submit a new application. The new application will be evaluated in competition with applications from other former award recipients as well as from applicants which have not previously received assistance under this part.

(b) The Commissioner may make an initial award for more than one academic year for projects funded pursuant to § 160a.16, national metric education technical support, if the nature of the project is such that a multi-year award is justified. Decisions for renewed funding after the initial award period will be made on the basis of the extent to which the grantee or contractor has satisfactorily performed under the initial grant period and will be contingent upon (1) the availability of funds, (2) a determination by the Commissioner that such continuation would be in the best interest of the Government, and (3) execution of a revised notification of grant award acceptable to the Commissioner and the grantee or contractor.

(20 U.S.C. 1221e-3(a) (1), 1862)

Subpart C—Applications; Funding Criteria Costs; State Review

§ 160a.21 General requirements.

Applications for metric education grants or contracts shall be submitted at such time, in such form, and containing such information as the Commissioner shall prescribe by notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER and shall be approved only if the application:

(a) Provides that the activities and services for which assistance is sought will be administered by, or under the supervision of, the applicant;

(b) Describes a program which holds promise of making a substantial contribution toward attaining the purposes of this part; and

(c) Sets forth such policies and procedures as will insure adequate evaluation of the activities intended to be carried out under the application.

(20 U.S.C. 1862(c) (1) (A)-(D))

§ 160a.22 General project description.

The application shall describe:

(a) The design of the metric education program, its duration, purpose, and plan;

(b) The qualifications of the project director and of the key professional personnel who will be involved in the project;

(c) The facilities and resources that will be made available; and

(d) Categorical justification for the amount of Federal funds requested.

§ 160a.23 Pre-application for participation in metric education.

(a) The Commissioner may, by notice published in the FEDERAL REGISTER, require applicants eligible for a grant or contract under the Act to submit a pre-application for review prior to submitting a complete application under the provisions of 45 CFR 100a.15. Such pre-application, of no more than seven (7) pages, shall succinctly provide:

(1) A statement of the problems to which proposed program activities will respond;

(2) A description of target population to be served;

(3) Measurably stated short-term and long-range program objectives;

(4) A description of anticipated cooperative arrangements;

(5) The anticipated budget request;

(6) The signature of all duly authorized officials who will submit the final application on behalf of the agency;

(7) A brief description of the evaluation plan;

(8) Details as to the duration of proposed project; and

(9) An overall statement of what the applicant will accept as evidence of program success as a result of the activities for which funds are sought.

(b) Notification of the applicant relative to the results of the pre-application review shall follow the procedures set forth in 45 CFR 100a.42.

§ 160a.24 Applications.

An applicant eligible for a grant or contract under the Act shall submit an application to the address contained in the notice of closing date on or before such cut-off date or dates as the Commissioner may announce in the FEDERAL REGISTER for each fiscal year of operation of the Metric Education Program. An application containing such assurances and requisite information, and in accordance with such forms, and instructions as the Commissioner shall prescribe, may be executed by the applicant or an official or representative of the applicant duly authorized to make such application.

§ 160a.25 Funding criteria.

(a) In awarding grants and contracts on a competitive basis, the Commissioner will take into account, in addition to the general criteria listed in 45 CFR 100a.26 (b), the following criteria:

(1) The project design shows promise for contributing to an effective metric education program;

(2) The project design provides for an effective response to diverse learning styles of the target population, e.g., bilingualism, gifted and talented, less facile learners, insufficiently motivated learners, handicapped and special education students;

(3) The project narrative complies with the International System of Units (SI);

(4) The project design provides for an effective level of response to staff development needs;

(5) The project design leads to the ease of adaptation of proposed metric educational activities;

(6) The project design provides for easy institutionalization of proposed metric educational project strategies;

(7) The project design contributes to performance oriented metric educational approaches;

(8) The project design focuses on efforts to enable the project's target population to measurably acquire skills for using the International System of Units (SI);

(9) A schedule of significant project events is provided and is adequately explained or detailed;

(10) The project design provides for the effective instruction of parents and other adults in the metric system;

(11) The evaluation design includes accountability factors which measure the overall effectiveness of the proposed project;

(12) The project design includes short-term and long-range objectives which are measurably stated;

(13) The project design responds to assessed metric educational needs of the planned target population and such needs are set forth in sufficient detail in the program narrative of the application;

(14) The applicant has identified and detailed specific project-related behavioral objectives and the means by which they will be achieved;

(15) The project design is conducive to easy replication;

(16) The project design has high program impact potential; and

(17) The project design capitalizes on cooperative arrangements so as to maximize the impact of the proposed project.

(b) The maximum score for a given application shall be 102 points with each criterion having a score range of 0-6.

(20 U.S.C. 1862)

§ 160a.26 Review of applications.

The Commissioner, prior to disposition of applications for grants or contracts, may, at his discretion, obtain the review of a panel of experts. Any such review shall be in addition to the review of an application by the Commissioner in accordance with such procedures as the Commissioner may establish.

§ 160a.27 Amount of grant or contract.

It is expected that awards of State and multi-State metric education planning grants will generally be in the range of $25,000-$40,000 and $50,000-$110,000, respectively; the school-based metric instructional pilot and model project grants will generally be in the range of $25,000-$35,000; the national technical support effort will generally be in the range of $175,000-$225,000; and the grants for purposes of conducting in-service and pre-service teacher development projects will generally be in the range of $20,000-$30,000. Procurement contracts into which the Commissioner may enter pursuant to any of the authorized activities may not be within the above ranges.

(20 U.S.C. 1862)

§ 160a.28 State review of local educational agency applications.

(a) The Commissioner will not approve an application submitted by a local educational agency in accordance with this part unless the State educational agency of the State in which that local educational agency is located has been given an opportunity to review and make recommendations on such application.

(b) A local educational agency must provide a copy of its application to the appropriate State educational agency concurrently with its submission of the application to the Commissioner.

(c) The Commissioner may establish a cut-off date for submission of comments by State educational agencies on local educational agency applications. If the Commissioner establishes a cut-off date for submission of comments, failure by a State educational agency to submit comments to the Commissioner within the period specified by the Commissioner for an application shall be deemed a waiver of the State educational agency's opportunity to comment on that application.

(20 U.S.C. 1862(c)(2))

(a) Costs allowable under awards issued pursuant to this part shall be determined in accordance with provisions contained in 45 CFR Part 100a and Appendices A, B, C, or D to that part, as applicable to the type of applicant, subject to the limitations contained in paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section.

(b) Costs for the following will be allowed when the Commissioner determines that expenditure for such items would be in the interest of the Government in carrying out the purposes specified in § 160a.1 and the program objectives in § 160a.2: the costs of (1) reference materials, (2) supplementary materials for adaptation of textbooks, (3) consulting services, (4) conferences for the purposes of discussing metric education, (5) initial purchase of measurement and mass apparatus (limited to 10 percent of the award), (6) replacement of measurement and mass apparatus, and (7) adaptation of measurement and mass apparatus.

(c) Funds shall not be expended under this part for: (1) Stipends, (2) textbooks (except those exclusively on the metric system), (3) travel of teachers, students, or parents, or (4) dependency allowances.

NATIONAL FLOOD INSURANCE PROGRAM

Flood-Prone Areas of Communities Sub- ject to Prohibition of Federal and Fed- erally Related Assistance

The purpose of this notice is to provide a list of communities that contain areas of special flood hazard potentially subject to the provisions of Section 202 of the Flood Disaster Protection Act of 1973 (Pub. L. 93-234) on July 1, 1975, or an appropriate later date, and to provide a convenient reference for interested persons, communities, Federal agencies and instrumentalities, and others involved in assuring compliance with that section. This list supersedes and updates the list published in the FEDERAL REGISTER at 40 FR 33267-33283.

Section 202 provides that effective July 1, 1975, Federal agencies and federally supervised, approved, insured, or regulated lending institutions are prohibited from providing financial assistance or making loans for acquisition or construction purposes in areas which (a) have been designated by the Secretary of Housing and Urban Development as Special Flood Hazard Areas for at least one year; and (b) are in communities which are not participating in the National Flood Insurance Program (42 U.S.C. 4001-4128).

The prohibition does not apply to any loan made by a federally-supervised, approved, insured, or regulated lending institution made prior to January 1, 1976, to finance the acquisition of a previously occupied residential dwelling.

Each of the communities listed below received notice of its designation as flood-prone prior to October 1, 1974, and legal notice was furnished of such designation by publication under Part 1915 of Title 24 of the Code of Federal Regulations in the FEDERAL REGISTER. These communities have failed to provide the Federal Insurance Administrator with sufficient technical or scientific data to rebut their designation as flood prone nor have they as yet qualified for participation in the National Flood Insurance Program. Thus, the sanctions of Section 202 apply as of July 1, 1975, or one year after a community's identification, whichever is later, until the community participates in the program.

In order to continue Federal or federally related assistance or lending in its Special Flood Hazard Area, a community must apply for and be made eligible for participation in the program in accordance with 24 CFR (Parts 1909 to 1920). Communities may receive assistance in applying for participation by contacting the Federal Insurance Administration, 451 Seventh St., SW., Washington, D.C. 20410, (202) 755-5581, or its toll-free numbers 800-424-8872 or 800-424-8873.

Communities on this list may be made eligible to participate in the program after the date of publication of this list. Such eligibility will be published periodically in the FEDERAL REGISTER under 24 CFR 1914.4 List of eligible communities. At that time the sanctions of Section 202 will no longer apply to the communities listed below.

Categories of individuals covered by the system: Committee employees and members.

Categories of records in the system: SF1038, Application and account for advance of funds; vendor register and vendor payment tape. Information is used by accounting technicians to maintain adequate financial information and by other officers and employees of GSA and the ACFP who have a need for the record in the performance of their duties.

Authority for maintenance of the system: 31 U.S.C., generally; also Public Law 91-656.

Routine uses of records maintained in the system, including categories of users and the purposes of such uses: See appendix following ACFP notices. Records also are released to GAO for audits; to the IRS for investigation; and to private attorneys, pursuant to a power of attorney.

Policies and practices for storing, retrieving, accessing, retaining, and disposing of records in the system:

Storage: Paper and tape.

Retrievability: Manual and automated by name.

Safeguards: Stored in guarded building; released only to authorized personnel.

Retention and disposal: Disposition of records shall be in accordance with the HB GSA Records Maintenance and Disposition System (OAD P 1820.2).

System manager(s) and address: ACFP Administrative Assistant, Room 101, 1016 16th Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20036.

Notification procedure: Contact system manager listed above.

Record access procedures: Committee members, past or present, or employees, past or present, who desire access to their individual records in the custody of the ACFP or GSA should contact the Committee's Administrative Assistant in writing. See Committee access regulations in 5 CFR 401.

Contesting record procedures: Committee members, past or present, or employees, past or present, who desire to contest record procedures in the custody of the ACFP or GSA should contact the Committee's Administrative Assistant in writing. See Committee record contest regulations in 5 CFR 401.

ACFP—2

System name: Payroll records—ACFP

System location: General Services Administration, Region 3 Office; copies held by the ACFP. (GSA holds records for ACFP under contract.)

Categories of individuals covered by the system: Past and present Committee employees.

Categories of records in the system: Varied payroll records, including, among other documents, time and attendance cards; payment vouchers; comprehensive listing of employees; health benefits records; requests for deductions; tax forms; W2 forms; overtime requests; leave data; retirement records. Records are used by the ACFP and GSA employees to maintain adequate payroll information for Committee employees and otherwise by Committee and GSA employees who have a need for the record in the performance of their duties.

Authority for maintenance of the system: 31 U.S.C., generally; also Public Law 91-656.

Routine uses of records maintained in the system, including categories of users and the purposes of such uses: See appendix following ACFP notices. Records also are released to GAO for audits; to the IRS for investigation; and to private attorneys, pursuant to a power of attorney.

Policies and practices for storing, retrieving, accessing, retaining, and disposing of records in the system:

Storage: Paper and microfilm.

Retrievability: Social Security Number.

Safeguards: Stored in guarded building; released only to authorized personnel.

Retention and disposal: Disposition of records shall be in accordance with the HB GSA Records Maintenance and Disposition System (OAD P 1820.2).

System manager(s) and address: ACFP Administrative Assistant, Room 101, 1016 16th Street N.W., Washington, D.C. 20036.

Notification procedure: Contact system manager listed above.

Record access procedures: Committee members, past or present, or employees, past or present, who desire access to their individual records in the custody of the ACFP or GSA should contact the Committee's Administrative Assistant in writing. See Committee access regulations in 5 CFR 401.

Contesting record procedures: Committee members, past or present, or employees, past or present, who desire to contest record procedures in the custody of the ACFP or GSA should contact the Committee's Administrative Assistant in writing. See Committee record contest regulations in 5 CFR 401.

Record source categories: The subject individual; the Committee.

APPENDIX—Advisory Committee on Federal Pay (ACFP)

In the event that a system of records maintained by this agency to carry out its functions indicates a violation or potential violation of law, whether civil, criminal or regulatory in nature, and whether arising by general statute or particular program statute, or by regulation, rule or order issued pursuant thereto, the relevant records in the system of records may be referred, as a routine use, to the appropriate agency, whether federal, state, local or foreign, charged with the responsibility of investigating or prosecuting such violation or charged with enforcing or implementing the statute, or rule, regulation or order issued pursuant thereto.

A record from this system of records may be disclosed as a routine use to a federal, state or local agency maintaining civil, criminal or other relevant enforcement information or other pertinent information, such as current licenses, if necessary to obtain information relevant to an agency decision concerning the hiring or retention of an employee, the issuance of a security clearance, the letting of a contract or the issuance of a license, grant or other benefit.

A record from this system of records may be disclosed to a federal agency, in response to its request, in connection with the hiring or retention of an employee, the issuance of a security clearance, the reporting of an investigation of an employee, the letting of a contract, or the issuance of a license, grant or other benefit by the requesting agency, to the extent that the information is relevant and necessary to the requesting agency's decision in the matter.

A record from this system of records may be disclosed to an authorized appeal grievance examiner, formal complaints examiner, equal employment opportunity investigator, arbitrator or other duly authorized official engaged in investigation or settlement or a grievance, complaint, or appeal filed by an employee. A record from this system of records may be disclosed to the United States Civil Service Commission in accordance with the agency's responsibility for evaluation and oversight of federal personnel management.

A record from this system of records may be disclosed to officers and employees of a federal agency for purposes of audit.

The information contained in this system of records will be disclosed to the Office of Management and Budget in connection with the review of private relief legislation as set forth in OMB Circular No. A-19 at any stage of the legislative coordination and clearance process as set forth in that Circular.
